Other witnesses corroborated Zelig's story, and the result was a unanimous vote for the indictment of the two detectives. Steinert was arrested and put in a cell in the Tombs. Detectives were sent to Rockaway Beach to look for White, who has been ill and is now convalescing. The indicted men will be arraigned before Judge Crain in Part 1 in general sessions. The district attorney will ask that each be held in $5,000 bail.

Zelig Grows Boastful.

After leaving the grand jury room Zelig, in the presence of his lawyer, former Magistrate Wahle, made this statement:

"I know nothing about the murder of Rosenthal. If I wasn't in such a predicament I would try myself to find out who did the killing and break his leg for him. I know that Jack Rose framed me up. If I had been sent to prison for fourteen years, as it looked at one time that I would be, Rose well knew that my friends would kill him. That was why he had me bailed out.

"He, Webber, Schepps and Vallon put up $10,000 to secure my bail. That was on July 2. I left the criminal courts building with Schepps, and I went out of town alone. I returned to the city on the morning of July 10 and went away again and did not come back until Aug. 20."

SUFFRAGETTES WON'T EAT.

Female Prisoners Being Forcibly Fed by Jail Officials.

Dublin, Aug. 23.—Mary Leigh and Gladys Evans, the two suffragettes who were sentenced here on Aug. 7 to five years' imprisonment on charges of wounding John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish parliamentary party, with a hatchet thrown at Premier Asquith's carriage and setting fire to the Theater Royal, respectively, have started a "hunger strike."

They are being forcibly fed by the jail officials.

To Reprobate Astor Will.

New York, Aug. 23.—On application of Douglas Robinson and Nicholas Biddle, executors of the will of Colonel John Jacob Astor, Surrogate Fowler opened the probate of the will of Colonel Astor to allow the guardian for the infant, John Jacob Astor, born a few days ago, to be served with a citation. Surrogate Fowler set Sept. 4 as the day for the reprobating of the will, but as yet has not named a guardian for the week old child.

WILLIAM J. FLYNN.

He Will Probe Charges of Graft In New York City.

© 1912, by American Press Association.

Certain officials of the police department had their worries increased when they heard that William J. Flynn, chief of the New York division of the United States secret service, will resign his federal position temporarily to assist the aldermanic committee probe the graft charges against the police. Flynn served as second deputy commissioner for six months in the early part of Mayor Gaynor's administration and knows all about the inside workings of the department.

T. R. HAS A BUSY DAY IN WILKESBARRE

Attends Church, at Ball Game and Is Godfather.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 23.—The celebration marking the twenty-fifth anniversary of the ordination of Father J. J. Curran to the priesthood culminated with the address delivered by former President Roosevelt in the Ninth regiment armory before an enthusiastic audience of fully 4,000 people. Colonel Roosevelt's address dealt chiefly with moral issues in the light of Father Curran's accomplishments among the diverse races represented in his parish, particularly with respect to temperance reform and improvement in the conditions of labor.

Outside of the flurry occasioned by Senator Penrose's attack and the vigorous reply given out by the colonel, politics have been kept in the background during his visit. He declined to add anything to what he said then. On being asked if he would consent to appear before the senate committee investigating campaign contributions he termed the question absurd and unwarranted. His letter to Judge Parker and the correspondence made public covered the matter completely.

At the baseball game between Troy and the home team the colonel made a speech. He informed the cheering fans that he would remain in the fight until he knew the people were against him.

Before returning to his host's home by way of the ball game Colonel Roosevelt was called upon to stand as godfather to the two-weeks-old son of Paul Dripps, who was christened Theodore Roosevelt Dripps.

SEVEN HURT IN AUTO CRASH.

Two of Victims Reported Fatally Injured on Isolated Road.

Monticello, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Two men were fatally hurt and five others were seriously injured when their automobile came into collision with a wagon in a road on a steep bank, near Maplewood, several miles from here. The automobile killed the horse and fell over the bank, dropping twenty feet below.

The party of seven, all resident about Monticello, were in a car owned by George Sloan, a well to do farmer, bound for White Lake for a fishing expedition. The spot where the accident happened is far from any village, and reports of the condition of the injured were slow in coming in, but it was said two of the party, not yet identified, were either dead or dying. Mr. Sloan was the least injured of all.

BROADWAY SUICIDE KNOWN.

Body Recognized as That of Alfred W. Yerger of Mobile.

New York, Aug. 23.—Frank C. Kelly of the Knickerbocker Trust company positively identified as that of Alfred W. Yerger, a lawyer of Mobile, Ala., the body of the man who shot himself to death in front of the Hotel Marlborough, in the heart of the White Way, after a night at Coney Island.

The man was registered at the Hotel Cadillac as A. W. Rodgers of Jackson Miss., but his cuff links bore the initials "A. W. Y." Kelly had seen Yerger in New York and identified the body after reading the initials.

Horseman's Wife Seeks Divorce.

Reno, Nev., Aug. 23.—Elizabeth A. Murphy, wife of Thomas W. Murphy, prominently connected with racing circles as a horseman, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., has filed a divorce suit here, declaring that her husband deserted her last year and has ever since refused to live with her. She was married to Murphy in 1907.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

Plainfield will see its first performance of James Halleck Reid's play "The Confession," on Tuesday night, August 27, at the Plainfield theatre. Mr. Reid has used in the theme of his play a most powerful and vital subject, and yet there is not a line that would offend the most sensative. Rather, he has compiled a story of intense dramatic interest with a strong uplift, purpose and a great lesson. His play will be interpreted by some of America's foremost and distinguished players, artists whose names have appeared prominently in every dramatic offering. This production of "The Confession" should be looked forward to with the keenest of interest. A scenic production has been built worthy of this play and its cast.

"Only a habit," says George Primrose to Lew Dockstader. "Habit is the most difficult thing in the world of which to break oneself," observed Primrose the other day. "Take the inveterate theatregoer for instance. He will go to the theatre whether a show is good or bad, and nine times out of ten he doesn't care a rap about the performance—he has merely gotten the habit of going out between each act. He must get up and leave the auditorium whether he is thirsty or not. I made the remark to Mrs. Dockstader, seeing her at church the previous Sunday accompanied by her husband. 'I see you have brought him to time at last,' I said. 'Yes, he went with me,' she answered, 'though he much prefers fanning with the boys. But did you know how he disgraced me?' 'No; how?' I asked. 'Why, when the rector read the chapter from the Act of the Apostles he insisted upon getting up and going out after every act,'" These minstrel men will be seen at the Plainfield theatre, Thursday night, August 29.

"Bought and Pair For," George Broadhurst's vivid play of American life, with the New York playhouse cast and production, under the management of William A. Brady, Ltd., will be seen at the Plainfield theatre on Monday, September 2. Mr. Broadhurst's play is a comedy drama of contemporary New York life. It follows, but does not copy, the terse repertorial style which has been adopted to good advantage by other authors; its humorous qualities is largely responsible for its interest. A telephone girl supplies the serious complication in the play. The engagement here of this notable attraction should prove one of the theatrical events of the season.

When a present day opera or musical comedy has a run in New York or Chicago of twenty or thirty weeks, a great hullaballoo is made. It then has a road career of one or perhaps two seasons and then is heard of no more. Contrast this with the record of Balfe's ballad opera "The Bohemian Girl" with its almost seventy years of continuous popularity and not alone in the United States but also in various European countries. This most popular of all standard operas will be presented at the Plainfield theatre, on Wednesday night, September 11, by the Aborn Opera Company. The version now being presented admits the introduction of a troupe of whirlwind acrobats, geese, horses, monkeys, chickens, etc., all of which are said to be employed with telling effect. A special orchestra is an important addition to this season's company.

RUNYON GOES ON PRIMARY TICKET

E. J. Cahill, of Morris, Also After Republican Congressional Nomination.

VOORHEES CAN DECIDE

Union Organization Understood to Be For Plainfielder, and the Morris County Leader's Support Would Assure Him Nomination.

Trenton, Aug. 24 (Special).—Former Judge William N. Runyon, of Plainfield, this morning filed his petition to have his name placed on the Republican ticket for the primary to be held on September 26 as a candidate for Congress. It had more than the required number of signatures. His opponent for the Republican nomination in the Fifth district will be E. J. Cahill, a Morris county merchant who was once a partner of Public Utility Commissioner Thomas J. Hillery. It is understood here that Mr. Runyon will have the support of the Union county Republican organization, and possibly that of Uncle Dan Voorhees, the party leader in Morris county. If he does the nomination is practically assured to him over Mr. Cahill.

William E. Tuttle, Jr., of Westfield, present member of Congress from the Fifth district, yesterday filed the certificate which places him in the field as an aspirant for renomination at the Democratic primaries in September.

Two Democrats also filed certificates as aspirants for the Congress nomination in the Fourth district, thereby making certain a contest at the primaries in that district. They are George M. La Monte, of Bound Brook, formerly Assemblyman, and Frank B. Allen, of Bernardsville.

Frank O. Briggs, of Trenton, United States Senator, yesterday afternoon filed a petition for renomination to the Senate on the regular Republican ticket. His petition is entirely from Essex county. Others, one from each of the remaining twenty counties will be filed later.

ONE DAY'S NEWS FROM STATION HOUSE AND COURT

George Boyle was before Judge DeMeza in the city court, this morning, on complaint of Frank Rennsalie, who had him arrested last night for an alleged assault. After hearing the case Judge DeMeza came to the conclusion that Rennsalie was the real instigator of the trouble, and he discharged both men.

Michael Shirello, of 545 West Third street, was fined three dollars on complaint of Halsted Compton, of West Front street, who said that Shirello had stolen a lot of apples from his place.

Jeremiah TenEyck, of South Plainfield, telephoned to police headquarters to be on the look-out for a man who was in that village yesterday, and who made indecent proposals to his five-year-old daughter, when she wandered a few hundred feet away from home.

CHARLES H. LINE IS BACK ON FRONT ST. FOR A TIME

Charles H. Line and his brother Frank, of East Front street, who have been working during the summer months at Springfield, Mass., returned home last night for a few days' visit with relatives int his city. "Charlie," as he is familiarly known around these parts, wore his same old characteristic smile and says he is glad to be back in the "old town" for a short time.

He is a student at the International Y. M. C. A. Training College and has been working, together with his brother in the college town since the term closed for the summer recess.

In September he will enter upon his last year at the college and says this will be the biggest one of his course.

Line is chairman of the student body, manager of the college gym team, and takes an active part in every branch of college life. A position has been offered to him as student gymnasium instructor, but as his time is already pretty well filled up, it is doubtful whether or not he will accept the offer.

FORMER PASTOR TO PREACH.

Rev. Asa Reed Dilts, formerly pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, succeeding the late Rev. Dr. Robert Lowry, will preach at the local church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Mr. Dilts is pastor of the Baptist church at Lowell, Mass., where he has been successful. There will be no evening service. Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire, the pastor, is expected to be in his pulpit next Sunday.

PLAINFIELDER UNDER POSTAL FRAUD CHARGE

Sharp, With Three Others, Accused of Working Realty Bond Swindle.

William H. Cooper, Claude J. VanSlyke, a real estate dealer, James A. Robinson, in the advertising business in New York, and Ernest Sharp, of the Central Park Realty Company, who lives on Evergreen avenue, in this city, have been indicted by the Federal Grand Jury, on a charge of using the mails to defraud purchasers of bonds of the New York Central Realty Company, which had offices in the Marbridge building, at Broadway and Thirty-fourth street, New York, and of which all four men were officers.

Two indictments were found against the four men by the Grand Jury in the latter part of July and have remained under the seal of the court since then. Robinson was arrested yesterday. VanSlyke was produced by his lawyer when both were arraigned in the afternoon before Commissioner Gilchrist in the Federal building, New York. Cooper has been notified of the charges and it is expected he will appear for arraignment next week. Mr. Sharp has not been arrested. At present he is said to be touring with his family in Maine. It is said that the post-office officials have been busy for the past ten months investigating the operations of the New York Central Realty Company.

R. R. MEN CHARGE HARTMAN WITH RESISTING ARREST

J. H. Hartman, of Chestnut street, Dunellen, who was beaten and cut when several New Jersey Central detectives arrested him a few weeks ago, was arrested again last night at Dunellen on a warrant issued by Justice Sedam at New Brunswick on the charge of resisting arrest. He was brought before Recorder David Campbell at Dunellen last night and as the Recorder did not want to keep Hartman in jail he released the prisoner on a $100 bond, acting as bondsman himself. The charge is regarded as the detectives' counter to Hartman's charge of false arrest.

The trouble started on August 8, when railroad detectives are alleged to have picked a fight with Charles Wyckoff at his home on Chestnut street. Hartman, Wyckoff's nephew, had just arrived from Cleveland, Ohio, and was on Wyckoff's veranda, was drawn into the fight. The detectives arrested the men without warrants, it is alleged, and also searched the Wyckoff and other houses in that vicinity without search warrants.

On August 9 the case came before Justice Sedam at New Brunswick and he dismissed it on the grounds that the arrests were "unwarranted and high handed." Hartman swore out warrants on August 9 for the arrest of the railroad men and employed lawyer Francis J. Blatz, of Front street, to start civil suit against the railroad company for damages.

On August 14 three detectives, Kaub, Gray and Laverett, promised to surrender themselves but they failed to appear. On August 18 Charles Kaub was arrested and held under $500 bail.

LAST MESSAGE OF WARNING TO EARTH EXHORTER'S TOPIC

The important topic, "Who Changed the Sabbath From the Seventh to the First Day of the Week?" spoken upon by the evangelist in the large pavilion on Darrow avenue, was listened to by a deeply interested audience last night.

The speaker's remarks were based largely on Daniel 7:15-26. He said that this, together with many other kindred texts, was the finger-point of God to a power that was to arise in the last days, that was to think himself able to change the sacred Law of God; but that God's Law, Sabbath and all, would remain unchangeable throughout eternity.

Subject for tomorrow night, "The Seal of God, and Mark of a Great Apostasy; or God's Last Message of Warning to Earth."

HE HAS 24 PETITIONS CIRCULATING IN CITY

Nash Making Sure of Signers Enough — Codington to File Monday.

Former City Judge William R. Codington, who will seek the mayoralty nomination on the Republican ticket at the coming primary, will file his petition with City Clerk James T. MacMurray on Monday. It is reported that he has secured a large number of signatures. V. W. Nash, Sr., who is also an aspirant for the mayoralty nomination on the Republican ticket, will file his petition next week. Mr. Nash has twenty-four petitions in circulation throughout the city.

Cornelius vanHerwerden, of the Second ward, filed his petition today for the councilmanic nomination on the Republican ticket in his ward. It is expected that a number of petitions for local nominations will be filed during the coming week.

PETITIONS MAY BE FILED UP TO AUG. 31

Next Friday and Not Today Last Date For Getting On Ballot.

The passage of an amendment to the election laws at the last session of the Legislature has caused considerable confusion on the part of many candidates for county offices as to the correct date on which their petitions must be filed. The question was brought up for discussion at a conference in County Democratic headquarters this week, and it is understood that a committee was named to make an investigation to ascertain whether August 24 or 30 is the last day on which petitions may be filed.

In addition to this action, County Clerk Calvert's office has been besieged by anxious aspirants for office, many of them under the impression that today was the last day, and no doubt before night many petitions will be filed. Upon looking up the law, however, Mr. Calvert learned that the last day on which petitions may be filed is Friday, August 30.

The section of the law amended relates to the filing of petitions and certificates of candidates who have been nominated and will be voted on at the general election. This amendment appears to have been confused as applying to the primary law, and in this manner the date was fixed by those under the misapprehension as August 24.

Section 334 of the election laws of 1898 as amended and which governs the filing of petitions of candidates to be voted on at the primary election reads in part as follows: "Said petition shall be filed with the respective county clerks at least twenty-five days prior to the time fixed by law for the holding of said primary election."

This interpretation of the law on the part of the county clerk is a great relief to many of the candidates whose petitions still require a number of names to compiete the hundred necessary, as it gives them a much longer time to secure the signatures. Mr. Calvert, in response to a question by an anxious candidate, said that his office would be open for the filing of petitions all day Friday, August 30.

Acording to the section of the law which has been confused with the one regulating the primary election, the petitions of Prohibitionists and independents in general who will not be voted on at the primary election, must be filed thirty days before the general election instead of twenty-five, as directed in the filing of petitions of candidates to be voted on at the primaries.

SCHWARTZ, BUGABOO OF SHORT WEIGHERS

Sketch of Man Who Insists That a Pound Means 16 Ounces.

Augustus W. Schwartz, superintendent of the Department of Weights and Measures of Union county, is a native Elizabethan who has a host of friends. Some of the storekeepers in Plainfield who hadn't heard of Mr. Schwartz until he called on them officially, will never be his friends. He annoyed them.

From a newsboy Mr. Schwartz has risen politically until he has been awarded his present position, which is, as he states it himself, one of the "weightiest" jobs in the county.

The department of weights and measures for the county is new and was created under chapter 21 of the laws of 1911. Mr. Schwartz was appointed superintendent of it last January by the Board of Freholders.

Mr. Schwartz was for many years associated with New Jersey newspapers, both in his native city and in Newark. He held positions as advertising manager, business manager and did reportorial work. He served two terms in the Elizabeth City Council and was elected to the Legislature in both 1909 and 1910. He was in the City Council and a member of the Legislature at the same time. He is a prominent mason, being a shriner, is a past exalted ruler of the Elks and is president of the Veteran Volunteer Firemen's Association.

The most marked hobby of Mr. Schwartz is amateur gardening. Located on Jefferson avenue, Elizabeth, he has one of the most centrally situated farms in the city. His little farm-garden backs up upon those of Rev. Thomas E. Vassar, D. D., Edward Frazee and Edward Hindes. The rivalry between these amateur farmers is keen when the green stuff begins to come above the ground to see who can raise the finest tomatoes, beans, corn and the like.

COUNTY WILL GRADE BONNIE BURN GROUNDS

The committee of the Union County Board of Freeholders in charge of the work at Bonnie Burn Sanitorium, visited that place yesterday, and in company with Dr. J. F. Runnells, the superintendent, planned for the complete furnishing of the superintendent's house and other buildings. J. Hervey Doane is chairman of the committee, and he stated today that so far as possible the furnishings had been purchased from local merchants. Among those patronized here are Powlison & Jones, Woodhull & Martin Company, Shirley & Johnston, Tepper Brothers, A. M. Griffin and the Gayle Hardware Company.

The committee also decided to take care of the grading of the grounds, using the county's own teams, instead of putting the work out at contract. Henry Rogers, of Highland Farm, will have charge of this work, under the direction of Dr. Runnells, and local men will be employed. The committee believes that a considerable sum can be saved to the county by this arrangement. There was a general inspection of grounds and buildings yesterday and much satisfaction was expressed over the progress thus far made. Dr. Runnells and his family expect to take possession of the house next week.

AUTO TRUCK WRECKS LOADED STONE WAGON

Weight of Vehicle's Load Saves Driver and Horses From Injury.

One of the Saurer Motor Company's big auto trucks collided yesterday afternoon near Hyde Park, on Mountain avenue, with Charles Eller's stone wagon. The collision damaged the wagon badly and broke the harness but did not injure Eller and the horses other than to shake them up pretty well. The truck was driven by W. Buttfield. Eller was on the right side of the road when the truck attempted to pass him. Buttfield claims the steering apparatus refused to work. The heavy truck struck the wagon full force. It was a fortunate thing that Eller had about three tons of crushed stone in the wagon. Had it been empty and light the chances are he as well as the horses would have been killed or badly injured.

CLOSING PERIOD AT NETHERWOOD HOME

Last Service of Season to Be Held Week From Tomorrow.

The vesper service at the Netherwood Fresh Air Home, tomorrow afternoon, will be of special interest. The speaker is to be the Rev. Ernest R. Brown, pastor of the Dunellen Presbyterian church, who is a great favorite with the mothers and children, and has many admirers among the friends of the Home.

The soloist is to be Mrs. Helen B. Downer, the contralto soloist of the First Methodist church, who needs no introduction to the music lovers of Plainfield. No doubt a large number will avail themselves of the opportunity of visiting the Home, as this service will mark the beginning of the closing week.

During the week the services will be of much interest. The Westminster church, of Elizabeth, will have charge of the meeting on Monday evening; Tuesday the Epworth League of Grace Church; Wednesday, the usual evening of song and story; Thursday evening, Allen E. Beals will give a talk to the Boy Scouts of the Home, and Friday, Miss Nettie Beeching will give one of her interesting blackboard talks.

The closing exercises will be held the next Sunday afternoon and the speakers will include Rev. Gabriel Reed Maguire, Frederick Sutro, of New York, and other friends of the Home. The quartet choir of the First Methodist church will sing special music, and Edgar A. Cole will be the soloist.

This will mark the closing of the most successful season the Home has had. Miss Curry appreciates the hearty response that the good friends in Plainfield have made to her various requests for food, beds, etc. All are invited to the services of the week.

CARPENTER'S TOOL HOUSE IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Someone telephoned to fire headquarters last evening, saying that a fire was raging in the vicinity of Leland avenue and East Second street. Chief Doane ordered out a company, and in the meantime a patrolman pulled box 56, Leland avenue and George street. The fire was found in a temporary tool house erected by James Dawe, a carpenter, who is constructing a house on the property owned by Mrs. Norman, at 1245 East Second street.

The contents of the shop, consisting of finished lumber, paint and tools were consumed by the blaze and the loss placed at $300. All the street lights in the vicinity of the fire were out of commission and the patrolman had great difficulty in locating the fire box.

BEACHEY THRILLS ONLOOKERS WITH MILE-LONG SLIDE TO THE EARTH

CARRIES MAIL TO TOWN

Cooper's Flying Skilful, But Less Nerve-racking For Spectators—8,000 Feet Beachey's Altitude Mark For the Day.

Lincoln Beachey, eight thousand feet above the earth, playing hide and seek in a cloud which seemed small to the watchers below, but which made his aeroplane appear as a tiny fly as he went back and forth through the mist, thrilled thousands of Jerseymen for miles around Plainfield yesterday afternoon. It was the most spectacular of many tricks of the air performed by the same skillful flyer and it proved beyond a doubt that the promises by the promoters of the local exhibition were not idle ones.

Then came the real thriller of the afternoon. Beachey started back, and had probably descended 2,000 feet or a little more, when he reached a point almost directly over the automobiles parked along the south side of the field. Here he shut off his engine and pointed the little nose of his machine almost at right angles. At a speed which would make the engineer of an eighteen-hour train jealous, he descended for fully a mile, not righting the machine until within three or four hundred feet of the ground, when he straightened it up and sailed smoothly to the field and came to a stop, just forty-two seconds after he had shut off the motor, or at a rate of nearly one hundred miles an hour. The crowd gave a sigh of relief and then started noisy applause augmented by auto horns, for the young aviator, who was easily the calmest and most collected man on the grounds.

Beachey was the whole show. After he had once been in the air and shown his skill, the efforts of John D. Cooper, his companion in the show, seemed tame. Cooper proved that he could skillfully handle his big bird-like contrivance, and handle it cleverly, doing stunts which a couple of years ago would have excited wonder, but which after Beachey's flying seemed like the play of a schoolboy.

There were six flights, lasting for various periods of time, the shortest being five minutes and the longest about twenty-four minutes. Every known "stunt" was shown, many of them so astonishing as to make the spectators stand breathless and silent, wondering what was coming next, and expecting with every new twist to see one of the death defying birdmen drop in a crumbling mass of man, engine, wood and canvas. No one left the field without getting his money's worth, and the glowing reports they brought away will take a record-breaking crowd out this afternoon.

Beachey was the first to go up, and he spent about twelve minutes in the air, doing all sorts of spirals, turns, dips and other evolutions which only an aviator can properly describe. He flew within a radius of a quarter of a mile of the field, and was evidently trying out his machine, which he had not been in since it was put together in Plainfield. Frequently he would make sudden dips over the heads or near to groups of spectators, sending them screaming in all directions. But everyone kept his or her eye on the natty little man, attired as if he was going to spend an afternoon motoring or on the golf links, seated just in front of those two parallel canvas planes, and making them answer his every command flashed through thin wires, the staunchness of which means life or death to the airman.

When he decided there had been enough of this he shut the motor off at a height of perhaps a thousand feet, pointed the nose of the machine almost perpendicularly to the ground and before the crowd realized it he was on the ground and calmly walking toward the grandstand, accompanied by Cooper, with a hero worshipping group of small and grown-up "boys" tagging at his heels.

There was a wait of nearly a half hour before the announcer told the expectant crowd that Beachey would see what he could do in the way of climbing and flirting with the clouds. He went over to his machine, the mechanics twisted the propellers a few times, and he was off again, headed straight for Plainfield, and in what seemed an incredibly short time the machine appeared as but a speck in the sky. As he climbed steadily upward he followed Park avenue, and soon the buzz of his motor was heard over the business section of the city. All work was temporarily suspended and the streets were filled with a "rubber-

ONE CAMPAIGN CLUB FOR CITY AND BORO

W. L. Saunders Advises Democrats to Join Forces—Committee Heads.

The heads of committees and plans for the fall campaign were discussed at a meeting of the Wilson and Marshall Club at H. W. Marshall's building, last night. William L. Saunders, of North Plainfield, was present and he spoke hopefully of the outlook. He suggested that it would be far better to have one strong club than to form two, one for the city and borough, and upon his suggestion, the club extended an invitation to all Democrats of the city and borough to unite, so that more effective work could be accomplished.

President Calvin E. Broadhead was in the chair, and he announced the following heads of committees: Executive, Edward T. Lynch; finance, Howard Fleming; nomination, LeRoy J. Ellis; membership, Fred Ivamy.

The purpose of the nominating committee is to see that a full ticket is placed in the field and to see that petitions are properly filed.

The members decided that the present place of meeting is too small, and the executive committee will endeavor to secure larger quarters on Front street in the business section. Arrangements will also be made to secure a Wilson and Marshall banner, and the committee will plan for raising it in a conspicuous place.

BETTS RULES AGAINST WARREN TWP. BOARD

Orders That Another Election Be Held On Question of Stoltz Site.

Trenton, Aug. 24 (Special).—That the Board of Education of Warren Township, Somerset county, was not acting according to law when it refused to call a meeting of the legal voters of the township in answer to a petition duly signed and presented, is the decision of J. Brognard Betts, Assistant State Commissioner of Education, in the appeal brought before him by Mark Stoltz. The case was somewhat peculiar in that the meeting petitioned for was to vote upon the question of rescinding a resolution authorizing the Board of Education to acquire a certain plot of land for a schoolhouse. The school board refused to call the meeting as requested by the petition on the ground that on April 24 last, the voters of the township had authorized the board to acquire the land, either by purchase or condemnation.

The land desired for the school was owned by Stoltz and he refused to sell it. On June 14, last, before the plot had been condemned, the petition was presented to the school board requesting it to call a meeting of the voters to vote on the question of rescinding the resolution providing for the requirement of the land.

In deciding that the school board erred in refusing to call the meeting, Mr. Betts says he is unable to perceive that the will of the majority is any less supreme, absolute and final, when it has secured the defeat of the proposition to purchase a certain plot of land, than when the vote has been in favor of the proposition. He says the method of recording the will of the people in either case is exactly the same. Deciding another question over which the Commissioner of Education has jurisdiction, on these grounds, he says, the school board must call the meeting in response to the petition.

The Republican voters and citizens in general are invited to attend a meeting to be held in the rooms of the Middlesex Volunteer Fire Company, Monday night at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of talking over matters of interest to the village, and to receive recommendations regarding the appropriations to be made at a caucus to be held at New Market Tuesday night, August 27.

UNION VILLAGE ROAD GETS MUCH-NEEDED IMPROVEMENT

The long-neglected Union Village road leading from Berkeley Heights to Union Village, is undergoing extensive improvement, the work being done under the direction of the New Providence Township Committee. The road is by nearly a mile the shortest route from Berkeley Heights and New Providence Borough to Union Village, Mt. Bethel and other communities and it is also the shortest route from Berkeley Heights to Plainfield.

The road also offers another decided advantage in being a shorter route from Union Village to Berkeley Heights station than the distance to Gillette, and the only reason it has not been used more has been its impassable condition. The roadway is now being macadamized, the work being done without it being necessary to beg funds from the property-owners and without any overdrawing of township accounts. When completed the improvement should be the means of attracting more people from that section of Union County to Plainfield.

ANOTHER SCHOOL VOTE IN NEW PROVIDENCE

Township Electors to Decide Between $250 or $900 Improvement Cost.

A special school election will be held in New Providence township Monday night; the citizens are to vote on an additional appropriation of $700 to make the old Diamond Hill School lightning proof as required by the State Board of Education. There are some other changes necessary to bring the building up to the requirements of the State board.

Last year's School Board took the matter up last winter and arranged to have the alterations made for $250 and this sum was voted for that purpose at an election held in March. The new board asserts that $950 will be required to complete the work.

It has been intimated that if the vote is anything negative the school will be closed and the 25 or 30 pupils will be transported to the new Berkeley Heights school by wagon. This action has been suggested several times before but the voters have objected to closing the school, even though most of the pupils come from outside the township.

It was at one time the most largely attended school in the township and several of its former teachers have since risen to prominence in the educational world. Among them was Professor David B. Corson, assistant supertendent of the schools of the city of Newark. A large amount of money has been spent on that building in recent years for improvements, including a new hard wood floor and a fine heating and ventilating apparatus.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 24.—Delegates from many States arrived in St. Louis today to attend the thirty first national encampment of the Sons of Veterans, composed of honorably discharged Union soldiers and sailors and their sons and grandsons. The sessions will begin at the Planters' Hotel Monday and continue through the greater part of the week. At the same time the Ladies' Auxiliary, of which Mrs. Flora A. S. Whitney, of Worcester, Mass., is president, will hold its annual meeting. Abundant entertainment for the visitors has been prepared by the local organizations.

The company is to engage in the manufacture and sale of hair cloth. The incorporators are William Bluechel, William Hamberger, Rudolph Recher, Matthew Nattleson.

In the New York Shops.

[A postal addressed to O'Flaherty's New York Suburban Shopping Guide, 150 Nassau Street, New York City, will supply information as to where the articles mentioned in this column may be obtained.]

Terry Cloth for Bath Robes is selling for 39 cents a yard at one of the stores. This is so wide that a very little of it would be required for a robe.

A generous number of popular novels will be found at a department store for 44 cents each. The list includes Locke's "Beloved Vagabond" and "Septimus," Ralph Connor's "The Doctor," two or three of Myrtle Reed's novels, and others equally worth reading.

The elderly woman or the woman in mourning will want one of the black belts with bags attached for change or for the handkerchief that one of the stores is selling for 50 cents. The belt is made from broad black elastic except in the front which is of dull black leather, to which is attached a small leather pocket.

Neat corner shelves for the bath-room come at $2.50 for a straight cut glass shelf, and at $4.00 for a shelf in white imitation marble with curved front edge and a nickel rail.

One of the department stores is selling an attractive little glove purse about the size of a quarter, with a leather throng attached, with a tassel of slashed leather at the end to enable the purse to be withdrawn from the glove without difficulty. Its price is 10 cents.

Fine water tumblers, initialed with any letter you choose, can be had for 25 cents for six.

Corner Medicine Cabinets in white enamel provided with two shelves are $4.00.

One of the stores is displaying all sizes and practically all colors of elbow length silk gloves, embroidered, at $1.19 a pair.

The camper, or the picnicer, and even the office force, will want some packages of the sanitary cups which are being sold for 5 cents for a package of eight.

Attractive gun metal Cigarette Cases are being shown at one of the specialty shops for 50 cents.

You remember the white china of your childhood with the blue floral design in bas-relief, as it were,—a quaint, old fashioned kind of china that you see nowadays only in museum collections? One of the shops is selling this pattern in open stock. A teacup and saucer is reduced to 50 cents, and other pieces are as reasonable.

BROUGHT TO LIGHT.

Plainfield People Receiving the Full Benefit.

There have been many cases like the following in Plainfield. Everyone relates the experience of people we know. These plain, straightforward statements will do much toward relieving the suffering of thousands. Such testimony will be read with interest by many people.

Mrs. Anthony Wahl, R. F. D., No. 1, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I had such distressing pains in my back that I could hardly stand and it was out of the question for me to stoop. I was all crippled up and I knew perfectly well that my kidneys were the cause of my trouble. A neighbor recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to me and on her suggestion, I used them. They gave me almost immediate relief and three boxes changed me from a chronic sufferer to a healthy woman. I still take Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally when a cold settles on my kidneys and they act a preventive of any serious recurrence of my former trouble. You may publish this account of my experience for the benefit of other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

"IT'S FRAMEUP," SAYS ROOSEVELT

Declares Archbold Story Is "Deliberate Falsehood."

COLONEL'S REPLY BITTER

Characterizes Oil President's Statement as "Wicked Assault on Dead Man"—Says Mr. Bliss Was Incapable of Conduct Imputed to Him.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 24.—Colonel Roosevelt issued a statement in which he characterizes as "deliberate and malicious falsehoods" the sensational charges brought against him by Senator Penrose before the senate committee investigating campaign contributions and in the testimony given by John D. Archbold before that body.

Colonel Roosevelt reviewed every phase of the testimony given by Mr. Archbold and pictured the conditions under which it had been given as a "frameup." To the newspaper men gathered on his porch the colonel dictated the statement which was terminated only by the falling darkness.

Colonel Roosevelt's Reply.

In part Colonel Roosevelt's reply is as follows:

In the first place, I wish to call attention to the fact that even if Mr. Archbold's statements are true they amount only to saying, so far as I am concerned, that Mr. Bliss told him that I had knowledge of and approved a request for $100,000 from the Standard Oil company, which was granted, and a further request for $150,000, which was not granted. This is a pure hearsay statement, which was instantly disproved by the production of my letters and telegrams. But I do not for one moment believe that Mr. Archbold's testimony is truthful. He apparently possesses such a moral standard that he does not understand the infamous accusation he is making against Mr. Bliss.

This is a wicked assault on a dead man whose high standing and probity was such that no human being who was himself honest would impute evil motives to him. Mr. Bliss was incapable of conduct such as Mr. Archbold imputes to him.

I do not for one moment believe that Mr. Bliss made any such remarks to Mr. Archbold as Mr. Archbold says. For example, Mr. Archbold states that he and the late H. H. Rogers visited me at the White House and that I then remarked to them that there had been some criticism about campaign contributions. This is a falsehood. Neither on that occasion nor on any other occasion was one word said either by me to Mr. Archbold or by Mr. Archbold to me about campaign contributions. Mr. Rogers and Mr. Archbold called on that occasion to protest against any government action being taken against the Standard Oil company. This was one of a number of calls which Mr. Archbold made on me to try to prevent action against the Standard Oil company by the bureau of corporations under the department of the interior and by the department of justice.

If Mr. Archbold had really believed that Mr. Bliss had told him that I knew of any contribution by the Standard Oil or had felt that he was jeopardized by having refused to make a contribution or was entitled to immunity for having made one he would certainly in one of those calls have said as much. He never broached the subject. He merely said over and over again that Mr. Garfield and Mr. H. K. Smith were treating him unfairly, and he denied again and again that the Standard Oil ever got any rebates or ever did anything that was not absolutely proper. And he would keep on with these denials even when I would tell him that I had in my possession reports from the bureau of corporations and the secretary of the interior which conclusively showed that the Standard Oil had been taking rebates on the largest possible scale.

Inasmuch as Mr. Archbold did not tell the truth in his interview with me, I have no doubt that he does not tell the truth about the man who is dead and who, living, he never dared to accuse as he now accuses him. Neither Mr. Bliss nor any one else ever suggested or hinted at, in any shape or form, that I would take or refrain from taking any action in connection with any corporation because of any contribution whatsoever.

DEAR LIVING AND MILITARISM

Salt Lake City, Aug. 24.—An economic interpretation of wars and of preparations for war, in which he marshalled a great array of facts against militarism, was made by Dr. David Starr Jordan before the American Institute of Banking here.

In his address, which was the feature of the day's meeting, Dr. Jordan affirmed that bankers generally were opposed to war because war involved the destruction of wealth. International pawnbrokers financed wars and by controling the purse strings ruled the issues among the great powers.

The speaker traced the increased cost of living to the military and naval expenditures of the world.

500 EXECUTIONS IN CANTON

Death Penalty Imposed Even For Theft and Gambling.

Canton, Aug. 24.—More than 500 executions have occurred here in the past month. The police, the military commander, the naval authorities and the courts all claim and exercise the right to impose and execute capital sentences.

Death is the penalty for gambling, false representation, piracy, theft, extortion, selling arms without a license, joining anti-government organizations, treason, murder and harboring criminals.

Shot Dead In Saloon.

Clinton, Mass., Aug. 24.—William Durkin, sixty-eight, was shot and killed in a saloon by Martin O'Malley, an employee of the Crossman House. It is generally believed that the shooting was accidental.

RICH AND POOR VIEW BODY OF GEN. BOOTH

Remarkable Display of Respect by All Classes.

London, Aug. 24.—The body of the late General William Booth lay in state, and the occasion produced such a display of sincere respect from all classes as has probably never been excelled.

All nations and creeds were represented among the many thousands of people who paid their last tribute to the great evangelist.

Even before dawn, despite a pelting, cold rain, thousands were waiting in front of Congress hall, Clapton, in the northeast of London, where the body had been conveyed from the late general's private residence. Before the public was admitted, however, a large number of personal friends, public officials and high officers of the Salvation Army came to pay their last respects.

Then from 10 o'clock onward a constant stream of humanity, unchecked throughout the day, filed in reverent silence past the catafalque of the dead general. Poorly clad women had tramped miles through the drizzling downpour to obtain a last sight of the man who had brought some sunshine into their lives. Shoulder to shoulder with them were fashionably dressed women who desired to pay their homage to the great leader and uplifter.

Baron Hengelmuller Announces Resignation of Ambassadorship.

Bar Harbor, Me., Aug. 24.—Baron Hengelmuller von Hengervar, the Austrian ambassador to the United States, formally announced that he has been granted leave to return to Austria next Thursday. It is his intention not to return, but to settle permanently in his own country, after being in the diplomatic service forty-four years, twenty of which have been spent in the United States. He has made no plans further than to occupy his seat in the house of lords. Baron Hengelmuller said:

"I have informed my own government and the American state department of my intention, which I shall carry out unless something unforeseen occurs. Both myself and my family are leaving the United States with feelings of the deepest regret."

TELEGRAPHER DIES ON DUTY

Found Lifeless at His Key While Trains Run Without Orders.

Oroville, Cal., Aug. 24.—F. R. Sinclair, Western Pacific railroad operator at Belden, fifty-five miles from here, sat at his key dead of heart disease while the Oroville dispatcher tried frantically to "raise" Belden to transmit dispatches that would prevent a train collision.

Persistent calling over the wire brought no response, nor was the telephone answered. Then the Oroville dispatcher telephoned to citizens of Belden and they hurried to the station and found the operator dead. Incoming trains were flagged until another operator could be sent to the town.

HYPOCRISY.

Hyprocrisy is a high crime against moral ethics. It should be a crime within the meaning of the penal code, and those guilty of its practices should be dealt with according to law and held in the same degree of public disfavor as those who practice the bolder forms of deception, such as the shrewd individual who operates a shell game at a county fair or sells a gold brick to the unsophisticated countryman upon his first visit to a great metropolis. From the standpoint of moral injury the common hypocrite is worse than either of the fakers referred to, because those who have been victimized by a game of chance or have spent their money for a gold brick, later to learn that they have purchased a worthless stone, will profit by the experience, and will thereafter know that big returns come only as a reward for honest toil and square dealing.

The world is filled with men who have deceived others so long that they are now beginning to deceive themselves. We find these men in all walks of life, in business, politics and religion, and finally the time has come when woman, whose refinement and charm has heretofore characterized her as the bulwark of virtue and morality, is participating in this sham and falsity. Unfortunately, there is no law that will reach the hypocritical class, and society must reform its members by appealing to a higher sense of morality.

We are called upon to witness acts of deception on the part of our public men and too frequently do we hear the cry of the Pharisee proclaiming, "I am holier than thou." The most innocent and purest man in the history of the human race issued an admonition to those who were too prone to criticise when He said "Let him that is without sin cast the first stone." This admonition has little significance in our day, when men are constantly in bitter controversy with each other, vieing, as it were, to see who can bear the strongest witness against his neighbor.

Within the past few months the evils of hypocrisy have manifested themselves in the conduct of certain individuals who seek place and power, and who are bringing strong reproach upon those with whom they have previously been associated, but who now refuse to accept their beliefs. These individuals are as bad, if not worse than those they accuse of acting in bad faith. There is no act more useful for the highwayman who has robbed a pedestrian than to rush down the street crying "stop thief" when pursued by an officer. By recourse to these tactics the suspicion of guilt is thrown off, and the deceptive cries which divert the attention of the crowd from the real thief often afford a means of escape for the guilty one. The accusations which some men make against others frequently have no basis in fact, but are the product of a guilty conscience stored with malice and hate that measures all mankind by its own standard.

From countless pulpits, on the Sabbath day, we hear ministers preaching the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, yet on Monday we find not a few of these same ministers inspiring hatred in the hearts and minds of their congregation against those who subscribe to another faith or belong to another race or color. Thousands of well-meaning men and women walk reverently into church only to look with contempt upon some poorly dressed man or woman who happens to occupy a part of the pew they have taken. This same class of men and women raise their hands in horror at the suggestion of a glass of soda or a cigar being sold as a desecration of the Lord's day, while at the same time the coachman or chauffeur in their employ is compelled to work on the Sabbath the same as on other days, and not infrequently the service he is called upon to perform on Sunday is more exacting than on a week day.

In business life we find the merchant cheating his customer by means of short weights and measures, while at the same time expecting a high degree of honesty on the part of those in his employ. So flagrant has this form of deception become that a recent Legislature created a department for the supervision of weights and measures, and the inspectors sent out by this department discovered that many a merchant whose reputation was that of an honest Christian gentleman was using this mask behind which to perpetrate wholesale frauds upon those who could not see the other side of his character.

Not long since a number of society women in various parts of the nation, whose time could have been spent to better advantage had they applied it to elevating the moral and social well-being of their sex, by assisting in the making of clothing for the thousands of half-naked children, and by giving advice in methods of good housekeeping, made their appearance in a rather sensational way, advocating the cause of woman suffrage.

I am not one of those who believe that women are not as competent to vote as men, but my contention is, that some one must care for the home and that no greater crown can be placed on woman's head than to have it said that she is an efficient housekeeper and a good mother. Many of the so-called leaders of the suffrage movement are in it as a means of earning a livelihood by lecturing, or because it furnishes a fad in the pursuit of which those who have nothing else to do can work off their surplus energy.

On a certain occasion I heard a suffrage speaker telling of the great benefits the success of the movement would afford to the working women in establishing better conditions of labor in mills, stores and workshops. In the audience were a large number of wealthy women who applauded in an enthusiastic manner every word of the speaker. I took occasion to inquire how some of the enthusiasts at the meeting treat the hired help in their homes, and it was no surprise to me to learn that some of them raised very great objections to the cook or chambermaid having half a day off, once a week, notwithstanding the fact that this time off was a part of the working agreement when the servants were hired.

The several instances of hypocrisy which I have cited forces me to the conclusion that the general conditions of society would be greatly improved, if every individual were to seek a quiet corner in his own home, have a long talk with himself, and after determining just how false he has been, come forth into the world again, leaving deceit and hypocrisy to be a part of the dead past. If this were done there would be a better understanding between mankind, vice and immorality would be reduced to a minimum and, with every individual standing forth in his true character, moral degeneracy would be infinitely small.

WALTER L. HETFIELD, JR.

FOREBEAR AS TO DOGS SAYS THE GENTLE G. C.

Passaic Valley Commentator Writes In a Calm and Philosophical Mood.

Dogs are the theme of the gently philosophical piece which the Gingery Contributor of the Passaic Valley News writes this week. Thus:

"I tiptoed pretty gingerly through Warrenville the other day, I assure you, mindful of the peppery disposition which some of my friends there had been manifesting, and I got to thinking about the cause of their ruction and its relation to other people. It's no wonder that Domnie Hauser didn't like having his dog shot. I wouldn't want mine shot, either. And it's no wonder that Brother Strait didn't want dogs trespassing upon his place. I don't want them on mine, either.

"So as I meandered down through Dog Watch Hollow it occurred to me that there are certain reciprocal rights and duties in the dog-owning business as well as in everything else. A man has a right to keep a dog; that's sure. But he has no right to let his dog be a nuisance to his neighbor any more than his chickens or his cows or his pigs. Now we all know that it is a great nuisance to have a dog running at large upon your place; unless it's your own dog which you have trained to do just what he should do and to leave undone the thing which he ought not to do.

"There's my friend Ephraim Abendspieler. He has lovely beds of flowers on his lawn; and whenever Judge Stragazer's dog, about the size of a two months calf, races across them and paws them, Eph. thinks things which he wouldn't like to say aloud, on a Sunday. Then here's Mrs. Podpullen. She has a lot of half tame wild rabbits living in the shrubbery on her place; and it hurts her very much to have Silas Turniptop's hound chase and kill them. Every time I drive past Isidore Kanuck's place his big dog comes bouncing out and keeps me company for half a mile, jumping at my horse's nose every ten feet and barking like a lost soul on a katzenjammer. Well, it doesn't scare my horse. Dynamite couldn't do that. But there are lots of horses that would be scared out of their wits, and would run away and smash things.

"Now I'm not suggesting that my friend Hauser's dog acted in any such way. I'm not judging that case at all. But what I want to say is this, that those who own dogs should not let them be nuisances to others and conversely that when a generally well kept and well behaved dog does once in a blue moon get out and trespass he should be treated with forbearance. That is the law of neighborliness."

Murray Hill Man Makes Neighbors Unwilling Sharers In His Protest.

The Passaic and Delaware Railroad, which runs through Murray Hill, is just now in disfavor with the residents of that village and in fact that whole section, who want a new station and other improvements. George F. Barnard, who owns the properly directly south of the little old station, including the circular approach thereto and the road bordering upon the station platform, has decided that he will no longer allow the public to use his property until the railroad company erects a new station. This week Mr. Barnard erected a fence around his property and now persons desiring to reach the station find the only approach a road which crosses the tracks just east of the building and all vehicles and obliged to stop there to discharge or take up passengers.

This arrangement is proving a great inconvenience to the public, to say nothing of the dangerous features, as the public road is too narrow for vehicles to turn in and the stopping place is close to the tracks. There has been much confusion in consequence in the crowd of horses and carriages and automobiles and runaways have narrowly been avoided. The inconvenience in the handling of baggage has also been great.

Mr. Barnard says that he dislikes to inconvenience the public and he has no animosity against the railroad, but he believes his plan the only one that will bring the company to terms. He says that he is willing to head with $8,000 a subscription list to help the company erect a new station to cost $30,000. Mayor Thomas P. Crane, who owns the adjoining property to that of Mr. Barnard, was asked to follow the latter's example, but he declined. The nuisances about the old station are such, it is said, as would not be tolerated at Red Dog Gulch, and the residents demand that they be abated.

DYING MAN DICTATES AS SURGEONS WORK OVER HIM

Perth Amboy, Aug. 24.—Lying probably mortally injured from an automobile accident near Monticello, N. Y., Isaac Alpern, a real estate agent of this city, rallied his energies while the surgeons were dressing his wound and dictated his will to a local sheriff who was summoned in the emergency.

Five persons were injured in the accident, two others besides Alpern seriously. Max Cohn, of New York, had both legs broken and sustained internal hurts; S. M. Kahn, New York, suffered a dislocation of the shoulder and severe contusions; Simon Metzger, also of New York, cuts and bruises.

The car was operated by George Sloan, who was badly cut about the head and body. The party was returning from White Lake when in trying to avoid hitting a colt which ran into the road the car was swerved and struck a rut, overturning and twisting completely around. It was feared that Alpern could not survive long.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

STRING BEANS.

STRING beans taste best when young and fresh. Every shred of the strings must be removed when preparing them for cooking. The best way to accomplish this is to pare a strip from the edge of the beans.

If you wish the beans to retain their color add a little baking soda to the water in which they are boiled. For boiling young and tender beans use just enough water to cover.

It is a good plan to put but little salt into the water in which string beans are boiled. Salt tends to toughen vegetable fibers.

Boiled Until Tender.

Buttered Beans.—Remove the strings from the beans and lay them, handful by handful, on a board. Cut into pieces about an inch long. Then wash and place on the fire in a saucepan of boiling water to which a little salt has been added. Boil until tender, which should be in from one to three hours. Drain the beans and add a dressing of butter, salt and cream.

With Bacon and Ham.

Beans With Bacon.—Cut slices of nice bacon into small dice and place in the frying pan. Saute until golden brown. Add a few drops of onion juice and mix with the boiled string beans. Serve dressed with strips of the sauted bacon and sprigs of parsley.

Ham and Beans.—Take half a pound of ham, cut it into small pieces and lay aside until the string beans are to be cooked. Wash and string these, cut into inch pieces and let them soak in clear water for a half hour. Then drain, put into a saucepan with the ham, cover with boiling water and let boil for an hour. Then drain and season with a tablespoonful of cream or milk, a tablespoonful of butter and salt and pepper.

Using Cold Beans.

String Bean Salad.—Cold string beans may be used for this or very young beans may be boiled especially for it. Boil the latter, about a pint of them, in water to which a teaspoonful of salt has been added. Throw them into cold water when drained and taken off the fire. Cut the beans into pieces and put a layer of them into the salad dish, then a layer of boiled and thinly sliced beets and a layer of beans. Cover with French dressing. Garnish with slices of cold boiled eggs or mayonnaise dressing.

each side front just above the knee, the front of the skirt having a panel effect, which gives long lines to the figure. In some instances the modified pannier drops well down toward the lower section of the skirt in the back, thus giving a pointed outline.

A well fitting, becoming house jacket is what every woman desires. This one is exceptionally attractive. It is finished with a smooth fitting peplum that does away with bulk over the hips. Whether the jacket is worn over an odd skirt or made with a skirt to match, it is most satisfactory.

For the Children

When Mutsuhito, emperor of Japan, died a short time ago his only son, Prince Yoshihito, became emperor. The new emperor has three sons, and the eldest of these, Prince Hirohito, becomes the heir apparent and may one day rule the Japanese empire. Hirohito was born in April, 1901, and is therefore just past eleven years of age. His mother's name is Sadako, and she is a daughter of Prince Kujo. A great many of the Japanese names seem to end with the letter "o." Hirohito's two brothers are named Yasuhito and Nobuhito. One is ten years old and the other seven.

Talking Shop.

Partners may be chosen for this game by writing names of women on one set of papers, such as Eve, Jill, Juliet, Judy, and names of men corresponding to them on another set of papers, as Adam, Jack, Romeo, Punch. Hand each guest a slip of paper with a name on it, and each one hunts for his or her partner.

When all are properly paired off the leader announces that at a given signal all the ladies are to talk to their partners for five minutes about household affairs, shopping, preserving, fashions and servants. Each man must listen attentively to his partner, and when the five minutes are up he must write a brief account of her conversation on paper, which the hostess has in readiness. Five minutes are allowed for this.

Then the men talk to the ladies for five minutes about business matters, stocks, law, medicine, horses, cigars, and the ladies in their turn write a short account of what they have heard. The hostess collects and reads the papers awarding a prize for the best one.

A Repeating Game.

After a stand-up game a rather funny game, where all the company may sit, is to have one person chosen to call and the rest to repeat: One good fat hen, two ducks, three plump partridges, four squawking wild geese, five felicitous oysters, six pairs of Roman striped hose, 7,000 Spanish soldiers, eight cages of Heliogabulus parrakeets, nine sympathetic, apathetic, didactic, propositions; eleven superstitious astronomers viewing Venus in Venice, twelve European dancing masters teaching Egyptian mummies to dance at Hercules' wedding. If any one laughs in the course of this he must pay a forfeit. The one who repeats most smoothly and solemnly must be the caller out and begin gibberish over again.

A Mine of the Incas.

One of the famous lost emerald mines of Peru is said to have been discovered recently by a Greek immigrant. This man had some land near the little village of Acomayo, and he wanted some lime for building purposes. So he set some workmen to digging out limestone. The men dug in a depression that looked like a natural cave. Soon, however, the Greek proprietor thought that the cave did not look natural, and he began investigating. He thought it might be a mine, and so it was—so they say. He found three different holes with emeralds in them farther down in the old workings, and then it dawned on him that he had discovered one of the lost mines of the Incas, the sovereigns of ancient Peru.

Conundrums.

Why is it dangerous to walk into the country at this time of the year? Because the hedges are shooting, the cowslips about and the bulrushes out.

What is the difference between a blind man and a sailor in prison? One cannot see to go, and the other can't go to sea.

When do your teeth usurp the rights of your tongue? When they are chattering.

Why is Buckingham palace the cheapest palace ever built? Because it was built for one sovereign and furnished for another.

The Difference.

When he knows the fish are biting
He can dig an acre lot;
When he's asked to spade the garden,
My, oh, my, but it is hot!

NAVAL HEADS URGED TO START MARINES

Cruiser Prairie Ready to Proceed to Colon.

Washington, Aug. 24.—The state department is urging the naval heads to take every step possible to start the transport Prairie as soon as possible for Colon. The navy department is doing its best, but the marines the ship is to carry for service in Nicaragua cannot be concentrated before Saturday.

Dispatches to the state department are from twenty-four to forty-eight hours late in transmission. Each seems to indicate more aggravated conditions. Quicker transmission of official cablegrams probably will follow the arrival of the gunboat Denver at Corinto. The vessel is due there tomorrow. She will land about 100 bluejackets and steam to San Juan del Sur, where the cable station is. Then the navy will be in direct communication with the Annapolis and Justin at Corinto.

The cruiser Prairie, which will carry marines to Colon, from where they will proceed to Nicaragua, arrived at the Philadelphia navy yard from Portsmouth. The work of coaling the ship and placing stores on board began at once.

Capture Man Credited With Having Caused Series of Explosions.

Kingston, Jamaica, Aug. 24.—A man credited with having been the originator of the series of explosions at Port au Prince, Haiti, when General Leconte, the president, perished in the flames which destroyed the presidential palace, arrived here on board the German steamer Syria from Haiti.

The suspect appears to be an Italian and wore the garb of a priest. He will be returned to Haiti.

WALDO PREPARES LANDLORDS' LIST

Society Leaders Lease Houses For Illegal Purposes.

"LEFTY LOUIE" AT LARGE

False Report That He Had Been Located—Posters Offering $5,000 Reward Sent Out to Every City in the Country—Accused Detectives Held.

New York, Aug. 24.—Police Commissioner Waldo is preparing a list of the owners of every building which, during his regime, has been used by the lessee as a gambling house, disorderly house or for other unlawful purposes. This list will be made public.

The lights in the chief inspector's office burned late while inspectors and lesser officers of the department collected the names and other data concerning every place suspected of housing wrongdoing since Commissioner Waldo took office. And at the same time each inspector has been digging into the records, at the commissioner's orders, to unearth the details of raids and reports on suspected unlawful resorts during the administrations of Messrs. Baker, Cropsey and Waldo, or since the beginning of Mayor Gaynor's administration, so that each inspector may furnish the district attorney's office material for the proposed John Doe inquiry before Justice Goff.

Stories of the arrest of Louis Rosenzweig ("Lefty Louie") at some distance from New York came into police headquarters and to the district attorney's office, but neither the police nor Mr. Whitman or his assistants received reports from any official source to substantiate the stories. The district attorney's office busied itself more with graft investigation and preparation for the John Doe proceedings.

A panel of fifty jurors from which the twenty-three men who will compose the special grand jury for the extraordinary term beginning Sept. 3, with Justice Goff presiding, was obtained by District Attorney Whitman on Thursday. The list of names and addresses of owners of properties which have been used as gambling houses or disorderly resorts or suspected of harboring gamblers or prostitutes will include, so Commissioner Waldo said, some of the most prominent names, socially and financially, in the city.

"Lefty Louie" Not Caught.

"When this list is ready," Commissioner Waldo said today, "anybody who wants one of the lists may have it."

Commissioner Waldo when asked whether headquarters had received any definite word as to the arrest of 'Lefty Louie" said:

"No word has come to us. I hope it is true regardless, of course, whether our men made the arrest or not. If any of our men have taken 'Lefty Louie' we would have got word of the arrest."

In sending out posters announcing the offer by District Attorney Whitman of a reward of $5,000 for the arrest of "Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie," it was said at the district attorney's office that although the printed poster definitely mentions that the police of New York are not to share in the reward, the police were called upon to help in sending the posters broadcast throughout the country. The district attorney's office called upon police headquarters for their mailing list, and Commissioner Waldo's men did a large part of the work of directing the posters. To more than 3,000 police chiefs, sheriffs and lesser officers throughout the United States was mailed the poster containing the offer of reward and a description of the fugitives.

The two members of Lieutenant Becker's strong arm squad, Detectives James C. White and John C. Steinert, who were indicted on charges of oppression and perjury in the alleged conspiracy to convict "Big Jack" Zelig on a second offense of carrying a revolver, pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Judge Mulqueen after their night in the Tombs.

The two detectives thereupon were remanded back to the Tombs in default of $10,000 bail for each.

NAMES REFORMATORY SITE.

Colonel Scott Favors Sidney, Delaware County, For New Institution.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 24.—The selection of a site at Sidney, Delaware county, for the proposed state reformatory for male misdemeanants is favored by Colonel Joseph F. Scott, superintendent of state prisons. The legislature this year appropriated $50,000 for preliminary work on the institution.

Colonel Scott said that Sidney was accessible and that a plot of land which he had in view would yield to agricultural development, a feature which enters into the plan of establishing this institution.

Cliff Climber May Recover.

Lugano, Switzerland, Aug. 24.—Charles Marion, the American youth, may recover from the injuries received when he fell over a cliff while ascending Monte San Salvatore. The doctor says he has hopes of saving his life, although his skull was badly fractured.

GRACE CHOIR CAMPERS RETURN FROM MANASQUAN

Four of Grace Episcopal church choir boys, who have been camping at Manasquan for the past week, returned to their homes in this city last night. They are Chester Alpaugh, Edward Ryder, William Whelan and Albert Huelson. The other two choir boys who made the trip were Harold Williams and Daniel McNamie. They will remain at the camp for another week.

All the boys report the time of their life and said that they made daily excursions to the nearby towns which have been holding their season carnivals. All of the boys in the camp took their bicycles with them and the trips were made in that way. Two of the campers, Williams and McNamee started on a trip to Long Branch Tuesday night but were caught in the heavy rainstorm and were forced to stay over night at Ocean Grove.

DEEP-TILLING DEVICE ADDS TO POTATO CROP

Freehold, Aug. 24—An experiment watched with interest, the practical results of which will be determined in a week of two, is the use of a deep tilling machine on the farm of Daniel H. Taylor, near Bradevelt. While used extensively in the west, Mr. Taylor is said to be the first man in the State to try one out. He purchased one of the machines last spring, plowed part of a field thirteen inches deep and planted potatoes alongside of some planted in soil plowed but seven inches deep with the old style mold board plow.

A few days ago Mr. Taylor dug a few potatoes from the two sections. The small plots dug indicated that a yield of ninety barrels would be harvested from the land that was tilled deep, and a yield of fifty barrels per acre where plowed the ordinary depth.

Mr. Taylor estimates that an increase of 71 3-10 per cent. in production will be shown by the newer method. He has announced his intention of fixing a certain date for the digging of the entire field when farmers and others interested will be invited to witness the result.

PRIMARY CANDIDATES FILE THEIR PETITIONS

Elizabeth, Aug. 24 (Special)—Richard B. Fordham, of Rahway, filed his petition in the county clerk's office yesterday afternoon as a Republican aspirant for surrogate. He hopes to succeed George T. Parrot, who is also out for a renomination. Mr. Fordham was a candidate for the shrievalty nomination last year but did not develop any material strength.

Joseph T. Hague, assistant city attorney of Elizabeth, who is a candidate for surrogate on the Democratic ticket, also filed his petition. Besides Mr. Hague other candidates on the Democratic ticket for the place are James P. Kelly, of this city; LeRoy Gibby, of Summit, and Walter Hetfield, Sr., of Plainfield.

The petition of TenEcyk R. Beardsley, of Fanwood, who is a candidate for Assembly on the Democratic ticket, was also filed today. That of Lloyd B. Thompson, of Westfield, a Republican aspirant for the same office, was also filed. Other petitions filed were those of Robert D. Gibby, of Rahway, who wants to serve two years as a Democratic freeholder, and that of Harry Coulter, also of Rahway, who wants to serve one year as a Democratic freeholder. All the petitions must be in by next Saturday.

FOUR OLD SOLDIERS AND THEIR WARTIME FIDDLES

Proctor's theatre audiences next week are likely to be made up to a considerable extent of faces that are not often seen in playhouses, for the appearance there of the "old Soldier Fiddlers" should attract people who are seldom interested in theatrical things. In fact the "Old Soldier Fiddlers" can hardly be called theatrical folks. They are a group of old soldiers, actual veterans of the Civil War, who are fiddlers—not violinists, but just fiddlers and natural comedians. Playing the same fiddles that they sawed at, long before the Civil War broke out in the sixties, these old men, two from the Union forces, and two who fought with the Grays, have gone into vaudeville and are making a distinct hit. In each city where they have appeared they have aroused more interest among elderly folk than any other vaudeville act.

Old soldiers it is expected will turn out to greet these brothers of war time, and before the week is well started the town, the theatre folk say, will be agog with talk about the spryness of these old fashioned fiddlers who, at ages ranging from 70 to 80 years, have plucked up the courage to go on the stage.

BEACHEY THRILL ONLOOKERS

necking" throng. When about over Front street he turned back toward the field, steadily climbing as he traveled.

Higher and higher he went toward a filmy group of clouds, and each time he approached them as he swung about in great circles it appeared as if he would pass above each one. After going below several he finally reached his goal, at a heighth of 8,000 feet, and in this mist he played, if it can be called play, where one knows that two strips of canvas and an engine are all that separate him from eternity.

It was then that he started on his great glide toward the ground, which is described above.

After his slide through the air Beachey walked over to the postoffice established on the ground, and here he found that William H. Thorn, the clerk from the main office, had gathered together 1,341 pieces of mail matter for the aeroplane route. He had been assisted by Rudolph Heinhold, and Postmaster E. H. Bird was on hand to supervise the job. Each piece was post-marked with the usual circle, the stamp reading "Via Aeroplane Mail Route, Plainfield, N. J., Aug. 23, 1912." The mail was placed in a small pouch and Beachey took possession of it, waiting to make his flight until Cooper had his chance.

Cooper went up and circled around the field and over nearby country for eight minutes, but did few "circus stunts," apparently trying to familiarize himself with his machine. When he came back to earth, Beachey was soon up again with the mail pouch in front of him. In about five minutes he had taken it to Plainfield avenue, dropped it to W. J. Hudson who was waiting in an auto to carry it to the main postoffice, and had returned to the field again.

He was soon in flight for the fourth time of the afternoon and the antics which the machine performed under his guidance made the heart of more than one spectator pound against his ribs or rise to a point in the neighborhood of the "Adam's apple." A few dips and twists were followed by two complete circles of the field with the flier's hands away from the steering wheel, and held at right angles to his body. Not content with toying with fate he rose to an altitude of perhaps a thousand feet and started back for earth as if he were following the lines of a giant imaginary cork-screw. With the inside end of the plane almost at right angles to the ground he twisted and twisted until it seemed that it would be impossible to right the machine, but Beachey had done so many apparently impossible things during the afternoon that a little act like untwisting from a cork screw was as simple for him as the turning of a corner with an automobile would be for most drivers. He was soon on the ground, through for the day.

Cooper made one more flight, doing a few of the stunts which Beachey had done in his first flight and then the machines were taken to the side of the field to rest until this afternoon.

WELCOME OF ATHLETES.

New York, Aug. 24.—Amid the continuous applause from thousands of spectators who lined Broadway from Forty-second street to Park place, the victorious American athletes who took part in the Olympic games at Stockholm paraded to the City Hall this morning to listen to addresses of welcome from Mayor Gayner and other eminent representatives of the city, the State and nation. The demonstration was one of the most notable of its kind ever seen in New York. In addition to the Olympic team the parade comprised divisions of regular troops from Governors Island and Forts Hamilton and Wadesworth, marines and bluejackets from the navy yard, detachments of boy scouts, amateur and professional baseball teams and thousands of boys from the public schools bearing flags.

Philosophical Phelix Says:

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

Things certainly are up in the air around this burg today. Wonder who will go up at Bound Brook this afternoon?

By the way, are you going over to Brunswick tomorrow afternoon? The Newhouse and Driscoll charges clash at Amusement Park.

In view of his living in Trenton, friends of Cliff Case, who twirls for Bound Brook tomorrow, predict that he will twirl a la Wilson game; sweeping things before him.

There will be no need of wearing blazers at the Driving Park this afternoon. The weather is blazing enough.

While Beachey was conversing with some friends on Front street last night some guy came along and said point blank: "You fellows must be a harem-scarem bunch." "Yes, we aviators have to be flighty," said Beachey.

School begins within two weeks. Goodbye to that Parker Field Junior Baseball League.

We cannot seem to shake the other two amateur leagues, though.

They are now thinking about drawing up a winter schedule.

John Bredemus, of Princeton University, who won the all-round athletic championship four years ago, has begun active training for the all-around championship, which will take place in New York city on Labor Day at the Irish-American games. Jim Thorpe, the Carlisle Indian; Theodore Matsukes, of New York, and others will be his rivals for the title.

Wonder how that Saurer bunch will feel after today?

Some will be home tomorrow morning and others are due for a vacation anyway.

Yes, they went to the same place that the Spicer bunch did.

BOUND BROOK AGAINST OUR BOYS TOMORROW

When Dave Driscoll and his followers, who perform in Plainfield on Saturdays, take the field at Amusement Park, New Brunswick, tomorrow afternoon, to hold up their reputation against the Bound Brook crowd, they will face one of the strongest aggregations that could be brought together in this section.

Manager Newhouse has been gloating over what he is going to pull off at New Brunswick, so it is now up to the Plainfield crowd to show the goods. Slocum and Lidgate play in Bayonne on Sundays, so they will be absent from the Bound Brook lineup.

Manager Newhouse states that he will positively have Cliff Case, the Trenton boy, in the box for his team Sunday when they oppose Driscoll's New Brunswicks. This will be the first time that Case will have performed in this section in several years, and the first time since he entered the minor leagues. Case is said to be in great form and condition at the present time, and it can safely be said that he will work his head off to beat the New Brunswicks.

Hand, who caught in the United States League when it was in existence, will receive Case.

WORLD CYCLE TITLE AT STAKE NEXT WEEK

Foreign Cyclists From All Parts of the World Compete at Newark.

The eyes of the cycle racing world will be turned to Newark next week, when the cycling championship of the world will be run at the Newark Velodrome. Foreign cyclists from all parts of the world are going to complete for the highest honors of cycling and it will be a representative field of professionals who will face the starter when the opening gun is fired Sunday, August 25. The countries that will be represented are France, Germany, Denmark, Belgium, Sweden, Australia, New Zealand, Russia, Italy, Greece and America. France has sent three of her best short distance riders, who will complete in the sprint championship; Australia will be represented by her middle distance champion and her sprint champion. The rest of the foreign countries will place their hopes in just one rider each and they are all national champions.

The French republic will have a strong representation in M. Perchicot, the champion of France; Emil Friol, an ex-world's champion, and Marcel Depuy. Perchicot won the title this year, and he is said to be a wonderfully fast man. This has been a great year for Perchicot; many classic events in addition to the French championship having been captured by this slender, clean-cut athlete. In the past two months he has defeated Thorwald Ellegaard, the winner of the championship last year; Dupre, an ex-world's title holder; Puchois, Moretti and other stars of Europe. Perchicot's winnings this year run into the thousands and he has won more open races than any rider in Europe.

Just what the great French rider will be able to do when he meets the crack American racing men remains to be seen. Forty-two American professionals and twice that number of amateurs have entered the championship races, and the Yankees expect to win the four championship races that will be run. In the past twenty years the honors have been won by America four times, France has triumphed seven times, Denmark six times and Germany twice. The American riders who have won the world's title are Arthur Zimmerman, George Banker, Major Taylor and Iver Lawson. Zimmerman, a New Jersey boy, won the first world's championship, which was run at Chicago in 1893 at the world's fair. Banker won his title in Vienna; Taylor won at Montreal and Lawson captured the honors at London when the big event was run in the Crystal Palace.

America will rely principally upon Frank Kramer, who has won the championship of this country for the past eleven years, to win the sprint championship. Kramer was never better than he is this season and he will go to the mark a big favorite.

The championships will extend over three days. The first meet will be run Sunday, August 25; the second meet Wednesday evening, August 28, and the third meet Sunday, September 1.

SUNDAY ATTRACTION AT SCOTCH PLAINS

Champions of Lackawanna League Will Appear There Tomorrow Afternoon.

A strong card is scheduled for the Scotch Plains baseball team tomorrow afternoon, when they stack up against the Dover nine, of Morris county. The visitors will have Frettler, of the Southern League, on the mound, and as he is considered one of the best in the organziation to which he belongs, the Plains batters will have to go some to pound out a victory. MacLaughlin will oppose him in a Scotch Plains uniform and as he has always been a winner at the Sunday baseball center, the game ought to be a corker.

The Dover ball tossers are champions of Morris county and also of the Lackawanna League. Both nines will present their regular lineups, which are as follows:

Scotch Plains—DeNitzio, rf; Gray, 3b; Wiltse, 1b; H. Alberts, lf; Mullin, ss; Frentz, 2b; Miller, cf; Hand, c; MacLaughlin, p.

Dover—Martin, 2b; Vaughan, ss; Avers, 1b; Braddy, cf; Kingston, lf; Broene, 3b; Burke, rf; Fee, c; Flynn, p; Frettler, p.

EZRA WENZ TO COMPETE IN A. A. U. CHAMPIONSHIP

Ezra Wenz, who appeared here running under the colors of the Elizabeth Y. M. C. A., in the five-mile dual run between the Elizabeth and Plainfield asociations, will participate in the A. A. U. championships at Pittsburg on September 20. He is the champion two miler in interscholastic circles and came in second in the run held in this city. The Roselle lad is working hard to get into shape for the important event. He will enter several of the races and endeavor to uphold the enviable record he has established on the track during the past year.

NATIONAL RIFLE TOURNEY OPENS AT SEA GIRT

Sea Girt, Aug. 24—Picked rifle and revolver shots of ability and wide reputation were on hand in force today for the opening of the annual Interstate Rifle Tournament under the auspices of the National Rifle Association of America, and the New Jersey Rifle Association. The tournament has attracted teams and individual marksmen representing all of the arms of the regular service and the military organizations of many States. Iowa, Texas, Illinois, Montana, Arizona and other western States are particularly will represented.

The National Match, under the auspices of the New Jersey Rifle Association, is the most important new contest this year. Other contests that will command the attention of the camp will be that for the $500 Wimbledon Cup, presented to the National Rifle Association by the National Rifle Association of Great Britain; the President's match, for the military championship of the United States, and the Sea Girt championship, with which the tournament will end September 7, the winner of which will be presented with the Sea Girt championship medal by Governor Woodrow Wilson, who will attend the competitions.

SINGING WILL BE A BIG FEATURE OF S. S. CONVENTION

Trenton, Aug. 24 (Special)—One of the attractive features of the great Sunday-school convention, which will be held in this city, November 12 to 14, will be the singing of the convention chorus choir, under the direction of Messrs. Tuller and Meredith. This chorus of three hundred voices was organized last May and their work during the sessions of the convention will be of high order, and will give an inspiring effect to the program which is of unusual excellence. Grant Colfax Tuller, who is considered the prince of convention music leaders, has a manner distinctly his own, when it comes to making people sing. He made a decided hit at the Plainfield convention in November, 1911, and his services as well as the services of I. H. Meredith, the accompanist, were immediately secured for the Trenton convention.

Singing has always been a prominent feature of the Sunday-school convention in New Jersey and the Trenton local committee are anxious to make the music at this year's convention the greatest feature. The chorus of three hundred voices is composed of the best singers from the fifty Sunday-schools of the city, and when they commence training in October, under the leadership of Mr. Tullar, the results will be apparent during the sessions of the convention in November. Song services will be given on each of the three evenings, for a half hour preceding the regular work of the sessions.

SERMON ON MORMONS.

The Rev. N. Bascom, a home missionary of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Utah, will occupy the pulpit of Grace M. E. church, Park place, North Plainfield, at all services tomorrow. He will give a missionary talk at the opening session of the Sunday-school at 9:45 in the morning and will preach at the morning service at 11 o'clock. At the evening service, 7:45 o'clock, he will speak on "Mormons and Mormonism.

BACK FROM BARNEGAT.

Edward Laing and a party of friends returned from a three days' stay at Barnegat Bay where they enjoyed a successful fishing trip. They brought home about 150 fish, among which were many blues, weaks and crookers. Jack Horner, C. F. Stout, Albert Zimmerman, Dr. Giddis and Jack Fenton, of New York, made the trip with Mr. Laing in his automobile.

TO PREACH AT HOLY CROSS.

Rev. John G. Currier, curate of Grace church, will preach at the 9:30 o'clock service at Holy Cross church, tomorrow morning. Next Sunday, Rev. William S. McCoy, is expected to return home and resume his work.

TO HEAR REV. MR. LANE.

Rev. Mr. Lane, of this city, will preach at the Netherwood Reformed church, tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, and J. D. Loizeaux will speak in the evening at 7:45 o'clock.

Happenings Due Next Week

Washington, D. C., Aug. 24.—Colonel Roosevelt plans to devote several days of the coming week to speech-making in Vermont, where the State election is to be held Sept. 3. Governor Wilson is to go to Williams Grove, Pa., on Thursday, to speak before a gathering of farmers. Upon his return to Sea Girt he will receive several delegations of visitors and probably will make one or more porch speeches. President Taft has a provisional engagement to attend the Ohio centennial celebration at Columbus, but he has made it known that any address he might deliver there will be of a non-political character.

The general primaries in South Carolina and Michigan will be the leading events of the week in the domain of State politics. The serious charges recently made against Governor Blease, of South Carolina, has attracted wide attention to his contest for renomination against Judge Ira B. Jones. The South Carolina primaries also will decide whether Senator Tillman is to have another term. In the Michigan primaries the Republicans, Democrats and Progressives will select candidates for governor, lieutenant governor, United States senator, representatives in Congress and minor officers.

Under the new Kansas primary law the Republicans and Democrats of that State will hold their party "councils" in Topeka on Tuesday to formulate platforms. In Oklahoma the Democrats will hold a State convention to ratify the nominees of the recent primary and adopt a platform. A similar gathering of Georgia Democrats will be held at Macon. The contest for the seat of United States Senator Francis E. Warren is the chief feature of the State primaries to be held in Wyoming Friday. Montana Democrats will meet in Great Falls Thursday to select candidates for governor and other State officers, United States senator, representatives in Congress and four presidential electors.

At a special election to be held Wednesday the voters of New Orleans will decide whether or not the commission plan of government shall be adopted for the city.

The fiftieth anniversary of the second battle of Bull Run will be observed Thursday with a reunion of Federal and Confederate veterans near the battlefield.

Beginning Monday and continuing for nearly two weeks, the centennial of the election of Columbus as Ohio's permanent capital will be celebrated in that city.

Important conventions of the week will include the annual meeting of the American Bar Association in Milwaukee, the annual meeting of the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress in Salt Lake City, the national encampment of the Sons of Veterans in St. Louis, the biennial convention of the United Garment Workers of America in Indianapolis, the annual meeting of the Union of Canadian Municipalities in Windsor, Ont., and the nineteenth International Peace Congress, in Geneva, Switzerland.

SCHOOL PROJECT LOSES IN LEBANON TOWNSHIP

Califon, Aug. 24.—For the second time the voters of Lebanon Township at a special election held here defeated the propositions authorizing the Board of Education to borrow money not exceeding $26,000 for purchasing plots and erecting school buildings at Glen Gardner and Califon.

There were 152 votes cast. Many women were enthusiastic voters. The resolutions were defeated by twenty-two votes.

The proposed buildings were to take the place of buildings condemned by the State Board of Education.

The opposition to the project came from the interior of the township, where residents are afraid that their schools will be closed and the pupils transported to the graded schools in the township and the additional school tax assumed great proportions in the eyes of many farmers.

Unless the propositions are carried at another election soon, it is reported the State authorities will hold up the township's share of the State's funds, amounting approximately to $8,000.

Contracts have been made with many teachers for the ensuing school year, which begins September 9, and if the State funds are not forthcoming the amount will have to be raised by special taxation.

In the Little Brook School district, the condemned building is on private land and it was suggested by the voters of that district that they engage and pay the salary of their principal without the supervision of the local or State Board of Education, and also notify the township of their refusal to pay any school taxes.

MOY RUMOR DOUBTFUL.

A rumor reached this city from Elizabeth today that Mayor G. W. V. Moy would seek the Congressional nomination on the Progressive ticket this fall. Mr. Moy could not be found today and the rumor could not be confirmed. However, his friends doubt that he intends going into the contest for he has persistently declared that he intended seeking a re-election as Mayor on the Progressive ticket.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

Direct from a most successful run at the Bijou theatre, Broadway, New York, comes James Halleck Reid's powerful drama, "The Confession," to be the offering at the Plainfield theatre, Tuesday night, August 27. The story though easy of synoptical representation, is deep and complex in its presentation, demanding intricate development of characters and environments, to build a suitable foundation for a play that is to leave a lasting impression. Circumstantial evidence points to the guilt of a priest's brother as a murderer. He is accused, arrested, convicted and sentenced to death on the scaffold. The scaffold is prepared and a reprieve comes at the eleventh hour through a death confession by the real murderer. In the hands of a company eminently capable in every department it is small wonder that "The Confession" is making itself one of the greatest dramas of the day.

The greatest minstrel night which Plainfield has had in years will be Thursday night, August 29. Two of the greatest favorites in the blackface art, Primrose and Dockstader, both of whom have had their full share in making minstrelsy what it is today, will be seen at the Plainfield theatre for the first time in years. Opportunities to hear famous teams like Weber & Fields, Avery & Hart, Primrose and Dockstader are presented very seldom after they have once become separated. These six entertainers have gone their several ways for years, and this year they are reunited. In those cities which they visit, there have been ovations poured out which would flatter a royal personage, for when the American people pay homage, they do it from choice and not from compunction. Both Mr. Primrose and Mr. Dockstader have hosts of friends in Plainfield and they will be there to hear their favorites. Weather permitting, the parade will start at 11:45 o'clock.

The success of "The Bohemian Girl," to be presented at the Plainfield theatre on Wednesday, September 11, is attributed in part, to the peculiarly sympathetic and romantic nature of the story told. Briefly, the story is that of an Austrian nobleman's child, who is stolen by a gypsy band. In this band is harbored a young fugitive nobleman, and as she grows up they fall in love. The identity of the girl is finally revealed to her father by the jealous queen of the gypsies, who loves the fugitive nobleman and hopes thus to get rid of her rival. The father at first scorns the young man's uit, but later accepts him as his daughter's fiance, when he learns of his noble nature and birth. But the continued popularity of "The Bohemian Girl" is really due to the appealing nature of Balfe's delightful music, which includes those heart-stirring melodies, "I Dreamt I Dwelt in Marble Halls," "The Heart Bowed Down," and "Then You'll Remember Me." It is said that Milton and Sargent Aborn have made the most pretentious and lavish production of this grand old opera that has ever been attempted in this country. A large number of people are employed in the grand musical ensemble and five stage pictures.

ALLEGED BOMB PLOTTER HELD

PLANT BOMB FOR REVENGE

Fourteen Months Ago One of Gang Was Sent to Prison For Kidnaping and He Exclaimed, "My Friends Will Make You Pay!"

Passaic, N. J., Aug. 24.—Charles Villorio, who left New York two months ago to make his home in Garfield, was arrested by the Garfield police charged with planting the bomb which wrecked the front of a three story tenement at 236 Harrison avenue, Lodi, Aug. 14, endangering the lives of thirty persons.

Peter Giordano, owner of the building, says Villorio is a member of a dangerous New York band. Fourteen months ago one of the gang was sent to state's prison for a long term for kidnaping Giordano's daughter and holding her for ransom. As the convict was led from the courtroom he exclaimed, "My friends will make you pay for this!"

Among other things in the bomb which was placed in Giordano's building and which are being linked with the threat were many pennies. Giordano used copper instead of gold in paying the ransom. When the kidnaper was trapped he protested his innocence, but was held without bail.

ARRESTED MARINES PROTEST

Say They Were Not Deserting, but Were on Way to Report.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 24.—Arrested within the city limits of Philadelphia while riding on a train and brought here by railroad detectives, arraigned before a local justice of the peace and committed to the Mercer County jail, John Senger and Chester Shannan, members of Company E, United States marine service, have appealed their case to Captain Ramsey of the Philadelphia navy yard, and a government investigation will be made.

The men, who are still in uniform, say their arrest was due to the desire of the detectives to get the reward paid for capturing deserters. They insist that they were not deserting, but were on leave of absence en route to report for duty. The company is under orders to leave for Nicaragua.

$1,500 WAITS FOR HIM.

Wallet William Gardner Says He Was Robbed of Found.

Morristown, N. J., Aug. 24.—The police of this place have changed their opinion of a story told them on Wednesday night by William Gardner of New York. The man said he had been drugged and robbed of $1,500 worth of bonds, as well as $75, all contained in a wallet he had in his pocket. Gardner appeared to be suffering from the effects of a drug, and as the police found what looked like hypodermic jabs in his arm they concluded he was only relating a dream.

But a wallet like the one he described was found in the Mansion House lane, and it contained $1,500 in bonds, such as Gardner told of. The money, however, was gone. The police do not know where Gardner is now, but hope he will turn up.

BRIDE ARRESTED AT ALTAR.

Cast Off by Prospective Husband When He Heard of Forgery Charge.

Perth Amboy, N. J., Aug. 24.—Efforts were made to obtain bail for Mrs Mary Pfeiffer King, arrested at the altar and cast off by her wealthy husband of a moment, Paul King, when he learned that his bride was charged with forgery.

Just as the minister pronounced King and Miss Pfeiffer man and wife officers stepped into the church and placed the woman under arrest on complaint of Charles K. Seeman, a banker, who accused the woman of obtaining $100 on a forged order. She said she used the money for her trousseau. She is thirty-five years old and King is sixty-five.

ASBURY BATHER VANISHES.

Wife Finds Only His Clothes When She Goes Hunting For Him.

Asbury Park, Aug. 24.—Although George Manning's clothes were found under the South End pavilion by Mrs. Manning, who had gone down from their home at Ocean Grove to see why he had not come home to breakfast from his morning swim, many of his friends cannot believe that he was drowned. He was an expert swimmer. Recently he had built a diving raft and said he contemplated taking it out. His friends wonder if he drifted out to sea on it. Manning held a position as floorwalker here, and he was the father of four children.

GAMBLERS WORK AVIATION CROWD

Three-Card Monte, Shell and Crap Games Run at Roadside.

DETECTIVE "TOO BUSY"

Housell Told of Gambling But Couldn't Find Time to Act, Because He Had to Show Autoists His Gold Badge and the Road.

While there were not so many thrills at the aviation exhibition at the Driving Park on Saturday afternoon as there were on Friday, enough was done to stir up excitement in the breast of the most hardened of the onlookers. As was the case on Friday, Lincoln Beachey did the lion's share of the work, but John D. Cooper, his associate in the meet, was the cause of considerable excitement when his engine acted uppish and he landed in a swamp about a quarter of a mile from the field.

There was a much larger crowd out on Saturday than was present on Friday. Probably twenty-five hundred paid admission, and three or four thousand others remained outside of the park on the surrounding hills, or lined up along Park avenue to watch the fun. Included in the crowd outside the grounds were a large number of small-fry gamblers, running three card monte, shell and crap games, without any molestation on the part of the authorities, and between the flights they did a land-office business with the young men in the crowd who were sportily inclined.

County Detective Housell, of Middlesex county, was in the aviation field, looking very busy, while directing the automobiles which way to turn to reach the parking spaces. When a representative of the Daily Press called his attention to the gambling he said, "So they tell me, but I'm too busy here to go after them." As a result of his being too busy to see that the law was enforced a large number of men were cheated by the gamblers.

There were five flights at the field. Beachey made three of them and Cooper two. The first one was by Beachey, and was similar to his first flight on Friday when he did all sorts of dips, spirals, the aerial turkey trot and other feats which were thrilling in the extreme. He did not go very high and frequently would swoop down over the heads of the crowd so that they would flatten out on the ground, thinking they were going to be hit. Sometimes he would come so low that the air from his propellor would send straw hats in all directions, with their owners scrambling after them, much to the amusement of other spectators. Three or four times he flew through the narrow space over the running track between the grand stand and the judges tower, and except for those nearby it looked as if he had but a few feet to spare on either side of his plane as he attempted this stunt.

Cooper made the second flight, and was up about ten minutes. He did not try anything but straight flying, describing wide circles around the field, and over the nearby country. Then Beachey went up again and in great circles he rose higher and higher until he had reached a point about 7,000 feet directly above the centre of the field. Here he shut off his engine and at express train speed volplaned down at right angles, until within a few hundred feet of the ground when he righted the machine and came up on the level field.

When the field was cleared for Cooper to start on his second flight it was seen soon after he started that his engine was not acting properly. He rose from the ground, and had momentum enough to sail over the fence and trees at the west end of the field, and across part of Holly Park, finally landing among some trees on the edge of a piece of low ground. While he was there a crowd of a thousand or more gathered to look at the machine. After making sure that nothing had been damaged the plane was turned, and prepared for a flight back to the starting point. While this was being done Beachey went up with the mail, and took it over to Plainfield avenue, where it was again dropped to W. J. Hudson, who took it to the postoffice in an automobile. Upon his return to the field Beachey flew around over the crowd and did a lot of stunts for their amusement. After he had alighted Cooper rose from the point where he landed because of his engine trouble, and flew back to the field, thus ending the two days exhibition.

The promoters had little to say about whether the affair was a success or not, but it is believed that their expense was such that they had little or nothing left for their services.

ISSA TANIMURRA, D.C.L., VISITS DR. WHITNEY

Japanese Commissioner of Economical Agriculture Graduated at Hackettstown.

Issa Tanimurra, D. C. L., of Tokio, the Japanese Commissioner of Economical Agriculture, has been a visitor at the home of his friend, the Rev. Dr. G. H. Whitney, of First place, this city. Dr. Tanimurra is a graduate of Hackettstown Institute, Yale University and other colleges. The commissioner returns to Japan in a few days. He will then, by authority of his government, go to Korea and there establish the sheep and wool raising industry on a very extensive tract of land under the control of the Japanese Economical Agricultural Department, which is mainly the outgrowth of Dr. Tanimurra's ideas.

It was while Dr. Whitney was president of Hackettstown Institute, that Dr. Tanimurra was a student there and the two became warm friends. Dr. Tanimurra has since risen to a position of importance in the Japanese government, but he has never forgotten Dr. Whitney and whenever possible he plans to visit the latter at his home here. During his last visit to this country he has been studying agricultural conditions, and many of the ideas obtained here will be used in Korea.

LAST UNION SERVICE OF PRESENT SUMMER

Scranton Divine Preaches to Large Congregation at First Baptist Church.

The last of the summer series of union services of the First Presbyterian, First M. E., Trinity, Reformed and First Baptist churches was held at the First Baptist church, last night, and considering the weather there was a large congregation, representing all four churches. Rev. Dr. A. K. Fuller, pastor of the Baptist church at Scranton, Pa., who occupied the pulpit of the First Baptist church in the morning, also preached at the union service. He was assisted by Rev. Asa Reed Dilts, of Lowell, Mass., former pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, and who preached at that church in the morning.

Mr. Dilts offered prayer and pronounced the benediction, while Dr. Fuller preached a short, but forcible sermon, in which he made a special appeal to the unconverted to give their hearts to Christ. He also gave wise counsel and advice to the Christians present, showing them how to battle against the evil one. William Holmes, the baritone soloist of the church choir, sang a pleasing solo entitled "Just for Today." Many of those present accepted the opportunity to greet Mr. Dilts whom they knew when he was a pastor in this city.

BOROUGH DEMOCRATS SAID TO OPPOSE ONE-CLUB IDEA

Members of the Somerset County Democratic Committee have issued a call for a meeting of Democrats of the borough to be held in Debele Hall at 8 o'clock tonight for the purpose of forming a Wilson and Marshall Club. There will be a complete organization to look after the interests of the party in the borough and further the candidacy of those who are to run for office.

Many of the borough Democrats do not favor the idea suggested at the meeting of the Wilson and Marshall Club, of this city, last week, that they join with the Plainfield organization, preferring to have a club of their own. They say that it is quite as important that there should be a club in the borough and feel sure that better work can be done in this way than by uniting with the Plainfield club.

GOOD FISHING.

A few days ago they were out for four hours and caught forty-five fish. Mrs. Wescott landed a two and a half pound trout.

2D WARD DARK HORSE

Councilmanic Aspirant's Name Will Be Kept Quiet For a While—Appointees Suggested For City and County Committees.

Representatives of the Wilson and Marshall Club held a conference with members of the City Democratic Executive Committee, Saturday night, to discuss the filling of vacancies on both the city and county committees, and to take up several other matters. The vacancies are in the first, fourth and fifth districts of the Fourth ward; first district of the First ward and the third district of the Second ward.

Fred Ivamy was mentioned for member of the city and county committee in the first district of the Fourth ward; Joseph Kelly for the first district of the First ward; J. C. McCarthy for the fourth district of the Fourth ward and R. B. Cosey of the third district of the Second ward. Someone from the fifth district of the Fourth ward will be selected later.

There was also a general discussion regarding Councilmanic nominees. Those mentioned in the Fourth ward were Arthur Gallup, Fred Ivamy and Dr. A. G. Sheppard. J. O. Schinkel has been mentioned in the First ward; Daniel J. Courain in the Third ward, while it is said there is a "dark horse" in the Second ward, whose name will be mentioned within a short time.

There will be another meeting Wednesday night when arrangements will be made about having petitions filed by September 4. It was announced that the Wilson and Marshall Club will meet tomorrow night. An order for the banner has been placed with Laggren & Green and this will be ready for raising a week from today. The idea is to place the banner on West Front street, about opposite the Sebring building. The club is trying to secure larger quarters on Front street.

NOT MUCH HURT BY FALL FROM THIRD STORY WINDOW

Walter Jenkins, of 535 West Third street, 'phoned to police headquarters at three o'clock yesterday morning that he thought there was a drunken man lying in the alley alongside his house. An officer was sent down there, and he found that John Welsh, of 307 Madison avenue, had been visiting a friend named Van Fliet, who lived on the third floor of the house, and that he had fallen out of the window.

Dr. N. W. Currie was called, and Welsh was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital at his suggestion. There it was found that there were no external injuries of any kind, but he complained of his left side hurting.

It was said at the hospital that his injuries gave no indication of being serious.

CAR STARTS ITSELF AND KNOCKS DOWN BICYCLIST

While testing the machinery of his automobile in front of his residence on East Front street, Saturday afternoon, Dr. Albert Pittis had a peculiar accident with his auto. The vibration of the car threw the reserve clutch in, causing it to back across the street into Harold Bach, a lad from Regent street, who was riding his bicycle.

The auto knocked Bach off his wheel and he received a slight scalp wound. The wheel was also damaged. Dr. Pittis attended to the boy's injuries, took him home and arranged for the repair of his wheel. The injury was not serious. As soon as the auto began to back, Dr. Pittis reached for the brake to shut off the power, but he did not do so quick enough to avoid the accident.

PARTY TO GUEST.

Mrs. F. W. Henning, of Chicago, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Tygard, of Netherwood. This is her first visit home since her marriage to Mr. Henning three years ago. This third anniversary was happily celebrated Tuesday evening of last week by friends at a party given in her honor by her chum, Miss Carrie Gorrup, of Central street. Mrs. Henning expects to spend at least a month in Plainfield before her return to Chicago.

BEACHEY MEETS OLD AERONAUTICS TEACHER

Former Instructor Interests Aviator With Model of An Aeroplane Motor.

Lincoln Beachey, the aviator, was much pleased to meet James W. Tygard, of Netherwood, at the meet Saturday afternoon. Mr. Beachey is a former pupil of Mr. Tygard and studied aeronautics with him at the time when Mr. Tygard was associated with Dr. Julian P. Thomas, a pioneer of the aeronauts.

Mr. Beachey, Mr. Cooper and their staff of mechanicians were greatly interested in the model of an aeroplane motor of Mr. Tygard's invention. Mr. Bachey has accepted Mr. Tygard's invitation and in the near future will visit his laboratory at Netherwood where tests of the aeroplane motor are being continually made.

The corporation known as the Tygard Engine which has, through Mr. Tygard, delevoped this new type of engine will, this fall, commence the construction of a modern factory here, for the production of a motor truck type of this engine. This plant will also be equipped to manufacture an improved type motorcycle.

SCHEUER STORE HERE NOT IN RECEIVERSHIP

Financial Difficulties of Scheuer & Sons Doesn't Affect Front Street Store.

The grocery firm of S. Scheuer & Co., of this city, announced today that the appointment of receivers for the business of S. Scheuer & Sons, of Newark, does not involve the business of the firm in this city. The local store will continue to do business in the same manner as heretofore.

An involutary petition in bankruptcy has been filed against Frederick Scheuer and Albert Scheuer, who trade as S. Scheuer & Sons, with stores in Newark, Harrison, Belleville, Summit and Perty Amboy. The petition was filed with Judge Relistab of the United States District Court, at his home in Belmar by Bilder & Bilder.

John C. Eisele and Philip Lindeman were appointed receivers by Judge Relistab and were directed to furnish bonds in the sum of $100,000.

For six weeks the Scheuers have been in financial difficulty and an endeavor has been made to keep the firm out of the Bankruptcy Court, but no agreement could be made acceptable to both creditors and the firm, as well as others interested. Committees from the banks, the Scheuers and indorsers of their paper have held repeated meetings, but without satisfactory result.

It is hoped that some adjustment may still be made by which the estate may be turned into cash and the matter taken out of bankruptcy and settled along other lines. It is announced that the indebtedness to the banks is fully covered and in every manner amply protected.

An attempt was made to trust all the assets of the firm, but this plan fell through because no agreement could be reached with Jacob Roth, one of the executors of the estate of Simon Scheuer. To carry out the plan it would have been necessary to convert the estate into cash, but Mr. Roth, acting on the advice of counsel and seeing objections to such a course, would not consent.

In his will, Simon Scheuer provided that all negotiable paper bearing his indorsement should remain his obligation for five years. A great portion of the claims held against the firm are in the form of such obligations.

An acounting of the firm's standing, made recently, shows assets of $153,187.59 and liabilities of $530,423.22. This does not take into account the interest of the Scheuer brothers in the estate of their father, the principal asset of which is the Scheuer building at Broad and Commerce streets, Newark, nor a contingent liability created by their indorsement on the paper of others.

The merchandise indebtedness estimated at $27,000; general personal debts at $97,000, and indorsement of paper amounting to $405,923, of which $266,000 bears the indorsedorsement on the paper of others.

NO SUNDAY MAIL UNLESS SPECIAL

OFFICE CLOSED TIGHT

Not Even Lessees of Lockboxes Will Be Able to Get Mail—Half a Dozen Letter Carriers to Receive More Pay.

Postmaster E. H. Bird has received official notice from Postmaster-General Hitchcock, through his assistant, that hereafter the local postoffice is not to be opened on Sunday for the general delivery of mail, either through the carrier window, lock-boxes or in any other way, except that all special delivery mail will be delivered as before. Heretofore, it has been the custom to open the office Sunday morning for an hour to accommodate owners of lockboxes, but the latest order from Washington now prohibits that and directs that the office be entirely closed. Mail will be despatched at 6:15 o'clock Sunday night as usual.

When questioned about the matter today, Mr. Bird said that there was no alternative, the orders being explicit and he would be expected to obey them. This no doubt is another step in the direction of allowing all employes in postoffices to have Sunday off. The movement was started in Detroit and has now spread throughout the country. The recent order about closing on Sunday applies only to first and second-class offices.

The new postoffice appropriation act which became effective Saturday will reward many thousands of faithful employes with an increase of pay. There are possibly a half-dozen carriers of the local office that will be benefiteed. Those who have been receiving $1,100 a year will get $1,200, and the increase will date from July 1 last. None of the clerks will get the increase for they are now receiving the maximum, $1,200. The increase is on a basis of efficiency.

Postmaster-General Hitchcock has been kept busy putting into effect the numerous changes authorized by the act. One thing accomplished was to order the expenditure of nearly a million dollars in promoting the assistant postmasters and the clerks and carriers of first and second-class postoffices. The promotions number about 7,000.

The appropriation act having passed, Mr. Bird received word that the allowance for vacations, amounting to approximately $700, would now be forthcoming; also the allowance for an extra clerk during vacation time. Mr. Bird, acting upon his own responsibility, allowed the men to take their vacations in turn, feeling assured that the pay would come along in due time. Otherwise the men would get their time off late in the summer and it would interfere somewhat with the business at the local office at a time when the outgoing and incoming mail is heavy.

MANY ATTEND FUNERAL OF MRS. ELIZABETH LINDSAY

Rev. Frederic L. Greene, pastor of Hope chapel, officiated, reading the Scriptures and offering prayer, while Rev. Dr. DeHart, of this city, made the address. He spoke impressively of the life and work of Mrs. Lindsay. During the service the Misses Eunice and Edna Eckert sang Mrs. Lindsay's favorite hymn, "O, Think of the Home Over There." CAN'T TELL WHETHER OR NOT HE WILL RUN

Mayor Says He Doesn't Seek Congressional or Any Other Office.

Mayor George W. F. Moy was asked this morning about the rumor which was circulated around town on Saturday that he might be a candidate for Congress on the Progressive ticket at the fall election. He was reluctant to talk about the matter, and said that he had no idea whether or not he would run.

He asserted that he is in the Progressive fight for the principles involved, that he has no personal ambition in the matter, and will do exactly as the Progressives wish him to do. He does not care, he added, to be considered in the light of an office-seeker, and is prepared to do all he can to aid the movement whether as a candidate for office, or a fighter in the ranks. If he should be drafted he would probably run, but he does not care to be considered as one who seeks the office in any way.

The Mayor will attend the Progressive meeting to be held tomorrow night in Association Hall in Elizabeth, and is slated to be chosen temporary chairman of the gathering. He will make an address, and will be followed by former Governor John Franklin Fort, chairman of the Progressive State Committee.

CHARGED WITH USING WHIP, FIST AND KNIFE

Tozzi Said to Have Knocked Woman Unconscious After Beating Son.

Ralph Tozzi, of Grant avenue, was held by Judge DeMeza in the city court today in $100 bail for trial on Thursday morning, charged with assaulting Mrs. Edward Coffey, of South Second street. According to the story told at police headquarters Tozzi became displeased over something one of Mrs. Coffey's children had done, and he was using a horsewhip on the child when the mother interfered. He is alleged to have turned on her and struck her in the face with his fist, knocking her unconsciousness, and when her husband interfered, he drew a knife on him.

Patrolman Baeder happened along about that time, and chased Tozzi into his house, where he was arrested. Mrs. Coffey has been under the care of Dr. Brennan since the incident happened yesterday noon, and she had to be helped in and out of the police station to make the complaint.

Frank Reynolds was arrested on complaint of J. Arransdale, who said that Reynolds had run into him when on his bicycle, and had smashed the wheel. The matter was adjusted by Reynolds agreeing to replace Arransdale's wheel.

WHITE MEN ATTACK AND BEAT UP NEGROES

Oscar Green, of 526 West Second street, and William Branch, of 514 West Fourth street, both colored, were returning to their homes on Saturday night, walking through West Third street. They were attacked by three white men, and so severely beaten up with beer bottles and fists that Dr. Anderson had to take eight stitches in Green's head, and Branch was confined to his home all day yesterday.

The matter was reported to police headquarters, but the description of the assailants was so meagre that there is little hope of catching them.

BEGIN THE LAST WEEK AT NETHERWOOD HOME

Rev. Ernest R. Brown, of the First Presbyterian church, of Dunellen, was the chief speaker at the vesper services of the Netherwood Fresh Air Home, yesterday afternoon. The services were exceptionally well attended as it was the beginning of the last week. The mothers and children will go home on Labor Day and the home will be closed for the winter months.

Mrs. Helen B. Downer, contralto of the First Methodist church choir, sang two solos. The children's choir sang and Mr. Barker rehearsed the children on the biblical verses they had learned.

ORDER MORMONS OUT OF CHURCH

ARE BOLD MISSIONARIES

Utah Elders Assert Preacher Was Not Truthful In Sermon and Ask Opportunity to Answer Him—"Disgraceful Men," Says Trustee.

Considerable excitement prevailed at the close of the service of Grace Methodist Episcopal church, last night, when two elders of the Mormon church sought to secure a hearing. They wanted an opportunity of replying to the sermon, which was on Mormonism. Their request for a hearing some time during the week was sharply refused and they were ordered out of the church.

Rev. Dr. Bascom, a home missionary of the Methodist Episcopal church in Utah, preached the sermon, which was on "Mormons and Mormonism." The benediction had just been said when E. Glenn Green, of Kaysville, Utah, and Albert J. Newman, of Murray, Utah, both elders of the Mormon church, arose and asked if they could have an audience some time during the week to refute many of the things said by Rev. Dr. Bascom. The congregation gathered in two groups around the men and an argument arose. Churchmen soon began shouting to have the Mormons put out. Members of the official board told the men to "Get out, and don't take your time either."

William L. Heath and W. J. Conroy, trustees of the church, said that they would do all they could to prevent such disgraceful men appearing in the church and the congregation voiced their approval with cries of "Get out," "Out with them," directed at the Mormons.

Rev. Mr. Bascom said that he knew the men were in the audience. He said they often had asked permission to refute what he has said at other churches, but never had they been so bold or the cause of a "disgraceful argument."

The Mormons asserted that it was unfair for people to judge their beliefs after hearing only one side of the story. They said: "Rev. Mr. Bascom has said many untruthful things and has misrepresented our doctrines."

The wordy exchange reached an acute stage when a member of the church said to one of the Mormons. "You say Rev. Mr. Bascom was untruthful when he said that the Mormons believe Jesus Christ was a polygamist, having had Martha, Mary and many others as wives, yet a Mormon called at my office recently and told me with his own lips."

The Mormons answered, "Yes, we believe that. Can you prove different."

With this remark, virtually the whole congregation echoed a member's words when he said:

"Stop! Don't start such a disgraceful argument in our house of worship. Get out; we don't want to hear you. Get out, and don't take your time either."

It was at this point that the lights were flashed off and on. The disconcerting alternation of light and darkness continued until the men left the church.

In his sermon on Mormons Rev. Mr. Bascom spoke of the great power of the Mormon church in the west. He told of how it dominated and even ruled politically. He spoke on the doctrines of Mormonism and said:

"They believe as man is now, so God was, and as God is now, so man will be. They believe Adam is God and that Jesus Christ was a polygamist. They think there are spirits in the future world which are crying for bodies and that the excuse for polygamy is that bodies may be provided for the spirits in order that they may get to the states of God's."

Rev. Mr. Bascom said he prayed for the time when a political party will be formed in favor of constitutional amendment that will wipe polygamy from this continent. Already twenty of the necessary two-thirds of the states required had voted to give this power to the government and he was glad to say that New Jersey was among that number.

GAVE AN EXCELLENT SERMON.

Rev. Dr. I. W. Gowen, of Hoboken, occupied the pulpit of Trinity Reformed church yesterday morning, and preached a strong sermon to a large congregation. He took his text from Joshua 13, part of the first verse: "There remaineth yet very much land to be possessed." Owing to the fact that he was to officiate at a funeral in Hoboken later in the day, he could not remain for the union service in the evening.

GATHER FOR DAY IN OLDEST CHURCH

Sandstone Walls Same as When Settlers Built It.

CHURCH FOUNDED IN 1737.

Presbyterians From Near and Far Are to Assemble at Deerfield to Celebrate Its One Hundred and Seventy-fifth Anniversary—Congregationalists' Automobiles at Visitors' Service.

Deerfield, N. J., Aug. 26.—Within the same walls of red sandstone, now much weather beaten, but still solid and imposing, built by zealous settlers in 1771, the members of the Deerfield Presbyterian church and preachers from the West Jersey presbytery will gather next Wednesday to celebrate the one hundred and seventy-fifth anniversary of the church, which was founded in 1737.

Women helped to dress the rough pieces of sandstone for the quaint old structure, which is said to be the oldest Presbyterian church in New Jersey that has been in continuous use.

All day services will be held to commemorate the anniversary. The Rev. J. W. Bishchoff, who has been pastor of the church for two years, will preside at the exercises. Dr. George Hemingway, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Camden, and moderator of the West Jersey presbytery, will represent the presbytery and will make an address in the afternoon. There is also to be a symposium on the "County Church" by former pastors and ministers from neighboring towns. The augmented church choir will sing at all of the services.

Use New Conveyances.

Automobiles owned by members of the congregation will be used to transfer the many visitors from out of town who are expected here for the anniversary from the railroad station at Husted to Deerfield, three miles away. When the stone church was first built several of the worshipers used to travel long distances with their families by a practice then common of "ride and hitch." Part of the family would start on foot and would be followed by the others who would mount horses and ride ahead some distance, hitch and walk on. When those who started first on foot reached the horses they would mount and ride forward, and so they would take turns riding and walking until they reached the church.

The Deerfield church is one of the group of historic old churches founded in New Jersey, when it was still a colony, by stanch Presbyterians who fled hither from the persecutions and intolerance in New England. There is some discussion now as to how the town itself took the name of Deerfield, but most authorities maintain that the refugees named it from Deerfield, Conn., where they had first settled. Another story is that Daniel Cox, a west Jersey proprietor and a great land speculator, purchased 1,000 acres on the town site, for which he had to pay 10 shillings an acre. This price the inhabitants considered dear; hence the name, "Dearfield."

The devout settlers early organized a church. In 1737 they dedicated a large tract of land to the service of God and hewed logs from a cedar forest to build their first sanctuary. For thirty-four years they worshiped in the "log church in the forest."

All vestige of the old log church has disappeared. Most of the quaint furnishings of the old stone church are also missing.

SENT BLACK HAND LETTER.

Alleged to Have Written Farmer, Asking Him For $500.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 26.—John Lengnan of Hackensack, charged with sending Black Hand letters to John Banta, a farmer living near Hackensack, has been taken into custody by the United States authorities. Lengnan, in the letters he is alleged to have written to the farmer, instructed him to place $500 in a bag under a certain tree by a specified time under penalty of being blown up.

The authorities were communicated with, and after the man had placed the sum in the bag as directed the government men hid and waited for the Black Hand man. The latter almost made his escape, however, having arranged an aerial rope tramway a distance of about 300 feet from the tree to carry the bag to him. Lengnan declared he got the tramway idea from watching moving picture exhibits.

THE MAJESTY OF THE LAW.

Over the Plainfield city line, on Park avenue, in Middelsex county, probably half a dozen gamblers, prepared for a quick get-away, took coin from a number of men and boys on Saturday afternoon while the aviation meet was in progress. One had a three card monte game, with a newspaper held by a confederate as a table; another was shooting craps, with a number of bills stuck between his fingers as bait for the hundreds of mere boys who passed by. Still another was working the old, old game in which the hand is quicker than the eye, and the little pea is never under the shell which the "boob" has bet his money it was under. There were others of the same kind boldly working all along the avenue, and each was surrounded by a crowd of boys and young men, being separated from their money by these crooked schemes, for no small-fry gambler is honest, and the seeker for wealth never wins from him.

At the Driving Park, boldly displaying on his bosom a gold badge, which had perhaps been presented to him for his unusual skill as a detector of chicken thieves, or possibly for operating an automobile speed trap, was County Detective Housell, of Middlesex conty. He was very busy, doing work which a twelve-year-old boy would have been delighted to have attended to in return for free admission to the grounds. Of course the boy would not have the gold badge to snow off to the hundreds of admiring autoists who were told "to follow that road" by this most important personage. Naturally the automobilists were thrilled and pleased to feel that they were given the chance to see that badge, and to be spoken to by such an impressive servant of the public.

A misguided person, not realizing the importance of properly "shooing" the autos, had the temerity to stop his machine in front of this dignitary. He politely informed the great crime detector that he could make himself useful as well as ornamental by strolling down the main road a bit. "So they tell me," was the response, "but I'm too busy here, to go or send one of my men there," and with an imperious wave of the hand the auto of the informant was directed to follow a path which a blind man could find without difficulty.

Thus are the laws enforced in Middlesex county, and thus is the money of the taxpayers spent.

Be it said merely as an after thought, that the crap shooter was still doing business after the flights were all over, and long after all the automobiles had been safely directed to their proper parking spaces. In fact business was so good that he was at it again in almost the same spot at a quarter to six yesterday afternoon, too. There was no effort to conceal what was in progress. One youth held a number of bills folded between his fingers in true gambler fashion, and others threw the dice with the customary snap of the fingers, on the side of the road in plain view of every passer-by.

It was indeed inspiring to those who believe that the laws were made to enforce, and the only moral to be drawn is that the chance to display a gold badge in front of "regular swells" is much more exhilarating than putting a group of crooked gamblers out of business.

If all the Republican county committees in the State were as considerate as that in Monmouth county, there would be little of the hard feeling engendered between the new Progressive party men and the Republicans, which has caused trouble in many parts of the State. When Clarence E. F. Hetrick resigned as chairman of the Republican committee, because he had decided to join the Bull Moose movement, he did not receive from the members of the committee the usual "good riddance to bad rubbish" reply to his resignation. Instead, it is reported that the other members of the organization passed a resolution of regret, which expressed gratitude for all Mr. Hetrick had done in the past in behalf of the party.

Had such action been taken in Essex and other counties there might have been some chance for the two parties uniting on at least the local tickets, to their mutual benefit. The Monmouth example is a good one to follow.

Not until New York State follows the example of Massachusetts by taking the municipal police departments out of politics will grafting and corruption generally cease. The police commissioner of Boston, for instance, is appointed by the Governor and as was demonstrated recently when the Democratic executive reappointed a faithful and efficient Republican to the office the incumbent knows no politics in the enforcement of the law. His tenure of office is secure, whereas in New York city should be the commissioner displease the mayor he loses his place instantly as was shown when General Bingham incurred the wrath of that smooth proposition, George B. McClellan. But nothing short of a revolution, in the wildest flights of imagination, will result in having the New York police department removed from politics.

An exchange declares that Governor Wilson can't consistently object to "Jim" Smith going before the people for the purpose of finding out whether they want him to represent them in the United States Senate. Of course he couldn't. In fact, we believe that the Governor would be "de-lighted" to have the erstwhile boss learn at first hand how highly he is esteemed by the voters of New Jersey.

The Philadelphia North American is to be commended for its courage in publishing a cartoon of United States Senator Boies Penrose with the inscription "Briber and Corruptionist." When that paper "goes after" a political boss, it continues its cannonade until the object of its pursuit becomes hidden in innocuous dessuetude.

Evidently Vincent W. Nash, Sr., is not going to run any chances of having his name omitted from the Republican primary ticket inasmuch as he has caused twenty-four separate petitions to be circulated for his candidacy for the mayoralty nomination.

Report that Waldo will "throw up the sponge" is well received by New York newspapers. But if Gaynor could only be induced to retire to his country home and spend his remaining days in writing letters to himself how fortunate New York would be.

Hundreds of people on Saturday paid a half dollar each to witness the aeroplane man's exhibition. Yet, at least once a week they can see some politician "go up in the air" without having to pay to see the spectacle.

Might as well have that Astor kid's opinion of the will, for at least it would be as intelligent as the harangues of some officeseekers.

SKIDDING MOTORCAR HITS 12-YEAR-OLD BICYCLIST

LeRoy Leland, of Newark, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Nash, Sr., of Prospect avenue, who has been spending the summer at the home of the latter, while returning from the aviation meet on his wheel Saturday afternoon, was run down by a large touring car driven and owned by Clifford Pearsall, of Westfield. His leg was severely injured, and at first was thought to be fractured. Mr. Pearsall took the lad home and a physician was summoned. An examination showed that the leg was badly bruised.

The accident happened near Avon Park. Young Leland, who is twelve years old, was riding his wheel on the right side of the road on his way home, and Mr. Pearsall was on the right of the road going in the opposite direction. He struck a sandy stretch in the road and in trying to get out of it lost control of his machine. The large car shot across the road in the direction of the Leland boy. The latter to escape jumped from his wheel, but fell and one leg was held down by the bicycle. Just then the wheels of the auto ran over the bicycle.

As quickly as possible Mr. Pearsall left his car and assisted the boy. His wheel was completely wrecked. The lad and his wheel were placed in the auto and taken home. Mr. Pearsall promised to buy a new bicycle and pay all doctor's bills.

PRIVATE FUNERAL FOR MISS EMMA MANNING

The funeral service of Miss Emma B. Manning, who died last Thursday at the home of her nephew, A. M. Line, 248 East Front street, after a brief illness, was held at the home yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The funeral was private and only members of the immediate family and intimate friends were present. Rev. Frank Fletcher, of East Seventh street, officiated. The pallbearers were Alexander Thorn, Daniel Hulick, Joseph Allen, James Lion, F. Chandler and G. Beekman. Interment was made in the North Plainfield cemetery.

Miss Manning was a life long resident of Plainfield. Her father, William Shotwell Manning, moved to East Front street when it was a narrow lane and she had lived in the house in which she died for the last forty-three years.

THINK ELIZABETH MAN WAS KILLED BY GANG

Elizabeth, Aug. 26 (Special).—The body of William Bickel, of 410 Pine street, was found in the Elizabeth River near the South Concrete Bridge yesterday afternoon and judging from the deep gash in his scalp it is believed he was the victim of a murder plot. His recent action and complaints against a gang of thugs and his sudden death are the grounds on which it is suspected that he was murdered.

Last Thursday Bickel made a complaint to the police that a gang of roughs and loafers were infesting the neighborhood, stopping pedestrians and holding them up for money for beer. When he made the complaint he said that the other people of that neighborhood objected to the loafers but were afraid to make complaints.

ARRESTED IN ELIZABETH.

Elizabeth, Aug. 26 (Special).—Joseph Shea and William Burns, of Plainfield, were arrested at the Elizabethport railroad station by New Jersey Central railroad police for being drunk and disroderly. Burns was discharged and Shea was fined $7.85, in the Police Court today. Samuel Hannigan and Joseph Doyle, of Harmony street, Plainfield, were arrested on Jersey avenue at 10 o'clock last night for being drunk and disorderly. Both were sent to the county jail in default of $2 fine.

TOOK BRYAN'S PLACE.

Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, who is one of the lecturers in the Maple Valley Chautauqua course, was one of the speakers on the afternoon of the opening day of the Chautauqua, taking the place on the program of William Jennings Bryan, who was unable to fill his date. Mr. Maguire was scheduled to appear later on the program, but when Mr. Bryan sent word he could not speak, the Plainfielder willingly consented to take his place.

WATERMELON SOCIABLE.

The Christian Endeavor Society of Warren chapel will hold a watermelon social at the chapel on Thursday evening.

The Misses Madelyn Seaman and Marion Blimm, of this city, are enjoying a month's stay at Asbury Park.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

The Confession is the title to a new play that will be seen at the Plainfield theatre tomorrow night. The players presented by the management are certainly worthy of attention of the discriminating theatregoer; the list contains names of people who have been engaged especially for their exceptional ability. The play as the title indicates, is on the order of "Quo Vadis" and "The Sign of the Cross," and it is at least refreshing to note that something is about to be presented to the public which is away from the class of plays which have been of a disgusting nature. It has been a matter of deep consideration when considering a night's entertaining at the theatre of late, as to the propriety of taking ones wife or those of tender years. The line of suggestive and at times vulgar plays which have been presented for public approval, have begun to pall. "The Confession" is an intensely human, powerful drama; its author, James Halleck Reid and its management are making no extravagant claims for their production, preferring to let the press and public be the judges of their efforts to present something really worthy of patronage.

A new era in minstrelsy will be inaugurated by the renewing of the old partnership of those two Kings of Black Face Comedy, Lew Dockstader and George Primrose. Every since their dissolution of partnership some ten years ago, lovers of the minstrel stage have longed for a combination such as they had "in the good old days" and many of the older theatregoers will hail with delight this renewing of old ties—not only will they welcome the reunited team for sentimental reasons but also for the fact they they will again have an assurance of witnessing a real minstrel show, such as the younger black face artists seem to have been unable to produce. The show will appear at the Plainfield theatre Thursday, August 29.

Dilla Clarke's new four act play "Introduce Me," which will appear at the Plainfield theatre, Saturday, August 31, is a cleverly constructed comedy, which affords an evening of pleasing diversion and for which a brilliant career has already been predicted. There are many good lines and the play abounds in rich humor and heart interest, and it teaches a salutory lesson upon the subject of the green-eyed monster. The gowns worn by Miss Clarke are numerous and beautiful and elicit much admiration from the female portion of the audience.

"Bought and Paid For," which is due at the Plainfield theatre on Labor Day, September 2, differs from all plays dealing with the marriage question, in a way that is more serous, and dignified in that it aims to please and entertain, yet has a serious purpose. William A. Brady's idea in presenting George H. Broadhurst's masterpiece in this city, is to show the weak spots in American married life. It especially addresses itself to a solution of the problem of unhappiness or discontent; which comes to men and women of higher and finer sensibilities of life. Manager Brady is sending here the production complete in its entirety; with the Playhouse New York cast.

One of the very few operatic presentations that attracts and delights children is the Aborn Opera Company's big spectacular production of "The Bohemian Girl," in English, which comes to the Plainfield theatre on Wednesday night, September 11. Balfe's masterpiece in its present amplified environment contains much that interests the young and old alike. Extreme realism is now attained in the several great stage pictures where real gypsies, horses, pigs, chickens, and monkeys are introduced. These as well as the beautiful and simple melodies of Balfe's score tend to interest and hold the closest attention of the little folks and the big ones as well.

HOW TO COOK CUCUMBERS.

NOW that cucumbers are abundant and reasonable in price they may be served cooked as a vegetable or with meat.

Those which are somewhat old will be quite tender and appetizing when prepared in this way.

Piquant Dishes.

Cucumbers With Mushrooms.—Take one cucumber, three ounces of cooked chicken, six small mushrooms, one gill of white sauce, half a gill of cream, pepper, salt, nutmeg and chopped parsley. Pound all the ingredients together in a mortar very thoroughly and place on ice. Cut the cucumber into two inch lengths and carefully remove the inside without spoiling the shells. The inside may be pounded with the other ingredients. Make eight brown bread croutons, put a cucumber shell on each, fill it with the iced mixture, sprinkle a little red pepper over each. Garnish with parsley.

Cucumbers With Chicken Salad.—Soak a level tablespoonful of gelatin in two tablespoonfuls of cold water, add one of boiling water and heat until dissolved. Stir in one grated cucumber, one tablespoonful of lemon juice and a few dashes of pepper. When the mixture begins to grow stiff add one cupful of chicken, cut in small dice. When the mixture is almost firm turn into small molds. Serve with mayonnaise.

Served With Sauce.

Scalloped Cucumbers.—Take a baking dish, butter it and sprinkle with a layer of breadcrumbs. Put in a layer of cucumbers, then a sprinkle of salt, pepper, celery salt and a little minced onion. Fill the dish in this manner. Add a cupful of white sauce made with milk or chicken broth. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake in a quick oven for about half an hour or until the crumbs brown nicely. By adding half a cupful of soft, rich cheese to a cupful of cream sauce you improve the flavor.

Veal and Vegetables.

Cutlets With Cucumbers.—Take the veal cutlets and fry in butter until thoroughly cooked and brown. Peel a large cucumber and cut into small dice. Let simmer in boiling salt and water until almost cooked. Drain and put into a saucepan with a tablespoonful of melted butter. Toss over the fire until quite tender. Season with salt and cayenne pepper. Add half a teaspoonful of minced parsley. Dish the cutlets in a circle on a hot dish, arranging the cucumbers in the center. Make a brown gravy from the butter in which cutlets and cucumbers were cooked and serve separately.

Cookery Points

Sweet Pickled Beets.

Lay the beets in boiling water to loosen the skins. Rub these off with a coarse cloth and let the beets get perfectly cold before cutting them. Then slice with a sharp knife and pack into stone jars.

To each quart of vinegar add a cupful of sugar and a tablespoonful of mixed whole spices—mace, stick cinnamon and allspice. Bring the vinegar to a boil, stir in sugar and spices, boil, covered, for three minutes and pour, scalding hot, upon the sliced beets, filling the jars to the top. Cover and set away in a dark, cool place for three days. Then drain off the vinegar carefully, so as not to break the beets, and scald again with the spices.

Do this three times within ten days after the beets are put into the jars and set away for a month before using them. They will keep well.

If you wish to pickle small young beets whole, boil, without peeling, for five minutes after the boiling begins; let them get cold, rub off the skin, put into the jars and proceed as with the sliced beets.

Sweet Pickled Cucumbers.

Select cucumbers of uniform size and not too large. The small cucumbers make the best and prettiest pickles. Reject all that are not perfect. Pack in a stone jar, laying salt by the handful between the layers. Cover the top layer out of sight with salt, then fill the jar with cold water and cover with a small saucer or plate of the right size to fit within the mouth of the jar and lay a clean stone upon the plate. This is to keep the cucumbers under the brine. Leave them there for a fortnight at least. A month would not hurt them. Every other day stir up the brine from the bottom. It should be strong enough to float a fresh egg if dropped into it.

You may add fresh cucumbers from the garden every day if more convenient than to put up all at once. When you are ready to put them through the last processes throw away the brine and examine the cucumbers carefully. If you find one that is pecked or soft do not let it go into the pickle. Lay those selected in cold fresh water and leave them there for twenty-four hours. Drain off the water, fill the jar with fresh water and leave for another day and night.

Now line a preserving kettle with vine leaves (green and clean) and pack in the cucumbers, scattering a teaspoonful of powdered alum over each layer. Cover with three thicknesses of vine leaves and pour in cold water enough to cover all. Cover the whole with a close lid and simmer over a slow fire for four hours, not letting it boil once in all that time, but keeping the contents scalding hot.

Fruit Sponge.

Put a pint packet of orange jelly into a basin and cover it with the required quantity of hot water, stirring it until it has melted. Then add a glassful of sherry and put it away to get cool. Pass sufficient stewed apricots through a sieve to produce half a pint of pulp (or any other soft fruit would do equally well) and leave in readiness to be added to the sponge. When the jelly is cold, but not set, whisk it patiently until it is quite frothy. Then stir in lightly the whites of three eggs, beaten to a firm froth, and the fruit pulp and continue to whisk the jelly until it begins to get spongy, when it should be turned into a china mold. The sponge can be turned out after a few hours and may be garnished with some of the same kind of fruit as that used to flavor it.

Stuffed Ham.

Select a freshly cured ham and have bone removed. Fill cavity with stuffing made of breadcrumbs, tie up securely and inclose ham in a paste of flour and water to keep juice from escaping. Tie in a pudding bag or cloth, have ready a pot of boiling water and let ham boil slowly about two hours. When boiled sufficiently remove the crust, pare skin off carefully so as not to injure the shape of the ham, put it in a roasting pan, sprinkle with breadcrumbs and set in a moderate oven to roast.

Peach Betty.

Chop fine two cupfuls of not too ripe peaches. Butter a baking dish and place on it a layer of peaches, sprinkling with cinnamon, sugar and butter. Place on this a layer of the crumbs, alternating with the peaches until the dish is three-quarters full, leaving breadcrumbs on the top. Add no water, but cover tight and steam three-quarters of an hour in moderate oven. Remove, cover and brown quickly. Serve with milk or sauce.

Chiffonade Dressing.

This is extremely good to serve on lettuce, romaine or any green salad. Into a glass jar put one hard boiled egg finely chopped, a teaspoonful of finely cut chives, a teaspoonful each of chopped red and green peppers, a teaspoonful of salt, a fourth of a teaspoonful of paprika and an eighth of a teaspoonful of pepper, half a cupful of olive oil, three tablespoonfuls of vinegar and a teaspoonful of tarragon vinegar. Allow it to become very cold and just before serving shake the contents of the jar thoroughly.

New Automobile Coats—Three Piece Suits For Autumn.

Plaited velvet chiffon is a new feature in skirts. Combined with satin it gives an effect of much softness and richness.

DRESS FOR SMALL GIRL.

Long waisted dresses are always pretty for the small girl, and this one is unusually attractive, for the trimming gives long lines. It is simple to make, and if the sash effect is not liked the shirring at the waist line may be omitted and the frock finished as shown in one of the smaller cuts.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes for girls of two, four and six years of age. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7554, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

Again We Buy the Great Stickley Bros.' Co. Surplus Stock of Arts and Crafts Furniture

The Purchase of the Entire Factory Stock of Discontinued Patterns From the Stickley Bros. Co., of Grand Rapids, Mich., Is One of the Most Important Furniture Stunts We Do In All the Year, and Be It Known, We Do Some Big Things In a Furniture Way.

Stickley Bros. Co., you know, are makers of the world famous "Arts and Crafts" furniture—better known to most people as mission furniture, but superior in the minds of many to mission because of the finer lines and more artistic design in the Arts and Crafts.

These goods, of course, are new and strictly up-to-date in design—just like the pieces we have been selling regularly from our own stocks this season—beautiful pieces, perfectly built; constructed to give service for many years; fit for the finest palace, yet simple enough for the modest cottage, and cheap enough in this sale for anyone.

There will be no better time to fit up a room in mission, and every home should have such a room—nothing more restful nor pleasing to the eye—a room to leave and loaf in.

We are agents in this section for Stickley Bros. Co., controlling the sale of their product, so, naturally enough, they let us have their discontinued patterns and factory surplus stock at a price so liberally reduced that we are able to sell it at just half the regular prices.

Facts About Arts and Crafts Furniture

Wood—The wood is carefully selected, quartered sawed, Indiana white oak, fumed a rich brown shade, which color will harmonize readily with almost any scheme of decoration. Solid wood is used in every instance. No veneers.

Construction and Workmanship—The best methods of cabinet work are employed. All the joints are mortised and tenoned. We have never known a joint to open. Only the highest skill is employed in the construction of these goods.

Finish—The wood is fumed a beautiful nut brown shade, which lends itself with wonderful facility to various styles of Arts and Crafts decorations. The wax finish makes a hard surface that is not easily scratched and improves in looks with age.

Leather—The upholstering and cushions are covered in genuine Spanish morocco leather, which is tanned and finished in the factory of Stickley Bros. Co., and is fully guaranteed to be the highest standard of leather it is possible to obtain for the upholstering of this high-class furniture. The color of leather used is a shade that will blend perfectly with the warm brown shade of the wood itself.

"TEE KAY" ARRANGING CHAMPIONSHIP MEET

For All-Around Shots—Major W. B. Martin Shoots Poorly.

Thomas H. Keller, formerly of Plainfield, who for many years has been connected in an official way with the Peters Cartridge Company, and who is a crack marksman, is arranging for an all-round championship match, to be decided on the Sea Girt ranges during the next tournament of the New Jersey Rifle Association. The match will be for the purpose of stimulating shooting generally. Mr. Keller's idea is to give a suitable trophy to the marksman who has the best aggregate score at trap-shooting, revolver and pistol shooting on the rifle ranges at 200, 300 and 400 yards, and also at indoor targets.

The New Jersey Rifle Association will pick eight of the best shots in the State to shoot for the Dryden trophy, which is carded for Friday, September 6. The Interstate Regimental Team Match to be shot today will enable the riflemen "to get a line" on the work of the various teams. Major W. B. Martin, formerly of Co. K, did not make a good record on the range last week. Both of his sighting shots were misses, and he also started his "record" string with gooseggs. After that he settled down, his last three shots being bullseyes. Lieut. Arthur Phillips, of Co. K, made a total score of 128, and he was among the fourteen marksmen who sent in his entry for the Wimbleton cup match, to be shot on Friday.

BLUE MONDAY IN BORO FOR THREE THIRSTY ONES

Three men charged with drunkenness were arraigned before Recorder Gano in the North Plainfield court this morning and all were punished.

John Higgins, of Stone street, will be sober for four days at least, for Recorder Gano said "Four days in the lockup for you." Thomas Leacack, of Netherwood avenue, was fined $3. Frank Monckton, of Jefferson avenue, who still showed the effects of a "Saturday night," when he was arrested yesterday morning, was fined $5.

RETURNS TO PASTORATE HE LEFT 30 YEARS AGO

Rev. Gideon M. Schott, former pastor of the Baptist church at Scotch Plains and for several years past the pastor of the Baptist church at Oakmont, Pa., has resigned his pastorate to accept a call to the First Baptist church, of Urbana, Ill., where he was pastor 30 years ago. The little church of that time is now located in a most promising field, and has a membership of 700. The State University, with 5,000 students, is nearby, making the field one of great importance.

Mr. Schott's pastorate at Oakmont has been most successful, as well as a happy one. His many old friends and parishioners in Scotch Plains wish him even more success in his second pastorate of the Urbana church. Mr. Schott leaves for his new field of work September 1.

SAYS GOD HAS SENT HIS LAST MESSAGE TO EARTH

Many of the people in the vicinity of the Gospel Tent on Darrow avenue are demonstrating that the plain, pointed, Bible teaching of the evangelist, is not falling by the wayside or on stony ground. The important theme of last night, "The Seal of God and Mark of a Great Apostasy," drew a large company to the tent. The discourse of the evening was based on Revelation 14:9, 10. The speaker showed from this chapter that this was the last message that God will ever send to this earth.

He said two great issues were confronting the world today, the Sabbath of God as plainly laid down in his Word, and the Sabbath of the Apostasy. And that this movement would line up the people of this world in just two classes. That the message of Revelation 14:9, 10, has already encircled the entire earth, and over 100,000 people have taken their stand for the true Sabbath of God. That as the message of Noah prepared a people for the coming flood, so this message is preparing a people for the Second Coming of Jesus Christ.

Meetings will continue every night through the week, except Saturday. Subject for tonight, "An Anchor That Will Hold in the Time of Storm."

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Fairchild, of Brooklyn, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Cutter, of Sandford avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Kister and children, of West End avenue, who have been spending a week at Atlantic City, will return home today.

SALVATIONIST DIES IN HER SIXTY-SIXTH YEAR

Mrs. Ellen Bruun, aged 66 years, widow of Peter Bruun, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walter Martin, 12 Everett place, Saturday, from complications of diseases. Mrs. Bruun had been a resident of Plainfield many years and was identified with the Salvation Army, being enrolled as a soldier. Her husband died several years ago. She is survived by a number of children.

The funeral service will be held at the late residence, tomorrow afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, and Adjutant Wall, of the Salvation Army, will officiate. The burial will be in Hillside cemetery.

WEST END CATS SUFFER FROM WHOLESALE POISONING

Residents in the neighborhood of West Fifth street and Lee place who own pet cats, are complaining that someone has been busy lately putting them out of the way by poison. One night recently six cats were killed in this way. Some of the residents have their suspicions as to who the guilty ones are and they say they are only waiting to get a little more evidence. Not a few of the cats destroyed in this way have been pets for years.

Similar complaints have been made in the east end of the city where not only cats but dogs have been poisoned. In both cases investigations are being conducted. The poisoning of cats, dogs or any kind of an animal is in strict violation of the law and a heavy penalty is provided for such violation.

COLORED ORPHANAGE BAND PLAYS FOR CONTRIBUTIONS

The Jenkins Orphanage band from Charleston, S. C., in charge of Rev. D. J. Jenkins, founder and president of the orphanage, is making its annual visit to Plainfield, and today it is giving concerts on the streets of the city. Tonight a concert will be given at Calvary Baptist church when the boys will play and sing plantation songs.

The orphanage has been doing a good work since it was founded in 1891, thousands of bad boys having been reformed and made useful citizens. At the time of the last visit of Mr. Jenkins to this city six years ago, he took a colored boy by the name of George Watson, who had been arrested by the police of this city. Today Watson holds an excellent position in Boston. The orphanage has friends in all parts of the country contributing to its support.

T. R. ANXIOUS TO TELL HIS STORY

Says "They Pilloried Me, Then Got Afraid."

WRITES OFFICIAL REPLY.

Willing to Tell All About Recent Primary Campaign—Admits Money Was Received, but Not Received With "Improper Understanding."

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 26.—Colonel Roosevelt, prevented from appearing in person before the campaign contribution committee of the senate, addressed a long letter replying officially to the accusations made by Senator Penrose and John D. Archbold of the Standard Oil company.

The ex-president has received no direct answer to the telegram which he sent asking the privilege of testifying. He had heard, however, he said, that Senator Clapp had sent word that it would be impossible to get his committee together in time to hear the colonel today. Colonel Roosevelt complained bitterly over having lost the chance to answer directly all the questions which the investigating committee could put to him.

Ready to Answer Questions.

He signified that the opportunity to answer questions was one which he always welcomed, and he had his enemies to blame, he said, for being deprived of this opportunity.

"I feel that the committee ought not to have gone away and let Archbold go to Europe without taking any of his testimony on the really grave charge and then failed to let me appear immediately, knowing, as the committee must know, what my later engagements are," he said.

"They pilloried me and then they got afraid," he said, flushed with anger, "but they will find that they have picked up the wrong end of the poker. I shall, however, write Senator Clapp a full statement of some of the things to which I would have testified."

His letter will be begun forthwith, the colonel says, and ought to be completed today or tomorrow. It will cover the ground already gone over in his recent statements, and will contain in addition some letters not yet given out which the president has discovered bearing further on the relations which existed between himself and the Standard Oil company during his administration. It is expected to shed some light on the full aspect of the Roosevelt campaign. Upon this last particular the colonel was particularly insistent. If he had gone to Washington, he said, it was his purpose to tell the committee just what his relations were with ex-Senator William Flinn of Pennsylvania and George W. Perkins, all of which he was ready to explain.

"Incidentally I should like to say," he asserted, "that they need not bother about conferring additional powers upon the committee to question me about the primary campaign. Whether or not they are given the power the committee may put to me questions as to anything of which I have knowledge connected with the primary campaign, or, for that matter, as to anything which I have ever done as president or in this campaign."

"Not one thing has been done now that was not done eight years ago, or that I would not stand for now as then. I suggest, however, that the committee take up the primary campaigns of all of the other candidates also if they desire to go into the matter at all."

In connection with the charges which had been made against him, Colonel Roosevelt was desirous that his answer should not be misunderstood, as was the case in his controversy with Judge Parker. At that time, he said, his point was not that money had not been received from big corporations, but that money had not been received with an improper understanding. As regards Senator Penrose's present charge his position, as well as Mr. Cortelyou's, was not that no Standard Oil contribution had been received, but that if such were the case neither he nor Mr. Cortelyou had any knowledge of it.

Reiterates It's a Fabrication.

"Let me repeat," he continued, "that if any contribution was received from the Standard Oil company it was against my explicit and reiterated prohibition. I saw Mr. Cortelyou last evening. He told me that he had never heard Mr. Archbold's name mentioned in any connection and that as regards himself the whole story is a fabrication out of the whole cloth, as of course it is about me.

"Not to permit me to go and testify today," he complained, "amounts, as the Democratic and Republican friends of Mr. Penrose, Mr. Lorimer and Mr. Archbold in the senate of course know, to rendering it almost impossible for me to appear later without causing the most serious dislocation of the announced and arranged plans.

"The incident is especially significant," said the colonel, "as showing the way that the interests for whom Mr. Penrose and Mr. Archbold and their like speak have joined in the assault on the Progressives and on me. They are entirely willing to see either of the two old political machines triumph because they control both. Their real hostility is reserved for me and the Progressive party."

—"We can get used to anything," says the Cynical Bachelor. "The longer a man is married the less he seems to mind it."

SLOCUM IS RELEASED BY BOUND BROOK CLUB

Chalmers, of the Philadelphia Nine, Will Probably Be His Successor.

Following two successive blowups in the pitcher's box during the Bound Brook-Plainfield series, Louis Slocum, the twirler for the former nine, was given his release by Manager Newhouse after last Saturday's game. He has been a little off color for the past couple of weeks and could not seem to perform to any advantage against the teams he was pitted to twirl.

When at his best Slocum is one of the best twirlers in this section and is hailed as a strikeout phenom by those who have seen him in action. He has been connected with the Philadelphia Athletics, Scranton team of the New England League, York team of the Tri-State League, and recently with the New York team of the United States Outlaw League. Slocum can twirl to good advantage with either his left or right hand but favors the right one as he is stronger in that arm.

It was rumored this morning that Manager Newhouse had signed up Chalmers, the star twirler who was formerly connected with the Philadelphia Athletics, to occupy Slocum's shoes, and as that rumor is pretty well founded, the game between Plainfield and Bound Brook, carded for the Oval Labor Day morning, should be a corker.

GIRL TO SWIM CHANNEL.

Miss Rose Pitonof, American, Makes Sensation In England.

American athletes not only won fame and races at Stockholm, but right under the noses of the English themselves. Miss Rose Pitonof, the sturdy Boston girl swimmer, whose conventionally snug costume first caused such an outcry among the more prudish spectators in England, is training in Dover bay preparatory to her attempt to swim the English channel.

Her practice swims have been witnessed by interested crowds, and the photographers have taken many snapshots of her in the costume which created such a furor of protest when revealed to the somewhat conservative British gaze.

MISS ROSE PITONOF.

"When I make the attempt to swim the channel I shall go to swim myself 'all out,'" said Miss Pitonof, who has made many distance swims, notably the one from East river, New York, to Coney Island, and long jaunts in Boston bay. She is well equipped for such long distance swims, and her natural endowments have been approved by college professors and vaudeville audiences.

Miss Pitonof is the youngest American girl swimmer to gain international fame by her aquatic feats, to say nothing of her costume. She is patriotic and wears an American eagle embroidered on the front of her swimming suit.

The Downtrodden Farmer.

A city man heard that a farmer wanted to sell a motorcar. He sympathized with the poor farmer and his family because they were forced to part with the machine for financial reasons, he believed, and went out to the farm to buy it. The farmer was not at home, but his daughter was there. "I came out to buy your motorcar," he said. "Which one?" asked the girl.—Kansas City Star.

Two of a Kind.

Pecunious Father—So you dare to say you are an ideal match for my daughter? Impecunious Youth—I do, indeed, sir! Pecunious Father—Why, you have never earned a dollar in your life. Impecunious Youth—Neither has she.—Philadelphia Ledger.

DUNELLEN DROPS SECOND TO RAHWAY

Manager Bogardus Presents a Patched Up Team Which Gets But Three Hits.

Dunellen dropped the second game to Rahway, Saturday afternoon, by the score of 8 to 3. The Dunellenites played with a crippled team and McLaughlin was not accorded the kind of support his twirling deserved. Although they hit the offerings of Clarke for ten safeties, the Dunellenites in most cases were unable to push the necessary runs across. Owing to the absence of Wolfe, Manager Bogardus was compelled to shift his outfield and put Teston in centre field, a position he had never been able to play. He was also forced to draft Dixon from the crowd of spectators and put him in right field. The star Dunellen backstop was greatly handicapped by a pair of split fingers which were bandaged together. Dodge played in place of Coyle, who is at present out of town on his vacation.

Although the visitors hit the offerings of Clarke frequently and hard all of the hits seemed to land in the hands of the Rahway outfielders, who scored eight of the put-outs. Britt Martin was the leading hard luck batter of the afternoon, all of his hits being long, high drives to the opposing fielders.

Goodwill and Witeridge played star games in the field for the Rahwayites, the latter getting five put-outs. Freeman was the leading man with the willow, getting a two-bagger and a brace of singles out of five trips. Out of the five times that Giddes strode to the plate he was walked three times, scored one hit and two runs.

The Dunellen team seemed to have an off day in the field and charged up five bad misplays behind McLaughlin which were largely responsible for the six tallies in the seventh and eighth innings. The Dunellenites were ahead until the sixth inning when the fielders began to waver.

AEROPLANES INTERFERED WITH COUNTRY CLUB GOLF

The course of the Plainfield Country Club was thronged with players Saturday afternoon, taking part in the golf ball sweepstakes, but a majority of them were so much engrossed in watching Aviators Beachey and Cooper flying over the surrounding country that they did not complete their round and post their scores. The view of the birdmen from the club grounds was superb and hundreds of people sought them as a point of vantage for that purpose. The leading scores in the competition follow, there being three contestants tied for first honors:

Dr. F. E. DuBois, 97, 22-75; G. M. Holstein, 93, 18-75; Charles W. King, 99, 24-75; T. D. Heed, 110, 25-85.

"GOATS" CHALLENGERS DEFEAT HOLDERS AT PARK

William P. Taylor and H. H. Woodland, challengers, defeated Dr. H. K. Carroll and H. L. Moodey, holders, 3 up and 1 to play, in the "goats" competition at the Park Golf Club, Saturday afternoon. The match was closely contested from the first to the eighteenth hole. In the weekly competition for the President's cup these cards were returned:

Royle T. Phillips, 105, 28-77; William P. Taylor, 85, plus 2-87; Dr. H. K. Carroll, 95, 6-89; H. H. Woodland, 98, 8-90; A. M. Morrell, 104, 9-95; Oliver B. Hill, 125, 29-96; H. L. Moodey, 107, 11-96; Peter C. Sweeny, 103, 2-101.

AMPLE REVENGE AT BOUND BROOK

Plainfield Batters Hit the Offerings of Three Twirlers For Twenty-nine Bingles.

JOE HARTER THE STAR

Score 27 to 7—Slocum, Lidgate and Mullin Are Battered—Pets Run Wild On Bases—Lindeman Twirls Effective Ball.

What Plainfield did to Bound Brook Saturday, will keep the rooters from the hilly "city" quiet for a while and give the local supporters an opportunity to get in a little of the safe stuff. There was nothing to it but Queen City dealings from start to finish, as the local hitsmiths were out to avenge the 16 to 2 beating they received at Bound Brook three weeks ago. They managed to do the trick and still have a little left over as a score of 27 to 6 was piled up with ease. Twenty-nine hits were gathered off the delivery of the three Bound Brook men who did duty and it would be hard to state which was hit the harder. The salt water stuff again had its effect on Slocum and after three and one-half innings of buffeting he was called into the steerage and Lidgate sent to the mound. After Lidgate thought he had enought for one afternoon, Tommy Mullin decided he would take a chance at blooming forth as a finishing artist and he completed the pitching troupe.

Manager Darflinger was not going to take any chances on Fredericksoa, as the latter had been "training" with Louis all week, so he called upon Ernie Linderman. The old twirler has performed for local fans more than once before, had the goods with him and he had the opposing batters standing on their heads. Besides his work in the box, "Lindy" was always in the limelight with the stick, and out of seven trips at bat he made the best of six, all clouts to the tall timber.

Eighteen of Plainfield's runs were made on clean hitting and all their scores came in bunches. Bound Brook was never in the fray for a moment, while the visitors pounded the offerings of the Bound Brook leaders every time they came to bat.

The shining light of victory was Joe Harter, and his steady and consistent work in the field and at the bat drew long periods of applause from the 600 spectators. He pulled off one of the prettiest pieces of fielding in the second inning that was ever seen on a baseball diamond. After chasing a long, high fly over the creek in right field he stuck out one hand and smothered the sphere. On his first trip to the plate Harter duplicated his home run feat of the last contest by clouting the ball against the roof of the house in left field. The hit was an unusual long one and under ordinary circumstances would have went for a circuit clout, but upon hitting the roof it rebounded to Grimes's feet and he held Joe at third.

The two contests played in the Manufacturers' Baseball League, Saturday afternoon, resulted just as they were expected to, the two leaders winning.

The league race is just as close as ever and it is likely to end just as it now stands. Commercial took a 12 to 3 fall out of Public Service, and the R. G. E. bunch nosed out a 4 to 2 victory over the Spicer's.

First place stock looked good to the Commercial players Saturday afternoon and they took a 12 to 2 victory from the Public Service ball tossers. The game was close and well played up until the fifth inning, when the Clerks got their bats working and touched up the delivery of Eddie Montross to the extent of five runs. Another quintet was made in the eighth inning and the game ended there with twelve tallies.

Public Service was unable to do anything with the offerings of Conover after the third stanza, when they got their lone duet of runs, and during the entire contest they could garner but six safeties. Conover twirled gilt-edged ball for the winners, and besides keeping the hits well scattered he disposed of seven along the strikeout route.

Besides the good work of the victor's twirler, the bat of "Shakey" Clarke was largely responsible for the win. He pounded out a trio of safeties in four trips to the plate and scored three times. Clarke also stole three bases and took three chances without a misplay. Too bad he could not have made three errors and then he would have had three of everything. VanZant and Banks also did some good work with the willow, getting two hits apiece.

The Spicer team, of the Manufacturers' Baseball League, threw a thrill into the R. G. E. camp, Saturday afternoon, and the latter team, which is making a strong bid for pennant honors, were just able to nose out a 4 to 2 win. At the outset the game settled into a pitchers' duel between Montross and Dolan, and the former was invincible until the last inning. He allowed but three hits and fanned eight of the Spicer hitsmiths. Dolan was nearly as effective although he received an inferior brand of support from his fielders. He held the hits down to five and chalked up six strikeouts.

The R. G. E. team's first two runs came in the third inning when Hoffman was hit by a pitched ball, stole second and went to third on Miller's sacrifice. Savage got a berth at second on Downs' fumble; Compton's fly ball was dropped by Jaeger, scoring Hoffman and Savage. They got another count in the fifth when Hoffman was hit the second time and stole second. He took third on Miller's roller and scored on Savage's pop fly which was dropped by Kelly. Their last tally came in the sixth, when DeNitio got a berth on Jaeger's fumble and went to third on a fielder's choice. He counted from there on Kelts' long fly to center.

Spicer's annexed their two counts in the last stanza when O'Loughlin hit and stole second. He was brought home on Scott's two bagger and Scott came across himself.

"Tuts" Jaeger and Captain Billy O'Loughlin were the stars of the contest. O'Loughlin was always there with the necessary encouragement for his twirler and kept Dolan on the earth. All of the R. G. E. team's runs were scored on errors while Spicer earned both of its scores.

One change resulted in the Sunday-school Baseball League race from Saturday's games and that was caused by Hope Chapel beating First Baptist to the tune of 11 to 8. It gave the Chapelites a grip on third place and set the Baptists back to fourth. Monroe trimuphed over the South Plainfielders in a seven inning contest when they got a 13 to 0 decision. Park Avenue had an easy time defeating Temple Baptist with a 10 to 3 count.

Seven innings was enough to decide the Monroe Avenue and South Plainfield contest Saturday afternoon. In that short period the Monroe's were able to count up thirteen runs while holding their opponents scoreless. The game was curtailed in the seventh when Generic was severely injured and out of respect to the player both nines agreed to halt the game. He was injured earlier in the game when he remained unconscious for twenty minutes but insisted on returning to the fray but had to be removed to his home in an automobile after a nasty grounder caught him in the chest in the seventh.

Hess twirled his usual steady game and gave the South Plainfielders but one hit. The game was close and well played up until the sixth inning when the villagers seemed to go to pieces and in the last two innings the winners scored eleven times.

Hess, Hendry and Brown were the leading sluggers of the contest, each getting a pair of safties. J. Terry had the honor of making the lone hit off Hess.

Hope Chapel took third place away from the First Baptist crowd by pounding out an 11 to 8 victory. The Chapelites had their own way from the second inning on, and managed to push at least one count across the rubber in every inning, but the first and last. First Baptist's runs came in bunches but they were never really dangerous.

Schott held his opponents to seven scattered bingles and caused nine to take the strikeout route. Smith, the First Baptist's twirler, was a little off color and the Hope bunch were able to garner eleven life givers from his delivery. Both pitchers were given ragged support by their fielders, the losers making seven misplays and the winners six.

Stolen bases figured prominently in the run getting and twenty-five were pilfered during the nine innings. Of these, Tommy Heron got five and Grisley four. The hitting laurels of the battle were gathered in by Arthur Grisley, Hope Chapel's captain, and he took three out of Smith's delivery. Of this trio of dents one was a two bagger. Morris got a circuit clout and Stine a three bagger.

Temple baptist struck a snag in its winning streak Saturday afternoon when it stacked up against the Park Avenue nine and took a 10 to 3 walloping. J. Huff and Stewart devided up the box work for the Temples and both seemed to have an off day. Stewart had none of his usual effectiveness and was hit freely by the Park Avenue batters, while Huff's debut as a twirler was not impressive.

VanArsdale was a leading factor in the victory and besides holding the Temples to seven scattered hits he fanned nine and did not issue a single free pass.

Gage and Hobson had their batting optics with them in Saturday's game and pulled through with a trio of hits each which aided materially in the run getting. One of Hobson's hits was a circuit clout and VanArsdale got a three bagger.

ARMLESS WONDER LIKES LOCAL BASEBALL FANS

Drops In Unexpectedly at Bound Brook and Draws Applause from Large Crowd.

A surprise awaited the fans at Bound Brook, Saturday afternoon, when the armless wonder, Frank McKeown, was announced as a preliminary attraction. He was so well satisfied with the support he got from the Bound Brook and Plainfield fans last Saturday at Crescent Oval that he consented to perform before the same crowd last Saturday at Bound Brook. His reception at the latter place was equally as cordial and he went through a series of stunts that would be difficult even for a man with both hands intact.

McKeown opened his demonstration with a short and witty talk describing the misfortune that deprived him of his arms from the elbow down. He then went through a series of tricks with a set of iron rings and tied himself up so that he represented a Chinese puzzle. His next feat was to bat a ball thrown to him by Louis Slocum and the hit that he clouted from Slocum's twirling was probably a forethought of what was destined to happen to the Bound Brook twirler.

McKeown has traveled from New York to Chicago and return on foot giving demonstrations of this nature and he has the signatures of important men in the towns through which he has passed transcribed in a large volume.

SCOTCH PLAINS TAKES SUNDAY GAME

Home Nine Wins Out In the Ninth After a Stiff Struggle.

Scotch Plains defeated the Dover team, champions of the Lackawanna League, in the game at the 'Plains yesterday afternoon, after one of the best contests the followers of the game have witnessed this season, the final score being 2-1, the winning tally being brought across the plate in the ninth inning. MacLaughlin, who was on the mound for the 'Plains, was invincible, allowing but seven scattering hits, the team back of him playing without an error. Truttler, for Dover, was touched for seven hits, but they were made at the right time. The home team started scoring in its half of the second, Denitzo coming across on short-stops' error and Wiltse's single to center. Dover tied the game up in the fifth, and it was a case of one, two, three until the ninth, when Frentz brought Wiltse in with a long fly to center field, Wiltse scoring on the throw in.

FIRST DRIVE IN HIS AUTO ENDS IN DEATH

Six Others Hurt as He Neglects Wife's Warning.

Orange, N. J., Aug. 26.—Thomas F. Ryan was killed while operating an automobile which he was using for the first time. His wife and their two children as well as A. C. Spalding, his wife and son were seriously injured. All were taken to the Orange Memorial hospital at Orange, N. J. The automobile turned turtle and, while all of the others were thrown out, Mr. Ryan was pinned beneath the car, his neck was broken and death was instantaneous.

Mr. Ryan, who was employed as manager of a Wall street brokerage office, became an enthusiastic motorist this summer and patiently awaited the delivery of the motor car he bought. The automobile was delivered to him, and as soon as it had been tried out Mr. Ryan announced he and his family would take a trip. Mr. Ryan also said he would operate the machine, but Mrs. Ryan demurred against this, and to satisfy her Mr. Ryan prevailed upon Mr. Spalding to accompany them and act as chauffeur. Mr. Spalding is the New Jersey public service commission representative in Jersey City. The party intended to go to Delaware Water Gap, Pa.

Mr. Ryan and Mr. Spalding exchanged seats, and as they were about to run through Mount Pleasant avenue, Livingston, which is about ten miles from Orange, Mr. Ryan remarked:

"See, I told you I knew how to run a machine."

The next instant the car skidded and the women and children screamed. The road had been recently oiled and was slippery, and Mr. Ryan lost control of the automobile. It went plunging down the road until it struck a stone wall and then turned completely over.

BALLOONIST MORTALLY HURT

Falls From Carriage While Making Ascent From Picnic Park.

Union Hill, N. J., Aug. 26.—Frederick Owens, a youth from Owens Park, N. J., who has narrowly escaped death in a number of balloon flights which he has made in the last few years, was mortally injured in a fall from his balloon at West New York, near Union Hill.

Owens, who is twenty-two years old, gave up his dirigible balloon recently because the sport was too tame and took to parachute drops with a triple contrivance which has three umbrella planes which spread out when he cuts himself loose from the hot air bag. The flight was made from Schutzen park at Union Hill, where the Platt deutcher Volksfest was holding forth for the last week.

CONGRESS SNARL; NO ADJOURNMENT

Unusual Situation With Both Houses Deadlocked.

NOW HARD TO GET QUORUM

General Deficiency Bill Bone of Contention—La Follette and Four Democrats Will Block Adjournment Move. Legislators May Be Called Back.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Congress is in a remarkable parliamentary tangle and was in session till 4:25 a. m. Sunday. With both houses deadlocked over the general deficiency bill and the senate snarled up in a filibuster within a filibuster, plans for adjournment have been knocked sky high.

After puttering in vain and keeping the president of the United states sitting all night in the senate lobby, both houses recessed at about daybreak yesterday until 12 o'clock today. In the meantime many senators and members of the house had left town in disgust, and if the two branches of congress come together today neither will have a quorum. Furthermore, the dawn of another legislative day finds the belligerent Democratic senators ready to continue their insistence that the house shall yield on the $600,000 century old state claims in the general deficiency bill. The house will refuse.

Add to this a determination on the part of Senator La Follette to force the passage of the Penrose-Reed resolution for a sweeping campaign contributions inquiry and you have a first class mixup. Any attempt to put through an adjournment resolution will be blocked on a point of no quorum either by La Follette or the four fighting Democrats. This will necessitate a summoning of absentees back to the national capitol with a regiment of cavalry.

Lot of Bad Feeling Developed.

The unexpected deadlock and the row over the Penrose-Reed resolution has developed a lot of bad feeling between the houses and among the members of each. Worn out by their all night session the warring lawmakers are the most disgruntled and disconsolate lot imaginable. No efforts are made toward patching up differences, and unless tempers cool and some compromise is effected the country may be treated to the spectacle of the slim remainder of congress marking time while the sergeant at arms and his deputies go scouring the country over with warrants for the arrest of the absent members. As things now stand everything is in confusion, but the general impression is that the senators who sought to force a few old state claims will be obliged to yield eventually and that the senate itself will be forced to vote on the Penrose resolution.

Penrose Chamberlain of Oregon, who is interested in one of the claims in the deficiency bill, is the most obstreperous of the senate warriors. He announced that he stands ready to make the point of no quorum if the senate shows a disposition to give in to the house in the items in controversy. Senator La Follette, who is happiest with a fight on his hands, indicated plainly that he was prepared to go the limit for the Penrose resolution.

House Will Not Yield.

The amendments in the deficiency bill that are kicking up most of the trouble concern the claims of the states of Oregon, Maryland, Virginia and Texas. They involve in the aggregate a little more than $600,000. One of them, the Virginia-Maryland claim, is more than 110 years old. The others also are hoary. The senators from the states interested, while fighting chiefly for these claims, insist also upon an appropriation for the payment of an additional month's salary to the officers and employees of congress.

By a unanimous vote the house asserted that it would never yield to the senate. In this confusion the Republicans supported the position of the Democratic leaders. According to statements made in debate, the house would rather see the bill fail than passed in the form in which it was adopted by the senate. Heretofore the house has usually bent the knee to the senate. On this occasion apparently the lower branch intends to stands firm.

TILLMAN SCORES GOV. BLEASE

Says He Has Made State's Good Name a Byword and a Hissing.

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 26.—United States Senator Tillman has issued an appeal to the people to defeat Governor Blease for a second term. The senator says:

"I have become convinced of the unfitness of Blease to be governor. The state has been disgraced in the eyes of the world and its good name made a byword and a hissing. Nobody can redeem it except its own people. I implore the people to take care of the state's good name next Tuesday."

Sundry Civil Bill Signed.

Washington, Aug. 26.—President Taft signed the sundry civil appropriation bill, the largest supply measure for the government. It carries $112,000,000 and wipes out the tariff board by making no provision for its maintenance.

IRON CLAD ORDER ON SUNDAY MAIL

Even P. O. Lobby Will Be Locked Tight On the Sabbath.

OTHER TROUBLE AHEAD

Regulation that Goes Into Effect Next Year Will Make It Hard to Provide Satisfactory Afternoon Delivery Service—8-Hour Rule.

The official announcemeent made yesterday that hereafter the local postoffice will remain closed on Sunday for the delivery of all mail, except "specials," was followed today with a statement by Postmaster E. H. Bird that, while the new order will probably prove unpopular, he will obey it to the letter and that in the future the office will be closed. That means that the doors to the lobby will be locked, and it will do no good for persons to go to the office in the hope of somehow getting mail.

The postal laws provide that in offices where the fixtures extend from the floor to the ceiling, affording ample protection, the lobby may be left open all the time, but as this is not the case at the local office there is nothing left to do but close the lobby. In larger cities the lobbies are left open. Even under those conditions it would be useless for people to go to the postoffice, for the order provides that no mail shall be distributed even in the lockboxes.

Mr. Bird in discussing some of the recently enacted postal laws, remarked that one is likely to cause no end of trouble in the delivery of mail. Beginning March 1, 1913, letter-carriers will be required to put in their eight hours in ten consecutive hours. Under those conditions here, where the men begin work at 6:30 o'clock in the morning, they would be through the middle of the afternoon, making it very difficult to arrange for an afternoon delivery. Within the prescribed ten hours, the carriers will be given two hours off for meals.

At present the men work eight hours, but the postmaster can so arrange those hours as to meet the conditions in his territory. The carriers put in four hours during the morning with a "swing" during the middle of the day and then start in again about 2:30 o'clock for the afternoon work. Mr. Bird predicts that the new order of things will prove so unpopular and will so interfere with the delivery of mail in cities of the class of Plainfield and even larger places that a change will be demanded.

LIGHTNING ROD WILL PROTECT TRINITY SPIRE

Through the efforts of William A. Woodruff, the insurance company has settled with Trinity Reformed church for the damage the church spire suffered recently, by lightning. The bolt shattered the steeple near the gilded ball, although the latter was not damaged to any extent. According to the terms of settlement the insurance company has engaged "Steeplejack" Yoerk, of Newark, to repair the damage and put the spire in first-class shape. He will also run a lightning rod from the top of the steeple to the ground as protection in the future.

While repairing the damage the steeple will also be repainted. This is not the first time that the church has been hit by lightning and it is thought that a lightning rod will prevent further damage. The company effected the settlement with H. E. Gayle, A. K. Willett and A. L. Force, representing the church.

CHARLES B. MORSE WEDS MISS PARKER

Bride a Former Domestic Science Supervisor of the City Schools.

Morrisville, N. Y., August 27 (Special).—At the residence of the bride in this village took place yesterday at high noon, the marriage of Miss Mildred M. Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel J. Parker, and Charles Burdette Morse, of Plainfield, N. J. The wedding was a very quiet one, only the immediate family being present. The ceremony was performed by a cousin of the bride, the Rev. C. Wallace Petty, pastor of the Creston Avenue Baptist church, of New York city. The attending couple was Ralph K. Miner, of Oriskany Falls, a cousin of Mr. Morse, and Miss S. Edna Bush, of Canajoharie, N. Y., a college classmate of Miss Parker.

After the ceremony luncheon was served and the newly-married couple left in an automobile. They will spend a couple of weeks in the mountains of the East, after which they will take up their residence at Plainfield.

The bride came to this village from Georgetown, N. Y., when her father was elected the treasurer of Madison county, twelve years ago, and has made many friends both here and at Plainfield, where for several years she has been Supervisor of Domestic Science of the Public Schools of that city.

Mr. Morse is salesmanager of the Mason-Henry Press Co., and the Teller-Hurst Engraving Co., of Syracuse, with an office at 50 Church street, New York. He has just closed a contract with this firm for another year, having been very successful in his work. Previous to taking up this work he was engaged in the newspaper business in Plainfield. He is an enthusiastic golfer and treasurer of the Park olf Club, of Plainfield. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. E. Morse, were former residents of this section, his father having been engineer of construction in the building of the Utica branch of the Ontario & Western Railroad. Mr. and Mrs. Morse were present at the wedding yesterday.

PROBE DEATH OF MAN WHO OPPOSED GANG

County Physician Westcott Advises Prosecutor to Act On Murder Theory.

Elizabeth, Aug. 27.—After viewing the body of John Bickel, of 410 Pine street, which was found in the Elizabeth river near the Front street bridge Sunday by Frank Van Pelt, County Physician Westcott last night conferred with Prosecutor Swift, and the latter, suspecting that the man was murdered, ordered detectives to investigate Bickel's death.

Bickel was the complainant against Frank and Patrick Carberry and Charles Hemler, alleged members of a downtown gang, in police court last week, and the men were fined $20 and costs and committed to the county jail for sixty days.

When Bickel's body was found there was a cut on the back of his head, another under the left eye and one on the right wrist. The police and prosecutor's detectives are working on the theory that the man was attacked by members of the Carberry-Hemler gang, knocked unconscious and thrown in the river.

IRVING PAINE'S FATHER IS DEAD

Was 101 Years Old and Known As Dean of Booksellers.

CHOLERA MORBUS FATAL

Grandson of Revolutionary Soldier, Who Was Washington's Confidant, and Grand-Nephew of Tom Paine, Author-Statesman.

George Clinton Paine, of Elmira, N. Y., who was 101 years old on July 9, died at his home in that city yesterday of cholera morbus. With other relatives at the bedside when the end came was Irving Paine, of this city, a son of the centennarian.

George Clinton Paine was known as the "dean of American booksellers," and had been at work up to the time of his illness, showed remarkable health and vitality.

Born in Newtown, now Elmira, Mr. Paine was the son of a farmer. His grandfather was Colonel Brinton Paine, a Revolutionary veteran and the confidant of George Washington. He was a grand-nephew of Thomas Paine, the author and statesman, and was named for George Clinton, formerly Governor of New York, who had been godfather of his father.

Mr. Paine learned harness making in 1829, and in the following year made his first visit to the city. He drove down, and found Manhattan a wilderness north of the City Hall. He stopped in the city several days, going to the museaums and theatres, and parading with other citizens at the Battery, then the chief place of interest.

Several years later Mr. Paine took up bookselling, and had been at it twenty-five years at the time of his death. He walked five miles a day, and attributed his vitality to a simple mode of living, plain food and plenty of outdoor life. He smoked only once—that was a cigar—and the results were a reminder to him all the rest of his life. He tasted liquor only when in medicine.

Mr. Paine cast his first vote for Andrew Jackson in 1832. He was a stanch abolitionist, and voted for Abraham Lincoln.

Mr. Paine leaves one son beside Irving Paine, George W. Paine, seventy-five years old, of Odessa. He leaves eight grandchildren and many great-grandchildren.

BURGLARS FRIGHTENED FROM TWO RESIDENCES

Two attempts at robbery between the hours of two and four yesterday morning, were reported at police headquarters, and in both cases the crooks were frightened away by members of the families occupying the houses.

One attempt was made at the home of Mrs. Hillpot, of 225 East Fifth street, and the other was made at 208 Plainfield avenue.

PREPARING FOR THE HOLY NAME SOCIETY PARADES

The annual parade and services of the Holy Name societies will be held this year on the second Sunday in October, the 13th, this being the same Sunday as in previous years. The rallying points of the societies will be the same as last year, when in Newark alone there was an estimated line of 10,000 marchers. This was decided on at a meeting of the directors of the Diocesan Holy Name Society and notice was served last Saturday on district directors to call on the organizations under them to prepare for the event.

The directors have taken up the matter of vice in cities, setting forth that some of the newspapers have asked if the Holy Name Society would not be an efficient agent to fight the disreputable dance halls and saloons and other evils.

The directors answer that "there is no man on our roster who would not be pleased to lend his assistance to counteract these abuses." With respect to other organized forces that might be enlisted in the fight for the suppression of evil, the society heads ask:

"What are our Young Men's Christian Associations doing? What are the Junior Order of American Mechanics? And what of the Guardians of Liberty? Let us respectfully submit to the editors of the press that these forces be likewise mobilized, and it may be said that much that is detrimental to the moral tone of our cities and to the improper bringing up of our families, will be in a short while eliminated."

HE MADE HIS WIFE SLEEP ON THE FLOOR

Then, It's Alleged, Kistner Pounded the Boards With a Hammer.

Mrs. Rudolph Kistner, who has been living with her husband at 1629 West Front street, and who had him arrested last week, because of disorderly conduct, moved away from that address this morning to another house on the same street. When the case was up in court last Wednesday morning, Judge DeMeza advised Kistner to behave himself, and treat his wife better, or to separate from her. The couple went home again, but the effort to live happily evidently was not successful.

It was said this morning at police headquarters that Kistner had been compelling his wife to sleep on the floor, and that one morning he got up at four o'clock and pounded the floor with a hammer, so that she could not sleep. In order to keep peace Patrolman Sweeney went to the house this morning while the moving operation was in progress. The court has ordered Kistner to provide for his wife's maintenance, as she has been forced to keep boarders in order to hold the home together.

PLAINFIELD BANK GOT BOROUGH BOND ISSUE

The $18,000 bond issue of the North Plainfield school board was sold to the Plainfield Savings Bank at a special meeting of the board in the Somerset street school last night. The bank bid $102.29 making a total of $18,412.80.. Rhods & Co., 45 Wall street, bid 100.333 and Harris, Forbes & Company, Pine and William streets, New York, bid 100.031.

The board has had great difficulty in selling the bonds. At first they advertised the issue at 4 per cent. interest and no bids were received. They have had to readvertise several times in order to get bidders for the bonds at 4½ per cent. The bonds are $500 each and expire in 1926, the interest being payable semi-annually. They are issued to defray the expenses of installing a heating and ventilating system, as required by the State Board of Education.

The new supervising principal, A. B. Vosseller, of Great Neck, L. I., was present at the meeting and brought several questions of school management up.

The building and grounds committee reported that all was in readiness for the fall terms. The schools are to open next Wednesday, September 4, and Supervisor Vosseller says that all will be in readiness to start work on that day. The teachers will report on Tuesday in order to get things ready and a meting will be held to discuss the methods and systems.

The office will be opened Tuesday for the registering of new pupils and Mr. Vosseller requests that parents bring their children for registration early so that they may enter the classes with the other pupils, and obviate a great deal of extra labor and confusion. It is not necessary for former pupils to register. Only pupils coming from other schools and those just starting their schooling are required to register.

BORO DEMOCRATS ORGANIZE CLUB

Endorse John M. Lewin and Maxwell E. Perkins For Council.

RETAIN ONE CITY TIE

Frown On Joint Club, But Vice Presidents Are Made a Committee to Consult With Plainfield Wilson Campaigners On Mass Meetings.

The North Plainfield Wilson and Marshall Club was organized by a large number of borough Democrats at Debele Hall last night and plans were laid for the waging of a strong campaign.

David Bodine, was chosen president. Walter C. Linbarger, elected secretary, resigned because he feared he would not have time to devote to the office, and Leo Kenney was elected in his place. The other officers are George Kirch, treasurer; Elston M. French, vice president of the first district; former Mayor W. L. Saunders, vice president of second district; A. A. Cannon, vice president of the third district; Andrew E. Kenney, vice president of the fourth district, and Frank Mobus, vice president of the fifth district.

The question of joining with the Plainfield club was brought up, and it was decided that borough Democrats preferred to retain a separate identity. It was argued that the uniting of the clubs would not materially aid either club.

The vice presidents were appointed a committee to confer with the Plainfield club on matters of common interest, such as mass meetings and literature.

Headquarters on Somerset street are to be secured shortly and will be open at all times to the members.

John M. Lewin, of Watchung avenue, and Maxwell E. Perkins, of 95 Mercer avenue, were put forward as candidates for nomination to the Council and their petitions were circulated and signed. Mr. Lewin was a candidatee for councilman two years ago and was defeated by L. B. Woolston by only two votes. The club has pledged its support to Lewin and Perkins. It is not believed that there will be any other Democratic candidates for the nomination. The meeting was adjourned until next Monday night.

A special campaign committee has been appointed by the Somerset County Democratic Executive Committee to institute a vigorous canvas in Wilson's interest. The committee will work in conjunction with the county committee, and headquarters will be opened in Somerville. Walter C. Limbarger has been selected as secretary of the committee.

FANCIER SECURES BLUE ORPINGTON WHILE IN EUROPE

Percy Cook, of the firm of William Cook & Sons, of Scotch Plains, widely known as a poultry fancier, has returned from Kent, England, where he visited relatives and the famous Cook farms. While abroad Mr Cook secured about 200 especially fine Orpingtons, white, buff and black, and one blue Orpington, an entirely new breed, which he will exhibit at poultry shows in this country during the fall and winter.

The Orpingtons secured by Mr Cook are coming to this country in the steamer Minneapolis of the Atlantic Transport line. Mr. Cook returned on the Red Star Line Zeeland. He is now making arrangements to establish a poultry farm in Brazil next winter, where he plans to raise thoroughbred stock on a large scale.

BOY RUNS AWAY TO ESCAPE THEFT TRIAL

Good Things For City, Says Judge DeMeza—Court News.

William McCarthy, a boy who was arrested over a week ago for stealing four dollars from C. M. Nagle's drug store, failed to appear before Judge DeMeza in the city court, when his case was called for trial this morning. His counsel, John P. Owens, in whose custody he had beeen paroled, was present, and told the judge that he had not seen anything of the boy for five days, and that his father said that he had not been home since he was arrested. McCarthy has a bad record, and has served time in the Rahway Reformatory, so it is thought probable that he left town for good. Judge DeMeza said that the city was probably better off for his having disappeared.

Three small boys were before the judge for swimming in Green brook. They were found yesterday in the rear of L. V. F. Randolph's property on East Front street, by Patrolman Thomas Flatley, who chased them away. Later Mr. Randolph met the officer and insisted that the boys be arrested. Judge DeMeza told the boys that they must stop swimming inside the city limits, and then let them go.

Harold Martin and John Lacey, two hackmen who did a modified Marathon on Watchung avenue during a rain storm one night last week, were in court to plead to the charge. Robert Newton Crane appeared as counsel for Martin, and Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., was there to represent Lacey. Both entered pleas of guilty and then Counselor Crane had an argument with the court in his plea for clemency for Martin, in which he attacked Lacey's reputation. Mr. Hetfield interrupted, and the Judge instructed Mr. Crane to stick to the facts in the present case, which he did. After hearing counsel Judge DeMeza let both men go with suspended sentences, but took the opportunity to read a lecture to Lacey about abusing his horse, as the court said he had received numerous complaints against the man. He told Lacey that if he came before him again for reckless driving, it would go hard with him.

John Tracht, who was wanted on a charge of disorderly conduct, made by Nellie Swedo, did not appear in court, and the Judge gave orders to notify him to appear the first day after the police located him.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT SECURED BY CLUBMEN

Tri-County Members Enter Into Co-operative Agreement With Passaic Township.

At the last meeting of the Tri-County Club at Union Village complaints were made by Morris county members of the difficulty of getting over from Gillette, Stirling and other places on account of the bad condition of the road between the river bridge and Nixdorff's corner. The president, Dr. Willis Fletcher Johnson, thereupon appointed Ekko Sollman and Edward S. Carr a committee to confer with the authorities in reference to improvement of the road. They promptly got in touch with the Passaic Township Committee and secured an agreement that the committee would cover with crushed stone all the foundation of field stone which the club would have laid.

The clubmen are now arranging to have such a foundation laid on the whole stretch of bad road in question, so that it will presently be macadamized, or perhaps telforded. It will be a fine achievement for the public good, for which the clubmen will be entitled to much credit. As already told, the road between Union Village and Berkeley Heights is also being macadamized by the New Providence Township Committee, the chairman of which, Percy G. Holloyman, is also an active member of the Tri-County Club.

ANTI-MORMON PUBLIC MEETING

H. P. Freece, Convert From the Faith, Trying to Arrange One.

MAYOR IS INTERESTED

Scene Precipitated By Utah Elders at Grace M. E. Church Sunday Receives General Interest In Steps Against Latter Day Saints.

Hans P. Freece, a New York lawyer and a converted Mormon, who has been engaged in the work of exposing Mormonism both in this country and abroad, is arranging to hold a public meeting in this city for the purpose of explaining the teachings of Mormonism. Mr. Freece has high endorsement from press and pulpit as to his work and he has interested Mayor G. W. V. Moy in the plan of holding a meeting here. The present time is considered peculiarly opportune owing to the fact that elders of the Mormon church have been doing missionary work in Plainfield and its vicinity.

The experience of two Mormons at Grace M. E. church, Sunday night, has served to revive public interest. The treatment they received will likely discourage them from attempting to speak again in any of the local churches.

Several months ago Mayor Moy refused elders of the Mormon church permission to carry on their missionary work here, and finally stopped them from distributing their literature from house to house. They were charged with violating the city ordinance in this respect and are now awaiting a hearing before City Judge W. G. DeMeza on that charge.

SHARP'S COMPANY TO PAY PERCENTAGE

Holdings Will Furnish Some Cash With Which to Reimburse Bondholders.

Bondholders of the company will get at least one-third of their money back, it was stated yesterday in behalf of the bondholders' committee of the New York Central Realty Company in which Ernest Sharp, of this city, is interested. The concern's alleged misuse of the mails brought about the indictment of Sharp and others, who were running the company prior to the time when it went into the hands of a receiver last March.

The return of money will be made through real estate which was put in the hands of a trustee before the company failed.

It was also stated that while one issue of $500,000 worth of cumulative bonds payable in ten and fifteeen years was sold only $80,000 in actual cash was paid into the company's treasury for these bonds, because they were payable in monthly instalments. The purchasers lost about $70,000.

At the office of the bondholders' committee on the sixth floor of the Marbridge building it was stated that the other issue of coupon bonds, for which the subscriptions had to be paid in full when the bonds were purchased, amounted to $470,000, and was widely distributed.

The bondsolders' committee now has $273,000 in bonds deposited. It is trying to realize something on them for the bondholders.

COW DAMAGED GARDENS.

J. H. Barry, of 18 Howard street, North Plainfield, was arraigned before Recorder Gano, this morning, for letting his cow run loose. His neighbors complained hat the animal wandered and trampled their gardens. Barry was dismissed on suspended sentence after promising to keep the cow tied up.

K. OF C. RECEIVE BIDS.

The building committee of the Knights of Columbus held a meeting last night at which bids for an addition to the clubhouse were opened. As a great deal of calculating is necessary to find out the lowest bid, no action will be taken and no authoritative information given out until next week when a meeting will be held to award the contract.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

"The Confession," a new drama direct from the Bijou theatre, Broadway, New York city, will be the offering at the Plainfield theatre, tonight. The play is a four-act drama written by James Halleck Reid, and is one of the strongest plays seen here this season. The cast is made up of people of exceptional ability. The plot consists of a priest's brother being accused of murder which another man had committed, and confessed to the priest, knowing that the priest would not impart the knowledge. The brother is only saved by the dying confession of the true murderer at the last moment to the governor. Many strong scenes are enacted but the conclusion of the third act in which the true bill has been found against the prisoner and real murderer, a French Canadian, is the most pathetic.

This season's show incorporates in addition to Primrose and Dockstader, some half hundred artists of minstrelsy, with many of the headline acts of the two-a-day field, including the six musical Brown brothers, probably the cleverest musical act extant. The four Harmonists, a featured quartet on any bill, and the stage's latest find, the male Tettrazzini, Raymond Wylie, and many other stars. The largest concert band ever carried by a minstrel show of twenty-five soloists. Positively the most pretentious minstrel effort ever offered the public will be found in this season's attraction which will appear at the Plainfield theatre Thursday night, August 29. The production is elaborate, being stupendously mounted; with the old minstrel first part, the olio and the after part, with many new and novel surprises, with a specialty in soft shoe dancing by the peer of them all, George Primrose, and two typical Dockstader numbers, "You Can't Get a Nickel From Me" and "They Had Me Down for the Count of Nine, But They Haven't Licked Me Yet." The costuming will prove a revelation for any attraction.

"Always leave them laughing when you say good-bye" is the motto of Della Clarke, the author and playwright whose latest comedy success, "Introduce Me," will be seen at the Plainfield theatre, Saturday, August 31. Give the people a bright, wholesome and happy-hearted plot and they will be your best advertisement is the way this young author puts it. "Find the audience that has left a theatre after going through an evening of troublesome seriousness or mawkish sentiment that is employed to create sympathy for some soiled heroine," she said, "and I will show you an audience that will not lose its breath hurrying to see that same play the next season. The people want to be made happy and to be entertained. They do not want to go to the theatre to figure out problems or watch them figured out. They want to laugh and have gladness put into their lives."

"Baby Mine," William A. Brady's successful comedy, which comes to the Plainfield theatre next Monday, September 2, Labor Day, matinee and night, with Walter Jones and the original New York cast, is one fascinating whirl of bright and contagious fun from beginning to end. A capable and well balanced company are entrusted with the presentation of the piece, and bring out each character in a manner that speaks volumes for the versatility of th different artists who fill the respective roles. The production was made by William A. Brady, Ltd. The play broke all records at Daly's theatre, New York city, where it was presented for one solid year. It has also met with great success in London, where it has been running for two years, and is now being witnessed by capacity audiences at the Vaudeville theatre in that city.

The Aborn Opera Company's extraordinary production of "The Bohemian Girl" will be seen at the Plainfield theatre on Wednesday, September 11. This organization is said to have a remarkable grand cast of principals, immense chorus, and corps de ballet, in all numbering upwards of one hundred people, besides which the Messrs. Aborn promise an elaborate and massive scenic evironment which, while built from the same models as last season's productions are entirely new. The "bigness" of this organization may best be realized when it is learned that it requires a seven-car train to transport the company, scenery and accessories. Occasional difficulty was experienced last season with local orchestras, because of fewness of rehearsals, to get satisfactory orchestral support. This season as the special orchestra is a part of the Aborn company, this fault is rendered impossible.

"DEAD" ELIZABETH MAN PAID FOR THE FUNERAL

Schenectady, N. Y., Aug. 27.—W. M. Clark, a former resident of this city, but now of Elizabeth, N. J., arrived in Schenectady Friday night to visit friends, and incidentally to pay his burial expense, he being supposedly dead and buried for the past six weeks. A man was killed at Binghamton, and through cards in his pocket it was thought the victim was Clark. His sister was notified, went to Binghamton and identified the body as that of her brother's.

The burial was arranged for and the sister paid the expenses. Last week a friend, who had been advised of the death, met Clark on the street in Elizabeth, and told him he was dead and buried. Clark contradicted the statement and came here to prove he was right.

—Mrs. Tinkle—"They say that Mrs. Neaurich is becoming more proper every day." Mrs. Dimple—"Yes, indeed; you should have seen how mortified she was awhile ago when she learned that her husband owned common stock in a railroad."—Satire.

BILLION DOLLARS IS SPENT BY CONGRESS

Fitzgerald and Cannon Differ on Deductions Drawn.

Washington, Aug. 27.—The session of congress just closed was a billion dollar congress in appropriations. Analytical statements concerning the appropriations made were submitted to the house in its closing hours by Chairman John Fitzgerald of the appropriations committee and ex-Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, ranking Republican member.

Both agree on their figures, but differ in the conclusions and deductions drawn from them. Chairman Fitzgerald insists that the session just closed was more economical than any of the last three Republican sessions. Ex-Speaker Cannon challenges this assertion and insists that the Democratic house has cost more than did any of its recent Republican predecessors when appropriations for the Panama canal are eliminated.

Both agree that the appropriations made at this session of congress amount to $1,019,636,143.66 as compared with $1,026,682,881.72 at the last regular session under the Republicans.

DEBS ACCEPT NOMINATION.

No Ceremony—Speech Released, but Not Delivered.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 27.—Extreme simplicity marked the "notification" here of Eugene V. Debs, Socialist candidate for president. Debs was not visited by any committee, and there was no formality whatever about the event. He simply released his acceptance speech to the newspapers and at once began preparations for a trip to Fergus Falls, Minn., where he will speak tonight.

Debs declared Theodore Roosevelt to be "the most dangerous man in America." Attacking Roosevelt's present course in the Standard Oil campaign contribution squabble, the Socialist candidate said:

"He is the only man in the United States who apparently does not know that his 1904 campaign was financed by the trusts."

Debs said that the colonel has "a hypnotic power over the American people."

SHOOTS HIS ADVISER.

Upbraided For Drinking Young Man Shoots Well Known Merchant.

Greensboro, N. C., Aug. 27.—John G. Kerner, a member of the firm of the American Hosiery mills of Kernersville, N. C., was shot and probably mortally injured by a young man named Claude Dickens. Mr. Kerner had gone to the mill and found several young men drinking there. He upbraided them when, it is alleged, Dickens ran into his house and, picking up a shotgun, fired at Kerner.

Dickens was arrested and lodged in jail at Winto-Salem to await the outcome of Kerner's injuries. It was reported he had little chance for recovery.

EXPORTER DIES IN GIRL'S FLAT.

Montclair Man, Married, Succumbs to Heart Failure.

POLICE SET WOMAN FREE.

Deceased Man's Family Are Stopping at York Beach, Me.—Girl Says That Mr. Rand Visited Her Every Sunday. Spent Day at Beach.

Montclair, N. J., Aug. 27.—A middle aged man, identified, the police say, as Arthur H. Rand of this city, an exporter connected with the firm of H. W. Peabody & Co. of New York, died in the apartment of Miss Mabel Peters in New York. The police believe he succumbed to an attack of heart failure.

Dr. John F. Burke informed the police there had been a sudden death at the Drayton. Patrolman Scanlon found there the physician, Miss Peters and a Mrs. Barnes, who has charge of the building.

Miss Peters gave the name and address of the dead man and said that he had a wife and three children stopping at York Beach, Me. She said that Rand was an old time friend and in the habit of spending his Sundays with her.

Rand visited her home and proposed that they go to Midland beach for dinner. She said that after reaching the beach he complained of vertigo. They returned to New York, reaching the young woman's apartment about midnight.

Woman Not Detained.

Miss Peters said that Rand still complained of feeling ill, and she told him to make himself comfortable in the front room. Later she heard a noise and found Rand on the sofa, apparently insensible. Unable to arouse him, she called in the physician, who pronounced Rand dead.

Coroner Holtzhauser ordered the removal of the body to the Charles street station. It was stated that there was nothing suspicious in the man's death. Miss Peters was not held by the police.

LOSES RACE WITH DEATH.

Victim Dies on Way While Automobilist Was Hastening to Hospital.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 27.—Speeding his automobile in a race with death, Morris Levin of Beverly, N. J., who ran down a man who was walking on the road near Bordentown, arrived at St. Francis' hospital here too late. The victim, whom Levin had picked up and placed in his car after the accident, died as the machine approached the hospital.

His back had been broken and he had been injured internally. There was nothing found on his person which might lead to his identification. He had the appearance of a farmer. Levin surrendered to the police and was allowed to go on his own recognizance.

13-YEAR-OLD BOY STOWAWAY

Reaches This Port From Amsterdam Aboard a Tank Steamship.

Gloucester, N. J., Aug. 27.—Charles Alberta, thirteen years old, was taken to the house of detention here by the captain of the oil tank steamship British Sun, which reached this port. Alberta is a stowaway who boarded the vessel in Amsterdam and hid in the store room. He was discovered two days out and compelled to work the rest of the passage.

Upon the boat's arrival the immigration authorities were notified. They have written to the lad's uncle, M. Vierstra, in Canonsbury, Pa.

JUMPS TO DEATH UNDER AUTO

Cruchio Had Been Frightened by Car He Was Riding On.

Montclair, N. J., Aug. 27.—Peter Cruchio of this city was fatally injured when he was struck by an automobile in charge of John F. Berstecher of Bloomfield, N. J. Cruchio was sitting beside the driver on an auto truck. As the automobile climbed the steep grade on Bloomfield avenue the radiator steamed up.

Berstecher put the injured man in his car and took him to Mountainside hospital. Berstecher was paroled in custody of ex-Judge Thomas A. Davis.

BOY KILLED BY AUTO.

Lad Leaves "Movies," Leaps on Wagon and Drops in Car's Path.

Morristown, N. J., Aug. 27.—Harold La Srinigre, eight years old, was killed by an automobile in this city. The boy's home is in Sayville, N. Y., and he had been visiting his uncle, William Morrison, a Morristown blacksmith.

He went with Morrison's children to a moving picture show. On leaving he leaped on the back of an ice wagon. When he jumped off he landed in front of the automobile which was driven by its owner, John Ritter of Morristown.

Of Course Not.

Jimmy said, "My pa is a church member."

"So is mine," boasted Henry.

"He ain't neither. My pa says your pa don't come to church, and even when he does he doesn't put nothing in the collection box."

Advertising Pulls—It Doesn't Jerk

That is if it is put together rightly and placed in the right mediums. Under such conditions it is certain to influence your business to the betterment of it if you will only have the courage to "keep at it."

How did John Wanamaker and our other commercial kings build up their vast enterprises? Simply by good business ability and—Advertising constantly—keeping at it. You wouldn't apply a liniment with a feather would you, you rub it in—just the same with advertising, except that you keep on rubbing it in and the harder and longer you do the rubbing the greater the returns.

We once read in a country paper the following: "If you have a prosperous business, advertise and keep it—if not advertise and get it. If you can't find the necessary time to devote to advertising your business properly phone us. We have an expert who will put up your "Copy" that will bring sure results.

JAMES SMITH, JR.

Gov. Wilson's Foe May Enter Primaries For United States Senator.

© 1912, by American Press Association.

Things that have happened in New Jersey political circles within the last few days foreshadow the appearance of ex-United States Senator James Smith of Newark in the coming primaries as a candidate for re-election to the senate. The attorney general's office has just ruled that all the aspirants for the senatorship who contemplate asking a preferential vote at the primaries of next month must have their petitions on file with the secretary of state on or before Sept. 3.

A RANK INJUSTICE

A clause in the Postoffice Appropriation bill, which has been signed by President Taft, provides that first and second class postoffices are to be closed on Sundays. As the New York World puts it they are to be "reduced on Sundays to be vacuity of offices in country hamlets." Not alone will the general delivery window be shut down but even box holders will not be able to get their letters until Monday morning. No postage stamps will be sold and the only possible way to have a letter get to its destination promptly will be by the use of a special delivery stamp.

That the new order of things will prove unpopular goes without saying, but how long this foolish regulation will be permitted to continue will depend entirely upon the strength of of the movement against it. The Philadelphia Record takes the view that there will be a loud protest from business men in every city of the country and that earry action will be forthcoming to bring about its abolishment or at least a suspension of its enforcement. The heads of large industrial plants, business men, transient guests at hotels, those who await or desire to send important letters and the newspapers are the chief victims.

There is absolutely to excuse for the "hold-up" as one paper calls it. If the provision was inserted as a sop to postoffice employes the thing is ridiculous for they are no harder worked than men in other occupations and when they enter the service they know that seven days constitutes their week. If the intention was for a strict observance of the Sabbath the idea is equally as absurd. Were the railroads to suspend passenger service on Sundays a howl would go up all over the land and the Federal Government and the States' governments would lose no time in compelling the railroads to restore the trains. And yet the United States Government shuts up shop in the postoffice department to the inconvenience of the business men of the land. As a Metropolitan newspaper says, "How long must the country endure a policy in directing the postal service whose end is evidently to make it as inefficient and troublesome and as useless to the people as possible."

If, as is reliably reported, Brigadier General Collins will succeed Wanser as Major General, New Jersey's National Guard will have as a commander a good soldier and a practical business man. The same will be the case should political matters take such shape that Edwin W. Hine may be promoted to the major generalship.

Soon the Anti-Tuberculosis Society will add renewed vigor to its campaign and naturally funds will be needed to carry on the noble work. Bear this fact in mind and if you are disposed to aid a worthy cause let the "T. B." be the object of your generosity.

Some real friend of Mr. Taft should take it upon himself to induce the President to call Boies Penrose off for his conspicuousness in the campaign is a boomerang to the cause he ignobly represents.

It does beat all how those kid-gloved Democrats put in an appearance when fortune smiles upon the party. And the men who fought the battles in the face of adversity are relegated to the rear ranks.

Says the Jersey Journal: "The new Emperor of Japan ascends the throne promising to 'obey the guidance of my ancester.'" One might think his royal nibs had been brought up in Boston.

The Paterson Morning Call asserts that in Chicago the betting odds are six to five on Taft and four to five on Wilson. Who was it that said "a sucker is born every minute?"

Seattle clergyman dubs Rev. Lyman Abbott a heretic, but in these days any man who does not agree with you is a heretic.

THE TEMPERATURE.

The temperature report from The State Trust Company today is as follows: 9 a. m., 75 degrees; 11 a. m., 80 degrees; 1 p. m., 81 degrees.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

The Progressive party in New York State has selected for its official emblem the moosehead within a black square.

W. Bourke Cockran, formerly the star orator of Tammany Hall, has declared himself in favor of Roosevelt for President.

William J. Bryan has promised to stump the State of Indiana this fall in the interest of the Democratic national and State tickets.

Col. John T. McGraw, Democratic national committeeman from West Virginia, has announced his candidacy for the seat of United States Senator Watson.

It is said that more representatives in Congress have voluntarily declined to stand for renomination this year than ever before in the history of the Government.

The Democrats had 162 votes in the Electoral college four years ago. They must have 266 votes in the next Electoral College in order to elect the President.

Kentucky has the largest number of negro voters—75,000. Pennsylvania comes second with 70,000 and Maryland, New York, Missouri and Illinois come next in the list.

Comparatively few persons are acquainted with the fact that since Andrew Jackson no President of the United States has served two consecutive terms except Gen. Grant.

Rev. Aaron S. Watkins, the Prohibition party candidate for vice-president of the United States, will be formally notified of his nomination at his home in Ada, O., on September 5.

Representative John W. Dwight, of the Thirtieth New York district, who has been the Republican whip of the House for several years, has decided that he will not again be a candidate for Congress.

The contest for the Republican nomination for governor of Massachusetts this year is between Joseph Walker, former speaker of the State assembly, and Everett O. Benton, a former member of the governor's council.

The women are to vote this year for President in the States of Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Idaho, California and Washington. The six States have a total of thirty-eight votes in the Electoral College.

The Swedish-American Republican League, for many years an influential factor in Illinois politics, has decided to take no active part in the present campaign because of dissension in its membership caused by the formation of a third party.

It is estimated that 5,000,000 new voters will appear in the general elections next November. There will be 3,650,000 male voters enfranchised by age alone, and about 1,350,000 women and newly naturalized citizens.

MUNICIPAL PROBLEMS.

Windsor, Ont., Aug. 27—Delegates from widely separated sections of the Dominion assembled in Windsor today for the opening of the annual convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities. The sessions will last three days and will be devoted to papers, addresses and discussions dealing with a wide range of subjects. The proposed new Dominion railway act, the municipal ownership of power plants, the cement situation in western Canada, public health, and municipal finances are some of the leading topics.

CRESCENT GUN CLUB TO HOLD SHOOT AT TRAPS

Whitehouse, Aug. 27—The Crescent Gun Club of Whitehouse Station has been making preparations for its first shoot of the season, which will be held on the grounds at Whitehouse Station next Saturday afternoon, August 31, from 2 to 5 o'clock. Invitations have been forwarded to sportmen all over the country, and it is expected there will be a representative crowd. There will be a team race between the Crescents and the Pattenburg shooters, and the two silver cups representing the single and double championships of Hunterdon and Somerset counties will be competed for.

The program calls for six events at 145 targets in all. Events two, three, four and five will be the single championship; events four and five the team race and event six the double championship. The following prizes will be awarded for high gun in the first five events: First, Bristol steel rod; second, bass fish basket; third, round-trip ticket to Trenton fair. The shoot will be held rain or shine, as there is a fine clubhouse on the grounds, which affords ample protection for the shooters.

GOLDEN EAGLES PLAN GOVERNMENT CHANGES

Trenton, Aug. 27—Several amendments to the constitution will be voted on at the annual meeting of the Knights of the Golden Eagle here on Labor Day. The grand temple of the Ladies of the Golden Eagle will meet the same day.

One change urged is to transfer the election of State officers from the floor of the grand castle to the local castles, where it was years ago. Another proposes to change the constitutional requirement calling for annual meetings at Trenton on Laber Day. A third would put the annual convention forward to November.

In the election of officers, Grand Chief Peter L. Alberse, who becomes junior past grand chief, will be made the State representative to the supreme castle's annual session at Baltimore in October. Grand Vice-Chief Elvin M. Hoffman, of Whitehouse Station, will be promoted to the post of grand chief, and Grand Sir Herald Walton H. Chew, of Pitman, will become grand vice-chief. For the post of grand sir herald and some of the others there are sure to be contests.

LAWYERS BEGIN MEETING.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 27—The annual meeting of the American Bar Association was opened in this city today, and will be continued through tomorrow and Thursday. President S. S. Gregory, of Chicago, called the gathering to order and delivered his annual address before an attendance of several hundred eminent representatives of the bench and bar of the United States and Canada.

CONCERT AT WALDORF.

Henry Windham, proprietor of the Waldorf Hotel, will give a concert in his annex and palm garden tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, to which the public is invited, especially women. The music will be furnished by Mr. Windham's new automatic piano-player.

So It Might.

It was a Welsh minister who described the devil to a little congregation in a remote Welsh valley. Said the minister: "The devil is bound round the middle with chains and round the arms with chains and round the legs with chains. But John Jones," pointing to a man in the front row, "he can reach you, and you, David Evans," pointing to one in the middle row, "he can reach you," and pointing to one at the back, "John Williams, he can reach you."

And then a man in the gallery called out, "Why, the dang thing might as well be loose."

Astonished the Waiter.

While traveling together three southern politicians, Legendre, Semmes and Ben Hill, lunched in a railway restaurant. Messrs. Semmes and Hill attacked the bill of fare to the extent of a dollar, and Mr. Legendre contented himself with a seventy-five cent meal. Breakfast ended, the three gentlemen each handed the waiter a silver dollar. Twenty-five cents was due Legendre, however, and this amount the waiter returned to him on his tray. Mr. Legendre replaced the quarter on the tray to "tip" the waiter. The waiter, placing the money in a glass on his tray, passed it to Mr. Semmes as a gentle reminder of what was expected of him. Mr. Semmes was, however, busily conversing with his friend Mr. Hill at the time and in an absent-minded way appropriated the tip money under the impression that it was his change. The waiter was dumfounded, and Mr. Legendre, somewhat embarrassed, beckoned to him and dropped an additional quarter on the tray to soothe his feelings. This the waiter passed to Mr. Hill, with the hope that he, at least, had "caught on," and that Mr. Semmes might finally be brought to a knowledge of his mistake. Again he made a serious error. Mr. Hill dealt with the tip money just as Mr. Semmes had done in the first instance. The waiter was dumfounded, but before he could attempt an explanation the party hastened away for their train.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

WARM WEATHER DAINTIES.

DISHES in which a fruit, particularly an acid fruit, is a constituent are designed to quench the thirst and cool feverish throats on warm days.

If in doubt what to serve at the end of dinner on a hot day a fruit covered with whipped cream is nice. The fruit and the cream should both be kept on the ice until needed and be thoroughly chilled, but not frozen.

Fruit Desserts.

Pears With Whipped Cream.—After stewing the pears till tender with sugar and a little water place on the top of each a heaped spoonful of whipped cream. The whipped cream is not only good, but makes the dish more attractive, and when both fruit and cream are thoroughly chilled the combination is almost equal to ice cream.

Apricot Ice Cream. — Take a cupful of mashed apricot, one cupful of sugar, two cupfuls of cream. Freeze the cream first; then open and add the sugar and the apricots, which have been put through a sieve or a fruit press; then finish freezing. It is so rich that a sherbet glassful is enough for each person. It has a most beautiful color—pinkish orange.

Cool and Dainty.

Greengage Salad.—This is made with plums halved and the stones removed. Firm, ripe bananas are cut into cubes and the plums combined with them. Powdered sugar is then sprinkled over the fruit. It is allowed to stand on ice for an hour and then is served with whipped cream flavored with vanilla. If preferred the fruit may be first marinated in olive oil.

Iced Fruit Pudding. — For this delicious pudding take a half pint of cream, a half pint of milk, vanilla to flavor, three eggs, three ounces of sugar, two ounces of cake crumbs and three ounces of raisins or other fruit. Make the eggs and milk into a custard. When cool stir in the cake crumbs and sugar. Whip the cream and add this also, with vanilla to flavor. Freeze the mixture, but not very stiffly; place a little at the bottom of an ice pudding mold, then a layer of the fruit, more ice, and so on till the mold is full; put on the cover and set the mold in the refrigerator. It should be served upon a glass dish, surrounded by a fruit sirup.

cloth with a very large rib and has a perfectly straight standing collar.

This sailor gown is a fine model for small women as well as for young girls and is especially liked by high school and college girls. Serge and mohair are much used for such suits, but linen and poplin are worn at all seasons.

VOGUE OF PLAITS.

The Last Cry In Modish Suits.

FALL SUIT IN KHAKI BROADCLOTH.

One of the famous French dressmakers emphasizes the use of khaki color in this suit of mustard yellow braid cloth recently received from Paris. In this model the skirt has back and front panels outlined with pipings of black satin. It is finished at the bottom with a side plaited flounce, giving increased fullness.

The medium length coat buttons high at the neck with one directoire revers, faced with black satin and with black braid applique. Motifs of black and pipings also appear on the skirt front and back panels.

The high directoire collar in black satin is overlaid with a smaller collar in lingerie effect.

TO CLEAN A SWEATER.

Dainty Women Prefer White Ones That Soil Easily.

A sweater is one of the necessities of the seashore or mountain wardrobe. No other wrap can take its place. The dainty woman always prefers the creamy white ones, but often hesitates to buy because of the seeming difficulty of cleaning them. The following method simplifies that process so that no one need hesitate to buy one on that account. Woolen blankets may be cleaned in the same manner.

A quarter of a bar of a good white soap is melted over the stove. To this is added about half a cupful of ammonia. Enough hot water is run into the pan or tub to cover the sweater. The soap and ammonia are stirred in, and then the sweater is placed in. With a stick or the top of a washboard this is stirred and turned until the dirt is out. Rinse in several waters, then lay on a slanting board to drain, but do not squeeze dry.

There are several methods of drying. One is to fasten a sheet flat over several clotheslines and spread the sweater on that in the sun.

Robespierre Vests.

The Robespierre "gilet" promises to be a notable feature. Seen recently was a gown from a renowned atelier in shot taffeta—rose with silver lights—the perfectly straight, unadorned skirt just eased into the waist while the corsage, cut with long shoulder seams, was similarly treated, the front cut away to reveal a vest of white silk visibly buttoning up the center to a short distance above the figure line, where it was thrown back with a great pointed collar, the front angle finished with a deep falling frill of lace.

The sleeves were long and close fitting to the wrist, great ruffles of lace falling over the hands. But to bring about a wrinkled suggestion on the inside of the arm just at the bend of the elbow three or four tiny tucks were arranged, and the waist belt consisted of a crossway fold of dull mauve taffetas, terminating in front with a great spiky bow poised in a diagonal position.

Floor Wax.

The floor polishes purchased are sometimes not satisfactory, but a very fine wax may be made at home with but little trouble.

To every pound of beeswax allow three pints of turpentine. Cut the wax into small pieces and put these into a pan. Set the pan in a saucepan of boiling water and let the beeswax melt thoroughly. Take it off the fire, add the turpentine to the beeswax and mix them well together. This preparation should be mixed at a distance from the fire.

—Statesmen seem to get together in the matter of appropriations better than in anything else.—Atchison Globe.

—Tommy had been given two new pennies—one for candy and the other for Sunday school. By-and-by he came in from play and said: "Mamma, I lost one of my pennies." "Which one, dear?" she asked. "The Sunday school one," he replied.—Chicago News.

For the Children

Little Miss Mavis Yorke, Child Actress and Dancer.

© by American Press Association.

The charming little girl here pictured with a Cupid's bow in her hand is Miss Mavis Yorke, a talented English child actress and dancer, for whom a great future is predicted. Little Miss Yorke has attracted wide attention in London by her sweetness, grace and beauty. She dances like a veritable fairy—so lightly she trips that she seems to float in the air. Dancing, by the way, is an excellent exercise for young folks, as it promotes grace of movement and tends to eliminate awkwardness. It can easily be overdone, however, and in that case is a positive harm. Of course not every boy or girl either, for that matter, can become so proficient as Mavis Yorke, for in addition to great natural ability she has had the benefit of expert instruction. The photograph from which this picture was made was taken in the Botanical gardens, Regents park, London.

Hurdy Gurdy Man.

As a fun producer the game of the hurdy gurdy man ranks high and is always a great success at afternoon parties. To play it seat the players in a circle and let one of them be chosen as hurdy gurdy man. Then ask each of the others what musical instrument he will be. After all have chosen the hurdy gurdy man begins to sing:

I'm a hurdy gurdy man.
I'm a hurdy gurdy man.
You must do the best you can
To please the hurdy gurdy man.

As he sings he accompanies himself on an imaginary piano, and the others sing with him and accompany themselves on the instruments they have chosen—for instance, the boy who has chosen to be the drum makes the motions of drumming, and the boy who has chosen to be a hand organ grinds an imaginary hand organ, and so on.

After a few moments the hurdy gurdy man stops playing the piano and begins playing some other instrument. If he plays the drum the drummer must instantly leave off playing the drum and begin playing the piano, the instrument the hurdy gurdy man has just stopped playing. In a moment the hurdy gurdy man changes to the fife and the fife player immediately takes up the drum, and so it goes on, the hurdy gurdy man changing ever faster and faster till finally he takes up the piano again, whereupon all the players go back to their original instruments, and the game begins all over again.

Call Ball.

This game is good fun and is best played out of doors with eight or ten players. One is chosen to toss the ball, and each player is given a number.

The players take positions not farther than the ball can easily be thrown. The tosser then throwing the ball calls one of the players by his number—8, 10, 2 or whatever he may choose. The player with that number must run and catch the ball, not letting it bound more than once.

A good tosser keeps the players on the alert, guessing who will be called next, and by sometimes calling one at a good distance from the ball lends excitement to the game.

Kitty Don't.

Such a mischief loving lassie,
It tries one's patience quite
To watch the child. She cannot do
A single thing that's right.

'Tis "Kitty, don't say that, dear!"
"Oh, Kitty, don't do so!"
These are the words that greet her
Wherever she may go.

When just at dusk one evening
She climbed upon my knee
In playful mood I asked her name,
"Why, Kitty, course!" said she.

"Yes, Kitty, but the rest, dear?"
She hung her curly head,
The rogue, for just a moment,
Then "Kitty Don't," she said.

AMATEUR BASEBALL TITLE IS AT STAKE

Royal Giants and Netherwoods Meet Saturday For the Third Time.

Two of the fast amateur teams in Plainfield that are struggling for the city supremacy in baseball will hook up for the third time this season on the Filmore avenue grounds next Saturday. This contest is the third of a five game series arranged between the Royal Giants and the Netherwood A. C. and the former nine has managed to annex both of the previous battles. Manager Coughlan, of the Netherwoods, will strengthen his team for the third game and is busy signing up players from three different amateur nines of Plainfield, in order to score a win over the strong aggregation of dusky baseball artists.

Manager Pete Simmons will take his Royal Giants to New Providence on Labor Day to stack up against a team that has lost but two games during the present season. He will have his strongest lineup on the diamond and says that his combination will lower the New Providence team's standard.

Simmons would like to arrange a game with Dunellen, Raritan or Bound Brook for September 7, or any other date during that month.

SPICER FIELD MEET IS SET FOR SATURDAY

Postponed Events Will Be Run Off On Parker Field.

Parker Field has been secured for next Saturday by the Spicer Mutual Aid Society to run off the postponed athletic events and baseball games that had to be curtailed at their recent annual outing and field day held on Staten Island. All entries for the meet must be turned in before 4:30 o'clock on August 30, to any of the following committee: W. O'Loughlin, M. Martin, C. C. Thompson, W. Young, R. Parsons, T. Larew, J. Scott, J. Anderson and J. McNeice. No post entries will be accepted at the field and those in charge would like to have the entries in as soon as possible. The games will start promptly at 9 o'clock and the officials will not hold up an event for any tardy contestant.

The events scheduled are as follows: 100 yard dash, (final); 440 yard dash, (open); hurdle race, 3 feet 6 inches (open); running high jump (open); fat man's race, 100 yards (180 lbs. or over); obstacle race, (open); 220 yard dash (open); 220 yard dash, consolation, none prize winners; committee men's race; baseball game between the day and night men, and baseball game between the married and single men. Both of the ball games will be limited to five innings.

FITZ, JR., TO PUNCH BOOKS, NOT JAWS

Will Study Electrical Engineering and Says Prize Fighting Is Too Brutal.

Bob Fitzsimmons, Jr., the husky seventeen-year-old son of the former champion, will not enter the prize ring in an effort to emulate the glories attained by his father. At the Fitzsimmons home at Dunellen, the other day, he knocked out Ike Harris, known as the trolley champion, in less than one round of a friendly bout.

It was said about the village young Bob had decided to join the "white hope" brigade. But he declared yesterday he does not care a hang for the fighting games and that he would never become a prize fighter, although his father has urged him to do so.

"None of the prize fighting business for me," he said. "It's too brutal. I'm going to plan a respectable business career." He wants to become an electrical engineer and will probably enter Rutgers College.

TRI-COUNTY CLUB FIELD DAY A GREAT SUCCESS

Perfect weather and an engaging program of events, together with the recollection of former gatherings of the same club attracted a large throng of participants and spectators to the fine field of the Tri-County Club at Plainfield and Mountain avenues, Union Village, last Saturday afternoon. COMMISSION IN ELECTION.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 27—Supporters and opponents of the proposed adoption of the commission plan of government for the city of New Orleans closed their campaign today. The question will be decided at a special election tomorrow. The measure to be voted upon provides for the administration of city affairs by five commissioners, one the mayor, all elective. The recall feature is cared for in a State measure, the referendum and initiative features being subject to a petition of 30 per cent. of the registered voters.

ARCHBISHOP RIORDAN.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 27—Many felicitious messages were received at the archiepiscopal residence at the corner of Steiner and Fulton streets today to remind the venerable Archbishop Riordan of the completion of his seventieth year. The Archbishop was born in New Brunswick. He spent his boyhood in Chicago, to which city he returned after completing his theological studies and was rector of St. James' church there until his selection as head of the San Francisco archdiocese in the early eighties.

—Any man will get along pretty well if he keeps his heart warm and his head cool.

Philosophical Phelix Says:

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

The tin cans behaved pretty well at Bound Brook Saturday, but the house tops were just far enough away to be aggravating. The tomato can lids must have been closed up and the "lid" on when Lidgate was knocked off with bingles.

What right has Newhouse to say that he has the best team after the 27 to 7 beating they got at the hands of the Pets on Saturday and the 6 to 0 beating handed to them by Driscoll's bunch Sunday?

The biggest result of Saturday's contest was the release of Slocum. It will probably be Chalmers next Saturday, so Bound Brook will have some chance anyway.

Tel Berna, the great Cornell distance runner, arrived home yesterday from the trip to the Olympic games and announced that he is through with running. Berna declared that it was hard to quit when he was winning, but he had definitely decided to go into business and stop running for all time.

The "all-around" athletic championship of America, which will be decided next Monday afternoon at Celtic Park under the auspices of the Irish-American Athletic Club, has attracted the entries of the greatest athlete in the world, Jim Thorpe, the Carlisle Indian, who defeated the best men pitted against him at Stockholm in both Pentathlon and Decathlon events, which embraced nearly every event in track and field athletics; John Bredemus, the Princeton University youth, who accounted for the title a couple of years ago, when he made a most creditable record; Matsukes, and men of that type.

A two-base hit was credited to Jack Martin at Rochester yesterday. His team split a double header which put them out of the lead.

Captain Jesse Spalding, of Chicago, leader of the 1912 Yale football team, has just issued a call for the candidates for the eleven to report in New Haven September 9. This is a very early date for the members of the squad to report, fully three weeks before the first game, but Captain Spalding is planning to have the eleven thoroughly prepared for the early games this year, and then develop the team gradually up to championship form.

George V. Bonhag, of the Irish-American Athletic Club, who for nearly ten years has been one of America's foremost distance runners, will retire from competitive athletics with the close of the present season.

MANUFACTURERS' BASEBALL LEAGUE SELECT AN ALL-STAR AGGREGATION

Official Batting Averages of Five League Teams are Compiled-- Games Scheduled For Next Saturday--Officials Elected For Post Season Series.

It was Manufacturers' League night at the Y. M. C. A. last night and one of the buriest meetings of the year was held, with President James E. Kimball in the chair. Five of the six teams in the league complied with the president's orders to have their score books in at the meeting and the official averages of these five teams were compiled.

The R. G. E. team is minus several of its league contests, as far as an official score is concerned, and they will have no official averages. Records go to show that the Commercial nine is leading with the willow and the team as a whole is hitting at a .282 clip. Public Service ranks second with .262, Spicer next with 261. Saurer next with .256 and the Banks are pulling up in the rear with 201. The batting averages go to show that the nines are batting exactly as they stand in the league race and as they will probably wind up the season.

It now looks as though the post-season series between the Manufacturers' and Sunday-school leagues was going to become a real thing as the factory officials selected their representatives at last night's meeting as follows: Catchers, Garretson of the Public Service, Winters of the Saurers; first base, Harriman of the Banks; second base, Strathern of the Saurers; shortstop, Lambertson of the Commercials; third base, Williamson of the Saurers; left field, Fritts of the Commercials; center field, Thompson of the Spicers, Geary of the Saurers; right field, Conshay of the Commercials.

Corriell of the Public Service team was selected to handle the indicator; Frank Stires was elected as manager and C. C. Thompson as the field captain. The business managers of the team are E. C. Ostlin, secretary of the league; Cosbrooke, manager of the Public Service; Decker, manager of the Saurers, and Egan, manager of the Banks. The team selected will prove a formidable opponent for the Sunday-school nine as they have a batting average of .357 and a fielding mark of .967. Their base stealing records show that the nine has an average of 4 3-12 sacks pilfered in each game.

As is the case in the selection of every All Star team some players have to be left out and a little hard feeling is bound to exist. To overcome this end the factory officials have decided to give a new set of players a show in the second game of the after season series if the ones selected fail to come up to the standard in the first contest.

The games for next Saturday were scheduled as follows: Saurer vs. Public Service, at the Clinton avenue field; Banks vs. R. G. E., at the Myrtle avenue field, and the Spicer-Commercial game has been called off because of the former team's athletic meet carded for that date.

P. H. S. PLANS FOR GRIDIRON SEASON

Prospects Bright For a Team That Will Duplicate 1911 Record.

E. J. BEERS TO COACH

New Rules Favor the High Schools —Outline of the Coaching—Material Available—Will Test New Rules—Winning Attack Planned.

Plainfield High School football interests will be taken care of by Everett J. Beers, with Allen T. Doggett as first assistant, this season. Mr. Beers is an authority on every branch of athletics and his presence on the coaching lines will add materially to the team's playing ability. The rules for 1912 are somewhat revised but Plainfield High School can be depended upon to show a fairly advanced style of play even in the opening game, and local football critics are anxious to see what Beers can do with the rushing game under the four down rule. The local High School lads have always been good forward passers and excellent kickers.

But it is the rushing game that the local players are expected to show that will be of the most absorbing interest to the interscholastic football followers. A number of valuable plays and formations were developed in last year's star eleven. Most of these maneuvres have been in the nature of side stepping rather than the jump shift, and go very fast. The cream of last year's material will be available the coming fall and with fair forwards and a set of extremely good backs at his command this year, Mr. Beers should be able to make the utmost out of the new game, which seems especially well suited to high school elevens.

There is one feature of the change in rules that will be of great advantage to the High School players, and that is the practical elimination of the onside kick. About four years ago, Lindsey Best, who was coaching the team at that time, turned out one of the best teams the local High School had ever had. It was probably the finest forward passing team ever turned out in this section. It had in Jack Riffert, a splendid kicker and runner, the big quarterback then at the top of his game, and a classy set of forwards. The team smothered surrounding High Schools and took the interscholastic championship with ease. They then went against the formidable Holy Cross eleven, a thoroughly confident team.

The High School warriors had no sooner begun the contest than they found themselves facing some of the most bewildering onside kicking that they had yet experienced. There were innumerable yawing gusts of wind during this contest and it greatly retarded the work of the local High School backs, who were all big and heavy. When they did get the ball Doane and Riffert were prevented from doing their forward passing as the Holy Cross coach had made special preparations for the maneuvres, and prevented any great gains being made in that manner.

Onside kicking will have to be of the simplest form this year and will probably revert in the main to the old and sometimes successful quarterback kick that was one of the sensations of the gridiron years ago. If the High School coach decides to drill this into his players it will mean that most of the teams that meet P. H. S. will be deprived of the deadliest form of attack against that eleven, and at the same time will have to meet a strong forward passing, kicking and running game.

Mr. Beers is at present out of the city on his annual vacation but will probably sound a call for his squad the first week of the new school term. Some of the last year players are leaving school for various reasons but he has an excellent nucleus with which to begin work on.

It is now probable that Peacock and Nash, of last year's back field, will be back this year and it is possible that Good will be shifted from the line to fullback. Widowson will head the list of returned line men with VanZandt, McDowell, Zerega, Carty and White as his companions. With Peacock, Nash, Good and VanZandt, some of last year's best players, back in the game, P. H. S. will have not fewer than four stars of transcendent magnitude.

Last year P. H. S. had one of the strongest elevens that ever played for that institution. The team was a mechanism with parts working absolutely true. The long list of wins in which the local eleven was never scored on, marred only once by the heavy team at Phillipsburg, who were the only ones to score on the local warriors in the last game of the season.

The Athletic team of the Parker Field Baseball League got a firmer hold on the first place argument yesterday when they trounced the Pirates to the tune of 8 to [illegible]. McDowell held the Pirates to three hits, the trio all coming from Coughlan's bat. Bohl and Linke also did some good work with the willow, the former getting a double and a triple.

Wildness on the part of the box men was the cause of the Pirates defeat and after De Nitzio was knocked from the box in the seventh, Mullen was sent in. He was found for three runs in the eighth inning. Besides holding the hits down to three McDowell fanned ten of the opposing batters.

DOME DAMPERS

The Dome Damper is today a recognized necessity to a properly constructed fire place. The flange forms an arch bar of ample strength to support the weight of masonry of the chimney above. The smooth surfaces of the dome are arranged to induce the greatest ease of exit for the gases and the proportions so scientifically worked out as to exclude the fear of a smoky fire place. The solid valve provides a means of closing the damper to the exclusion of down-drafts which are so frequent in the warm months thereby preventing the carrying of soot into the room.

REFORMERS RENT ILLEGAL HOUSES

Waldo's List Gives Social Leaders Big Scare.

SOON TO BE MADE PUBLIC

Commissioner Says He Will Show How Hard It Was to Convict Gamblers. Entreated by Many to Hold Back Names.

New York, Aug. 27.—Police Commissioner Waldo's list of alleged gambling houses and the owners of the respective properties is almost ready. There is a feeling of uneasiness among many so called reformers, who are said to own not only some of the houses that harbored gamblers, but that also has for tenants others of the underworld.

The typewritten copies which Commissioner Waldo said he will have ready tonight, or as soon as he has satisfied himself as to the accuracy of the information supplied to the police regarding the ownership of the buildings, will show in detail when the gambling houses were opened, when the police took an interest in them, the kind of evidence obtained when the houses were raided, the disposition of the cases when they came to trial and, of especial importance in the commissioner's eyes, the names and addresses of the individuals or institutions who owned the houses at the time the buildings were used for illegal purposes.

The lists include only the gambling houses. The list of disorderly houses and owners of the properties, which is expected to cause more disturbance among property owners even than the list of gambling houses, will not be be finished until later in the week.

Prominent Persons Implicated.

Before the last of the seven police inspectors had turned in at headquarters his lists of gambling houses and the names and addresses of owners, Commissioner Waldo's telephone had begun to buzz as individual property owners, trustees of institutions, officials of trust companies and other corporations on Mr. Waldo's list began to call him up to make explanations.

The owners or their lawyers who were either telephoning, writing or calling personally upon the commissioner to ward off the publication of their names as owners of properties used as disreputable resorts gave various reasons why their names should be omitted from the commissioner's lists.

The lists turned in by the inspectors are on large official forms, each sheet measuring two feet or more in width and more than a foot in depth. The single spaced typewritten information covers a score or more of these big sheets and include among the owners a great many trust companies, one of the best known charitable institutions in the city, an estate of enormous wealth, men prominent in reform movements here and in Philadelphia and many owners of big business firms.

"DEAD" THREE MINUTES.

Lineman Is Revived, Although His Heart Had Stopped.

Philadelphia, Aug. 27.—Anthony Lama, twenty-five years old, a lineman, was revived after his heart action had completely stopped, according to the statement of Dr. R. Francis Taylor, police surgeon of the Nineteenth district.

Lama was trimming a city lamp when he touched a live wire and was hurled unconscious to the ground twenty feet below. Dr. Taylor happened to be near and used what is known to the profession as Sylvester's method of artificial respiration. Despite the fact that there was absolutely no pulsation for at least three minutes, he succeeded in restoring the man after working over him for more than an hour.

UNDERWOOD WORN OUT.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Exhausted by the lengthy session of congress and the adjournment struggle, Majority Leader Underwood of the house announced that he would not enter the national Democratic campaign until October. Then he expects to stump the states of New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Connecticut.

He will go to Hot Springs, Va., immediately after adjournment, rest there for a few weeks and then return to his home at Birmingham, Ala.

BOY DIES OF LOCKJAW.

Picture of "Elopers" Fell on Him and Fractured His Skull.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Charles D. Poduzzi, five years old, died from lockjaw. He was injured in a peculiar manner. He was lying asleep on a couch in the dining room of his home when the wire holding up a large picture with a heavy gilt frame broke. In falling the picture fractured the boy's skull and lacerated his jaw. Tetanus set in.

The picture represented an eloping pair returning home and was entitled "Forgiven."

NICARAGUA WILL BE TAUGHT TO BE GOOD

Uncle Sam's Cruisers Expected to Impress Rebels.

Washington, Aug. 27.—With the arrival in Nicaragua of the extensive reenforcements now on the way thither from the United States, it is expected by this government to take such vigorous steps in that country as will prove a salutary lesson not only to the revolutionists of Nicaragua, but to the neighboring republics of Central America as well.

The Nicaraguan revolt is regarded with such seriousness here that it is believed it marks a crisis in the policy and prestige of the United States in all Central America. Nothing but the most drastic measures, it is now considered, can prevent the United States from a great loss of influence in Latin America. Information has reached here indicating that General Mena attempted to overthrow the government largely because he was persuaded that the United States was bluffing and did not mean business in regard to its insistence upon the preservation of peace in Nicaragua and respect for the pledges of the Dawson convention requiring an open election of the successor of President Diaz.

Shoots Girl Before Crowd.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—In sight of hundreds of persons going to work Frank Motis twice shot and probably fatally wounded Miss Vlasta Musek as she was entering a State street department store. Motis then attempted to take his own life, but the police wrested the gun away from him. Jealousy is given as the cause of the shooting.

Son Threatens Vengeance.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 27. A seventy-year-old man was hanged here. He was George Rose, recently convicted for the murder of a neighboring planter, J. M. Millier, in McMinn county. One of Rose's sons is in prison for murder. He promised Rose he would "even up things" when he had served his fifteen years' sentence.

T. R. DECLARES HE WELCOMES PROBE

Prepared to Furnish Senate With All Letters.

MAPS OUT HIS CAMPAIGN.

Proposes to Tell Public That Friends of Trusts Feared His Story—Former Secretary Loeb Will Aid Him In His Defense.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 27.—"They can have anything I have at any time; they are welcome to any letter I have ever written to any human being on any subject."

With this comment Colonel Roosevelt signified his satisfaction with the Penrose bill which the senate passed authorizing the Clapp committee to extend its investigations to include the financing of the Progressive party and the preconvention campaign expenditures of the 1912 presidential candidates.

"I could thank Archbold and Penrose for what they have done. They have rendered me a real service," he repeated, and there is no mistaking the fact that the colonel views with extreme complacency the turn in which affairs have taken. There is reason indeed to believe that many of those nearest him are pleased by his failure to appear before the committee. Notwithstanding the fact that his telegram requesting a hearing was not sent until 5 o'clock Saturday, the day on which the committee had already voted to adjourn until Sept. 30, the colonel is given the opportunity to which he has already declared he will make full use—to proclaim on the stump that he was denied an opportunity to meet and refute the accusations brought against him by his enemies who controlled that committee.

That these friends of the trusts were very much averse to having him lay bare the whole truth promises to be the burden of the colonel's campaign utterances on the subject.

For William R. Hearst and others who have recently threatened to publish letters and documents which the colonel would find embarrassing he had only defiance.

"If Brother Hearst has any letters in his possession he will have to appear before the committee and produce them," he said with a grin which indicated that he considers himself disarmed, "I hope Mr. Hearst himself will tell everything. If he doesn't, I will."

Loeb Ready to Testify.

One of the chief developments in the controversy over the campaign funds was the announcement from Colonel Roosevelt that Collector William Loeb, Jr., had been authorized by him to testify on every point that had come under his knowledge during the time he acted as secretary to the former president. Mr. Loeb's memory on many points was better than his own, the colonel said. Together they have covered most of the ground now under review and have gone through the ex-president's letter files of the period. As a result Colonel Roosevelt feels strengthened in the position he has taken. He said that he has found letters which may be included in the statement he is preparing for the investigating committee and which will throw new light on the real relations between himself and the Standard Oil company during his administration.

Mr. Loeb is ready to give direct evidence, according to his old chief, upon the famous Harriman interview, at which he was present, as well as upon every detail connected with the refusal to accept Standard Oil contributions, "and this evidence is not based on hearsay," said the colonel, as he claims is the case with the accusations leveled at him.

"I didn't tell Mr. Loeb to go before the committee," explained the ex-president. "Mr. Loeb came to me—you know he was my private secretary—and told me that he had seen statements in the newspapers that he would be called upon to testify before the committee. Inasmuch as he had been my private secretary and has a very strong sense of the confidential relations of a private secretary, he thought he had better speak to me before going down. I told him to go ahead and testify to everything he could remember. I told him that if I was absent he could come up here and get my letter books and get any letters that he wants out of them to place before the committee."

CARDINAL TO RUN BOAT?

Rome Hears Merry del Val Is to Take Another Radical Step.

Rome, Aug. 27.—A report that Cardinal Merry de Val will himself run the motor boat given him by Cardinal O'Connell of Boston, on Lake Piediluco, caused much criticism in conservative clerical circles.

Merry del Val has introduced typewriters, telephones, and an elevator into the Vatican and a few cardinals have begun using automobiles. The conservative think it all undignified.

Women to Be Active In Directing Big Campaign

Suffragist Workers Who Will Seek Feminine Support For Their Parties.

For First Time the Great Parties Have Well Organized Women's Bureaus.

WOMAN, lovely woman, is getting into the political game. Mere man might as well awaken to that fact and make the best of it. In fact, mere man is already awakening and is organizing women's bureaus in connection with each of the national committees.

It is not alone that women already have the ballot in six states that prompts this move, but that they have a great and growing influence on the men in all the states. It is not safe to overlook anything of that sort in a campaign—at least not in this campaign. The three parties are going to want votes before this scrimmage is over, and if lovely woman can help in corralling the same she has the call.

Nor are the positions occupied by the ladies around the various national headquarters merely honorary. They are meant for work. Already the heads of the bureaus are out organizing, making speeches and stirring up the faithful. Of course there may be pink teas, but these will not be permitted to interfere with the sterner duties of the campaign. A photographer went around to get the pictures of some of the leading officials at one of the bureaus the other day and failed because the secretary was with the manicure and the president was waiting her turn. Yet this very president and the secretary were making two or three speeches a day at the time, receiving delegations, writing letters and making things hum generally. We must now amend the typewriter motto to read, "This is the time for all good women to stand up for the party."

The head of the National Woman's Wilson and Marshall organization is Mrs. J. Borden Harriman of New York, society leader, woman worker, philanthropist and lately developed into a campaign speaker of considerable power.

Mrs. Harriman is thoroughly in earnest in her advocacy of the Democratic ticket. She is at her desk every day in the headquarters she has established in the Fifth avenue building at almost as early an hour as the office stenographer. Her private room is simple and businesslike in its appointments. There is one fine engraving of Lincoln over the big roll-top desk and on the top of this desk a full set of Governor Wilson's "American History." Every other article in the room is as strictly utilitarian as Mrs. Harriman's own linen shirt waist and tailored suit.

Of her own activity in the campaign she says:

"I do not claim to be a practical politician. We women have yet to learn some of the alleged finer principles of the various political parties.

"We women who have started the Women's National Wilson and Marshall club have received nothing but encouragement from all sides. We are organizing women's clubs in every state in the Union. We are sending our circulars and letters and material directed to the housewife, showing her how the tariff is affecting the high cost of living."

It was proposed that Miss Mabel Boardman, Washington society leader and friend of President Taft, should lead the Republican woman's campaign, but she herself prevented this on the ground that partisan activity was not in keeping with her position as head of the Red Cross.

This leaves Miss Helen Varick Boswell in actual and active command of the Republican women who are striving to re-elect President Taft. Miss Boswell has long been an active club worker and once organized a federation of woman's clubs on the isthmus of Panama.

Miss Boswell says that the present fight is going to be the hottest ever, and she, as an old line Republican, has assisted in some hot ones.

As for the Progressives, the sisters are surely in evidence in the party councils, Miss Jane Addams and others being members of the national committee. The work of organization in New York state and the east is in charge of Miss Alice Carpenter of Brookline, Mass. As a sample of Miss Carpenter's day by day work she recently said:

"Today I went out and spoke in three places at meetings called to convince or try to those antagonistic to the Progressive party; I saw at the office numbers of women, suffragists, who came to enlist in our work; I arranged for three meetings around Newark, N. J., when I shall speak; I got in touch with women Progressives in Queens county and also with women in other outlying districts; saw ten reporters and had my picture taken five times."

Whew! That is going some. The woman's era has certainly arrived in presidential politics.

How John Chinaman Signs a Divorce.

We pride ourselves very much in America upon our up-to-dateness, and one of our points of pride is the growing use of the thumb print as a means of identification. As a matter of fact, this method of signing important documents has been in use in China since the beginning of its history, according to a writer in Popular Mechanics. A striking example of its application is seen in the accompanying illustration, in which the signer used not only his thumb print, but the impression of his whole hand and even foot. The document in question is a divorce decree. The decree is as follows: "The writer of this divorce agreement, Hing Hing Wang, had once, at Sinntchoang, taken for wife the sister of Liou Lao Wei. Now, when my family is as poor as if it had just been washed, there is not enough food and clothing. I can no longer support my wife. Therefore, in the presence of my wife, Mrs. Liou, I distinctly state that I consent to a divorce; that she can at her will enter another family or seek her own means of living. Let her marry any other man. I shall have no objection."

New York Graft Investigators

TWO full fledged graft investigations are now going forward in New York or are about to be inaugurated, one by the aldermanic committee of which Alderman Henry H. Curran is chairman and Assistant District Attorney Emory R. Buckner is counsel and the other by Supreme Court Justice John W. Goff, who is to be the trial judge in the Rosenthal murder trials.

Mr. Buckner is but thirty-five years old and has been practicing law only five years. Yet he had a part in prosecuting the famous sugar trust cases and more recently was in charge of the big cases before the criminal branch of the supreme court in New York.

He is an Iowan by birth, but considers himself a Nebraskan, as he was taken to the latter state when seven years of age and educated there. He was born at Council Bluffs and is the son of the Rev. J. D. M. Buckner, whose parish is at Aurora, Neb. At an early age he determined to go through college, and after graduating from the high school he taught school for five years and at the same time acted as court reporter in order to raise the necessary funds.

In 1900 the young man had enough to make a start, but he wanted something more than an education, and to close friends he confided he was about to marry. Shortly before the University of Nebraska opened for its fall term he made a flying visit to Newark, N. J., where he and Miss Katherine Klach were married.

During the next four years young Buckner earned enough to pay the way of himself and his wife through college. A diligent student, he graduated at the head of a class of 165. His wife was not far behind him, for she stood well toward the head of the women of her class. The following fall Mr. Buckner entered the Harvard law school, worked his way through and was graduated with honors in 1907.

In 1908 Mr. Buckner was appointed assistant United States district attorney under Henry L. Stimson and served two years. During his term of office he prepared the famous sugar trust fraud cases, which resulted in a return to the government of $2,000,000 of stolen duties.

Justice John W. Goff, who is to conduct a John Doe inquiry into police graft, is peculiarly fitted for the task since he was the attorney in the famous Lexow investigation of the same subject eighteen years ago. His methods of cross examination at that time are still talked of in the big town, and it requires a thing of some moment to be remembered so long in New York.

A DRAMA IN REAL LIFE.

The Play That Was Enacted in the New York Subway.

A subway train was leaving Grand Central station with its usual 5 o'clock load. In a corner by the door sat a man whose worn clothes and shabby shoes were whitened with the lime he worked in. His face was lean and marked with tired lines, and his hands, joint swollen and blunted, hung wearily between his knees. A large woman, bejeweled and plumed, entered the car with a rustle of skirts and a jingle of finery that attracted all eyes. Swaying uncertainly on her high heels as she made for the only empty seat, she was thrown from her balance by a sudden lurch of the train, and only the laborer's promptly outstretched arm saved her from an ignominious fall.

She straightened herself with what grace she could and turned with a smile to thank the gentleman who had rescued her. A glance at the workman, however, made her expression change to one of disdain. With a perceptible sniff, she ostentatiously brushed her gown where it had come in contact with the man's hand and sank into the seat. Looking as if he had received a blow in the face, he shrank back and dropped his eyes in confusion.

Across the car, watching the little episode, sat a lady with a sleepy child in her arms. The little girl, perhaps three years old, was dressed in spotless white, from her dainty kid shoes to the deep frilled bonnet that framed her rosy face. When the guard called Seventy-second street the man slowly rose, and the lady opposite stood up with the child still in her arms. Touching the man's arm, she said, with a smile:

"Will you not be kind enough to carry my baby up the stairs? She is too sleepy to walk and very heavy for me to lift."

The man straightened himself and, with face alight, carefully took the little white clad form in his arms and led the way up the stairs. Passersby stared curiously at the trio, but there was no consciousness of that in the woman's gracious "Thank you! That was a great help."

As the mother and child passed on the man lifted his battered hat and turned homeward with a buoyant step. —Youth's Companion.

FLAMES THAT ARE NURSED.

Siam's Sacred Fire and the Fires of Vengeance of Sicily.

History records many strange examples of fires that are kept burning for long periods of time. The best known examples are those of pagan people who keep up perpetual fires as a religious custom.

The oldest known fire in the world is that in a Buddhist temple near Bangkok, Siam, which has been burning without interruption for two centuries. A priest is always on guard to watch the sacred flame. Every four years a new flame is kindled, but this is always lighted in the great brazier from a brand of the old fire.

The life of a grand vizier in Persia was once saved by a Parsee trader, who discovered and exposed a plot to kill the royal official. In spite of the fact that the Persians are Mohammedans and hold fire worshipers in contempt, a single flame has been kept burning continuously for seventy years at Sarhad in honor of the humble trader.

In inhabited lands within the arctic circle fires have been known to burn for years. This, however, is not so much a custom as it is a simple practice based on reasons of convenience and necessity because of the scarcity of wood or kindling of any kind to produce ignition. Oil is the fuel of the people of the snows.

In Sicily it has long been the custom of the vendetta to maintain the "fire of vengeance" until one's enemy has been slain. The criminal records of that fiery island are full of instances of fires that were kept up for years until death overtook the unfortunate victim whose life had been marked for destruction.—New York Times.

Snug Harbor.

More than 100 years ago a sailor died, leaving an apple orchard comprising twenty-one acres of land, then in the suburbs of the city of New York. He left it for the purpose of establishing a home for aged, indigent and infirm sailors. This was the foundation of the Sailors' Snug Harbor, on Staten Island, where nearly 900 worn-out sailors are enjoying all the comforts of home in their declining years. The little apple orchard of more than 100 years ago is now in the heart of New York city, with a value estimated at $20,000,000.

MOOSE FORM AT SNAPPY MEETING

Keen Enthusiasm Manifest at County Gathering In Elizabeth Last Night.

J. K. ENGLISH PRESIDENT

Chosen After An Old-Fashioned Clash Over the Chairmanship—Mayor Moy Named As One of the Vice Presidents.

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Elizabeth, Aug. 28.—With a good old-fashioned fight for the chairmanship, indicating that those who took part believe that the Progressive party in Union county is going to be a big factor in the coming campaign, the organization of the new party was perfected at an enthusiastic meeting held in Association Hall here last night. Steam roller tactics were not allowed, and as a result the man who had been recommended by the committee which called the meeting together for permanent president was not selected, and John K. English was chosen to head the league.

When Edgar A. Knapp, who had headed the committee which issued the call, first attracted the attention of those gathered, the hall, which seats about 400 people, was filled and there were fully one hundred more crowding the doorways. In the audience were a number of women. He stated that some speeches were to be made prior to the regular business of the evening, and called on former Governor John Franklin Fort, chairman of the Progressive State Committee.

Mr. Fort told the audience that in his opinion Penrose and others who are attacking Roosevelt were doing the very thing which the Progressives wanted them to do, as it was a great help to the movement, and said that he felt now that the Progressive movement was going to win, although he did not know of a man who had gone into the fight with that thought in view, as all had entered it because of the great principles involved. He then continued in part:

"You are on the right track. There is only one course open to anyone who hopes for the bettering of political conditions, and the elimination of bossism and the control of special interests in politics, and that is by the coming into being of a successful new party.

"It is not an easy thing to break away from years of political associations, and some who should be with us, are, for this reason, holding back; but they will all come. There is nothing else for them to do. As the progressives leave the old parties their boss ridden, special interests leadership stands out all the clearer. The reactionaries are entrenched in the old parties and it is worse than hopeless to try to clean house from within. They are opposed to every progressive proposition and even the few advanced suggesions they may put in their platforms they do grudgingly and with no purpose of carrying them out if it can be avoided.

"It is our purpose to have a new, clean, peoples' party, Progressive in name and spirit. Every promise that we make is to be fulfilled if we can do it. Every man and woman shall have improved conditions in the home, in business, in labor conditions, in city, State and national affairs, if we can bring it about. In a word, every person in the land shall have an equal opportunity.

"This Progressive party is bigger than a man's hand. It is here and it is here to stay. It is here to make its own nominations, run its own candidates and elect them if it can. But whether we elect this year or not, it will be here next year and the next. It is here to destroy corruption and rottenness in city, State and nation, and to bring about a condition in which man shall be put above the dollar, and social and economic justice be established. In a word, the Progressive party is here to establish popular rights and the rule of the people in every way.

"Let the young men take the lead. This is the party of the future, the party of opportunity and hope. Give them the first place in our Councils. Their impulses are all right and they believe in progressive measures. Get the women organized; we have given them their first opportunity and we should welcome them as they, no doubt, will be glad to be welcomed.

"The Progressives will not go into the primaries of the old parties. We will make nominations for Congress in every one of the twelve districts in the State. We will nominate a candidate for Senator in all six of the counties where a Senator is to be elected this year, and we will make full nominations for Assemblymen in every county. If either of the old parties wish to endorse our candidates, they can do so. As to local officers to be elected in county or local municipalities, each locality must determine its course, but it should always be remembered that every time

PERMANENT CLUB FOR BORO REPUBLICANS

Mayor Clark Heads It—Cowperthwaite and Boyer For Council.

The final steps in the organization of a permanent Republican club in North Plainfield were taken last night at a meeting held in Debele's Hall on Chatham street. Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., was chosen president. It is not the intention of the members to disband after election as previous clubs have done. Efforts will be made to interest the members throughout the year.

The officers named besides Mayor Clark, were: Raymond E. Miller, secretary; Wm. H. Hudson, Jr., treasurer; Isaac Runyon, vice president of first district; Edmund Rushmore, vice president of the second district; Dr. Roger Cooley, Jr., vice president of third district; Charles I. Nash, vice president of the fourth district, and Allan Cowpertwaite, vice president of the fifth district.

Mr. Cowpertwaite and E. S. Boyer were suggested as candidates for councilmen. Petitions for their nomination were drawn up and signed. Candidates for the nomination of county committeemen were also suggested and the club endorsed these: Charles H. Sebring, for the first district; Edmund Rushmore, for the second district; Dr. Roger Cooley, Jr., for the third district; E. P. T. Smith for the fourth district; William H. Hudson, Jr., for the fifth district.

A committee was appointed to obtain suitable quarters for the club.

A. tank. A general good time has been planned and all the boys of the association who own wheels are urged to attend. The start will be made at the Y. M. C. A. building at 8 o'clock.

SPEEDING MOTORIST NABBED.

G. R. C. Grandy, of Watchung avenue, in a hurry to get to Connecticut, flouted the speed law in his motorcar on West Eighth street, this morning, and Patrolman Sweeney spotted him at it. Sweeney spurted after him on his bicycle to get the car license number, and got Grandy as well as the number when the motorist slowed down to stop at a house near Grant avenue. City Judge DeMeza was at the station house when Grandy was brought in and he got an immediate hearing. Grandy is 22 and pleasant of manner, and he acknowledged going at a 30-mile gait with a frankness that the magistrate found engaging. He explained how anxious he was to get to Connecticut. The Judge suspended sentence after he promised to take no more chances with the speed law.

La Rue, for tax collector; George Coriell, assessor; Simeon Dutcher, for Justice of the Peace; Jesse Leon, for constable, and Albert L. Boyce and August Ramsey, for surveyors of the highway.

MRS. C. T. YOUNG DIES IN EIGHTY-FIRST YEAR

Retraced Her Honeymoon Trip After Fifty Years, Six Years Ago.

Mrs. Cornelia T. Young, aged 80 years, wife of Thomas S. Young, of Fanwood, and sister of Freeholder S. P. T. Wilbur, of this city, died at her home, last night, following a lingering illness from cancer. She was born at Saratoga, N. Y., and was the daughter of Thomas Wilbur. She was married fifty-six years and six years ago she and her husband celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. At that time the couple took a golden wedding honeymoon trip, visiting the same places and as far as possible stopping at the same hotels as they did when they enjoyed their honeymoon a half century ago.

Mrs. Young was a member of the Religious Society of Friends and was an exemplary Christian, a beloved friend and neighbor. Her death is a shock to her many friends, even though it was not wholly unexpected. Mrs. Young is survived by her husband and one son, Horace G. Young, proprietor of the American Steam Laundry, of this city; also two brothers, Freeholder S. P. T. Wilbur, of this city, and William M. Wilbur, of Albany, N. Y. The funeral service will be held at her late home, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

STEPS TO WIPE OUT LITTLE LARVAE SPOTS

Notices to Property Owners Show How Thorough Mosquito War Will Be.

In line with the work done throughout the county by the inspectors in the employ of the Union County Mosquito Extermination Commission, thirty-seven notices were sent yesterday to residents of New Providence, Roselle, Roselle Park, Westfield and Cranford, calling their attention to nuisances on their property and ordering the same removed. A time limit was fixed in each instance, ranging from four hours to thirty days, according to the nature of the offense.

If at the expiration of the time allowed on each of these notices the conditions complained of on account of their facilities for mosquito breeding are not eliminated, the work will be done by the commission's laborers and the cost put as a lien on the property.

These notices are the result of the house-to-house canvas made by the inspectors during the last several weeks. That the fight on the pests is being waged in earnest is now generally understood throughout the county by reason of the commission's activity. In several instances a show of resistance was made to the inspectors and in three specific cases, where the property-holder refused to recognize the inspector's credentials, court action is imminent. More court action will follow if the notices are ignored, Chief Inspector O'Brien said yesterday.

The nuisances complained of in the notices are of a nature for which the property-holder can be held responsible. In most cases they are the direct result of carelessness and neglect. This is particularly true where the shorter time is allowed. Those on which from ten to thirty days are granted are of a character due to the topographical formation and therefore require a longer time to be overcome. In several instances when the provisions of the notice have been carried out the property will be in much better sanitary conditoin.

A close watch will be kept on all of these places to see that the orders are obeyed. If they are not, prosecution will follow in acordance with the law under which the commission is carrying on its work.

HAWKSHAW HENDERSHOT.

Irving Davis, of Division street, telephoned to police headquarters early today that he could hear someone tampering with a window on the lower floor of his house. Policeman Kelley went to the Davis house and found Policeman Hendershot on the scene. Hendershot said he was the man who rattled at the window. He noticed it was open as he went by and examined it on suspicion that a jimmy might have had something to do with its going up.

SOFTEN THE IRON IN POSTAL ORDER

BIRD AWAITS ORDERS

Instructions to Exempt Hotel, Newspaper and Department House Mails From Lockbox Shutdown On Sundays Not Yet Received Here.

The large number of inquiries, together with a deluge of complaints received by Postmaster-General Hitchcock and other postoffice officials, regarding the provision adopted in the Postoffice Appropriation act which prohibited first and second-class offices from keeping open on Sunday, has led Mr. Hitchcock to give a more liberal interpretation of the new order. He declares that the Sunday mail law was misunderstood, and has been busy giving assurance that there will be no delays in delivery and that business men will not be hampered. He further states that hotels and newspapers will be able to get mail as usual and all emergency letters will be available.

But Postmaster E. H. Bird, when seen today, said that he had received no official notice yet regarding the new interpretation of the law, and until he did he would strictly comply with the one received early in the week ordering him to close the local postoffice on Sunday. He was of the opinion, however, that the law would undoubtedly be so objectionable that the Sunday closing feature would soon be revoked and the former order of things continued.

Mr. Hitchcock stated yesterday that the new law would not interfere with the sorting and delivery of mail addressed to newspapers and hotels, and, as pointed out by him, postmasters in first and second-class offices will be allowed to sort out emergency letters. In fact it is believed that by cutting out the general delivery of mail on Sunday, emergency, newspaper, hotel and other important mail which ought to be delivered on Sunday, will be better and more readily handled.

"As the purpose of the law, which was clearly enacted in the interest of employes, is to reduce as far as practicable the amount of Sunday labor," said Mr. Hitchcock, "the work of distributing Sunday mail to lockboxes will be limited to certain classes of mail that cannot be held until Monday morning without serious inconvenience to the addressees.

"This mail will include that for newspapers and for hotel guests. The latter is peculiarly transient in character and should not be delayed. This mail, like the special delivery mail, will be sorted out at the offices of dispatch on the railway mail trains in order to simplify the work of distributing it in the postoffices on Sundays. Under the new method its distribution to the boxes on Sunday will be hastened rather than delayed.

"As practically all business houses are now closed on Sunday, they do not object to the plan, which has been in force for a year, of holding their mail until Monday morning, realizing the benefit thus conferred on postal employes, who are thereby relieved from Sunday labor.

"In order to give the new provision as liberal a construction as possible, postmasters will be instructed, on application, to have their employes sort out in emergency cases on Sunday letters of special importance. This will supplement the present privilege of having all mail delivered on Sunday that carries a special delivery stamp.

"By the proposed changes in the method of putting up mail in the offices of origin and in its handling on the railway mail trains a satisfactory distribution can be made in postoffices on Sundays with less work than is now required. Thus the law can be made to confer great benefits on postal employes without inconvenience to the public."

There seems to be a general impression that the Sunday closing provision got into the Postoffice Appropriation bill as a joker. Such is not the case. It originated in the House of Representatives as an amendment offered only by Representative Mann on April 16. No one objected to the amendment which attracted practically no attention, owing, no doubt, to the great interest felt in the parcels post and other important provisions of the measure.

SAYS HE IS NOT IN N.Y. CENTRAL COMPANY

Sharp Asserts He Left the Involved Concern Two Years Ago.

Ernest Sharp, of Evergreen avenue, this city, who was included among officers of the New York Central Realty Company that were indicted by the Federal Grand Jury, in an interview today stated that the New York Central Realty Company was not his company, and asserted that he has not been interested in the company for the past two years. Mr. Sharp makes this statement:

"I never was interested in the New York Central eRalty Company, except that one share of stock was given to me for the purpose of qualifying as a director. I have been out of the company for two years, having resigned in my official capacity at that time when I returned the one share of stock. I never drew any salary from the company.

"The Central Park Realty Company, of which I am president, is not and never was a subsidiary company of the New York Central Realty Company. The Central Park Realty Company is not in the hands of a receiver, on the contrary it is in good condition."

OLD SCHOOL PASSES ON CITIZENS' VOTE

Diamond Hill Building Will Be Closed By New Providence Township.

Berkeley Heights, Aug. 28.—By a vote of 44 to 10, Monday night, the people of New Providence Township decided to close for good and all the Diamond Hill schoolhouse.

The vote was not directly for the closing of the school, but for an appropriation calling for $700 with which to put the school in the condition required by the State authorities, who complined that the building did not conform with the State law.

Balloting showed 44 to 10 against the appropriation and since the township cannot again put the school in use until the requirements of the law are complied with, it was practically a vote against the continuance of the school.

Closing the building marks the passing of the old fashioned, ungraded school house in Union county. The school survived the inroads and the pressure of the new type of building and the new method of teaching longer than any other in the county.

The attendance at this school has been about thirty, ranging from the first grade to the eighth, which is supposed to prepare for High School. Of these thirty children, about fourteen came from the Borough of New Providence, and the closing of the school is a heavier blow to that municipality than to the township, because the borough is now unable to provide adequate school accommodations.

The remainder of the pupils, those belonging to the township, will be transported by wagon to the new eight-room school building in the Berkeley Heights section, and which will be ready for occupancy by November 1.

It was decided to dispose of the old building at the earliest possible moment, in order that the proceeds may be utilized in connection with the new edifice.

Many of the people in the section of the Diamond Hill School, those most deeply interested in the retention of the building, voted against the proposition to fix it to conform with the law on the ground that their children cannot get the proper attention from a teacher who has eight classes on his hands in one day. They declare that if they must pay for the maintenance of a modern school building, perfectly appointed after the most approved fashion, their children might as well benefit by the advantages which they were offering to the balance of the township.

A special election will be held in the near future authorizing the school board to sell the Diamond Hill building and site, and the same will be offered for sale at public auction about ten days afterward.

Arrangements have about been completed for the laying of the corner-stone of the new building being erected on Watchung avenue by Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, B. P. O. E. There ceremonies will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and the officers have extended an invitation to all the members and the public in general to be present. Exalted Ruler Frank H. Searing; trustees, James F. Buckley, William A. Coddington and E. P. T. Wilbur; esquire, Fred G. Lann; chaplain, Walter S. Marder; inner guard, Mefford R. Giles; organist, James L. Pope.

A. L. C. Marsh is the architect in charge of the construction of the new building; Albert Pangborn the general contractor. Arthur E. Smith has the steel and iron contract and John H. Cose the roofing contract. The cost of the new building will be $60,000, the money having been raised through the issue of bonds which were sold to the members. When completed the building will compare most favorably with any of the Elks' clubhouses in this part of the country.

ASSESSMENT COMMISSION HEARS FROM REALTY OWNERS

Elliot T. Barrows, William A. Woodruff, Michael Rimmer, commissioners of assessment in the matter of opening up Manson place, McDowell, Bergen and Halsey streets, met in the Common Council rooms, last night, for the purpose of treating with property-owners interested in the improvement. Judge William Newcorn, representing the Ford and Shaw properties, portions of which will be taken for the opening, appeared and discussed the matter with the commissioners.

It is the purpose of the commissioners to arrive at a true valuation of property so as to assess the benefits and damages in a fair manner. They listened to what Judge Newcorn had to say and informed him that they would inspect the properties, and at the latter's suggestion an adjournment was taken to Tuesday night, September 3.

REGAINING USE OF ARM.

RECKLESS DRIVER FINED.

PROMISES BUSY TERM AS MAYOR

Stewart Promises to Devote His Time to Office, If Elected.

FILES PETITION TODAY

Democratic Choice For City Executive Issues a Statement—Wilson Club Banner-Raising Wednesday Night, September 4.

Percy H. Stewart, who has consented to enter the contest for the Democratic Mayoralty nomination at the coming primaries, filed his petition with City Clerk James T. MacMurray today, and at the same time he made the following statement regarding his candidacy:

"In response to many requests I have consented to enter the primaries as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Mayor. If nominated and elected it is needless to say that I will regard it as a very high honor. I have been a life-long resident of the city and deeply interested in its welfare. Plainfield is a growing city and a wise and economical management of its affairs is imperative, having in mind at all times the best interests of the citizen and taxpayer. Should I be elected, I would consider it a duty and a privilege to devote my time to the administration of the office to the best of my ability."

That Mr. Stewart would file his petition today was announced at the meeting of the Wilson and Marshall Club, last night, by the president, Calvin E. Brodhead.

The executive committee of the club stated that Sebring's Auditorium had been engaged as the new quarters, possession of which will be taken on Wednesday, September 4. It was added that the committee had purchased a Wilson and Marshall banner for $90. It will be raised between the Sebring and Martine buildings on West Front street, Wednesday night, September 4.

There will be a short program of speechmaking, the names of the speakers to be announced in a few days. The membership committee reported progress. The nomination committee presented a partial report and was continued.

It was decided to secure candidates for all offices to be voted upon at the primaries. It was the opinion that the conference between representatives of the club and the Democratic City Committee on Saturday night, was not satisfactory. It was stated that the purpose of the Wilson and Marshall Club is to widen the scope and activity of the Democratic party in this city, and any person who is willing to subscribe to the principles of the party and the constitution of the club will be welvome.

There is no denying the fact that there is not perfect harmony between the Wilson and Marshall Club and the Plainfield Democratic Club, there being several points upon which the two organizations cannot agree.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

The offering at the Plainfield theatre for Saturday night will be Della Clarke's new comedy "Introduce Me," which is in four acts and contains a pretty story concerning the unsuccessful husband who is put on his feet by the literary efforts of his wife, though the wife does not divulge her hand until the husband has finally made a strike by dramatizing one of the wife's books. Della Clarke, the author, appears in the dual role of the wife and Francis Everton, the novelist.

"Baby Mine" with Walter Jones and the original New York cast, that rollicking comedy which comes to the Plainfield theatre, September 2, Labor Day, matinee and night, for two performances, is proving to be as big a gold mine for William A. Brady as did "Way Down East." The play proved so popular at Daly's theatre, New York city, that its run was lengthened out to a solid year's engagement.

In connection with Balfe's fine old and ever popular opera, "The Bohemian Girl," which in its new form, as it is being presented by the Aborn Opera Company (in English), it is said, is to be found that much sought for element, novelty. As it is now being done by Messrs. Aborn it is a vastly different opera from that with which most theatregoers are familiar, and according to newspaper writers elsewhere, while at first the introduction of an acrobatic troupe, horses, geese, chickens, pigs, dogs, etc., seems incongruous, they are found to blend perfectly in the several scenes. "The Bohemian Girl" will be at the Plainfield theatre Wednesday night, September 11.

The Scrap Book

Her Misfortune.

A local clubwoman who loves a joke on herself was telling a story apropos of temperance before a gathering the other night. It was about a fire which destroyed a distillery in the little country town where she lived and taught school twenty years ago.

"We thought it was providential," she said, "until the next day. Then it appeared that in their effort to save as much of the stock as possible the good people had climbed to the second floor, let down a chute and rolled barrel after barrel of whisky into the river. The vast crowd which had assembled saw the barrels floating away and immediately dispersed. And the next day every man, woman and child in that entire community was drunk as a lord."

At this point some one interrupted.

"Oh, Mrs. Blank," called a voice quivering with laughter, "you lived in that community, didn't you?"

"I did," was the prompt rejoinder, "but I was the exception. My people were living up stream."—Kansas City Journal.

FOR PENSIONING POOR MOTHERS

Plan to Hold Dependent Families Together.

ILLINOIS LEADING THE WAY.

England Has a Similar Policy—Mothers the Natural Custodians of Their Own Little Ones—Would Be Better Than Placing Children In Institutions—New York Discussing the Proposal.

One of the features of the British insurance bill which recently went into effect was a modified pension for mothers. In some American states, Illinois being one of the first, a similar movement is starting. The plan is being discussed in New York, and the New York Times recently had a page article on the matter, from which the following extracts are taken:

"The pensioning of mothers seems to be a possibility of the near future—the pensioning of mothers from whom their children are now separated and placed in institutions or on farms.

"Among the children who have been thus placed in alien guardianship in days gone by have been many whom the courts, with great reluctance, divided from their mothers—industrious, admirable women, unable to support the children because of inability to earn, but none the less, in every other regard, plainly far better custodians for them than any strangers could be. Sometimes lack of training has been responsible for their small earning capacity, sometimes physical disability; sometimes their broods have been so large that, even though the mothers earned above the average, they still found themselves unable to furnish food, clothes and shelter for the little ones.

"Such cases have been and still are among the bitterest tragedies of city life.

"The cost has been enormous to the state and city, and, not unnaturally, this has resulted in abuses. Many of the 'homes' which have been found for children of such mothers have not been desirable. Too often children placed in them have been overworked and underschooled, despite official vigilance; there have been many cases where such children have been underfed.

Institutions Unsatisfactory.

"The alternative at present is their commitment to some institution. This costs the state an average of $11.50 a month per capita for maintenance and does not invariably produce desirable results.

"The mothers' pension makes it possible to maintain children in their homes at less cost in money and with great advantage both to children and to mothers. In Illinois, where the plan is now in operation, mothers of good character who find themselves unable to support their children are assisted to the extent of $6.75 per month per child, and the child is thus maintained in its own home at a cost of $5.16 less per month than that previously entailed upon the public by institutional care.

"I talked recently with Justice Franklin Chase Hoyt, now sitting in the New York children's court, about divers matters, including the possibility of mothers' pension legislation in this state.

"He had some most important things to say, suggesting the formation of a central committee, through which courts, churches, the various societies, the schools, police and others might co-operate to save children, defending the children's courts against criticism of suspended sentences, which have been made of late, and, in a general way, approving the mothers' pension plan.

"'I have not come to a definite conclusion as to mothers' pension legislation as enacted in Illinois and elsewhere,' Justice Hoyt said, 'but on cursory examination the plan would seem to have advantages. The main work of a children's court should be, it seems to me, to preserve as much as possible the family intact when misfortune overtakes it.

Mother Child's Best Guardian.

"'That a good mother is the best guardian a child can have is certain; that her poverty should separate her child from her is tragic; that the state should pay more for the support of children in its institutions than it would be necessary to pay for their support in homes presided over by their mothers would seem to be bad finance.'"

The same conditions described in New York are found in other states, especially in those containing large cities. It is now dawning on the minds of some of those in authority that a small pension to needy mothers would not only be better for the children, but more economical for the state.

Largest Door in the World.

"The largest door in the world," says La Revue Scientifique, "is now being constructed at Cherbourg, France, for one of the drydocks of the arsenal." It measures over 124 feet long by 59 broad and has cost $160,000. A number of similar doors are said to be also under construction for other French naval ports.

KILLS HIMSELF AS PROBE BEGINS

Builder of Worsted Mills Had Been Subpoenaed.

WEALTHY MEN INVOLVED.

Alleged That Mill Owners, Not Striking Employees, Planted Explosives For Purpose of Discrediting Union. District Attorney Finds Where Explosive Was Bought.

Boston, Aug. 28.—Owners of mills in Lawrence are suspected of planting dynamite in the recent strike. Coincident with the investigation begun by District Attorney Pelletier, Ernest W. Pitman, a mill owner, ended his life.

John J. Breen, a politician of Lawrence, was arrested for planting the deadly explosive. He did not take the stand at his trial and was fined $500. District Attorney Pelletier learned that the plot to plant the dynamite was conceived and partly carried out in Boston, and the investigation relates to that end of the affair. Mill men, including treasurers of the big mills at Lawrence, were before the grand jury.

Ernest W. Pitman, who built the large Wood worsted mills at Lawrence and one of the men said to have been involved in the conspiracy, committed suicide at his home in Andover. He had been summoned to appear before the grand jury.

Summoned as Witness.

The announcement of his suicide in that town stated that the cause of the act was not known, but supposed to be due to financial troubles. The summons to Pitman to appear before the jury, it is thought, however, may have prompted him to kill himself.

The purpose of the plan alleged to have been formed by the mill men, it is said, was to destroy the labor organizations by creating public opinion hostile to them by the use of dynamite. It is reported that the men involved in the conspiracy figured that if dynamite could be traced to those interested in the strike, public opinion would favor the owners and be inimical to the operatives, with the result that the strike would be crushed and the labor organizations injured.

The dynamite was procured in this city, and the district attorney is in possession of information that he feels may put some of the mill men on the defensive.

BULL MOOSE VOTE IS LIGHT.

Michigan Primaries Poorly Attended Except In Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 28.—Early reports on the state wide primaries showed that the bull moose vote was small, as the Progressive party was not in existence on the last enrollment day. Voters not enrolled at all and voters enrolled with any other party were allowed to change their enrollment to the third party. But few did so.

The features of the Detroit fight were the battle between Mayor William B. Thompson and Police Justice E. J. Jeffreys for the mayoralty nomination and the contests for renomination of the eighteen aldermen recently arrested on bribery charges.

Indications are that Frederick C. Martindale of Detroit will defeat Amos S. Musselman of Grand Rapids for the Republican nomination for governor and that former Congressman Alfred Lucking of Detroit will defeat George P. Humer of Grand Rapids for the Democratic nomination for United States senator.

MOB ATTACKS WOMEN.

Fur Workers Set Upon Opposite Waldorf-Astoria, New York.

New York, Aug. 28.—More than 150 fur workers attacked four women at Fifth avenue and Thirty-fourth street, almost opposite the Waldorf-Astoria, and attempted to strip their clothes from them. The young women were on their way to the fur establishment of A. Jaeckel & Co. when they were recognized by the mob and attacked.

Their guards, Brown and Beaser, formerly police lieutenants, were overwhelmed by the mob. Traffic was blocked for more than fifteen minutes in Fifth avenue until the reserves from the West Thirtieth street police station scattered the rioters, making seven arrests.

CLARK'S DESK IN SPLINTERS.

Apparently Used His Gavel With Considerable Muscular Force.

Washington, Aug. 28.—Repair men examining the furniture of the house discovered that Speaker Clark during the last nine months had used his gavel with such effect that virtually the entire top of the desk was wrecked.

One entire section had been pounded away, leaving a large hole concealed by the green felt that covers the desk. The speaker throughout the session made vigorous use of the gavel on all occasions. According to old members, no speaker since Thomas B. Reed had employed the mallet with such freedom.

Weather Forecast.

Fair today; tomorrow increasing cloudiness and warmer; probably showers in northern portion; moderate variable winds.

VICE RAMPANT IN NEWARK CHARGED

OFFICIALS NEGLECT DUTY

Petitioners Give List of Places Said to Be Disreputable and Urge Move Against Them—Declare Mayor Refuses to Act and Is Primarily Responsible.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 28.—Asserting that "vice and lawlessness are rampant in Newark and apparently immune from official interference," Edwin I. Stearns, superintendent of the New Jersey Anti-Saloon league, called upon Governor Woodrow Wilson "to use the authority of the state to persuade or coerce the local officials of Newark and of Essex county to do their sworn duty."

The matter was presented to the governor in the form of a petition in which the names and addresses of seven alleged resorts located in Newark are given and described in denunciatory language as dance halls with liquor attachments, saloon back rooms, restaurants where disreputable women drink with men, hotels where innocent girls are lured and music halls.

Attached to the petition are copies of letters to Mayor Jacob Haussling, John F. Monahan, the sheriff; Wilbur A. Mott, the prosecutor, and to the excise board. The petitioners assert that "all responsible officials are fully cognizant of the lawless conditions." They declare that the mayor "refuses to act and he is the man primarily responsible," that the sheriff "ignores his duty" and that "the prosecutor apparently prefers not to use his large force of detectives in this appealing duty."

The petitioners assert that the "vicious conditions are beyond description" and that they have on the written statements from a large number of prominent citizens, including six clergymen, lawyers and others who are influential in business, religious and social circles, all ready to take oath to the character of the various places described and denounced by the petitioners.

Postponed Once Because of Loss of Bride's Brother on Titanic.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 28.—It was announced that the wedding of Miss Helen Roebling, daughter of Charles G. Tyson of South Eighteenth street, that city, will take place on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 16, at the home of the bride's father in this city.

The wedding, which was delayed several months on account of the death of Miss Roebling's brother, Washington A. Roebling, 2d, in the Titanic disaster, will be a very quiet one, and only the immediate families of the bride and bridegroom will be present.

FIGHT FOR LIFE IN OIL TANK.

Explosion Traps Two Men, Who Have Narrow Escapes.

Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 28.—Two men at work cleaning an oil tank were severely burned about the face, arms and breast when an oil lamp they were using exploded. The tank at once caught fire and it was with great difficulty the two men got out of it at all. Other workmen in the place rushed to the aid of their comrades and with sand and fire extinguishers put out the flames without calling the fire department.

The injured men, who are in the City hospital in a serious condition, are Michael Stanski, thirty-three years of age, and Charles Vanzoski, forty years of age.

O'BRIEN'S ACCUSER ARRESTED

Billy Payne, Former Pugilist, Taken to Boston, Mass.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 28.—The charges of assault and battery and larceny made against "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien, the boxer, by Billy Payne, former pugilist, will be delayed, if not dismissed, as Payne was taken from bed at his home on North Ohio avenue by Massachusetts authorities and placed under arrest. He is accused of being a fugitive from justice.

A half hour later Payne was aboard a train bound for Boston, from which city he is alleged to have fled. O'Brien's hearing is set for today.

Don't Want Bible In School.

Hackensack, N. J., Aug. 28.—At a meeting of the Little Ferry board of education a communication was received from the Bohemian Independent club asking that Bible readings be omitted at the opening exercises in the public school.

The Fireplace In Summer.

The fireplace in summer is always somewhat of a worry to the housewife. This, however, by a little trouble can be converted into a really artistic spot. A Japanese pot of quaint design filled with branches of copper beech is very beautiful, or the fireplace can be made into a miniature rockery. Fresh green ferns arranged in tiers, with shells or pebbles to hide the pots, is all that is needed, and it is surprising the cool, refreshing look these give to a room in summer if kept free from dust and in a healthy condition.

AFTER THE QUACKS.

Immeasurable value has been added to the pure food laws by the enactment of a Federal statute prohibiting the misbranding of drugs and fake patent medicines by false statements as to their curative powers. The President has affixed his signature to the bill as passed by Congress and the rigid enforcement of the measure will put hundreds of quack patent medicine men out of business and will save or prolong thousands of lives annually. The bill in question simply added this paragraph to the law making it apply to the sale of fraudulent nostrums:

"If the package or label shall bear or contain any statement, design or device regarding the curative or therapeutic effect of such article or any of the ingredients or substances contained therein, which is false and fraudulent."

The necessity for the legislation was made apparent by th eMissouri decision in the case of the United States against Johnson. The appellee was indicted for delivering for shipment from Missouri to Washington certain medicines bearing labels which stated that the contents were effective in curing cancer. It is alleged that the defendants never knew that such representations were false.

The case reached the United States Supreme Court, which in a majority decision construted that part of the pure food law relating to the misbranding of drugs to limit a false statement as to what the ingredients are. In other words, they confined the term "misbranding" to false statements regarding the contents.

The decision was regarded by the proprietary medicine manufacturers and by the department of agriculture as making impossible a successful prosecution of any person who sells a worthless or injurious drug with false and deceptive statements upon the label of the package regarding its curative effect.

If Prosecutor George Silzer, of Middlesex county, wants any information as to the habit of his county detectives to wear blinders when gambling is going on, he need only refer to the files of the Daily Press. Every time the Hunt Club holds a steeplechase the "get-away quick" bookie is as conspicuous as he is notorious. Less than a week ago all sorts of crooked gambling games were allowed to be played on easy victims at the aviation show with the knowledge of a Middlesex county detective. Unfortunately, these crooks confine their operations just beyond the city line and Chief Kiely is powerless to cause arrests. Our good friend, Mr. Silzer, however, could and should put an end to the practice.

Now that Congress has adjourned, we will soon have with us again our veteran exchange editor. Ever since this newspaper was established James E. Martine has held the undisputed right to first peruse the dailies that come to this office, and were it not for his "adjectivial" comments on G. O. P. editorials life for us might be called a burden.

We take pleasure in acknowledging the receipt of $2.50 contributed by a class in the Friends' First Day School to the Baby Camp. This is an institution which should appeal to the support of the public generally and we regret to state that the contributions received by this paper for that purpose have not been as much in the aggregate as in past years.

The meanest man has been found right here in Plainfield. According to police court testimony he compelled his wife to sleep on the floor and then found enjoyment in getting up at 4 o'clock in the morning and pounding on the floor with a hammer. He's got the fellow who picked pennies off a dead man's eyes beaten to a frazzle.

When the average New York newspaper flays the police department it is a case of "the pot calling the kettle back," for as a class Gotham's daily journals are about as crooked in their news columns as are some of the police in the discharge of their duty.

It is becoming quite popular in New York now for the afternoon newspapers to report the arrest of "Gip the Blood" and "Lefty Louie" and for the morning papers to "pad out" the story of mistaken identity.

Tyler, Texas, correspondent wires a story about a 140 pound watermelon. Bet a red apple he got his newspaper training at Goshen, N. Y., or Stamford, Conn.

American beef is cheaper in London than in New York but why revise the tariff downward so long as beef barons grease the political machine?

When official Washington finds that it can't get its mail on the Sabbath day, the Sunday closing law of the Postoffice Department will be annuled.

Why not "give the devil his due" and change the title to the Standard Oil States of America?

MOOSE FORM AT MEETING

you help either of the old parties elect a local official, you help them put in office a man who will not aid us, but probably help next year to defeat us. We must fight until the machine of both parties is utterly destroyed and bossism overthrown and the rule of the people fully established. Do not listen to talk of compromise. Do not be beguiled by suggestions to divide the candidates. We are not in this contest to get office but to fight for the principles in the platform adopted at Chicago."

Captain Roland Fortesque, who is connected with the Roosevelt headquarters in New York, and is a cousin of the Colonel, was the next speaker, and he dwelt on the Chicago convention, and the type of men which made up that gathering and the gathering which he was then addressing. He said that he had never seen a more intelligent and determined group of delegates as those at Chicago, and that the men before him were of the same type, assuring the success of the cause for which they were fighting. He commended the religious spirit which was manifested at the Chicago convention, and said that it was the proper spirit for the entire campaign. "Take politics out of the saloons and put it in the churches," said the speaker. "This will have to be a personal fight, and there is a long hard battle before us, in which our greatest struggle will be to emphasize the truth of the platform which has been adopted by the Progressives. Ninety per cent. of the press of the country is against us, and will not treat the movement fairly. Hence we must make a personal campaign, and each man try to see another every day. It will be a campaign which will be real, human and vital, and whether we succeed or fail it will mean something."

William Levine, a Newark newspaper man, who said that until this year he had always voted the Socialist ticket and never had voted for a winner, but expects to see Roosevelt elected in November, told a number of humorous stories to illustrate the points he made, and he kept the attention of the audience for about twenty minutes. He criticised Governor Wilson for an appointment he made in Essex county, saying that he had made a man Judge there who had but a short time before been turned down by the people when he sought election as State Senator.

Mayor George W. V. Moy, of Plainfield, was chosen temporary chairman at the conclusion of Mr. Levine's remarks, and Welcome W. Bender was the selection for temporary secretary.

Mayor Moy in his keynote speech said that he was glad that he was compelled to stand with the Progressives because he had been an "incipient Progressive." He stated that up to a short time ago the Progressives were termed cranks, because they were dissatisfied with the political methods of the old parties, and that after looking over those before him he was glad that there were a few more cranks in Union county. "The Progressive movement means the giving back to the people the rights which are theirs, for it is a party of fair dealing for every man, woman and child. It is no small thing, and is the most important program ever opened in this country."

"We may not win," declared the Mayor, "but I believe that we will. There is one thing to be emphasized, though. Do not say anything about this movement unless you mean it. I didn't think Roosevelt had an earthly show a month ago, but there has been a wonderful change, and now he has a real chance." Mr. Moy continued that he had never seen a more thoroughly outraged body of decent citizens than he saw at the June convention of the Republican party. "This is a movement which cannot die. It will go on as long as the men and the women continue to do what is right, and I thank God that the women are with us this time. The time has come when honesty and decency, and honest men and women will assume control, and it means a better country, better State and better homes. It is a new era. We must stand together, and be in no way a part of the Republican or any other party, and have no allegiance to them. If we do stand shoulder to shoulder, we are sure to win."

What looked as if it was going to make trouble started when Charles A. Trimble, an Elizabeth attorney, who filed a petition for the nomination of freeholder on the regular Republican ticket and who withdrew it when he learned that the Progressives would have a ticket in the field, presented a resolution to put the organization on record as seceding from the old style of campaigning, and providing for naming a committee of from twenty-five to fifty to conduct the campaign.

Former Mayor James B. Furber, of Rahway, declared the resolution out of order because no permanent organization had been established and the chair upheld his contention.

Roland F. Calhoun presented the name of Edgar A. Knapp, for president of the organization, and Mr. Trimble proposed John K. English. English asked to be allowed to withdraw his name in the interest of harmony, but Fred Taggart, of Westfield declared he could not withdraw as it was apparent from the demonstration that greeted his name that English was the popular choice.

While Furber was speaking Knapp and English held a consultation, and later Knapp went to the platform and called off those who had been making the fight for him. Only English's name remained before the house and he was elected.

In accepting the chairmanship Mr. English stirred enthusiasm by saying that the sentiment was growing from the bottom up, and not being created. He praised Governor Hiram W. Johnson, of California, saying that the Progressive party was the only one with the vice presidential candidate who was capable of filling the first office in case the man running with him for President should be taken away. "We will wreck no boats," said the speaker. "They are already hard grounded on the rocks, and we are launching a new craft and are headed for the rising sun."

Mr. Bender was then made permanent secretary, and Edgar A. Knapp chosen as treasurer, after which the vice presidents were named, including Mayor Moy; Harwood Fish, of Roselle; Mr. Van Dyke, of Summit; Mr. Bonnell, of Union; Mr. Ferguson, of Cranford; William Jones and Colonel Robert M. Patterson, of Elizabeth, and Frederick Taggart, of Westfield.

Mayor Moy then presented the following resolutions which were adopted after which the meeting adjourned:

"Whereas, The Progressive party is an established fact formed for the purpose of actively participating in the development of government by the people in fact as well as in form, and

"Whereas, This result can be brought about only through the intelligent co-operation of the people themselves in selecting those whom they desire shall lead, and

"Whereas, A new party is ineligible to participate in the primaries and thus elect its candidates and must therefore present them by petition, therefore

"Be it resolved, That this League recommends that all Progressives refrain from voting in the primaries to be held in September and concentrate their efforts in securing candidates whose names shall be presented to the voters at the November election and that this League further recommends that a full Progressive ticket shall be placed in the field in the county and in all municipalities where it is deemed the best interests of the people will be subserved by so doing."

The other resolution was as follows:

"Whereas, The representatives of the Progressive voters of the nation, in a convention held at Chicago, on the 5th, 6th and 7th days of August, 1912, unanimously decided to form, and did then and there form a new political party,

"Whereas, The representatives of the Progressive voters of the nation, at a convention held at Chicago in the month of August, 1912, unanimously decided to form, and did then and there form a new political party, called the Progressive Party, and did then and there adopt a Progressive Party platform: and

"Whereas, Theodore Roosevelt, of New York, was named as the nominee of said party for President of the United States and Hiram W. Johnson, of California, was named as the nominee of said party for Vice President of the United States;

"Be it therefore resolved, That this League hereby ratifies and endorses the action of said National Progressive Convention and accepts and adopts its platform as the platform of this League."

GREAT PERIL TO AUTOISTS IS OIL-SOAKED ROAD TURNS

Because of recent automobile accidents, due in many cases, it is asserted, to oil-soaked turns in roadways, the Automobile Trade Association of New Jersey, at its next meeting, will take up this subject.

It is proposed to have a bill framed and introduced at the next session of the Legislature, which, if passed will put a stop to the practice of oiling sharp turns on city and county roads.

George E. Blakeslee, of Jersey City, president of the organization will call a meeting early in September and place this matter before the members.

"In most instances," Mr. Blakeslee said, "you will find that automobile accidents have resulted from cars skidding on turns in the roads that have been sprinkled with oil. I am speaking from experience. My recent accident in Pennsylvania was due to a turn in the road that had a coating of oil an inch thick that made steering the car impossible.

"Many of the reports state the man at the wheel knew very little about running his car. This is untrue. If an accident is carefully investigated it will be found often that the car skidded on a turn in the road and that the surface of the road was covered with oil. The most experienced driver cannot manage a car once it gets going on a road of this kind.

"At our next meeting I intend to bring this matter before the association and have the legislative committee act upon it at once. Instead of oil at the turns, these places should be sprinkled with sand. This would act as a grip for the wheels as they hit the turn, and I feel positive that auto accidents would be lessened to a great extent. An oiled road is all right providing it is a straight course."

Protests have been made by autoists all over the State, who assert that in some parts county officials have just started the oil sprinkling method and have given the turns no little thought.

CONVICT FARM PROVES PRONOUNCED SUCCESS

Honor System Found to Work Well In Canada.

Prison reform has proved a success in Ontario province. A work farm established in the Speed river valley three years ago has done so well that the provincial parliament is likely to extend its scope, while Toronto officials are seriously considering the establishment of one like it for municipal prisoners. The honor system is now largely employed in dealing with about 500 convicts who are serving terms of less than two years, and it is proposed that those having terms of less than five years shall be included in the system.

The Speed river farm was established in 1909 as a result of the overcrowding of the central prison in Toronto. A commission was sent to look into the various penal systems in Canada and the United States, and as a result parliament authorized the farm and a tract of 900 acres was purchased. There is a fine limestone quarry on it, which furnishes not only crushed stone, but the finer building grades. This was first developed, and from its product came material for most of the buildings now on the place.

An administration building three stories high, a large dormitory and cellhouse are in course of construction, and when these and other planned buildings are completed there will be accommodations for 600 convicts in fireproof structures. A fine macadam road leads up to the institution, and over the Speed river is a pretentious concrete bridge built by the inmates and decorated by some of the more skilled of them. The farm is extensive, furnishing supplies not only for the inmates of this institution, but all that is needed for the central prison. The dairy barn houses more than 100 cattle.

Little supervision is had over the prisoners. They do their work under a foreman, who is generally the only guard and who could be easily overpowered if there should be a mutiny. The sense of honor among the convicts, however, is high, and there have been few escapes from the farm.

NATION'S THIRST GROWING.

Has Consumed 133,377,458 Gallons of Whisky In a Year.

The people of the United States drank more whisky and rum and smoked more cigarettes during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1912, than ever before in its history, according to the preliminary annual report of Royal E. Cabell, commissioner of internal revenue. The consumption of whisky was exceeded only by the year 1907, but beer drinking fell off by a substantial percentage.

The unprecedented smoking of 11,221,624,084 cigarettes, exceeded the record of 1911 by nearly 2,000,000,000.

Stored in warehouses the country over are 263,786,070 gallons of whisky and rum, the greatest on record. In Kentucky alone are stored 158,000,000 gallons, which exceeds the total amount of whisky and rum in the whole United States eleven years ago. The record production of these intoxicants for 7912 was 188,000,000 gallons, or 13,000,000 gallons greater than 1911. The consumption of whisky and rum for 1912 was 133,377,458 gallons, the nearest approach to the record of 134,031,000 gallons in 1907.

The consumption of beer for 1912 was only 62,108,733 barrels, a decrease of more than 1,108,000 barrels as compared with 1911.

YOUTH A POETIC GENIUS.

Verse of Mountain Lad Impresses Frisco Authorities.

San Francisco literary folk are greatly impressed by the poetic genius of George Ashton Smith, nineteen years old, of Auburn. The boy was born and reared on a mountain farm and received no instruction beyond that afforded by the district school.

The lad came to the notice of Boutwell Dunlap, consul for the Argentine Republic, a few years ago, when the latter was spending a vacation in Auburn. The consul was so pleased with Smith's odes and sonnets that he took him to San Francisco. Since that time the young poet has written about fifty poems, and they are to be printed in November.

Some literary authorities go so far as to say that they rank with the best English lyric verse.

Re-elected to Office at Ninety.

John Laws, ninety years old, elected for the thirty-first time as register of deeds in Orange county, N. C., went into office during the gold excitement of 1849 and has never been defeated. He has held office sixty-three years and is the oldest officeholder in the world. Several days ago the patriarch's wife of twenty presented him with their second infant. Laws was a soldier in the Mexican war and is one of the two surviving ones in North Carolina. He works without glasses.

Delaware Our Best Ship.

The battleship Delaware stands at the head of all the big ships of the navy in general battle efficiency for the fiscal year 1911 and 1912, which ended June 30 last. The Delaware made a final merit of 74.758 on a scale of combined gunnery and steaming efficiency, making her the all around crack ship of the American navy. Naval authorities express the belief that she stands out well above any other ship in the world.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

BREAKFAST HOT BREADS.

HOT rolls, muffins, gems, biscuit or any breads of that sort seem to make a special appeal to the appetite when served as part of the first meal of the day. Hot breakfast cakes are an especially American fad, and the ways of making them are legion.

They may be raised with baking soda or yeast, mixed with sweet milk or sour and compounded of wheat, rye or graham flour or cornmeal, these combinations being varied to give a great variety of hot breads.

Gems and Muffins.

Cornmeal Gems.—Put two cupfuls of white cornmeal in a bowl, pour on one cupful of boiling milk and add a tablespoonful of butter. Stir well and let stand five minutes. Add one cupful of cold milk, one cupful of white flour, sifted, with three level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, and then the beaten yolks of two eggs. Stir all well, add the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs and bake half an hour.

Rye Muffins.—Take two cupfuls of rye meal and one cupful of sifted pastry flour. Sift the flour and meal with five level teaspoonfuls of sugar, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one level teaspoonful of salt. Beat one egg and add to it one and one-quarter cupfuls of milk. Mix with the dry materials, pour into a buttered pan and bake in a sheet or bake in buttered gem pans. Use rye meal and not rye flour, which is different, and always sift the meal before measuring.

Dainty Fare.

Milk Biscuit.—Take a cup of flour, a teaspoonful of shortening, a teaspoonful of salt and a teaspoonful of baking powder. Sift the flour, salt and baking powder together, rub in the shortening very lightly, then add enough cold milk to hold together. Place on a floured bakeboard and roll or press out with the hands one-half inch thick. Cut with cake cutter, brush the top with milk and bake twenty minutes or until light brown.

Swedish Rolls.—Scald a pint of milk and cool it. Cream a half cupful of sugar and a tablespoonful of butter; add the well beaten whites of two eggs, a little salt, half a yeast cake dissolved in warm water and stir into the milk, also flour enough to mold. Let it rise. Roll out half an inch thick, cut in strips an inch and a half wide, butter, roll up, set on end, let rise and bake.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

Conducted by the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

Suffragists as individuals are to be found of every political stripe and color—but the woman suffrage organizations have again and again declared themselves non-partisan. It is interesting to note, however, that the following communication is being sent out by the "Women Delegates to the National Convention of the Progressive Party to the Women of the United States."

From the Women Delegates to the National Convention of The Progressive Party to the Women of the United States:

Because women, as much as men, are a part of our economic and social life, women, as much as men, should have the voting power to solve all economic and social problems. Votes for women are theirs as a matter of natural rights alone; votes for women should be theirs as a matter of political wisdom also. As wage earners, they should help to solve the labor problem; as property owners they should help to solve the tax problem; as wives and mothers they should help to solve all the problems that concern the home. And that means all national problems; for the Nation abides at the fireside.

ALBERT J. BEVERIDGE,
Chairman National Progressive Convention.
Chicago, August 5, 1912.
(Signed)

Childe, Massachusetts; Helen Temple Cook, Massachusetts; Mrs. Grace A. Johnson, Massachusetts; Mrs. Elizabeth Towne, Massachusetts; Mrs. M. Evelyn Fritzenger, Michigan; Mrs. David Armstrong, New York; Mrs. William Grant Brown, New York; Mary E. Dreier, New York; Frances A. Kellor, New York; Mrs. Bertha Elder, New York; Clara B. Speech of Jane Addams Seconding the Nomination of Theodore Roosevelt.

I rise to second the nomination, stirred by the splendid platform adopted by this convention.

Measures of industrial amelioration, demands for social justice, long discussed by small groups in charity conferences and economic associations, have here been considered in a great conention, and are at least thrust into the stern arena of political action. A great party has pledged itself to the protection of children, to the care of the aged, to the relief of overworked girls, to the safeguarding of burdened men. Committed to these humane undertakings it is inevitable that such a party should appeal to women, should seek to draw upon the great reservoir of their normal energy so long undesired and unutilized in practical politics—one is the corollary of the other; a program of human welfare, the participation of women in political life.

We ratify this platform, not only because it represents our earnest convictions and formulates our high hopes, but because it pulls upon our faculties and calls us to definite action. * * * The new party has become the American exponent of a world-wide movement towards juster social conditions, a movement which the United States, lagging behind other great nations, has been unaccountably slow to embody in political action.

I second the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt because he is one of the few men in our public life who has responded to the social appeal, who has caught the significance of the modern movement. Because of that, because the program will require a leader of invincible courage, of open mind, of democratic sympathies, one endowed with power to interpret the common man and to identify himself with the common lot. I heartily second the nomination.

Theodore Roosevelt to Jane Addams.

Cleveland, August 8, 1912.

Dear Miss Addams:—I wish to see you in person to thank you for seconding me. I do it now instead.

I prized your action, not only because of what you are and stand for, but because of what it symbolized for the new movement. In this great national convention, starting the new party, women have thereby been shown to have their place to fill precisely as men have, and on an absolute equality. It is idle now to argue whether women can play their part in politics because in this convention we saw the accomplished fact, and moreover the women who have actively participated in this work of launching the new party represent all that we are most proud to associate with American womanhood. Without qualification or equivocation, I am for woman suffrage, the Progressive party is for woman suffrage and I believe within half a dozen years we shall have no one in the United States against it.

My earnest hope is to see the Progressive party movement in all its state and local divisions recognize this fact precisely as it has been recognized at the National convention. Our party stands for social and industrial justice and we have a right to expect that women and men will work within the party for the cause with the same high sincerity of purpose and with like efficiency. I therefore earnestly hope that in the campaign now opened we shall see women active members of the various State and county committees. Four women are to be put on the National Committee and I trust that there will be a full representation of them on every State and County Committee.

While I am now addressing you I desire that this shall be taken as the expression of my personal hope and desire by all members of such State and County Committees, and I believe that I express the feelings of the great majority of Progressives in making this request. I have Judge Hotchkiss' assurance that it will be done in the State of New York and I very much hope that it will be done in the other states. With great esteem, I am faithfully yours,

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Helen Keller Sings at Harvard Medical School

MISS HELEN KELLER.

Miss Helen Keller, born deaf, dumb and blind, showed the assembled otologists at their congress in the Harvard Medical school recently that she had added still another to her phenomenal list of accomplishments when she sang to them.

During the formal addresses, which were mostly in foreign tongues, Miss Keller sat on the platform listening through the fingers of her teacher, Professor White of the New England Conservatory of Music, and now and then applauding when a speaker made a particularly pleasing reference to the new education of the blind.

When it came Professor White's turn he demonstrated the extent of control that Miss Keller had gained over her vocal chords, tongue and lips. His illustrations were conveyed from his lips to Miss Keller's finger tips, placed tightly over his mouth. All the vowels and consonant sounds uttered by Miss Keller came out clearly and precisely, and the audience spontaneously broke into the heartiest applause.

Then came the crowning achievement, the singing of an octave on sol and fa and re, some of the tones being very sweet. This performance not only amazed but delighted the savants.

Miss Keller, Professor White says, has the rare faculty of absolute pitch.

Previous to giving this exhibition Miss Keller made an address in English, in which she said:

"This is a new day in the education of the deaf, the day when the physician is no longer content to fight the hostile silences with medicine and surgical instruments alone, but helps the teacher to pour the blessed waters of speech into the desert of dumbness."

Sewing Room Closet.

Many women in a sewing room constantly jump up and down to get some piece of lace or material to finish a garment. If the hundred and one things a woman needs at her work were all in some convenient place all this trouble would be avoided.

If there is a large closet in the sewing room or in the room where most of the family sewing is done get three or four shelves and divide these at convenient heights inside of the closet.

On each shelf arrange four or five boxes and then place the various kinds of laces, velvets, silks, buttons, etc., in one box, marking clearly just what such box contains.

A closet arranged in this way will be found a great convenience and time saver to the home dressmaker.

Philosophical Phelix Says:

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

No more will the umpire announce "The batteries for today will be Slocum and Lidgate." The local favorite will not team up with Liddy at Bound Brook any more.

Mix 29 hits with 27 errors and 9 innings and you have a pickled ball fit to can any three pitchers.

Newhouse sprung another arbitrater on the crowd last week when "Cric" Wilcox donned the mask.

He did fairly well although handicapped by the poor article of ball he was trying to officiate against.

One of the Bound Brook players who is always there with the necessary ginger, who can play any position on the diamond and who invariably comes across with the necessary hit, is Tommy Mullin, the guardian of Bound Brook's difficult corner.

Mullin went on the mound against Plainfield but the opposing batters had already got the habit of pounding the ball and the Bound Brook fielders were all asleep so he could do nothing but help to get the game over.

"Who," we ask of nine young hopefuls who gathered around Ernie Dorflinger's money bag Saturday night, "Who are you?" "We are the guys who put the hooks in Bound Brook," they responded with a bored air.

What has become of Frederickson? Some say he has forever put aside the padded mit and will "attend strictly to business" from now on.

Somebody who plays the game of baseball on paper felt sorry for "Nips" Hand after the ball had split one of his three "hands" and gave his error which let in New Brunswick's runs in the first inning to Tommy Mullin.

Mullin says he doesn't care for any such gifts and should rather not be referred to as the "principal offender."

Spicers will hold the rest of that "get acquainted" outing next Saturday at Parker Field. Good thing they don't have to go out of town as it might be another case of all night stuff.

It is beginning to look as though that fall series between the Manufacturers and Sunday-school leagues was going to be a real thing now.

The factory leaguers have selected their all-star cast and it looks like the real goods.

Something is wrong when Louis Slocum can go to Bayonne on Sunday and score a 9 to 6 win over the strong Philadelphia Colored Giants.

Bayonne salt air must have agreed with him on Sunday.

Just a mid-week reminder, "Bound Brook at the Oval Labor Day."

R. G. E. WILL PLAY HYATTS AT NEWARK

Overnight Trip and General Good Time Planned By Manager Hoffman.

Manufacturers' league baseball is beginning to get monotonous to the R. G. E. combination and as a little side appetizer Manager Hoffman has signed up a game with the Hyatt baseball team for next Saturday afternoon at Newark. The Hyatts are the champions of the Manufacturers' league of that city and have been playing semi-professional ball teams around the metropolitan district since their league season closed. They played a game with the Westfield baseball team at Recreation Park two weeks ago and although defeated they put up a good article of ball and look like a fast aggregation.

Manager Hoffman has made arrangements to entertain his team at a banquet in Newark after the game and it will go to Olympic Park in the evening. The Newark recreation centre is now at the heighth of its season and the team will remain their all night returning to Plainfield sometime Sunday morning.

In order to play the game at Newark Saturday the R. G. E. combination will have to postpone their game scheduled in the Manufacturers' league and as the Commercials are also idle on that date the league standing will have to remain as it is for another week. Manager Hoffman says that the league season is by no means over and the Commercials will have to go some to have a look in with his nine.

The following lineup will be presented at Newark Saturday: Colwell cf, Kelts 2b, Singer 1b, DeNitzio ss, Limbloom 3b, Hann rf, Miller lf, Compton c, Montross and Fleming p.

TWO TWIRLERS FOR THE ALL-STAR TEAM

The Lineup Will Probably Have to Be Revised Before Series Opens.

Two twirlers have been selected for the Manufacturers' All-Star team and they will probably devide up the box work in the series of contests. Dolan, of the Spicer team and Montross, of the Public Service, are the lucky ones and they are certainly deserving of the honor.

The lineup as it has been announced is subject to change as a number of the players on the team expect to be out of town when the series is played and men from other teams will be selected as substitutes.

Manager George Stallings, of the Buffalo team, says the Giants are the class of the National League and that McGraw's hirelings will surely beat the Cubs for the pennant.

After losing five straight games the Cubs team, playing with an entirely reorganized lineup, beat the Giants by a 5 to 1 count. Henderson, who twirled for the winners, fanned twelve and allowed but five hits. Denny also pitched a good brand of ball but was weak in the pinches.

The Cubs bunched four of their six hits in the sixth inning and made four runs. Sachar played well at short and made one of his team's six bingles. Kyle was the leading man with the willow getting two singles and a double out of four trips.

BASEBALL NOTES

Johnny Dobbs, the Montgomery manager, is looking for talent and will perhaps be able to land some of the Washington youngsters.

"Dixie" Van Sickle, known as the official umpire of Hot Springs, Ark., has been signed by President Barrow, of the International League.

"Bullet" Jack Thoney, the former big leaguer, is playing in the outfield and doing some swell hitting for the Jersey City team.

Joe Wood, the Boston Red Sox star, is the leading pitcher in the major leagues. Joe has come home a winner 26 times out of 39 starts.

The Detroit Tigers fell down badly on their Eastern trip. Even the mighty Ty Cobb couldn't start anything that would help the Tigers climb.

Derrill Pratt is the only member of the St. Louis Browns batting for .300 or better, and Konetchey and Huggins are the only Cardinals in the honor list.

That shift from Philadelphia to Boston must have been the right guess for John Titus. The veteran outfielder is producing the regular article for the Braves.

Even with four scouts, Sam Kennedy, George Huff, Bobby Gilks and "Socks" Seybold, roaming the bushes the Cleveland Club has not been able to annex any promising minor leaguers.

The champion Athletics show a flash of their old-time form now and then, but seem unable to put over the winning stuff often enough to overtake the Red Sox and the Senators.

A major league baseball trainer says that ball players eat too much, smoke too much and do not train properly. He says there is one big league star who invariably eats pie for breakfast.

CITY BASKETBALL LEAGUE PLANNED

ROOM FOR 12 TEAMS

Headquarters at Y. M. C. A.—Games Will Be Played There Also—Handsome Trophy for Champion Team—Qualifications Necessary.

With the finish of the amateur baseball season near at hand those who have been closely connected with the local leagues are beginning to talk of basketball. Steps have been taken to form during the coming season an organization to be known as the Young Men's Christian Association Commercial Basketball League.

A schedule will be arranged to determine the association championship, which will carry with it a trophy valued at fifty dollars. When captured for three consecutive years the cup will become the permanent property of the winning team.

The organization will be limited to twelve quintets. Should more than this number apply for registration the combinations representing the merchantile houses will be favored in the selection. All of the players on the various teams must have full membership in the Y. M. C. A. of Plainfield and no team will be allowed to enter which has not the minimum of six eligible players and nine has been set as the maximum number of men allowed to any one team during the season.

Entries will be opened at the Y. M. C. A. on September 15 and will close on October 15. Certain health qualifications are necessary for the men who are allowed to register in the organization and each entrant will have his heart and lungs examined by the association physical director some time previous to October 15. There shall be no interchanging of players unless a player on a team representing a mercantile organization should change his place of occupation and enter the employ of another firm, also represented in the league, and he may transfer his registration.

The contests will all be played at the Y. M. C. A. An opportunity of this nature is one that many players in Plainfield have long been waiting for and will be welcomed by a large number of crack players who are employed in the local business houses. One of the fives that have already signified their intention of entering the organization and who will prove formidable to any other team that may be organized around these parts is the Ajax team of the Y. M. C. A.

A meeting of the promoters of the new project will be held at the Y. M. C. A. building next Tuesday night and final arrangements will be completed at that time for the league. An open meeting for all those interested in the organization will be held in the near future and those who intend to enter teams will be given an opportunity to learn more about the plans at that time. The League will not be limited to mercantile teams, but all Sunday-school and athletic club organizations with a certain amount of good backing will be encouraged to enter.

The higher education sometimes demonstrates that the more we know the less we believe.

POOL AND BILLIARD PLAYER HERE TONIGHT

James L. Malone Will Be Pitted Against Local Crack, Still Unnamed.

James L. Malone, former champion pool and billiard player of the world, and who has been at the present period, arrived in Plainfield today and will give a demonstration of difficult fancy shots at Krewson's billiard parlor on West Front street, tonight. Malone will be matched with a local player who will be announced this evening. He comes here direct from Buenos Ayres and his last big match was held at Denver in 1905 against Harry Hart whom he defeated 150 to 73.

Malone also has two victories to his credit over the billiard champion of Cuba which he scored on March 13, 1912, directly after his opponent had won the title. After this match he issued challenges to De Ora, the champion three cushion and pool player of the world, but the champion was entered in the national tournament at Philadelphia and could not meet Malone at that time. In a recent match of continuous pool Malone made an exceptionally high score of 68 in one run.

For the past few years he has been in Mexico and the west and won the championship of Mexico as a pool and billiard player and still holds it. His work is clean and scientific and generally three or four of the most expert players in the city are picked out and Mr. Malone plays against them all. Recently he gave exhibitions at Madison, Burlington and many other cities of the State and in billiards or pool few men are better known or more popular than "Jim" Malone. He is a genial and good natured fellow, an interesting conversationalist and witty. His fund of information along the lines of billiards and acquaintance with the experts of the world is remarkable.

Mr. Malone is the originator of the game of continuous pool and for years he held the title only to be defeated by a pupil of his, De Ora, by a single ball. His continuous run of 90 balls stands today as the greatest, and has seldom been approached, let alone equalled.

The famous William Tell shot as made by James L. Malone.

Pocket six balls at one stroke.

Pocket four balls at one shot.

No more will the umpire announce "The batteries for today will be Walsh and Sullivan for Chicago," for Billy Sullivan, the veteran catcher of the White Sox, has been given his unconditional release.

WALDO'S LESSEE LIST IS PUBLIC

Waldorf Astor and Trust Companies Included.

ASKS FOR GENERAL PROBE

Police Commissioner Thinks Legislature Should Revise Criminal Procedure—Says Police Are Not Entirely at Fault and That Courts Are to Blame.

New York, Aug. 28.—Police Commissioner Waldo allowed to be copied from the police records the list of "suspected houses," with the names of the owners of the premises at the time of the police action. There is no one spared in the list. From Waldorf Astor and the biggest trust companies down to the owner of a small piece of property on some side street, Mr. Waldo has made plain the names of the owners. The list which he allowed to be copied concerns gambling houses alone.

This is only part of the evidence Mr. Waldo is preparing for the use of the district attorney and the grand jury, and eventually he hopes to furnish enough to warrant a widespread legislative investigation into the entire system of the administration of justice in New York city.

Commissioner Waldo is willing that the police department be investigated by the grand jury, but he does not think the investigation should stop there. The criminal courts cannot investigate themselves, the district attorney cannot satisfactorily investigate himself and the commissioner believes the job is up to the legislature.

He favors a legislative probe that will touch the whole procedure of handling a criminal from the time of his arrest to the time he is sentenced. Included in such an investigation would be the police department, the district attorney's office, the courts and the jury system.

Commissioner Waldo does not admit that the police are entirely at fault, if there is anything wrong about the administration of justice in criminal matters. He has repeatedly stated his opinion that the courts, from the lowest jurisdiction to the highest, do not properly co-operate with the police department. The criminal code, in his judgment, has been amended, altered and amplified until it is in many instances a protection to crooks rather than to the community.

The police commissioner believes that a fair and thorough legislative investigation would uncover defects in the district attorney's office, in the system of drawing juries and in the courts, as well as in the police department. He is prepared to advocate the investigation outlined and looks for the co-operation of the district attorney, the judges and other officials interested in the matter.

JOHN D. JR. MAKES STATEMENT

Says There's No Trouble Between Superintendent and Laborers.

New York, Aug. 28.—The stories that have appeared in the papers recently concerning the troubles among the Italian laborers on John D. Rockefeller's Pocantico Hills estate caused Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to issue a statement saying that there had been no trouble between the superintendent of the estate and his laborers as had been reported nor had any laborers been discharged.

Young Mr. Rockefeller says that the acts of violence that have taken place in and about Pocantico Hills recently have been the result of jealousy among certain individuals. William J. Burns, says Mr. Rockefeller, has been called in to confer with Sheriff Doyle as to how he can be of assistance in the situation.

Mr. Rockefeller told reporters that as far as he knows there has been no intimation that any of his laborers belonged to secret organizations. He said that the contractors were constantly changing their men, and he had no control over the employment of the men.

SOLDIERS SHOOT UP VILLAGE.

Bullets Enter Houses in Section of New Castle, Del.

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 28.—Soldiers from the Eighty-first and Fifty-fifth companies of coast artillery from Fort Dupont, in camp at the state rifle range, shot up that part of New Castle known as Dobbinsville and had the inhabitants terrorized until their ammunition gave out.

A party of soldiers had a fist fight with some Dobbinsville citizens. They were bested and then proceeded to camp, returning later to shoot up the village. Bullets entered several buildings, but no one was injured. Mayor Rodney of New Castle has taken up the matter with Captain Howard, in charge of the camp and a rigid investigation is being made.

Shot by Hotel Clerk.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—An unidentified man was shot five times and probably fatally wounded by Night Clerk Ross P. Odell after the man had fired three shots through the front door of the New London hotel, from which he had been ejected. None of the hotel employes were injured.

—She (very pretty)—"How dare you kiss me! I'll have you arrested." He—"What's the use. Any judge would acquit me."—Boston Transcript.

PARKER AND SHERMAN.

T. R. Seeks to Bring Them Into Campaign Funds Controversy.

© 1912, by American Press Association.

Colonel Roosevelt desires to bring the names of Alton B. Parker, Democratic nominee for the presidency in 1904, and James Sherman, vice president of the United States, into the inquiry into campaign contributions authorized by the senate by the adoption of the Penrose resolution. He said that he will place their names before the senate committee in his letter to Senator Clapp. This letter, upon which Colonel Roosevelt is now at work, will embody some of the things to which he would have testified before the committee had it granted him a hearing.

T. R. CONSULTS WITH N. Y. STATE LEADERS

Discusses Progressive Fight Before Leaving For Vermont.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 28.—With the senate inquiry into campaign contributions shelved for the time being, Colonel Roosevelt has given his attention during the past twenty-four hours most exclusively to the Progressive plans for the New York state fight.

As he will leave tonight to stump the state of Vermont, beginning there with an almost unbroken campaign extending over six weeks, the New York leaders are taking advantage of a temporary lull to get his seal of approval upon all the plans for the state convention which will be held in his absence and the ticket which will be put into the field at time.

With George W. Perkins and William Hotchkiss, state chairman, he went over carefully ever detail in the out and out Progressive fight that the colonel still insists he will make for every office on the state ticket. The platform particularly has been under consideration, and the Progressive leader has had his last word as to what will go into it. Comptroller William A. Prendergast, another New York leader, who has assisted the ex-president in drawing up the state ticket, consulted with him several hours at Sagamore Hill.

The statement for the Clapp committee which the former president promised to submit in lieu of testifying personally upon his relation to the trusts both before and after election has met with a setback owing to the colonel's desire to reread first the old Archbold-Rogers testimony.

It will hardly be ready, Colonel Roosevelt says now, before next Monday. According to his present intentions it will be a lenghty document.

SPANISH STRIKES SPREAD.

Factory Owners Close Works to Prevent Walkout.

Madrid, Aug. 28.—The factory owners at Ovideo, in view of the proposed strike, have closed the works.

The strikers in the various Spanish trades are sending delegates to the mines to proclaim a general strike in the Austrian basin. The labor trouble at Malaga continues, but the employers, hoping to break the walkout, are engaging nonunion men.

The southern ironworkers, who are also out, are being subsidized by the railroad union.

Guards are patrolling the streets in the various cities where strikes are in progress.

POLITICIAN ASKED MURDER BE HUSHED

Miss Curran's Slayer Thereby Got Good Start.

New York, Aug. 28.—Information was furnished to District Attorney Whitman that following the discovery of the body of Miss Julia M. Curran, the governess murdered in a room of the Boulevard hotel, Broadway and Sixty-seventh street, a prominent politician visited the West Sixty-eighth street police station and demanded that the affair be hushed up.

"Fix it easy for the proprietor," he is said to have ordered. "We want this fixed up so it won't look bad."

According to the entry which was then made on the blotter, the governess, who had been choked to death by a man, died from "natural causes." It was also entered that the ambulance surgeon had said this. The surgeon denies this. Coroner Winterbottom also declares that he told the police the case was suspicious and that it was not until the next day and after Dr. Schultze the coroner's physician, had performed an autopsy and declared the woman murdered, that the police made any apparent effort to run down the murderer. This gave the young woman's murderer thirty-six hours in which to make good his escape.

Because he said he understood that he was under suspicion of being implicated in the murder a man whose identity has not been revealed surrendered himself in the West Sixty-eighth street station. He said he wished to purge himself of any suspicion the police might have of him. He was exonerated and permitted to go.

DOME DAMPERS

The Dome Damper is today a recognized necessity to a properly constructed fire place. The flange forms an arch bar of ample strength to support the weight of masonry of the chimney above. The smooth surfaces of the dome are arranged to induce the greatest ease of exit for the gases and the proportions so scientifically worked out as to exclude the fear of a smoky fire place. The solid valve provides a means of closing the damper to the exclusion of down-drafts which are so frequent in the warm months thereby preventing the carrying of soot into the room.

"STRIKE TENTS" AT WAWAYANDA

Y. M. C. A. Boys' Summer Camp Closes With Local Lads In the Limelight.

1912 BIGGEST SEASON

C. William Bingeman Was Assistant Camp Director—Local Lads Are Winners—Plainfield Fails in Athletic and Aquatic Competition.

"Strike tents" was the order given Tuesday at Wawayanda, one of the Y. M. C. A. summer camps for boys of this part of the State, and it brought to a close what the officials of the organization consider the most successful season since the opening summer.

The Plainfield boys at the camp returned home Tuesday night with a long list of honors which they had gathered for their association. C. Wm. Bingeman, of this city, who is the assistant camp director, will return home about the first of September. He will remain at the camp until the tents and other things are stored away for the winter.

The books show that more than 600 have been entertained at Wawayanda during the season, representing fifty-one different localities. Of these, about 250 were visitors and fifty-one leaders from twenty colleges and universities. The last section consisted of 117 boys, more by half a hundred than had ever before been in camp so late in the summer.

The boys had more to think about during the last week than statistics, for there came the final events in the athletic and acquatic sports of the summer.

The Orange Association team took the first place and the Hilton Bull cup for another year, with a total of 69 points. Montclair came second, only 10 points behind; Ridgewood came third, with 53, and Elizabeth fourth, with 45. The members of the winning Orange team were Robert Bodine, Clarence Fortescue, Harry Mosler, Robert Carr and Arthur Jacobus.

Montclair got revenge in the aquatic events, however, scoring an easy victory. Its team, consisting of Ralph Reid, Gordon Kitchen, Jason Neilson, James Valentine, Jr., and Fred Jackson, won 73 points. Ridgewood took second place with 61, Elizabeth third with 54, Plainfield fourth with 43, Paterson fifth with 22 and Orange sixth with 19.

The tennis court was kept busy most of the time. The successful players in the last three sections were Carr, of Orange; Harold Kottman, of Maplewood, and William Runk, of Ridgewood. There was also a summer-long contest in German bowling, which was won by Raymond De Mott, of Elizabeth; Ralph Reid, of Montclair, and Lorne Waddell, of Ridgewood.

In quoits Joseph Sattels, of this city, who has won the trophy for two successive seasons; Fortescue, of Orange; Bodine, of Orange, and Ricklef Reid, of Montclair, were the winners in the various sections, and will compete later for the cup. In the event that Sattels wins the cup will become his permanent possession.

The knottying boards were difficult to judge because of the attractiveness of the work, but Howard Leroy, of Ridgewood, and Minor Smith, of Jersey City, were finally decided upon as the winners.

Thirty-eight leaders and boys passed the United States volunteer life-saving examination and are awaiting their commissions from the office of the general superintendent in New York. The leaders conducted a tennis tournament, in which Hunter B. Grant and Dr. Wythe M. Rhett, the camp physician, were the winners.

Percy Pierce, of Philadelphia, who has been awarded twenty-one prizes in public competition for aeroplane models, was in camp last week and stimulated interest in the sport. As a result a contest was held that was won by Bonsall Stover, of this city, for duration of flight, and W. Walden Fountain, of Elizabeth, for distance.

Aside from athletics the camp was successful in the other branches of its work. The summer vacation school accomplished even more than had been contemplated. On the basis of the reports submitted to the committee in charge, and parents and school authorities, plans are now being made to broaden the scope next year. It is planned to make a number of improvements in equipment and an improvement fund was created, which now exceeds $250.

The camp committee consists of Charles T. Kilborne, chairman; Henry S. Park, John T. Sproull, Arthur M. Harris, David Lindsay, F. W. Langstroth, Frank F. Gray, George H. Hogeman, Raymond P. White and Charles A. Coburn. They will meet in Asbury Park early in September to hear the final reports of the season's work at Wawayanda and other camps about the State.

GO TO HOUSEKEEPING WITHOUT ANY DELAY

Miss Vroom and Harry Lude Wed In Their Own Home.

Miss Ethel Vroom Young, daughter of Mrs. Etta Young, of 777 Clinton avenue, and Harry Lude, of 43 DeKalk avenue, were married at 7:30 o'clock, last night, at their new home, 1155 Sherman avenue, Rev. F. J. Hubach, pastor of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, officiating in the presence of about forty relatives and friends. The home was attractively decorated for the occasion.

The bride, gowned in cream satin, trimmed with lace and carrying white carnations, was attended by Miss Alice Lude, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaid. The best man was George H. Fisher, Jr., of this city. Mrs. F. J. Hubach, wife of the officiating clergyman, was at the piano and as the bridal couple entered the parlor she played the wedding march from Lohengrin, and during the ceremony she play "Annie Laurie." Afterward she played the Mendelssohn Wedding March.

A reception followed the ceremony, during which supper was served. The bride and bridegroom instead of taking a wedding trip decided to begin housekeeping at once. Mr. Lude is employed as a construction engineer at the plant of the International Motor Company. The bride received a large collection of handsome gifts.

Dog Vagrant Goes Valiantly to the Rescue When Canoe Upsets.

Bound Brook, Aug. 29.—A homeless, homely, half-Newfoundland dog limped forlornly into South Bound Brook, N. J., a few days ago and, too tired to go further, took up quarters under the boathouse of John Wobus on the Raritan shore. He was lying on the pier Tuesday afternoon when Miss Bertha Thompson came down and went out in her canoe.

She was fifty feet from the pier when she dropped her paddle. In trying to recover it she upset the craft. The dog plunged off the pier and swam out swiftly. As she arose he fastened his teeth in her clothing and in a few minutes had her safely on shore.

The dog is no longer homeless.

SHARP PLEADS NOT GUILTY; FREED ON $5,000 BAIL

Ernest Sharp, of this city, who at one time was a director of the New York Ceentral Realty Company, and William H. Cooper, former president of the company, indicted on a charge of fraudulent use of the mails, were arraigned in the United States District Court, yesterday, where they entered tentative pleas of not guilty to stand until September 7. Judge Hough fixed bail for Sharp at $5,000 and he was released on presentation of a bond. Cooper was released on $10,000 bail.

Cooper and Sharp visited Postoffice Inspector Hugh McQuillan in the Federal Building, New York, yesterday. The former told the inspector that he was ready to stand trial on a charge of using the mails for fraudulent purposes. The indictments charge that the New York Realty Company sold $500,000 worth of 5 per cent. gold bonds through the mails. The literature sent out by the company claimed that the concern's assets consisted in real estate valued at $1,000,000. When the company went into bankruptcy last March, the receiver, A. Gordon Murray made a report to the effect that the actual assets did not exceed $35,000, consisting of swamp lands in Hackensack meadows.

"BILL" SMITH LOSES RIGHT TO DRIVE CAR

Fair Heir In Limelight Again As Result of Auto Smash.

Trenton, Aug. 29 (Special).—State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Job H. Lippincott has revoked the automobile driver's license of William B. Smith, of Caldwell, as the result of a smashup at Fairfield in which Smith was implicated on August 7. Mrs. Herman Schiffin, of New York, was injured in the collision. Mayor John Espy, of Caldwell, wrote Mr. Lippincott that in his opinion Smith was not a fit person to hold a driver's license. The Mayor charged that Smith at times became intoxicated.

William B. Smith, formerly lived at New Market, and he gained considerable prominence about here as one of the Fair heirs. As a beneficiary of that estate he was frequently in the limelight. He removed to Caldwell several years ago and during his residence there he met with business reverses and it is said that he has lost considerable of his fortune.

WESTFIELD PROUD OF NEW "WHITE WAY"

350 - Candlepower Tungsten Lamps Blaze All Around Town's Business Block.

Westfield, Aug. 29 (Special)—The main streets of the town, last night, for the first time were lighted with fifteen new 350-candlepower tungsten lamps. The town now possesses a "white way" which rivals that of any of the neighboring places.

The new lamps have been placed on the business block bounded by Broad, Elm, Prospect streets and North avenue, and are to be lighted until midnight. The lights are 350-candlepower each and total 5,250 candlepower. The old lamps and circuit have been rearranged and are lighted after midnight.

The additional cost of lighting the new lamps is only about $500 more per year and a large part of this will be paid by an increased assessment on the property directly benefitted.

The improvement was made on recommendation by Council'man Sack, chairman of the street lighting committee, and is pronounced highly satisfactory by Mayor Dennis and the other members of the Council.

One of the councilmen was heard to say this morning:

TWO REAL MINSTRELS IN REAL MINSTRELSY

The appearance of Primrose and Dockstader's minstrels at the Plainfield theatre tonight is marked by the reunion of probably the two best known minstrels in this country. The show, the greater part of which is new, is said to be the best seen in years. Some of the old-time features have been retained, without which a minstrel show would lose much of its charm.

The company, headed by Primrose and Dockstader, gave a parade through the business section, making a fine appearance.

The two famous minstrels have gotten together an exceptionally strong company, every member being an artist in his particular line, and patrons of the theatre are assured of witnessing a fine production. The specialties are also said to be unusually good, greatly about the average.

DECLINES TWO INVITATIONS.

Mayor G. W. V Moy has received an invitation to attend the annual convention of the American Road Congress to be held at Atlantic City, September 30-October 5, and has been requested to appoint a committee of five citizens who will also attend the congress. Mr. Moy has also received an invitation to attend the fifth annual convention of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association to be held at New London, Conn., September 4, 5 and 6. The invitation comes from the New Jersey Ship Canal Commission, of which W. M. Jacobus is the secretary. Mr. Moy has been obliged to decline both invitations.

Y. P. S. C. E. MEETING.

There will be a meeting tonight of the Y. P. S. C. E. executive committee of Trinity Reformed church at the home of Miss Lucy Coriell, 211 West Fifth street. All members are urged to be present. The meeting will come to order promptly at 8 o'clock.

READY TO HARBOR CAMPAIGN FUNDS

State Trust Company Accepts Wilson Plan For Popular Party Subscriptions.

NON-PARTISAN AGENT

Financial Institution Will Act, As Chairman McAdoo Asked, As Receiver For Contributions to the Different Parties' War Chests.

The State Trust Company has consented to act as one of the numerous agencies for to receive election campaign funds, upon the request of William G. McAdoo, acting chairman of the National Democratic committee. The idea of having banks and trust companies receive money for campaign purposes was conceived by Governor Wilson. To bring about the election of a President through a campaign financed by popular subscriptions, would be a distinct and gratifying triumph, declared the Governor.

E. F. Feickert, vice president of the State Trust Company, has written Mr. McAdoo as follows:

"Replying to your letter of the 24th instant, we beg to say that this company will be very glad to act as agent for the receipt of contributions to the campaign fund of any or all of the three parties, and in accordance with the request made in your communication above acknowledged, we have notified the Plainfield newspapers."

In writing to the banks and trust companies, Mr. McAdoo explained that it was expected that they would charge for all expenses they may incur in this service. Mr. McAdoo's letter follows:

"An unprecedented opportunity is presented to the Banks and Trust Companies of this country for the performance of a patriotic service of inestimable value to the epople.

"There has long been a deep seated conviction in the public mind that Presidential campaigns have been financed by certain interests having a special stake in the control of government. It is clear that such campaigns should, for the common good, be free from the suspicion of sinister influence.

"The Democratic party at least will respond to the overwhelming popular sentiment in favor of the financing of presidential campaigns by the people themselves. This year's campaign must be financed by "popular subscriptions." These cannot be secured unless convenient and responsible agencies all over the country are provided for the receipt and transmission of subscriptions.

"Banks, trust companies and newspapers are the best agencies. The newspapers are already at work. Will the banks and trust companies perform the same patriotic service? The banks and trust companies, of course, will not be partisan. They should accept and transmit subscriptions for each of the National parties if they act at all.

"Will you agree to receive and transmit subscriptions to the Democratic National Committee, the Republican National and the Progressive National Committees?

"Speaking for the Democratic National committee, I would not ask you to act for one unless for all. This must be a patriotic service to the public and not to any one party. Each day a list of the banks agreeing to act will be given to the press.

"Will you kindly telegraph, at our expense, if you will serve? If you will agree to do so, please notify the newspapers of your community. In order that you may know the attitude of Governor Wilson in regard to popular subscriptions, I enclose a copy of a letter from him on the subject, just received.

In the event that you accept, Rolla Wells, treasurer, Room 556, Fifth Avenue Building, will arrange all details.

"Yours truly,
"W. G. McADOO,
"Acting Chairman."

"Aug. 24, 1912."

CRANE FOR BABCOCK.

The petition of Attorney Robert Newton Crane for the Assembly nomination, bearing 200 signatures, was ready for filing today, when Mr. Crane after giving the matter careful consideration, decided to withdraw the petition. In doing this he said that he believed that Assemblyman George L. Babcock was entitled to a renomination and election and he would give him his support in the coming primaries.

MAYOR PLANNING FOR MOOSE RALLY HERE

Some Night Next Week, He Says, Rousing Meeting Will Be Held.

Plans are under way for holding a Bull Moose mass meeting in this city some night next week, at which time the makeup of a local ticket will be decided upon. Mayor G. W. V. Moy is in charge of the local arrangements and he announced today that it was proposed to hold a rousing rally. There will be several speakers of prominence and the campaign will be opened here in earnest.

When questioned today about a local ticket, Mayor Moy said that no action would be taken until the coming meeting. He said that there would be no "slate," that everything would be done above board and by a popular expression of opinion. There was no doubt in the Mayor's mind as to there being a complete local ticket in the field, and he hinted that strong men would be named for each office to be filled. Details as to the time of holding the meeting, the speakers, etc., will be announced within a few days.

LOCAL PLAYGROUND'S ROUTINE ACTIVITIES

Franklin School Yard Has Become Popular Under Miss Sherwood's Direction.

The annual party of the juvenile attendants of the Franklin School playgrounds was held yesterday afternoon and about 140 children were entertained by the supervisor, Miss Jeannette Sherwood. A plentiful supply of eatables such as delight the hearts of the younger set were supplied to the children present and everyone was given a good time. Before and after the refreshments were served the regular playground class gave an exhibition of the routine of work carried on by Miss Sherwood and a number of interesting games were played.

The Franklin School yard has been one of the most successful of the four school playgrounds that were run in this city during the summer months. About fifty children have enjoyed the privileges of the finely equipped grounds during each session and the work carried on by Miss Sherwood has interested the several classes of youngsters who range in age from four to fifteen years. The playground was opened July 5 and the sessions have been held from 9:30 to 12 in the morning and from 2 to 5 in the afternoon every day since then and will continue until September 7.

In former years a number of rainy days and other unfavorable weather conditions has been a great handicap to the playground work and weather conditions compelled the instructors to shut down an average of one day a week. During the past season there has been but two days on which the children were kept off the playgrounds because of wet weather and a larger amount of work has been accomplished by those in charge.

At the Franklin School, Miss Sherwood has instituted regular classes in sewing and dancing for the girls and these have become so popular that it has become necessary to lift the regulation restricting it to girls and a number of boys have taken an active interest in the daily work. Basketball, apparatus work and appropriate playground games have been encouraged among the boys and great progress has been made along that line.

The case was reported to the police, and Chief Kiely said this morning that in his opinion the door to the company's office had not been locked and that boys had entered. Harold Blazier, of 178 Grove street, North Plainfield, notified the police at city headquarters this morning that his bicycle had been stolen from in front of his home some time yesterday.

TWO WOMEN SEEK HELP IN SEARCHES

Mayor Gets Coincidental Appeals From Anxious Women —North Plainfield Clue.

By a strange coincidence Mayor G. W. Moy today received letters from two different people in which they sought information concerning the whereabouts of relatives. One query came from Mrs. Mary Cox Chapman, of 806 Palmer place, Nashville, Tenn., who would like to find Mrs. Sarah Leahy, who, she says, lived in this vicinity at one time. Mrs. Chapman states that the woman's maiden name was Langton, she being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Langton. She further states that the woman was born in Rahway.

The other missive came from Mrs. Edward Carroll, of Perth Amboy, and she seeks the whereabouts of her husband. She says he deserted her and her baby a year ago and since that time she has been unable to get any definite information about him. Mrs. Carroll says that she understands that her husband has relatives at 281 Somerset street, North Plainfield, who she hears have received cards from him from time to time, but nothing since May 30 last, when he was supposed to be in St. Paul, Minn.

Mrs. Carroll says she is being supported by her father, but wants to know if there is not some way of finding her husband and making him take care of her. At present she is living at 83 Smith street, Perth Amboy.

MULL OVER POSSIBLE COUNCIL MATERIAL

Democratic Conferees Consider 13 Men—Two Have Petitions Signed Up.

Determined to put a full local ticket in the field, the members of the nominating committee of the Wilson and Marshall Democratic Club, and the members o fthe Democratic city committee held a conference last night to talk over possible candidates. No positive candidates were decided upon, but from two to five names were considered for each councilmanic office. It is possible that there will be no one to oppose City Treasurer Arnold, who will be renominated by the Republicans.

In the First Ward, among the names considered were those of W. R. Way, John P. Owens and John Schinkle, while those mentioned as possible candidates in the Second Ward were Sigfried Arens, George Tyler Smith and J. B. Gutteridge. It was said that A. H. Attebury had been asked to run in the Third Ward, but he had not signified whether or not he would be a candidate, and another name considered was that of Daniel J. Couraine, who is an avowed candidate for the position. In the Fourth Ward the names of five were considered, Henry Lietke, Fred Ivamy, John B. Corey, P. B. Hodge and Frank Cullen.

Couraine's and Cullen's friends have been busy with petitions, and their nomination papers are ready to file with the City Clerk. Those two, at least, it is certain will be candidates at the primary.

But a very few of the men mentioned have been approached about their possible candidacy, so that nothing definite would be decided upon. A number of men will be seen and asked whether they will stand or not, and in case they consent, they will be endorsed at another meeting.

ELECTION BOARDS ORGANIZE SEPT. 3

First Day For Registration of Voters Falls On September 10.

PRIMARY INFORMATION

How Electors May Qualify to Cast Their Ballots If Not Carried Over From Last Election List—Early Vote Urged.

The first duties to be performed by the election officers in connection with the coming election will occur on September 3, when there will be organization and the taking of oaths. This is to prepare the men for September 10, when the first registry for the primaries will be taken.

On September 14 the poll clerk will give notice of the time and place of the primary election by posting five or more advertisements in conspicuous places.

The election board will be furnished with stamped envelopes and sample primary ballots on Tuesday, September 17, in accordance with the law which provides that this action must be taken on the Tuesday preceding the primary election, which occurs on September 24. These envelopes shall be mailed on Wednesday, September 18, before noon. Copies of the ballots must be posted at the polling places and at five other places in the district.

On September 23, the ballots and the ballot boxes for the primary election shall be delivered to the district board.

On primary day, September 24, there will occur the second registry day. This registration will be for the general election only. The polls for the primary election will be open from 7 o'clock in the morning to 9 o'clock at night. The clerks delivering the ballots and other election material to the district board shall take a receipt and file it with the city clerk. Before they take up their duties on primary day the clerks shall take an oath that they will conduct the election honestly and according to law. Every voter offering to vote at the primary election must have first registered for the general election.

On October 22, the third meeting of the board of registry will be held, and on the following day a copy of the complete registry list shall be delivered to the county clerk, signed and certified by the board. A copy of the registry list shall be exposed for inspection in the district.

Sample ballots and envelopes will be given to the district board on October 29, and mailed the next day before noon. On November 4, the city clerk shall deliver the official ballots and ballot boxes. On election day, November 5, the polls will be open from 6 o'clock in the morning until 7 o'clock at night.

To vote at the primary election a man who did not vote at the last general election must register on the first registry day, September 10. If he fails to do this, he will be prohibited from casting a ballot for the nomination of candidates.

If a voter cast his ballot on last election day he is carried over and registered for the primary election. But he must register at the primaries in order to vote at the general election. On October 22 there is the last registration day and this is open for those who do not vote at the primary elections and who wish to cast a ballot at the general election. Those who did not vote at the last general election must register on September 10. They will not be able to register for the primaries on primary day.

Considerable delay may occur and some ballots held up if an early vote is not cast. This year's ballots will carry the names of the nominees for the presidency, and other offices that did not come under last year's elections. These names will make the ballots exceptionally long and occasion a much longer time to mark. If there are forty or fifty men waiting to vote after 7 o'clock at night some of them are bound to be preevnted from voting at 9 o'clock when the polls are closed.

Voters not well acquainted with the new method of voting would do well to mark their sample ballots opposite the names of those for whom them wish to vote. When they get into the voting booths they may copy these marks on their official ballot. In this way hardly any delay will be experienced.

LIVES NEAR MRS. GRUNDY.

James Ross, of 10 Somerset place, was arraigned before Recorder Gano in the North Plainfield court, this morning, for allowing his children to roam about the streets not clothed sufficiently. Chief Weiss had told him to take care of the children several times, but heeded no notice to the requests. Recorder Gano dismissed him on suspended sentence after he promised to care for the children properly.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

Reunions are always interesting to the public, which has a perfectly natural desire to see the things its fathers and mothers saw and still talk about. Many of these successful partnerships have been severed by the relentless hand of the Grim Angel; some have been parted for purely business reasons. Last year saw the tremendously successful reunion of Joe Weber and Lew Fields, this year will mark the equally important reunion of Primrose and Dockstader. Twenty years ago the name of Primrose and Dockstader's Minstrels was a household word in every locality where minstrelsy flourished in the hearts of the people, and as exemplified by them, this form of entertainment reached its high water mark. The production which will be known as Primrose & Dockstader's "Greater Minstrels" will be the best equipped minstrel company which ever set out from New York city, and will be seen at the Plainfield theatre tonight.

The offering at the Plainfield theatre Saturday night will be Delia Clarke's new candidate for popular favor, "Introduce Me," a four-act comedy, which is full of fun from beginning to end. Never does it become serious until nearing the climax of the third act, which ends strongly dramatic. The last act, it is claimed, makes the audience laugh almost continuously from the rise to the fall of the curtain. The moral of the play is particularly strong, and especially delights the women of the audience inasmuch as it gives an example of the fit of jealousy and rage a married man having affinities gets into when he suspects that his faithful and self-sacrificing wife also has a love on the side. His accusation made at the close of the third act is as deep as the strongest drama. The story is told in four acts.

One hardly associates horses, bears, geese, pigs, chickens and turkeys with grand opera, but still they are important features of Milton and Sargent Aborn's monster production of Balfe's masterpiece, "The Bohemian Girl," to be presented at the Plainfield theatre on Wednesday, September 11. It was only after due deliberation and many conferences with that wizard stage director, Edward P. Temple, who realized all of the earlier productions at the New York Hippodrome, that the latter assumed the stupendous task of staging Balfe's opera on such huge lines. Mr. Temple decided that if a truthful picture of the Gypsy life that "The Bohemian Girl" deals with so largely was to be given, all that was associated with it should be shown, hence the horses, geese, pigs, dogs and a band of real Gypsies.

REVOKE ORDERS TO DISPATCH TROOPS

Rebels Cease Interference Between Managua and Corinto.

Washington, Aug. 29.—Shortly before midnight last night the orders of President Taft directing the Tenth infantry to proceed at once from Panama to Corinto, Nicaragua, were revoked. The regiment, which was to have left Panama today, will remain in the canal zone and hold itself in readiness for further orders.

This action was decided on because the rebels have ceased their interference with communication between Managua and Corinto on the west coast. The revolutionists are still in force at Leon, the largest city on the line of the railroad from the capital to the sea, but have given up attempting to block the passage of the United States forces.

The navy has assured the state department that under these circumstances it will be able to keep communication open. The cruiser California, prepared to land several hundred bluejackets, will reach Corinto today, and this force, naval officials say, with the marines and bluejackets already on the scene, will be sufficient to cope with the situation for the next few days. More marines are due at Corinto next week, being now en route to Colon from Philadelphia, and the armored cruiser Colorado is on her way down the coast.

T. R. OFF FOR VERMONT.

Itinerary Today Includes Bennington, Rutland, Middlebury and Burlington.

New York, Aug. 29.—Colonel Roosevelt began this morning the first lap of his speaking campaign which is to last until the middle of October. He will talk in Bennington, Vt., and later in the day at Rutland, Middlebury and Burlington. The Progressive leader motored up from Oyster Bay, and, after completing the statement which is to be submitted to the Clapp committee of the senate, he boarded his train at the Grand Central station and left shortly after midnight for North Benningeon.

His itinerary for tomorrow calls for stops at St. Albans, Morrisville, Barton and St. Johnsbury, and on Saturday he is scheduled to speak at Barre, Randolph, Bellows Falls and Brattleboro. After the meeting at Island park, Brattleboro, Saturday evening, he will take the train for New York and spend Sunday at Sagamore Hill, preparing for the more arduous trip which begins the following day.

DOESN'T LIKE HIS SPEECH.

Wilson Prepares It In Advance, but Won't Follow It.

Sea Girt, N. J., Aug. 29.—Application of the tariff policies of the three political parties to the farming industry will be the chief topic of Woodrow Wilson today in his speech before the State Grangers' picnic, at Williams Grove, Pa.

He distributed advance copies of a portion of his speech. It did not satisfy him.

"You will see by reading this speech that I cannot prepare one in advance," said Dr. Wilson. "I have got to have an audience and the warmth that comes as I go along with my speech. I can't take a helpless stenographer and talk to him. It is like cruelty to animals."

JUSTICE GOFF AND WHITMAN CONFER

Likely That Prominent Lawyer Will Be Retained.

WITNESSES ARE DISCUSSED

Reported That Certain Policemen Know Location of "Lefty Louie" and "Gyp the Blood" and That Missing Gunmen Will Testify For Becker.

New York, Aug. 29.—Justice Goff and District Attorney Whitman held a long conference at Justice Goff's summer home at Millbrook, N. Y. At the conference final plans were laid for the John Doe investigation that begins next Tuesday before Justice Goff in an extraordinary session of the supreme court.

Among the important subjects discussed between the justice and Mr. Whitman was the matter of retaining as a special assistant for the John Doe proceedings a well known lawyer who is one of the best—some authorities say he is the best—jury advocate and cross examiner at the New York bar. This attorney is expected to continue the John Doe inquiry with undiminished activity while District Attorney Whitman personally is occupied later on the John Doe inquiry with the trials of Lieutenant Becker and others for the murder of Herman Rosenthal.

The list of witnesses who will be called upon to testify at the John Doe inquiry also was discussed by Mr. Whitman with Justice Goff. The district attorney brought to the conference the witness list as now prepared and which in all likelihood contains the names of the men who will testify.

Are Gunmen Located?

Just before Mr. Whitman took up his work with Justice Goff an unusual story, in which the probable location of "Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie" figures, came to the district attorney's ears. The story concerns the probable knowledge by Lieutenant Becker and his friends of where the two fugitive gunmen are at present, and the story as it came to Mr. Whitman caused the district attorney to give it serious consideration.

The district attorney's informant told him that there is reason for believing that Becker knows where "Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie" may be found now, and that Becker, with the passive and perhaps active aid of certain men in the police department is holding back the information which would lead to the immediate capture of the gunmen.

The information that came to Mr. Whitman continues that Becker and certain members of the police force hope to produce "Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie" when Becker is placed on trial for murder, but that the indicted lieutenant hopes to bring them into court to aid his own defense. The Becker plan as told to Mr. Whitman is that the two gunmen will take the stand at the last moment for Becker and swear that they saw Jack Rose Bridgie Webber and Harry Vallon do the actual killing of Rosenthal.

LEARNS SHE HAS 4 CHILDREN

Mother Told of Quadruplets Month After Birth.

Boston, Aug. 29.—Although four children were born to Mrs. Thomas H. Seely of Dorchester a month ago she did not know until yesterday that she was the mother of a quartet instead of twins, as she has supposed all along. When she saw all four of them all cuddled together in a crib she exclaimed with wonder and delight.

The babies are being kept in an incubator at the Dorchester Cottage hospital a part of the time and in a crib the rest of the time. The physicians say they do not know of any other set of quadruplets living as long as these have. The children are perfectly healthy and they will be kept at the hospital for a month more.

BITTEN, RACES 250 MILES.

Dog's Victim Rides 175 on Motorcycle, Then Takes Train.

Austin, Tex., Aug. 29.—A. D. Anderson of Dallas made a record breaking trip of 175 miles by motorcycle and fifty miles by train, arriving here to be treated for rabies in the State Hydrophobia Institute.

Anderson was bitten by a mad dog in the country near Dallas and, hurrying home, he notified his folks and immediately set out for this city, believing he could make better time by motorcycle than by rail. He got as far as Rogers, 175 miles, when his machine was disabled. He caught a train and arrived here.

PANAMA DEFIANT TO US.

President Refuses to Remove a Police Captain on Our Demand

Panama, Aug. 29.—The American minister, H. Percival Dodge, has requested the removal of Chief of Police Quijano and Police Captain Dalaossa.

The chief of police has presented his resignation and is leaving the country under an assumed name.

President Arosemena refuses to remove Captain Dalaossa, and Mr. Dodge has delayed his proposed trip to the United States until his demand is complied with.

Beauty in the Home.

It may not be the lucky fortune of all of us to have a "house palatial," but certainly it rests with the poorest of us to have a "house beautiful." The secret lies in the right choice of furniture and furnishings, and in their arrangement. There is as great a danger of having too much furniture in the home as there is in having too little.

And it is well to remember that a well furnished home does not necessarily mean a home filled with luxurious things. It is not unusual to find the most modest homes beautiful in the extreme, and all because the furniture has been chosen with a view to "the eternal fitness of things." Inexpensive furniture with good lines, in harmony with the general architectural features of the various rooms, frequently creates an atmosphere far superior to that produced by the higher priced and more elaborate furniture. We do not mean cheap furniture when we say inexpensive furniture. Cheap furniture always shows its cheapness. We do mean, however, the inexpensive examples of high grade furniture. We mean good furniture that is well made, substantial, and beautiful in line, but not necessarily the furniture that reaches the uppermost heights of the furniture maker's art.

The popular Mission Furniture, and the examples of Early English, ably illustrate the point. These are nowhere near the rich Mahogany, for instance, in price, but their intelligent use renders any room most attractive. In Wanamaker's August Sale of Furniture one can find very beautiful examples in these styles for Dining-room and Library at prices which make the furnishing of this part of the house astonishingly inexpensive. The pieces in this sale maintain the usual Wanamaker standard of quality and sincerity. One can depend upon the thoroughness of the workmanship and the perfection of finish in every piece purchased here.

Here, too, are most beautiful examples of the more luxurious furniture for those who are blessed with a "house palatial." The furniture needs must always be in keeping with the character of the house, and this is where it will be found at its best, and at prices which will well repay any trouble one may need to take to visit this store at this time. Since we are all agreed that "there is no place like home" no sacrifice is too great to make home a place of continual delight, comfort, and beauty. This Wanamaker offering does much to help us accomplish this end without any sacrifice.

ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS.

Plainfield, N. J., August 29, 1912.

Woman's suffrage, the initiative and referendum, good roads, taxation, the minimum wage and a change in the judicial system are among the things that have been incorporated in proposed amendments to Ohio's constitution. These suggested amendments will be voted on at a special election to be held on Tuesday. Altogether there are forty-one amendments offered for ratification and they deal with a wide variety of problems. The convention which framed them was in session for six months and its deliberations cost the State some $200,000.

The initiative and referendum proposal, as adopted by the constitutional convention, will go into effect on October 1 of this year if ratified, while the other proposals will not be effective until January 1.

The proposed initiative and referendum provided for the direct initiative upon petition of 10 per cent. of the State's voters on amendments to the constitution, and the indirect initiative upon legislative questions.

Another proposed amendment provides for limiting the power of the Supreme Court by making the Circuit Courts the court of last resort in the majority of cases. The name of the Circuit Court would be changed to the Court of Appeals. The Supreme Court would then be the last court in constitutional cases, and cases where the life of a prisoner was at stake.

The woman's suffrage proposal would eliminate the word "male" from the present constitution, and give votes to woman. Suffragists are making a state-wide campaign for the passage of this amendment.

Those opposed to equal suffrage are making an equally strong campaign against its passage.

Under the proposed home rule for cities proposal, municipalities could adopt any one of the three following forms of government:

First. They might, upon the vote of the electors, elect fifteen citizens to frame a charter, which would then have to be submitted to the voters for approval.

Second. They might adopt, by a majority vote, a form of government provided by the legislature.

Third. They might decide to be governed as at present, by a municipal code framed by the legislature.

The removal of all public officials, including the judiciary, upon complaint and hearing, is provided for in an amendment, which was passed by the convention after the recall, as in effect in the western states, had been defeated.

Another proposal which is causing much campaigning throughout the state is the one providing for a liquor license. The proposal provides for limiting the number of saloons, one to every 500 population. In the larger cities it would decrease the number of saloons from two-thirds to one-half.

Within four months the parcels post system will be in effect and Senator Bourne, the author of the measure, is already predicting great success for the scheme. Just at present the Postoffice Department is busily engaged in working out the preliminary details and plans will be shaped as speedily as possible in the hope that the system may be put in operation by January 1 next. According to Senator Bourne everybody in the country will be benefitted by parcels post with one exception, it being the express companies. The prediction is made that the business of these common carriers, who have been robbing the people right and left by their outrageous charges, will show a falling off of at least thirty per cent. This will be caused by the cut in rates to be made by the parcels system, for packages will be carried for twenty-five per cent. less than express rates. Fourth class mail rates generally will be greatly reduced.

By a vote of approximately 23,000 to 2,000, New Orleans has adopted the commission form of government, including the initiative features. This makes the list total above 200 and the movement is spreading so rapidly that undoubtedly twice this number of cities will be conducted by the commission plan within the next year.

No, Constant Reader, "Foxey George" Parrott, who has just filed his petition for a nomination, has not held on to that fat plum, the surrogate's office, for half a century. He's only occupied the place for half that time, but if he lives long enough the half century record will certainly be reached.

Well, that racket raised by the newspapers all over the land when the Sunday closing of the postoffice was announced proved to be effective enough to prompt the Postmaster General to so "modify" the new provision as to make it practically nil.

England serves notice that she will submit her canal protest to the Hague tribunal. Grover Cleveland called Great Britain's bluff in the Bluefields' case and Mr. Taft may be depended upon to do likewise in this instance.

The candidacy of Lloyd Thompson for a Republican Assembly nomination appears to be well received generally. He would undoubtedly add strength to his party's ticket.

The American Bar Association pronounces the initiative and referendum a peril. Quite right; a peril to boss rule and corrupt administration.

Note that the Treasury Department is washing dirty money. My, but wouldn't some campaign treasurers like to have the recipe?

New York politician on an outing ate nine pounds of steak. Took advantage of a long deferred chance.

"Where is Lefty Louie?" is getting to be as much os a mystery as "who hit Billy Patterson?"

BEHIND POLICE INQUIRY.

William Jay Schieffelin, Who Is Paying Detective Burns.

They certainly are stirring up the animals, likewise the "system," in little old New York. There are not only investigations by the board of aldermen and by District Attorney Whitman, but the redoubtable William J. Burns, who got Abe Ruef, the McNamaras and several other people, is on the job. It is common report that Burns' expenses are being borne, at least temporarily, by William Jay Schieffelin, president of the Citizens' Union.

Schieffelin is a man who does things himself. He is only forty-six years old and looks much younger. Yet he has been civil service commissioner, regimental adjutant in the Spanish-American war, head of a big wholesale drug company, member of American, German and British chemical societies and president of various church and civic bodies, national and otherwise.

Mr. Schieffelin is a graduate of the Columbia School of Mines and has a Ph. D. from the University of Munich, Germany. He succeeded R. Fulton Cutting as president of the Citizens' Union in 1908, in which capacity he has been a storm center of New York city politics.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The Congregational church will reopen on Sunday, September 8, with a communion service. The preparatory service will be held Friday night, September 6, at 8 o'clock.

Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, pastor of the First Baptist church, who has been spending his vacation at Morrisville, N. Y., will return home tomorrow and will occupy his pulpit on Sunday. The monthly communion service will be held in the morning with reception of members.

FILL ELECTION VACANCIES.

The County Board of Elections announced the appointment of the following Republican election officers to fill existing vacancies: Plainfield, Thomas M. Cummings, second district, Second ward; Rahway, Herbert H. Gehring, first district, Second ward; Fanwood borough, Geo. S. Raimier; Linden township, John Conrad; Kenilworth borough, William Cretty and William Sparr. These names were recommended by the county committee, as the latter is allowed to do this when there are vacancies remaining after the Civil Service examinations for election officers.

Herbert E. Parker, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., is expected home from his annual vacation next Tuesday.

Fred W. Bird, of East Front street, who has been spending the summer at Asbury Park, will return to Plainfield early in September.

QUAKER GIRL COMING.

Alfred L. Dolson, of the well-known Henry B. Harris theatrical company, is in town arranging with Manager Sanderson for the production of "The Quaker Girl," an English operetta which is reported to be the greatest musical comedy since "The Merry Widow." The play will be produced here Monday, September 9, at the Plainfield theatre, with a company of nearly one hundred, including a chorus of fifty and an orchestra of twenty pieces

IN WOMAN'S REALM

GREEN PEAS.

WHEN selecting peas see that the pods are crisp, plump and green. Never accept hard peas, for they are indigestible and unpalatable. Peas are nutritious, but they must be chewed to break the hull before swallowing; otherwise the stomach juices cannot act on them.

Peas should be washed in the pods before shelling. When cooking green peas add a cube of loaf sugar. This will make them keep their color just as well as soda and will not cause them to become mushy, as the latter does.

Simple Eatables.

Boiled Green Peas.—Take two quarts of green peas and wash and shell them. Put into a saucepan and cover with boiling water. Boil slowly until tender, from thirty to forty minutes, without a cover, adding one teaspoonful sugar and one teaspoonful onion juice to the boiling water. Drain and add one teaspoonful salt, one teaspoonful butter and a dash white pepper. Serve in a rice mold.

Green Pea Salad.—The cold peas left over from dinner may be used for this. Line a salad dish with fresh young lettuce leaves. On these distribute the cold green peas with sliced cucumbers, then heart of lettuce leaves and more cucumbers and peas. Moisten with a little French dressing and place a spoonful of mayonnaise on the salad.

In Fancy Cases.

Peas In Cases.—Peas are nice served in cases made of mashed potatoes. The cases are made by stiffening finely mashed potatoes with a little flour, seasoning with salt and pepper and baking in fluted cake pans, placing a piece of bread in the center of each to keep the mold in shape. The bread is removed when the cases are baked. Boil the peas and when tender add a teaspoonful of butter which has been rubbed into a tablespoonful of flour, season with salt and pepper and pour into the cases. Serve hot.

Served With Duck.

Roast Duck and Green Peas.—When roasting duck try this method: Let the fowl roast until nearly half done, then place it in a stewpan with a pint of good gravy and a little sage, cover it close and let duck continue to simmer in the pan for half an hour, then put in a pint of boiled green peas. The peas are put in to thicken the gravy. Put the duck on a dish and pour gravy and peas over it.

MOTHERS' WORK

Contributing Staff.

Mrs. G. Stuart Simons, Mrs. Jos. Smith, Mrs. Wm. M. Sandford, Jr.

The Daily Press for Thursdays containing the column on Mother's Work will be sent by mail for one dollar a year, in advance.

It has been said that only mothers and men of great soul who know little children and understand the mystery of spiritual education, have learned that the golden years lie at the very beginning, and the deepest education is imparted in the light of dawn; an education that cannot be measured by the tests of primary or even collegiate education. In these earliest years it is the mother who is the greatest factor and influence in the child's life. It was not intended that it should be so, human parentage means both father and mother, but custom having so adjusted affairs that fathers being chiefly responsible for the welfare of life, little time is left to them for child nurture, so on the mothers chiefly devolves this responsible task, that this wonderful machinery of the mature, noble man or woman shall be started right, notwithstanding the complexity of its delicate mechanism. Having reached that most important mile-stone, the sixth year, when home and state judge the child to be capable mentally, and both physically and spiritually strong enough to make his first great venture in the world, into a new life a new home, with a foster-mother and many little brothers and sisters, he enters that most wonderful institution, the public school. I wonder how many ever stop to think that this first day, the first long day at school, is the greatest crisis in your child's life. Perhaps yours is the timid child, who, reluctantly bidding you good-bye with a feeling of awe and wonder, quietly takes his seat, eagerly scanning the teacher's face to read if she too will lose him as mother does, so many little boys and girls around him make him wish to be at home with only baby brother or little sister. Or, it may be yours is one of the courageous little souls who love change and excitement and the first day is a joyful novelty.

Whichever it is for them, for you it is the day when your kingdom is invaded, when a rival has come to sit with you on the throne of your child's mind and heart. What better could we do than make this woman our co-worker, our adviser, even our best friend? thus recognizing and cementing the interdependence of school and home.

It is an old and true saying, that when a stranger takes a child by the hand, she takes the mother by the heart, and surely by the sympathy which will be awakened by heart to heart talks between parent and teacher much which is beneficial must result. The mother will find in the teacher a wise adviser and sympathetic friend. This is now the influence which is to decide for many a boy or girl whether school is to be a desirable place for years to come. The child study movement has become such a progressive factor to so many leading thinkers that there are now in many schools Parent-Teacher Associations, which means that parents and teachers work together over child problems that can be solved only by the united effort and interest of the guardians of both home and school. It is preeminently the right and duty of the teacher to know what is being done for the child at home.

It is her function to further the best teachings of parents or help build a standard of right living where there has been a poor one or none at all. To do this she needs to know and become intimate or at least on social terms in the home.

Now and then parents feel that the teacher is not qualified for her duties; however this may be, granting the truth, is it not then your duty to her, to help elevate and bring her into refined surroundings, showing your sympathy and interest. Surely a good rule works each way. If she keeps and influences our children, we can lift and influence her life, perhaps implanting higher ideals and ambitions than could ever come to her working alone.

Do you know your child's teacher?

Have you ever called on her?

Have you ever told her how much you appreciate her untiring efforts for your child; that realizing John is a nervous boy or that Mary is careless about her work you are sure they must try her patience. Though you are helping them at home to overcome these, you need her advice and friendly counsel.

Have you ever visited your children's school and seen the environment which surrounds them six hours each day, almost their entire making period? Have you even invited her to your home and given her an opportunity to see her pupils in their home surroundings? Has it ever occurred to you, in the many Saturdays when you could not use your team or auto to send it around to the teacher with a cheering note saying you know she must be weary with the week's work and you want her to go for a long drive in the healthful fresh air; or, when some good lecture or concert has come to town have you ever sent her tickets or invited her to accompany you? Have you ever so much as sent a plant for the school room? Have you in any way manifested the least interest or appreciation of her ceaseless labor for your child.

The cry today is not that teachers are not interested in education of children, but mothers are not interested—only superficially so. They seem to feel when the child enters the school their duties are over. If he doesn't learn it's the teacher's fault, if he acquires wrong ideas and habits of life, it's dire association with other boys and girls at school never stopping to think that by entering the school life with your child, walking hand in hand with the teacher, and bringing his new friends into your home, will do wonders to make the new life of your boy or girl a stronghold for all future.

"Come let us live with our children," means more than being housed under the same roof. It is not alone the mother and child who are benefitted. The teacher will have a deeper consecration for her work. She will gain such a spiritual uplift that her duties—rather her privileges—will become more beautified, and new strength, insight and inspiration will come to her. I cannot close without one earnest plea for better attendance at Parent-Teacher metings. These meetings, presenting numberless topics of interest and value, touch life at every point from college-bred woman to the mother whose advantages have been so limited that she is unable to read or write. Meetings, not wholly social, but where suggestions are given for making home the brightest spot on earth, where children's games, stories and songs are discussed, where child nature is made a special study. These wonderful meetings, where in the simple surrounding of your child's school life, parent and teacher with bowed head offer a mutual prayer.

WORK GOOD FOR WOMEN.

Professor Scherger Says Toil Made Primitive Wife Man's Equal.

In primitive times when the male half of the household went out to his wars, his hunting and his pleasures and left the other half behind to do the dirty work man and woman were more on an equality than at the present time.

This is what George L. Scherger, professor of political economy and history in Armour institute, said recently.

It was the work the women did which put them on a par with men. When they commenced to take it easy they degenerated. He said they should receive at least equal recognition with men because—

They were the first farmers.

They were the first carpenters or builders of homes.

They were the first to tackle art by making pottery.

They were the first writers.

They were the tamers of all domestic animals, except the dog.

"It seemed to be the business of the primitive man to go out and get the food," said Professor Scherger. "The women were left at home to develop art and industry. Women degenerated as soon as they were deprived of the opportunity to work. As soon as they were shut up in the household they became parasites. So long as they were able to work they maintained an equality with men."

Professor Scherger cited Mrs. Ella Flagg Young and Miss Jane Addams as women who were at least equal with any men in the same line of work.

CROP VALUES NEARLY TRIPLE IN 11 YEARS

Trenton, Aug. 29 (Special).—The value of New Jersey farm crops have increased from $24,249,179 in 1900 to $67,715,872 in 1911, according to the annual report of the State Board of Agriculture just issued. The increase in the value of the crops of 1911 over those of 1910 was about $3,000,000. The total value of the farm and farm properties in the State is $254,832,665. The value of the domestic animals and poultry on the New Jersey farms is now $24,588,639, an increase since 1900 of more than $7,000,000.

Another interesting thing shown in the report is that the encroachment of cities and town on the farming area in the State has reduced the farm acreage since 1900 to the extent of 267,100 acres, which is equivalent to the elimination of 2,255 farms of the present average size of 76 acres.

TUTTLE ON A COMMISSION.

Washington, Aug. 29—Speaker Clark has announced the House members of the joint Congressional Commission to investigate second class mail matter with reference to rate of postage and cost of transportation. He named Tuttle, of New Jersey; Lloyd, of Missouri, and Weeks, of Massachusetts. The Senatorial Commissioners are Bourne, of Oregon; Richardson, of Delaware, Bankhead, of Alabama. The importance of this commission is that it has grown out of a business demand for penny postage. The appointment of Representative Tuttle is a rather unusual recognition of a first term member.

FEW CITY PETITIONS IN.

But few primary petitions for the various local offices to be filled at the coming election have been filed at the city clerk's office as yet. Those now there are for Percy H. Stewart, Democratic candidate for mayor; J. V. F. Dilts, Democratic candidate for collector; C. Van Herwerden, Republican candidate for Council in the Second Ward; U. B. Crane, Republican candidate for Council in the First Ward, and Andrew Crowley, for member of the Republican county committee in the sixth district of the Fourth Ward.

JUNK BUYERS ARRESTED.

Michael and Joseph Rosso, of Elizabeth, were before Judge DeMeza in the city court this morning, charged with buying junk in the city without the formality of getting a license. They seemed to think that as they were only buying at wholesale they did not have to have a license, and as the officer who made the arrest did not have his witnesses in court, the case was put over until Saturday morning. The same men were arrested in the borough earlier in the week, and took out a license there.

BONE GRAFTING CURES CLUBFOOT

PATIENT COMPLETELY WELL.

Successful Operation Opens a New Field In Surgery—Only Required Five Weeks, While Old Method Took Years and Then Was Unsatisfactory.

By a feat of modern surgery a two-year-old boy, admitted to the New York Postgraduate hospital five weeks ago with deformities which in the light of medical science of a few years or even months ago would have made him a hopeless cripple for life, recently returned to Waterbury, Conn., sound and normal in limb and functions.

Bone transplantation, the newest line of experimentation in twentieth century surgery, reclaimed the young cripple. Bones taken from the bodies of healthy infants who had suffered violent deaths and placed in cold storage were transplanted into the body of the boy by an entirely new operation, which can now be pronounced successful.

The little patient was born with deformed feet, commonly known as club feet, due to the fact that there were not the normal number of bones in the feet. The ordinary corrective measures hitherto employed by surgeons in similar cases required the cutting of the ligaments and tissues and the gradual straightening of the feet by the use of braces and apparatus. This treatment occupied years, and even if it produced corrective effect never gave required strength to the feet to bring about what might be termed an effectual cure.

It was a new idea and a bold stroke of surgery to attempt in this case to reconstruct and practically build up the skeleton of the foot by the use of bones from the bodies of other children. It was attempted, however, and accomplished with entire success and opens a new field to orthopedic surgeons.

Work of a Noted Surgeon.

Dr. Fred H. Albee, who is head of the department of orthopedic surgery at Cornell, at the University of Vermont and at the Postgraduate Medical school, whose recent original work in bone transplantation has attracted wide attention in the medical world, conceived and performed this new corrective operation for a deformity that for thousands of years has filled the world with cripples.

The patient was admitted to the Postgraduate hospital about five weeks ago, strong and normal except for the deformity. Dr. Albee was called in consultation as to corrective treatment and after examining the boy decided to perform the operation that naturally followed the line of his researches and experiments in bone transplantation or bone grafting.

By reason of his experiments with animals, chiefly dogs, at Cornell Dr. Albee had reached the conclusion that successful bone transplantation could only be accomplished by transplanting bones from the same species. It was necessary, therefore, to have human bones for the operation. They would have to come from healthy bodies, and the only way they could be procured would be to take them as early as practicable from the bodies of infants who had met violent deaths.

Had to Reshape Bones of the Dead.

In attempting to rebuild the skeleton of the feet it was necessary that the operating surgeon should make his calculations to the hundredth part of an inch in reshaping the bones taken from the bodies of the infants. This was done with surgical instruments.

A large clinic, including many prominent surgeons of New York and neighboring cities, witnessed the operation. The crippled boy was put under the influence of ether and wheeled into the amphitheatre, where everything was in readiness.

There were really two operations in one. First an incision was made in one of the deformed feet and the ligaments cut so it would assume normal position. Then the missing part of the skeleton made up of the human bone for that foot was put in place so it formed a juncture between the heel and the toe bones. The surgical wound was then closed with sutures and the foot placed in a plaster cast.

An operation exactly similar, except that the missing part of the skeleton had been slightly differently shaped out of the bone to be transplanted, was performed on the other foot, and it was placed in a plaster cast.

The combined operations occupied only about half an hour. Nurses kept careful guard over the boy in bed, for he was strong and playful and seemed to suffer hardly any pain as a result of the operation.

In four weeks the plaster casts were removed and the boy's feet were found to have assumed normal shape. No braces or bandages were used after the casts were taken off.

Value of Cocoa Exports.

In British Gold Coast of Africa the value of cocoa exported practically doubled from 1910 to 1911, rising from $4,000,000 to $8,000,000.

—Among the specials at Neuman Bros. tomorrow will be a fine assortment of fresh vegetables, everything that one could desire.

—"Oh, you make me soar!" petulently exclaimed the aeroplane to the aviator.

Philosophical Phelix Says:

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

Now we are awakened by the voice of "Kid Basketball" who is waiting for an opportunity to break through on us.

It must be nearly time for these petty leagues to wind up their championship race.

Everybody is trying to get five companions to enter the basketball league and get a leg on that fifty dollar silver cup.

We would do it too but scribes have no use for cups as they always stay aboard the aqua pura cart.

We did not think that 27 to 7 walloping would have such a terrible aftermath on the Bound Brook inhabitants. They actually make that lazy little advertising donkey of Charlie Newhouse's run for his life when they see him on the street.

Another one of the "seven" arguments, Newhouse will have seven heavers on the bench Labor Day.

Baseball clashes between the Scotch Plains baseball club and other nearby teams may not be money-making propositions but they certainly are boosters of Sunday baseball if the card presented with the Female Stars for next Sunday may be taken as a criterion.

Female ball players are a novelty in this section and it is up to the local fans to get a slant at them.

Talk about having a chance for a trip to Pennantville, that Commercial bunch cannot be beaten along the hitting line.

"Shakey" Clarke, their short stop, got three hits, three chances and three—well he forgot to get the three errors.

Playing his third game as a leaguer Harry Moulton, the youngster who played left field for the Public Service team last Saturday, certainly made good. He got two of his team's six hits and handled three put-outs in the field. Not a bad afternoon's work at that.

De Nitzo, of the R. G. E. combination, is without a doubt the best man playing short stop in the Manufacturers' League. He is a heavy hitter and, in Saturday's game he handled four put-outs and seven assists. Too bad his team will not enter into the spirit of the post-season if there must be such a thing.

Seven assists for a pitcher is going some. That is what Terry did in the Monroe Avenue-South Plainfield game Saturday.

The player who adorned the "pinnacle of fame" in amateur baseball Saturday afternoon was Arthur Grisley, the Hope Chapel captain.

He got two runs, one two bagger, two singles, one put-out, one assist, four stolen bases and that's all.

Gage had one of those big "3" red letter days Saturday. He pounded out three hits and registered three times.

Startling statement: "Aeroplanes interfered with County Club Golf." They might have spoiled the flights of Bound Brook's three twirlers Saturday if the airmen happened along that way.

YANKEES SCORE A VICTORY OVER THE PIRATE TEAM

In a game featured by ragged fielding and weak work at the bat, the Yankees took an 11 to 8 fall out of the Pirates in the Parker Field Junior Baseball League schedule yesterday afternoon. The game was closely fought up until the sixth inning but in their last two times at bat the Yankees got three runs and sewed up the game.

Both twirlers put up a pretty fair article of ball but Horan had to counteract eleven fielding errors made by his teammates while Hamilton had five made behind him.

MALONE DEFEATS LOCAL 14-INCH BALKLINE CRACK

James L. Malone, the crack pool and billiard player, defeated Lester Sackett in a match game of 14-inch balkline billiards, or "baseball pool," at Krewson's parlors last night. A large number of pool and billiard enthusiasts attended the match which was won by a score of 100 to 44.

REMINISCENCES OF OLD CRESCENT DAYS

Plainfield Had One of the Fastest Nines In the Country.

"Baseball, as it is played today by Ernest Dorflinger's high-priced stars might sustain a severe setback if the old Crescent A. C. players could be called back into the fold and a game played with the present day Plainfield baseball team," said James L. Malone, the billiard and pool expert, this morning.

Malone was in a reminiscent mood when seen by a Daily Press reporter, and became enthusiastic at once when the Crescent A. C. team was mentioned. He showed a number of transfigurations on his hands and some broken knuckles that he is proud of as relics of days gone by. Mr. Malone said that baseball was at its best in those days and the whole town turned out to the games. The greatest excitement imaginable prevailed at the games because of the large amount of betting. The Crescent nine was composed of some of the best players in the country as there were no National or American associations at that time and invariably won their games. They were recognized as the best team in the country and most of their games were played on the home grounds on Randolph road.

Malone could recall but one of his old teammates, as all this took place thirty years ago, and his companions have either died or scattered to remote parts of the country. He has kept in touch with Tom Keller, the present day clay pigeon sharpshooter, and they frequently get together and talk over their old baseball days. No gloves were used in those days and nearly every player could play any position he was assigned to on the diamond. Malone made a specialty of pitching and playing second base. In the box he relied almost entirely on a fast under-hand ball and his fielders had to work harder then than do the twentieth century ones, as strikeouts were rare.

After leaving Plainfield he went to Mexico and became manager of the Athletics. Before he took hold of that aggregation it had been defeated on five successive Sundays but things reversed when he took charge and four straight games were won. The natives went wild over the victories and betting was at fever heighth.

When asked if he knew Willie Keeler or Manager Daub, of the old Crescents, Malone said that these two players were not old enough to carry bats when he played here.

DIDN'T NEED A TRUNK.

He Was a Master of the Art of Traveling Without Baggage.

Sir Charles Napier was once delightfully pictured in Punch as setting out for Scinde with "his soap" and very little besides. De Latocnaye, a Breton emigre of 1796, who traveled in Ireland, chiefly on foot and invariably turned up at the houses of his friends with almost no visible baggage, carried nearly as simple an outfit. Yet in some mysterious way he was always able to appear at dinner in full dress. In his book "Promenade en Irlande" De Latocnaye tells how he accomplished the feat:

"I had my hair powder in a bag made of a lady's glove. My razor, needles, thread, scissors and a comb all went into a pair of dancing pumps. In addition, I carried two pairs of silk stockings, breeches of such fine stuff that they would fold up as small as my fist, three cravats, two very fine shirts, three pocket handkerchiefs and a dress coat with six pockets.

"Three of these pockets I kept for letters, portfolio, and so forth; in the others, whenever I was going to call at a decent house, I stowed away my belongings, which were packed some in the pumps, the rest in one of the pairs of stockings.

"At other times," he concludes, with more than French vivacity, "I tied the three parcels in a handkerchief and carried them at the end of my walking stick, on which I had managed to fix an umbrella."

Thus equipped he stayed at Lord Kenmare's for a week, at Hazelwood and at Florence Court for the same length of time, at Lord Altamont's and Ballynahinch for longer still, no doubt to the astonishment of housemaids as well as of hosts. But he was never disturbed by his lack of luggage and steadily refused all proffered loans of clothing.

By the time De Latocnaye got to Sligo the weather had broken, and he was obliged to add a spencer to his wardrobe.

MAGIC FIRE WRITING.

How to Perform an Amusing and Mystifying Trick.

This recipe for "magic fire writing" is given by the Pathfinder: Dissolve saltpeter in water until the water will take up no more. Then take the "wrong" end of a penholder and, dipping it in the solution, draw in thick strokes some name or design on a piece of light paper, taking care not to break the continuity of the writing anywhere—that is, all words must be joined. When dry the writing will be invisible. Fold over or roll up half an inch of each end of such a paper after it has been allowed to get dry and stand it on something that will not burn. Light a match, then blow it out and apply the glowing tip to some spot touched by the design (you can make an ink mark before applying the saltpeter to serve as a guide), and a tiny glowworm of fire will travel all along the lines traced and end by leaving the device burned out of the paper, no other part of it being destroyed.

By the use of a little ingenuity all sorts of amusing designs for this purpose can be got up. For example, you can draw in pencil or ink on the paper a picture of one boy throwing a baseball to another and also trace an invisible curved line in the saltpeter from the hand of the thrower to that of the catcher. Then when you touch fire to the thrower's hand the fire will follow the saltpeter line right to the other's hand.

Those who see the thing and are not in the secret will be much mystified as to why the fire follows this line and does not burn the rest of the paper. Saltpeter enters into gunpowder, and wherever it has touched the paper it makes it burn.

AIR KING WALSH AT TRENTON FAIR

Countless Thrills For Thousands When Curtiss Wizard Does the "Turkey Trot" and Other Feats.

Throughout the east the Trenton Fair is looked to for the great thrill of the year, and in the past the thrill has never been lacking. The 1912 Fair, which is to be held Sept. 30 and Oct. 1, 2, 3 and 4, will, it is said, surpass all former years with its sensational feature, for Secretary Mahlon R. Margerum has just announced the securing of that king of all air men, Charles F. Walsh of the Curtiss Exhibition company.

Trenton Fair patrons have witnessed flying feats before, but the performances of other years will pale into insignificance when compared to the extreme daring of Mr. Walsh. Mr. Walsh will introduce the feats that have made him the most talked of aviator the world has yet known, including the new "turkey trot," the spiral glide from a height of 6,000 feet, dipping and other death defying tricks that no one has ever done as the incomparable Walsh does them.

Mr. Walsh is to give flights every day in a Curtiss machine, and the Trenton Fair may well be considered fortunate in securing such a marvel of skill and daring.

HIGH CLASS HORSE SHOW AT TRENTON 1912 FAIR

At the close of the 1911 Trenton Fair there was only one opinion in regard to the horse show as directed by Robert A. Fairbairn—it was a show worthy only of highest praise and equal to most of the strictly horse shows in the country in spite of the fact that it was only one of the many features of the remarkable Trenton Fair.

Mr. Fairbairn will again have charge of this feature, and so much has been done to make it excel last year that no other result seems possible. Again the Fair will make a great showing of Clydesdales, Percherons and all other horses. An innovation will be the judging of all horses in a newly constructed ring directly in front of the grand stand.

Still another feature will be the parade of the prize winning horses and cattle Thursday. This should prove one of the most interesting events of the Fair, as some of the best show horses in America will be seen in the parade.

There will be a decided increase in the cattle show for 1912 also, as Professor Minkler has been devoting a great deal of his time in the development of this department. A new feature will be the Todd interstate breeders' consignment sale, to be held Thursday, Oct. 3.

This high class horse and cattle show should make Trenton the Mecca for all horse and cattle breeders during the Fair, which will be held this year Sept. 30 and Oct. 1, 2, 3 and 4.

NEW BATTLESHIP TO BE CALLED THE PENNSYLVANIA

Will Be Largest Vessel Yet Proposed by Any Nation.

Although the house of representatives voted for but one battleship, this will be a giant. The ship now authorized, which the secretary has decided to name the Pennsylvania, was designed by the naval constructors last spring. There will be few if any changes in the plans. Bids will be advertised for shortly, and they will be opened probably about Nov. 1.

The vessel will carry twelve fourteen-inch guns and exceptionally heavy armor, which will require a displacement of 31,000 tons. This will be the largest and most formidable vessel by far yet proposed by any power. The first ships to carry fourteen inch guns will be the Texas and the New York, which will have ten fourteen-inch guns.

The Oklahoma and Nevada, authorized last year, will have the same number and caliber of guns, but they will be arranged in four instead of five turrets—three guns in each of the forward and stern turrets and two in each of the other two.

On the Pennsylvania there will be but four turrets, each containing three fourteen-inch guns. The United States is the first nation to introduce three big guns in a single turret. The ship will have the most modern type of reciprocating engines, both oil and coal fuel burning, and will be required to make twenty-one knots.

KANSAS HORSES WEAR PANTS

Farmer Likes It and Horses Like It, So There You Are.

If you desire to witness one of the most novel sights to be seen anywhere in the United States you can enjoy that curiosity by a visit to the farm of John Heden, two miles south of Medora, Kan.

Following a custom of his own, Farmer Heden's horses all wear pants, or trousers, if that is a better term. These garments are not elaborate or expensive—merely the blue duck overalls such as Mr. Heden wears himself.

"Yes, the horses wear pants the year round," Mr. Heden told a party of automobilists passing his way a few days ago.

"People laugh at my horses wearing pants, but let them laugh; the horses like it," said Heden. "In the summer time they will raise an awful fuss if they have to go without their pants. It may look funny, but it keeps the flies from pestering them."

Orator Who Nearly Lost His Pants.

In the September American Magazine appears the following about a delegate at the Baltimore convention who made a speech: "The crowd listened approvingly to a frenzied speech from a southwestern statesman who introduced an entirely new gesture. With his right hand outstretched he made wild clutches at his shoulder with his left hand thumb. It turned out that this was no mere affectation to emphasize his rhetoric, but that his 'galluses' were slipping. He remarked to a fellow delegate as he came down from the platform, 'I durn near lost my pants.'"

It rained for three days straight around Norwich, and the town was inundated. Thousands were rendered homeless. Many buildings collapsed.

BOOTH'S FUNERAL IS ATTENDED BY 35,000

High Pitch of Emotion as Massed Bands Play.

London, Aug. 29.—It is estimated that 35,000 persons gathered in Olympia to take part in the memorial services of the late General Booth.

The scenes in the vast building were emotional to an extraordinary degree. It was probably the greatest funeral service the world has known.

It was not a service of sorrow. There was no black, no somber color. The playing of the dead march in "Saul," and the coffin, escorted by the oldest soldiers of the army which General Booth founded, were the only indications of death.

The chief impression conveyed by the proceedings was that of triumphant though solemn rejoicing for the life of a great religious leader.

Throughout the passage of the funeral procession, which occupied twenty minutes in passing up the arena, massed bands played and replayed the dead march. Then followed a long, emotional service, after which every Salvationist was invited to make a fresh consecration of his life and penitents were exhorted to come to the mercy seat.

Finally a hymn of triumph, with bands blaring and tens of thousands of voices singing, closed the ceremony, which, though inartistic in details, was yet deeply impressive in its vast and strange appeal.

GOLDFISH KILL MOSQUITOES.

Illinois Central Will Stock Pools With Minnows.

Stagnant pools along the lines of the Illinois Central railroad are to be stocked with goldfish minnows. They will eat mosquito eggs.

The plan was originated by Dr. G. G. Dowdall, chief surgeon of the road. He explained that the goldfish minnow is the only form of fish life that is practicable for such a purpose.

"We selected the goldfish," said Dr. Dowdall, "because it is the only fish available that will live in stagnant water and at the same time do the work we want done. Our idea is the extermination of the mosquito along our lines.

The goldfish is very fond of mosquito larvae as a steady diet.

"We believe that by stocking all the pools along our lines with the hardy little fish we shall be able in a short time to do away entirely with malaria and other disease carrying mosquitoes."

An Ingersoll Story.

John W. Mackay once invited Robert G. Ingersoll to visit the Comstock mines. As the cage descended to the furnace heat at the bottom of the shaft of one of the mines Mr. Ingersoll said, gasping for air, "Privately I always believed there was a hades somewhere, but I never dreamed it could be so hot."

One on the Duke.

On the occasion of the Duke of Connaught's recent visit to New York the royal gentleman got a jolt from a sprightly young American woman. During a dinner the duke humorously rallied her on the liberty taken by Americans in clipping the king's English. Later in the evening his royal highness, in the course of conversation, asked the young lady what place in London had most impressed her during her last visit.

"Sinpul, your highness," was the reply.

"Sinpul?" said the duke, with a puzzled air.

"Oh, yes, there is nothing in the town so wonderful to me."

"I'm afraid," answered the duke, with a kindly smile, "that you know my London better than I. Sinpul? Is it a theater, a cafe—what is it?"

"A church, your highness. We Americans call it St. Paul, but as you call St. John, Sinjin, this, it seems, must be Sinpul!"

Established a Record.

"What did mother say when you proposed to her, daddy?"

"She hung her head and was silent for several minutes. And that is the only time I have ever known her to be silent for several minutes."—Detroit Free Press.

Missed the Story.

"Say, what was that story about, Elvira?"

"Well, can you keep a secret?"

"Sure."

"So can I."—Ulk.

Advertising Pulls—It Doesn't Jerk

That is if it is put together rightly and placed in the right mediums. Under such conditions it is certain to influence your business to the betterment of it if you will only have the courage to "keep at it."

How did John Wanamaker and our other commercial kings build up their vast enterprises? Simply by good business ability and—Advertising constantly—keeping at it. You wouldn't apply a liniment with a feather would you, you rub it in—just the same with advertising, except that you keep on rubbing it in and the harder and longer you do the rubbing the greater the returns.

We once read in a country paper the following: "If you have a prosperous business, advertise and keep it—if not advertise and get it. If you can't find the necessary time to devote to advertising your business properly phone us. We have an expert who will put up your "Copy" that will bring sure results.

TWO GOING WEST TO WED SAME GIRL

Chums Conduct Their Courtship by Mail.

HER NAME ON EGGSHELL.

Neither Knew That the Other Was Wooing Her Till Both Were Engaged. Each Confident of Holding Her to Her Word.

Hackensack, N. J., Aug. 29.—Theodore Sidore, twenty-four years old, of Fairview, and George Zile, twenty-five years old, of Union Hill, who room together, are making preparations to go west to marry the same girl. Each has proposed by mail and each has been accepted. Neither one believes the other will be successful. They have conducted a courtship by mail for six months without knowing that the young woman stood in danger of becoming a bigamist. They have been inseparable comrades for years, and even now are on the best of terms. It was agreed that they would start for the girl's home together and put it up to her as to which is which. She lives in Topeka, Kan., but her name they refuse to disclose. Each suitor has a photograph, kept and treasured above all things.

This romance began several months ago when Zile was eating eggs for breakfast one morning. The shell of one had a name and address upon it, and he copied it before breaking it open. He said nothing to his chum at the time, believing that such matters should be kept private. Not more than a couple of weeks later Sidore was eating the same sort of breakfast food and there was an address upon one of the shells. Like his chum's it had been written with an indelible ink, and, although nearly washed off, it was easily decipherable. Sidore wrote a letter and said nothing to Zile.

By means of the mails the two courtships progressed until the girl suggested exchanging photographs. Both Sidore and Zile agreed and their photographs went west without dealy. In fact, from notes that they have recently compared it is probable that the likenesses reached the young lady on the same day. She immediately sent her picture to both young men

Both were charmed with it. It was a case of "you for me and me for you" with both of them. In fact, they both had it so bad that their friends began to notice a change. Finally two proposals were sent westward, and these two proposals brought forth letters of acceptance.

CHIEF SAVES FURNITURE.

Orders Men Back and With Piece of Soap Stops Fire.

Passaic, N. J., Aug. 29.—Attracted by a strong odor of gas in her parlor, Mrs. Adolph Hamburg of this city searched for the leak with a lighted match. A slight explosion was followed by a miniature geyser of flame, which spurted from a joint in the pipe two feet from the ceiling.

Mrs. Hamburg summoned the fire department.

Chief Bowker arrived as his men were dragging a line of hose into the house. Mrs. Hamburg shed tears because her new parlor suit was about to be ruined. Bowker ordered the men back. Grabbing up a large piece of soap in the kitchen he mounted a ladder and rubbed the cake up and down the flaming fixture. In ifty seconds the leak was plugged and fire snuffed out. "I was a plumber once," said the chief to his astonished comrades.

RICH MAN'S SON KIDNAPED.

Italian Baker of Passaic Victim of Black Hand Men.

Passaic, N. J., Aug. 29.—Charles Cannazzaro, a wealthy Italian baker, who has received many Black Hand letters, reported to the police that his son, Frank, two years old, had been kidnaped from in front of his home by a man who drove away in an express wagon.

Cannazzaro told the police he was away from home at the time his child was stolen, but that neighbors of his told him they saw the man drive up and offer the boy 5 cents. The man then invited the Cannazzaro child to take a drive with him, and the boy had accepted and climbed into the wagon, which was driven off.

DEDICATE THAW TELESCOPE.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 29.—Headed by Dr. Edward Charles Pickering of Harvard observatory, some twoscore members of the Astronomical and Astro-Physical society of America helped dedicate the Thaw memorial telescope, erected as a memorial to William Thaw and his son, William Thaw, Jr.

Although Allegheny observatory has been in existence for ten years it was formally dedicated and officially presented to the University of Pittsburgh.

Low Shoes at 85c a Pair

We've been busy every day this week selling these low shoes at the insignificant price of 85c a Pair.

Surely you have need of some such shoes as these, if not for dress wear for house shoes or for outing service, for which they are splendidly adapted.

MOTHER MURDERS HER THREE BABIES

Husband, Hurrying Home, Finds Them Dead.

TRIES TO KILL HERSELF.

Couple Had Quarreled and Husband Had Premonition That Something Was Wrong—Frantic With Grief, He Is Restrained by Police.

New York, Aug. 29.—Mrs. Sarah Sypher killed her three children and attempted suicide following a quarrel with her husband, the first they had had in ten years.

Mrs. Sypher was found unconscious lying on her bed beside the three children. Two gas jets were turned on, and the windows and doors were closed.

Mr. Sypher, who is an ironworker in Staten Island, left his home in Williamsburg in a happy mood. He quarreled with his wife, but she seemed to have got over her temper. He kissed her goodby and went in and kissed the three children as they lay in bed asleep.

Suspected Something Wrong.

He began to feel a premonition that something was wrong and asked the foreman to let him go home. He arrived home to find the doors locked. Quickly he beat them down and burst into the bedroom. He leaped back before a rush of gas and ran to throw open all the windows.

Returning to the bedroom he saw the three children—Edward, eight years old; Muriel, five, and Le Roy, four—lying on the bed just as he had left them. His wife lay across the bed.

He called frantically for help and some one got a nearby doctor, who was closely followed by Dr. Weithas from Bushwick hospital. Both pronounced the children dead.

Mrs. Sypher was taken to Bushwick hospital. No hope is held out for her recovery.

Sypher was frantic with grief and had to be restrained by the police, who feared that he, too, might try to kill himself.

CANNON IN KICK CONTEST.

Uncle Joe Accepts the Challenge of an Athletic Nonagenarian.

Moorhead, Minn., Aug. 29.—Uncle Joe Cannon, in a letter to State Senator Charles S. Marden, accepts the challenge of J. B. Blanchard, aged ninety, of this city, to a "high kicking" contest. Mr. Cannon's reply says:

"I cannot suggest that Mr. Blanchard first get a reputation before attempting to challenge me in this regard, for, of course, his prowess in this delightful sport is known to all men. In view of the tone of defiance indicated by this statement I cannot do otherwise than to accept."

Mr. Cannon then presents his best wishes to Mr. Blanchard, who on his ninetieth birthday declared he could beat "Uncle Joe or any other young old boys" at a high kicking contest.

The date of the meet has not been set.

Negro Married Same Woman Fifty-eight Years Ago.

Paterson, N. J., Aug. 29.—Among those who applied to Charles S. Gall, registrar of vital statistics, for a marriage license was Timothy Griffin, a negro, who gave his age as 108 years. He is to marry Lucy Blackwell, with whom he was a slave on a plantation in Ashley county, Va., fifty-eight years ago. They married according to a custom among slaves by jumping over a broomstick and declaring they were man and wife. They raised nine children and now intend to make their marriage legal.

Griffin was born in Ashley county, and his father took his name, Samuel Griffin, after the master of the estate. For twelve years they have lived in this city.

OVATION FOR MARSHALL.

Political Campaign In Maine Is Hottest In Years.

Bangor, Me., Aug. 29.—In the midst of the hottest political campaign this state has ever known, Governor Marshall of Indiana and Mrs. Marshall arrived here and received a big ovation. Governor Marshall came from Augusta, where he spoke at a big rally. One of the biggest Democratic meetings that city has ever known was addressed here by Governor Marshall. Governor Marshall speaks in Lewiston today and then leaves for home. He will be succeeded in the big campaign in this state by Speaker Champ Clark, who will open his Maine campaign tour at Rockland tonight.

DOME DAMPERS

The Dome Damper is today a recognized necessity to a properly constructed fire place. The flange forms an arch bar of ample strength to support the weight of masonry of the chimney above. The smooth surfaces of the dome are arranged to induce the greatest ease of exit for the gases and the proportions so scientifically worked out as to exclude the fear of a smoky fire place. The solid valve provides a means of closing the damper to the exclusion of down-drafts which are so frequent in the warm months thereby preventing the carrying of soot into the room.

CLOSING EXHIBIT AT BRYANT PLAYGROUND

Program Reviewed Work Accomplished By Miss Moe During the Season.

The closing exhibition of the outdoor work being carried on at the Bryant Schoolyard under the supervision of Miss Harriet Moe was held at the playground yesterday afternoon. About 200 children who have been in regular attendance at the daily sessions took part in the program and fully as many parents and friends of the participants were present. The Bryant schoolyard has become a popular rendezvous for the juvenile set of the east end of town and the grounds have always been well attended both in the afternoon and morning sessions. Miss Moe has established a system of working individually with the large number of children by appointing monitors. These are picked from the larger and more experienced children and are given a fixed squad of boys and girls to look after and help as individuals. Their work is varied and the squads are shifted about the playground so that no one group will monopolize a certain division of the work.

The exhibition program consisted of organized games such as "Shoemaker's dance," "Bluebell," "Muffin Mace," "Lads and Lassies," "Squirrel," "Cat and Rat," "Looly-loo," "Day and Night," "Red Rover," "Bull in the Ring," and "Did you ever see a lassie?" A number of characteristic playground dances were executed under Miss Moe's direction and included the following, "Hungarian," "Russian Crane," "I See Lou," "Danish Clap" and "Virginia Reel."

A regular schedule of athletic games was arranged by the instructor and they were the most exciting and interesting portion of the afternoon's program. The various events were practised by the contestants who have devoted their time to this form of athletic work rather than to baseball, which is played on many of the larger grounds. The potato race consisted of picking up a number of the real tubers which were placed at regular intervals along the ground and returning them to a receptacle at the end. The struggle for superior honors in this event was close and exciting and resulted in a tie for first place between Ronald Wilson and Aleta McDowell. The wheelbarrow race was won by Walter Morris and the sack race by May Bourke. Miss Moe will hold a closing party at the playground tomorrow afternoon.

SCHWARTZ EXPLAINS WHY OFFENDERS ARE NOT NAMED

Augusus Schwarz, of Elizabeth, county superintendent of weights and measures, dropped into town suddenly today, to continue his work of inspecting weights and measures. His errand was somewhat of a secret, and he said he did not care to disclose the purpose. In discussing conditions in Plainfield, Mr. Schwartz said that the average of incorrect weights and measures was no greater than in other parts of the county.

Mr. Schwartz said that he had frequently been asked why he did not publish the names of people whose weights and measures had been found incorrect. He explained this by saying that his first visit to a dealer is more for the purpose of correcting conditions which may exist through ignorance. When violations are discovered on a second call, prosecutions will follow.

Mr. Schwartz said that his experience had shown him that only a small percentage of dealers were wilfully violating the law. As yet no effort has been made to prosecute. Mr. Schwartz predicted that the work being conducted by his fellow superintendents in every county in the State would prove of incalculable value to customers.

HIT A GIRL; FINED.

John Brown, of New York, was fined $10 by Recorder Collins at the Westfield police court yesterday on the charge of disorderly conduct made by Julia Flemming, who said she lived in Plainfield. She claimed that they were walking together and in a quarrel he struck her. Brown pitched a few innings for the Royal Colored Giants, of Plainfield, in their game at Westfield last Saturday.

AGED SPINSTER DIES.

Miss Angeline B. Boyle, aged 91 years, employed as a servant in the home of Charles H. Scribner and his sister-in-law, Miss Agnes Vail, on Park avenue, near South Plainfield, died this morning from the infirmities of old age. She had lived with the family for many years. So far as known she had no relatives. The notice of funeral will be made later.

SCOTCHMEN HONOR RETIRING SECRETARY

Clan Mackenzie Presents Mr. MacPherson With a Medal of Merit.

Members of Clan Mackenzie 204, Order of Scottish Clans, and Craig-a-Lea Lodge, Daughters of Scotia, met last evening at the clan rooms on Park avenue to give a farewell reception to the retiring financial secretary of the clan, Mr. MacPherson. In return for the services he has rendered the clan since its formation the retiring officer was presented with a gold medal with the following inscription engraved on it: "As a token of esteem from Clan Mackenzie 204, 1912." The presentation was made by Chief Donaldson and took Mr. MacPherson completely by surprise. The recipient responded in a few brief and witty remarks saying that he would always cherish the gift for the spirit in which it was given.

At the close of his remarks those present sang "Bonnie Charlie, Will Ye No Come Back?" A number of short and appropriate addresses were made by Past Chief Robert Murray, Chaplin Donald McInnes and Clansman Doig. A collation was served in the hall and while those present were busily engaged in disposing of the good things prepared by the ladies, the following musical program was presented: Piano selection by Miss A. Wilcox; solos by Miss Elsie Murray and Miss A. Wilcox; song, Miss Barlie, Mrs. D. McInnes and Miss A. Campbell; song, Allen Anderson, A. Petrie and Mrs. Campbell; song, D. MacPherson, William Spalding, Chief Donaldson and Robert Murray; solo, George Munro; closing song by the entire attendance, "Auld Lang Syne."

MAYOR CLARK SPEAKS AT CHURCH BANQUET

Winning Team of Trinity Bible Class Contest Dined By Losers.

The dinner given by the "Blues" to the "Reds" of the VanEmburgh Bible class of Trinity Reformed church, held in the church parlors last night, was a big success, so much so that a new contest will be started so that another dinner will be held.

Speeches and music took up what remained of the evening after the menu was disposed of. Addresses were made by Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., of North Plainfield; Horace Martin, assistant superintendent of the Sunday-school; Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, and Edgar Sheppard, toastmaster and present teacher of the class. Mr. and Mrs. Young sang a tenor duet, the Misses Elsie Dunovan and Randolph played a duet on the piano, and Miss Seaders gave a cornet solo.

The dinner was prepared by the refreshment committee of the Blues, namely, L. Newman, M. Housen, W. Nevious, F. R. Van Zandt, John Bennett and Charles Borman.

Great credit is due to M. Welsh, under whose direction the dinner and entertainment was held. The other members of the general committee are M. F. Gano and A. K. Willett.

The class has an enrollment of 67 members and has had an average attendance of 30 men. By means of the contest the membership and average attendance was doubled in six months.

LA CARTE SERVICE IN KENSINGTON DINING ROOM

A la carte service will be inaugurated at the Hotel Kensington's dining room. Manager William Kitchen says that he will start this feature on Monday night and that the dining room will be open from 2 until 6 o'clock in the afternoon and from 8 to 11:30 o'clock at night when patrons can order just what they want to eat. As the house is conducted on the American plan, only regular meals will be served from noon until 2 o'clock in the afternoon and from 6 to 8 o'clock at night.

"I have found," said Mr. Kitchen today, in making his announcement, "that there is a demand for an a la carte service at moderate prices and I believe that there will be a good patronage, particularly from the business men and after-theatre parties, who don't care for a regular meal and at the same time won't stand for high prices for what they wish."

TO RUN AGAINST PERCY STEWART

Robert C. Woodhouse Would Be Democracy's Nominee For Mayoral Office.

FIRST BID FOR PLACE

Leading Supporter of New Aspirant Says Primary Contest Is To Be Between "Business Man and Commuter"—Candidate's Statement.

Robert C. Woodhouse, of the Woodhouse Engine and Machine Company, announced today that he would seek the nomination for Mayor on the Democratic ticket, in opposition to Percy H. Stewart, and he made the following statement:

"Owing to the persistent demand of my many friends among the business men of the city of Plainfield, I have consented to run on the Democratic ticket for the office of Mayor of the city of Plainfield."

Mr. Woodhouse is a resident of the Second ward, and has been interested in city affairs for some time. On several occasions he has been mentioned for the councilmanic nomination, but each time has declined to run. He is now being urged to enter the Mayoralty contest by those who believe that a home man should hold the office, one that is here all the time.

Mr. Woodhouse is engaged in the automobile business, being agent for several machines. He is also engaged in a general machine business at 180 East Front street.

An ardent supporter of Mr. Woodhouse in speaking of his candidacy today said that the fight at the coming primary would be on the basis of a local business man against a commuter.

ANOTHER PLAINFIELDER AMONG THE INDICTED

William S. Teagle Included In Federal Action Against the S. O.

William S. Teagle, whose residence is given as Plainfield, is among a half dozen officers of the Standard Oil Company indicted by the Federal Grand Jury of the Northern District of Texas, yesterday. The indictment charged conspiracy to destroy the business of the Pierce-Fordyce Oil Association of Texas. Others indicted included John D. Archbold, who recently figured in the United States Senate investigation into the 1904 campaign funds of the Republican party.

The general charge is restraint of trade and commerce and unlawful conspiracy and combination in violation of the anti-trust laws, and the specific offense is alleged to have been committed on June 29, 1912. The case is notable because it is the first step taken by the Government against the oil trust since it was dissolved in November under the mandate of the Supreme Court of the United States into its thirty-three component parts, to restore competition.

THEY GIVE COMPLETE FREEDOM TO SPIRIT

Which Is What Makes Pillar of Fire Meetings Highly Interesting.

The Pillar of Fire has been conducting the annual camp-meetings at their headquarters near Bound Brook since August 23. A large number of people have been in attendance, including evangelists and missionaries from all parts of the country. The meeting has been of the old-time Methodist order in which many have been "converted and sanctified." The interest has been so great that it has been decided to continue the services at Bound Brook beginning Tuesday night, September 3, and running over the following Sunday.

The large tent used at the camp-meeting will be erected on the baseball ground. There will be a number of small tents to accommodate those who wish to camp on the ground for a night or during the whole time.

The services are unique. While the preaching is orthodox, adhering strictly to the fundamental doctrines of the Bible, the praise services are full of demonstration. The members believe in singing, shouting and enjoying the liberty of the Spirit. Christianity, they hold, is not like a graveyard, unless it is a graveyard on the resurrection morning. They believe in the whole Bible and in a full and free salvation.

The principal speakers will be Mrs. Alma White, Rev. C. W. Bridwell and wife, L. S. Lawrence and Duke Davis, also Arthur and Ray White. A large corps of workers will be present.

There will be good singing. In addition to the piano there will be a band and orchestra. All classes are invited to attend the services.

Meetings will be held every evening at 7:30. Other services will be announced from the platform.

SERVICE IN MEMORY OF GENERAL BOOTH

Rev. Dr. Strong to Be Among Speakers at Salvation Army Sunday.

A service in memory of General William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army, whose funeral was held in London Wednesday, will be held by the Plainfield branch of the army at the Y. M. C. A., Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Similar services will be held by the army branches throughout the world at the same time. Among the speakers at the local service will be Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, pastor of the First Baptist church. Adjutant Wall of the local corps will be in charge of the special program. The public is invited, entrance to the hall is on Watchung avenue. The program will be as follows:

Opening song, "My Jesus I Love Thee," prayer, song, "Shall We Gather at the River," or "When the Roll is Called Up Yonder;" Scripture reading; song, "We're Bound for the Land of the Pure and the Holy;" address by officer in charge; solo, "Boundless Salvation," composed by General Booth; short address; chorus, "Life's Morn Will Soon be Waning;" short address; chorus, "My Home is in Heaven;" pledge of consecration; song, "When I Survey the Wonderous Cross;" benediction.

GRANGE OUTING.

Many farmers from New Market and vicinity attended the excursion of the Middlesex County Board of Agriculture and Middlesex and Somerset Pomona Grange to Coney Island, Wednesday. About one thousand in number left on the steamer "Amphion" from New Brunswick. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, of New Market, were members of the committee in charge. Some of those seen on the boat from New Market were Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Nelson and Mrs. Lillian Nelson, Mrs. Bert Horton, Mr. and Mrs. Smauel Pyatt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. George Giles, Mr. and Mrs. Burkheiser, Misses Bays and Misses Schenck.

TROLLEY EXCURSION.

The third trolleymen's outing of this season is being held this afternoon and evening at Palisades Park on the Hudson, where two carloads of the Public Service employes and their families are enjoying the pleasures of the resort. The cars left Dunellen at 12 o'clock today and they passed through Newark, Jersey City, Hoboken and Edgewater on the trip which took three hours. The railway company pay the admissions into the Park. The men have "chipped in" to have refreshments served on the cars. The party will stay at the Park until 8 o'clock in order to see the illuminations.

"SNACK, SMOKE, SMILE."

"A snack, a smoke, a smile" was the topic and feature of the firemen's meeting held in the Borough Hall, Dunellen, last night. The whole department attended in uniform and a "jolly good" time was enjoyed by all. Watermelons were the "snack" and good cigars the "smoke." The committee in charge was Harry Dodwell, Charles C. Vail and John Stiliger.

MRS. J. H. F. MANNING.

Mrs. Johanna H. F. Manning died yesterday in the home of her son, J. R. Manning, in Metuchen. She was 66 years old, and lived with her daughter, Mrs. Charles J. Merrell, of Bound Brook. Mr. Manning is a teller in the Garfield National Bank of New York.

LAWYER REBUKED BY MAGISTRATE

Newark Attorney's Conduct Called Impudent By City Judge DeMeza.

HIS CLIENT IS HELD

Tozzi, According to Witnesses, Punched Mrs. Coffey Into Unconsciousness—Fled From Policeman Who Found Him Hiding Under Bed

Ralph Tozzi, who was charged with assaulting Mrs. Edward Coffey on Sunday last, was held this morning by City Judge DeMeza in $1,000 bail, following a hearing on the case. Tozzi was accused of hitting Mrs. Coffey a blow in the jaw with his fist, following a dispute over the action of some of the children in the neighborhood. All of the evidence presented this morning went to show that the assault took place, and Tozzi's counsel, who was a Newark Italian, and who apparently thought he was before a country justice, until brought to a quick realization of the case by Judge DeMeza, did not enter any defense.

Mrs. Coffey was the first witness, and when she took the stand her jaw was still swollen as a result of the blow which two witnesses said Tozzi struck. She said that she was standing in front of Tozzi's house, talking to Mrs. Tozzi about some trouble which the children had, when she was struck in the jaw, and did not remember anything until she woke up. She did not see Tozzi strike the blow, her evidence tending to show that it came from one side.

Charles Hallowell, who was standing across the street when the trouble occurred, said that he heard Mrs. Coffey scream, and that he turned in time to see Tozzi about two feet distant from Mrs. Coffey, and that she was falling to the ground. He was positive that the swelling on her jaw could not have come as a result of the fall, as she landed flat on her back. He did not actually see Tozzi strike the blow.

Martin Reagan, who lives near the principals in the case was just starting out for a drive with his children, when he heard Mrs. Coffey call her husband. He saw that there was some trouble and stopped his horse to watch the whole proceedings. He saw Tozzi strike a boy with a whip across the legs, and later he saw Tozzi strike Mrs. Coffey. Counsel for Tozzi tried to confuse the witness, but he did not change his testimony in the slightest on cross-examination. Dr. Brennan told about Mrs. Coffey's injuries, and said that they had undoubtedly come from being struck with something soft, and that he did not think she could have been hurt as she was by falling. Mr. Coffey told how he was walking away when the blow was struck, and that when he went after Tozzi the latter drew a knife on him.

Patrolman Ferdinand Baeder, who arrested Tozzi, lives in the neighborhood. He was off duty and sitting on the porch of his house when he heard Tozzi using loud and indecent language, and started toward the scene of the trouble. He was about one hundred feet from the participants, when he saw Tozzi strike Mrs. Coffey. He started after the man and as he was jumping over the fence to get him Tozzi picked up a banana stalk from the front yard and let it fly towards the officer's head. He finally found Tozzi in the house, under the bed.

After hearing this evidence, it was suggested by counsel for the defendant that the court was undoubtedly going to hold him for the grand jury, and he therefore had nothing to say. Judge De Meza told the lawyer that he was impudent in anticipating in any way what the court was going to do, and that he did not care to hear any more such talk in his court room. He then held Tozzi in bail for the grand jury, and bail was furnished. The court room was crowded with a lot of friends of the defendant.

SURPRISE PARTY.

A surprise party was tendered Edwin Windham at his home on Greenbrook road, North Plainfield, by a number of his friends, last night. The evening was spent playing games, singing and dancing. Refreshments were served at eleven o'clock. Although the amount of $25,000 to be raised by taxes is almost double that of previous years, the taxes have been paid promptly and only two were delinquent. In 1905 over 16 pieces of property were sold for unpaid taxes. This improved condition is due to the untiring efforts of Collector Isaac J. Stites, who has posted advance notices of the payment of taxes and has kept the matter before the people so that they did not forget to setle. Mr. that they did not forget to settle. BECKER'S FRIEND IN STATE OF COLLAPSE

March Has Hard Time In Grand Jury Room.

New York, Aug. 30. — James E. March, the first and only man to come out with a definite defense for Lieutenant Charles Becker that Becker's sudden accession of wealth was not due altogether to grafting in the police department was before the grand jury for two hours. By the time District Attorney Whitman and the grand jurors had finished questioning March the champion of Becker had refreshed his memory to the point where he was sure that Becker's only source of revenue, so far as Mr. March knows, was his salary of $2,250 a year as a police lieutenant.

Mr. March came from the grand jury inquisition with tears in his eyes. His pallid face and the traces of recent weeping about his eyes showed that his experience in the grand jury room had been a trying one to his nerves.

Mr. Whitman had just finished questioning March and the grand jury had been adjourned to meet again next Thursday when information worthy of consideration came to the district attorney that "Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie" had been in New York from the time of the murder of Herman Rosenthal until two days ago. The district attorney's informant said that he had learned that last Tuesday the two fugitive gunmen had left town to sail for Europe.

SUES M'COMBS FOR $25,000.

Chauffeur For Wilson's Campaign Manager Killed Thomas Clark.

New York, Aug. 30.—William F. McCombs, the chairman of the Democratic national committee, has been sued in the supreme court for $25,000 damages because of the death of Thomas Clark, who was run over and killed by Mr. McCombs' automobile.

On April 6 last George Koecher, Mr. McCombs' chauffeur, was driving up Second avenue and near Sixty-second street ran over Clark, who was crossing the avenue. Clark died soon afterward.

Koecher was arrested and held on a charge of homicide, but no indictment was returned against him. The suit against Mr. McCombs was filed by John McCarron, administrator and executor of Clark's estate. Clark is survived by his uncle, Mr. McCarron, and three cousins, Elizabeth Carroll, Mrs. McKay Custer and Mary Ann McCusker.

WARNED OFF POISONED IVY.

Evanston Tries to Protect Public From Contact With It.

Evanston, Ill., Aug. 30.—Signs are to be placed here to warn pedestrians from spots where poison ivy is growing in an attempt to lessen the number of persons affected by coming in contact with the vine.

Scores of persons have become poisoned from the vine, and Dr. Victor S. Balderston, health commissioner, decided on the placards which are to be similar to those placed on houses in case of contagious disease. This protection will be preliminary to the destruction of the plant by the city.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

"Baby Mine" is the liveliest and most successful youngster of the present age. In fact, it scored such a success in New York city that it remained at Daly's theatre for over a year, such a howling success that tremendous audiences nearly raised the roof with strieking daughter nightly. To give the infant its due, "Baby Mine" is the one genuine laughing hit in years. To attempt to keep it quiet would only be a waste of time, for Margaret Mayo's comedy is bound to keep it up for years to come. Mothers will cry for it, while women generally are sure to laugh themselves young over it. As for the men, they have only to see Jimmy Jinks, the family friend and human baby carriage, to make them roar their heads off. No one can expect "Baby Mine" to remain quiet. It's a scream and William A. Brady, Ltd., the past master of good things theatrically, brings it to the Plainfield theatre, Monday, September 2, Labor Day, matinee and night, with Walter Jones and the same New York cast.

With Tom Lewis as the star Geo. M. Cohan's musical comedy success "The Yankee Price" will be the attraction at the Plainfield theatre, Wednesday, September 4. With half hundred singing and dancing comedians Mr. Lewis, better known as the man who originated many slang phrases while playing "The Unknown" in "Little Johnny Jones," will present another of his characteristic roles, that of the Chicago sporting man, with bibulous tendencies in "The Yankee Prince." The music is of the catchy Cohanesque kind, capable of sending everyone away whistling it.

Of all stage managers of the present day the chances are that none are better qualified to produce "The Bohemian Girl" than is Edward P. Temple, who has staged Balfe's opera on over fifty occasions in the last quarter of a century. His latest effort, and it is said, his most important in connection with "The Bohemian Girl," will be presented at the Plainfield theatre, by the Aborn Opera Company, on Wednesday night, September 4.

VERMONT CROWDS CHEER ROOSEVELT

Attacks Old Parties, Arraigns Standard Oil Company.

COVERS 150 MILES IN AUTO

Claims That He Is Bitterest Enemy of "Big Business"—Says He Is Proud of His Enemies—Asks Vermonters to Join Progressives.

Burlington, Vt., Aug. 30.—Colonel Roosevelt is on his second day's campaign in Vermont. He is telling the voters that the old parties are bossridden and is attacking Senator Penrose as the type of machine politician whose opposition proved the virtue of the Progressive party.

When he wound up the day's labors here last night with his speech at the Strong theater he had covered 150 miles by auto and made eight speeches, not counting the few words of greeting he had for the groups who had gathered at village crossroads.

The crowds which listened to the ex-president were not demonstrative, but they listened closely and were visibly impressed, particularly by his arraignment of the Pennsylvania senator and the Standard Oil interests.

Archbold came in for a fair share of attention. With a copy of the Archbold testimony in his hands Mr. Roosevelt read select portions at every stop, and clinched his argument that in him big business had its bitterest enemy.

"I am prouder of my enemies than of my friends," he declared at Bennington and repeated more than once during the day. "They have been helping me. I have said that I was against crooked business and it has been denied. Now Messrs. Penrose and Archbold speak up to say that it is true."

In his night address, the only set speech which Colonel Roosevelt delivered, he made an especial appeal to Vermonters to fall in behind the Progressive movement and thus live up to their traditions. A state which took the lead, he said, in the elections of 1856 and rallied to the support of the party of Lincoln ought to be in the van of the party which was today its counterpart. He called the attention of the farmers to the advantages peculiar to the Progressive platform and aroused much enthusiasm by declaring that one of the principles which he strongly advocated was an immediate repeal of the reciprocity treaty with Canada.

Hitchcock Says New Departure Will Be Ready by Jan. 1.

Washington, Aug. 30.—After several days' conference with officers in charge of the several branches of the postal service, Postmaster General Hitchcock announced that the department will be in readiness by Jan. 1 next, the date prescribed by congress, to put into general operation the parcels post system used in the postal appropriation bill that became law last Saturday. The postal express business that must be organized in so short a period will not only cover in its ramifications all systems of transportation now utilized by private express companies, but will be extended also to more than a million miles of rural delivery and star route service.

By the end of the week the postmaster general expects to have the preliminary organization work well under way.

MR. WANAMAKER HAS A COLD.

Family Denies That Former Postmaster General Is Seriously Ill.

Philadelphia, Aug. 30.—Reports that John Wanamaker, the merchant and former postmaster general, was seriously ill were denied at his home, where Mr. Wanamaker now is.

Mr. Wanamaker is suffering from a cold, but he was sitting up in his library and is expected to go out in a few days.

A news agency sent out a report from New York that Mr. Wanamaker had been operated on, but this was emphatically denied by the attending physician and by several others in a position to know the facts.

NO ARBITRATION ON CANAL.

Believed Administration Will Decline Britain's Request on Tolls Issue.

Washington, Aug. 30.—Although the state department will authorize no statement to that effect, it is understood here that the administration will decline to permit the question of the right of the United States to relieve its own shipping from tolls in the Panama canal to go to arbitration, as proposed by Great Britain.

This position of the government, it is said, may not be developed fully for some time.

Aviator Brindejonc Sets Out For Paris For Warsaw.

Paris, Aug. 30.—Aviator Brindejonc ascended from Villa Coublay on his way to Warsaw by way of Berlin in an effort to win the Pommery cup. He flew at a height of 526 feet, and a message from Mezires stated that he arrived there and resumed his flight twenty minutes later, indicating the terrific speed of 106 miles an hour.

ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS.
(From noon today to noon tomorrow.) Sun sets 6:35, rises 5:26. Evening stars: Venus, Mars, Jupiter. Morning stars: Saturn, Mercury.

Plainfield, N. J., August 30, 1912.

Commissioner Lippincott, of the State motor vehicle department, has met with some degree of success in his efforts to put a stop to the practise owners of foreign cars have in overstaying the fifteen-day limit allowed by the auto reciprocity law. The chief trouble he encounters just at present is a lack of a sufficient number of inspectors for enforcement work.

Mr. Lippincott's method is to furnish the inspectors with a list of cars known to have exceeded the fifteen-day limit and these officers lose no time in causing the autos in question to be stopped and in compelling their owners to obtain Jersey licenses. Arrests are only made when it is found that within a reasonable time after being notified to do so the owner has not taken out a Jersey license.

At the next session of the Legislature, the commissioner will ask for additional legislation to help his department in keeping tabs on the duration of stay of foreign cars. One thing he proposes is that garage keepers be obliged to keep a registry list of all cars that come to them. The commissioner has no easy job on his hands particularly since the reciprocity feature was made a part of the auto laws and his wishes should be heeded by the lawmakers.

The funeral of General Booth in London was a truly remarkable service not simply by reason of the fact that at least 34,000 gathered to pay a tribute to his memory, but because of the expressions of respect for the founder of a grand army of Christian workers. Every shop and business house on the streets through which the funeral cortege passed was closed and almost all of them were draped in black. The Lord Mayor stood at salute in front of his official residence and the populace doffed their hats as the bier passed by. London showed plainly what high regard it had for the commander of a noble army that has rescued and uplifted tens of thousands of unfortunate mortals in all parts of the world.

A Progressive candidate for Congressional nomination in the Third district has planned for an unique sort of referendum in the event of his election. Should he be sent to Congress he promises to canvass the district to ascertain the sentiment on every important bill introduced at Washington. This he would do by sending each voter a return post card upon which the voter is requested to express his views regarding the merits or demerits of a given measure. It is a most excellent idea but when put into practise the salary of a Congressman could easily be expended in that way.

It is the duty of the newspapers to keep up their attacks on the new postal provision whereby the postoffices of the land are practically closed down on Sundays. The mere fact that the Postmaster General has so modified the edict showing favoritism to the newspapers and a few others should not deter the honest and progressive press from continuing the fight against a foolish law.

Should Woodrow Wilson be elevated to the Presidency of these United States, we presume it would not be hard work to induce some Democrats to aspire for appointment to the position now so capably held by Elias Bird. Indeed, we have a suspicion that the hopefuls if placed in single file would make a line reaching from either of the sub-stations to the main postoffice.

Report has it that Stanley E. Gunnison will be the nominee of the Progressives for Councilmanic honors in the Second ward. Mr. Gunnison is a good business man and undoubtedly would give strict attention to his duties and work for the best interests of the municipality were he called upon to serve in that capacity.

J. Brognard Betts, assistant State School Commissioner, will be the contributing editor for tomorrow. Mr. Betts has been a prominent and valued resident of North Plainfield for many years and what he will have to say will be read with considerable interest by the local public.

Chairman Hilles is getting to be about as much of a joker as Chauncey Depew. He claims 34 States for Taft and gives Wilson and Roosevelt the other fourteen. The funniest part of it all is that he puts New Jersey in the Taft column.

So Wakelee is the manage the Republican campaign. Had the Democrats or Bull Moosers been allowed to pick a chairman for their enemy neither could have centered on a better choice.

The American Bar Association has drawn the color line as to its membership. Some of those worthies will now go home and plead for the uplift of the negro. "Consistency, thou art a jewel."

Mayor Gaynor has been giving some advice to reporters. What most New Yorkers would like him to do is to give in his resignation.

Our good mayor observed a birthday anniversary yesterday and today we observe that he has been a credit to the office he fills.

ELDRIDGE WILL CONTINUE FIGHT FOR HIS OLD PLACE

Elizabeth, Aug. 30—Sydney W. Eldridge, former secretary of the Union County Board for the Equalization of Tax Assessments, who lost his job after the appointment of Calvin Brodhead, of Plainfield, changed the political complexion of the board, said today that he has not given up his fight for reinstatement. He said that whatever is possible will be done in an effort for him to regain the position, to which John R. Connolly was appointed several months ago, when the Democrats got control of the board.

Mr. Eldridge is awaiting the return to this city of his counsel, Judge Clark McK. Whittemore, who will renew the fight for reinstatement. When Mr. Connolly was appointed, Mr. Eldridge appealed to the State Civil Service Commission, claiming that he was protected by the Civil Service Act. His appeal was dismissed on the ground that he was not removed for political reasons.

OHIO SUFFRAGISTS.
Columbus, O., Aug. 30.—Almost equal to the great demonstration held in New York last May, so far as the murder of participants was concerned, was the great suffragist parade held in Columbus today in connection with the centennial celebration. The demonstration was intended to influence the thousands of visitors here in support of the woman suffrage amendment to the State constitution, which is to be voted upon in the special election next Tuesday. The parade was organized by Mrs. Stanton Blatch, of New York, president of the Women's Political Union.

ROB AUTOISTS WITH CROOKED "GAS" CANS

Waldron Believes Garage and Oil Men In Many Places Cheat.

Trenton, August 30 (Special).—In his crusade against dishonest weights and measures, William L. Waldron, State superintendent of weights and measures, has discovered that automobilists are being cheated in their purchases of gasoline. Superintendent Waldron has just added to his exhibit of crooked weights and measures two "five gallon" gasoline cans. Each can when tested, was found to be short two gallons.

Investigation by Mr. Waldron disclosed the fact that another can was built inside of each one of them. The job was so cleverly executed that it was necessary to cut open the outside can before the cause of the shortage could be determined. The garage proprietor and the oil dealer from whom the cans were confiscated were prosecuted and found guilty, both being fined. The cans were found in Bayonne and Jersey City.

Superintendent Waldron has received information that leads him to believe that garage proprietors and oil dealers in many sections of the State have been using "doctored" cans to rob automobilists. He has issued instructions to all the county and city superintendents of weights and measures to begin immediate investigation of the matter. Because of the fact that such offenses indicate a deliberate attempt to defraud, immediate prosecutions will follow without the formality of a warning.

Mr. Waldron declared today that the pumps used in garages would be subjected to close examination, as well as the gasoline cans. Some of these pumps, which are used to force the gasoline through a rubber hose into the automobile tank, can be so regulated, he said, that the automobilists may receive from one to four quarts short on five gallons without knowing it. The confiscated gasoline cans will be added by Superintendent Waldron to the extensive exhibit of crooked weighing and measuring appliances which he will make at the Inter-State Fair in this city next month.

MIDDLESEX FARMERS ALLOW CROPS TO ROT

New Brunswick, Aug. 30—In some parts of Middlesex and Monmouth counties the crop of potatoes and tomatoes has so flooded the market that farmers are allowing the poorest of these products to rot in the fields in preference to paying men to prepare them for market.

Tomatoes are selling for fifteen and ewenty cents a crate and potatoes for fiftey cents a bushel. Many farm hands out of work now look forward to the winter with gloomy forebodings. In the Cheesequake district thousands of dollars' worth of tomatoes have rotted.

The peach crop is fairly large this year and growers are making big profits. Enough orchards are in full bearing to give the Jersey peach its usual prominence in the city markets.

SCHWARTZ HALTS LOADED COAL CART; WEIGHT O. K.

County Sealer of Weights and Measures Augustus W. Schwartz has been in town all day, and this morning some one suggested to him that perhaps some of the local coal dealers were not giving full weight. As a result he held up a wagon load which was being sent out by one of the local dealers, and found that it was only thirty pounds short of a full ton.

This discrepency is allowable under the law, as there is a certain shrinkage provided for in such merchandise as this.

HARDIE TO SPEAK FOR DEBS.
New York, Aug. 30.—J. Kier Hardie, member of parliament and one of the most noted leaders of organized labor in England, has arrived in New York to begin a speech-making tour of the country in behalf of the Socialist national ticket headed by Eugene V. Debs. Mr. Hardie expects to be on the stump continuously for about six weeks, with the exception of an interval of a few days when he will go to Kuelph, Ont., to address the annual convention of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress.

King Gets American Flag.
Copenhagen, Aug. 30.—King Christian was very much pleased over the presentation to him of a large American silk flag, hand embroidered, the gift of Danish born Americans. The flag was used at the inauguration of the Danish American national park. It will be placed in the festival hall of Marselisborg castle.

Mr. and Mrs. David T. Kenney and daughter, Miss Marie Kenney, of Rockview avenue, left today for an auto trip through the State. They will make a short stay at the Delaware Water Gap.

The Peanut Not a Nut.
[The department of agriculture has decided that the peanut is not a nut.—News item.]

O luscious little peanut brown,
Far from the sunny south,
The most delicious morsel man
E'er placed within his mouth,
Companion of the circus days,
We feel most deeply cut,
For men of science now declare
That you are not a nut.

For years we've cracked your brittle shell
And munched your luscious meat,
Believing in our souls you were
The proper thing to eat.
For indigestion and all ills
You were commended, but
How can you beneficial be
Since you are not a nut?

O peanut, roasted on the walk
And sold to countless men,
We grieve! You never can be quite
The same to us again
Life somehow seems a dreary thing.
Our door to joy is shut,
We're dazed we cannot crack a smile,
Since you are not a nut.

Some time I hope to wake at morn
Out from a troubled sleep
And find the sun is shining bright
And find no clouds to weep
I hope to see on walls of white
In lasting letters cut:
"Awake! Awake! Believe them not.
The peanut is a nut!"

VANITY'S VISIONS.

Trains Now to Be Seen on Formal Costumes.

Paris calling costumes now have small trains. The wraps worn for visiting have assumed a great importance and are extremely costly.

Chiffon blouses to match the tailored suit are still in fashion.

The separate blouse to be worn with a skirt of linen, serge or similar material is absolutely necessary for feminine comfort during the summer. This one is made of white washable silk with scallops and dots as a trimming.

THE EVER USEFUL SEPARATE BLOUSE.

The skirt is of khaki colored serge, but it is adapted to all materials.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

These May Manton patterns are cut in sizes for the skirt from 22 to 33 inches waist measure and for the blouse from 34 to 44 inches bust measure. Send 10 cents each for these patterns to this office, giving numbers—skirt 7507, blouse 7493—and they will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

GRAPE PIES.

PIE lovers will welcome grape time, for this fruit makes one of the most delicious pastries of the season. True, the housewife preparing the dainties must have the discretion to remove the seeds, but in these days when grape seeders may be purchased so reasonably there is no need for any one to court appendicitis.

A grape pie is a juicy affair and requires a thick crust. Some housewives dust the inside layer of the pie crust with flour before pouring in the fruit. This in a measure keeps the juice from soaking out. This is also accomplished by making the upper crust slightly smaller than the under one, moistening the edge, turning the latter over the former and pinching them together.

A Delicious Pastry.

Seedless Grape Pie.—Make a crust as for any pie. Line a deep pie pan with this and bake. Take blue grapes, wash and stem. Allow to cook until the skins are broken. Press through a colander and remove the grape seeds. Retain the juice that is drained from this, without mashing, for grape juice, adding sugar to suit the taste. Then press the grape pulp and skins through the sieve into another bowl. Mix this pulp with the yolks of two well beaten eggs, add a cupful of sugar or enough to suit the taste, fill the baked pie crust and place in the oven to bake for ten minutes. Beat the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth, add two tablespoonfuls of sugar and spread over the top of the pie. Place in the oven until browned.

Like Fritters.

Fried Grape Pie.—For this make a crust as follows: Take one egg, half a cupful each of sugar and milk, butter the size of an egg, a teaspoonful of baking powder and flour to mix. Roll out about an eighth of an inch thick and cut out as large as saucers. Put a tablespoonful of fresh made grape jam on one side, leaving a margin of dough; fold over and pinch the edges together so the fruit will not escape. Place in deep hot fat, like doughnuts, and fry carefully, turning them as soon as they rise to the surface so they will not crack open. Cook same length of time as fruit fritters.

A Tart Pie.

Green Grape Pie.—Some persons think green grapes make better pies than ripe ones. The grapes should be tart, but, of course, not too sour for this purpose.

Wash and strew evenly over the crust in the pie dish as many grapes as will heap on three tablespoons, no more. On this spread from three-fourths to a cupful of granulated sugar into which have been stirred three level tablespoonfuls of flour and pour into the crust about a cupful of almost boiling water. Have the top crust ready and place over the filling. Bake at once.

Woman's World

Equal Chance With Men For Wireless Operator Jobs.

MISS MABEL KELSO.

Miss Mabel Kelso of Seattle, Wash., is the first woman in this country to obtain a license as a wireless operator. She was formerly a stenographer, but studied the continental wireless code in idle moments.

Having passed her examination, Miss Kelso has been assigned to duty on the steamship Mariposa, which plies between Alaska and Seattle.

LADIES, TAKE NOTICE.

Difference Between Grace and Graciousness.

Many women now are striving for grace. They are determined to be graceful. Grace used to be accomplished spontaneous, but now we know how to capture it by strenuous effort.

Physical culture claims thousands of votaries, and the clumsiest muscles are trained to supply harmony. Any woman who chooses can be graceful. She can decide to walk, dance, sit and stand gracefully. But when she has achieved grace she too often forgets graciousness.

For one thing, there are no classes in graciousness in the women's clubs. Yet it is more important surely to have a graceful mind than a graceful body.

Graciousness is the charming way of doing things, the sure path to lovely influence over others.

Like grace, it is not necessarily a birth gift by the fairies. It can be captured and needs only will.

Its essential element is consideration for others, a consideration which must be practiced till it extends even to a fractious cook or a surly plumber.

The women for whom it is a pleasure to work—how they keep their cooks and conquer their plumbers! The gracious women whom young people admire, whom old people turn to—how enviable they are!

Why not be one of them?

For Those Who Must Work.

When one pouts about his work he just putters along.

Smiles drive troubles miles away.

The kind word is the only kind to speak.

A sweet voice is perfume from the heart's flower garden.

A rabbit has long ears, but it carries a short tail.

You cannot tell how pretty the sunrise is with a morning frown on your face.

New Table Pad.

Formerly the good housekeeper was content to have a padding of canton flannel cloth for the dining room table, but nowadays she may have an asbestos pad, which has the merit of keeping the table from damage by heat or moisture, a thing the flannel pad fails to do. These new pads can be made to order for tables of odd sizes and shapes, and in these days, when doilies so often displace damask cloths for luncheon and tea service, it is an undoubted advantage to keep one's table in the best possible condition, free from stains and spots.

MISS SALOME L. TARR.

Her Rapid Stenography Made Big Hit With Governor Wilson.

Miss Salome L. Tarr, eighteen years old, of Jersey City, N. J., took down Governor Wilson's 6,000 word acceptance speech in shorthand from dictation in the evening and delivered it to him in practically perfect shape the next morning. She holds the world's championship for accuracy, her speed being 230 words a minute for court testimony and 190 words for solid matter.

WILSON MAKES TOUR OF KEYSTONE STATE

Five Speeches Stir Hearers to Great Enthusiasm.

Sea Girt, N. J., Aug. 30.—If the people of the Republican stronghold of Pennsylvania vote on election day as thousands of them, visible from Governor Wilson's campaigning train, cheered and shouted for him, the New Jersey executive should figure very prominently in the election returns next November. Governor Wilson opened his campaign outside of his own state in five speeches, three of which were made from the rear end of a Pullman car, and for most of the day he merely rode from one large assemblage to another. His principal speech, made before 6,000 people at a granger's picnic at Williams' Grove, in central Pennsylvania, was an appeal to the Pennsylvanians to cast out the bosses, Republican and Democratic alike, as the people of New Jersey have done.

In all his speeches Governor Wilson urged his hearers to study his own record in New Jersey and determine from that whether they would like to see the same kind of an administration in power in the White House.

The governor told them that the fortifications of the New Jersey bosses, when they were assaulted, turned out to be mere houses of cards, which the people had easily pushed over.

Governor Wilson pleaded for better co-operation among the farmers to benefit themselves, to secure long credits on their own kind of securities and to force changes in the tariff system which will "bring the farmer nearer to his natural partner and associate, the merchant."

TAFT GETS GREAT RECEPTION IN OHIO

Shakes Hands With 5,000 at Columbus Fair.

ADDRESSES 50,000 MORE.

Warmly Defends His Recent Vetoes and Veto Principle, Declaring That He Has Exercised Power With Moderation—President Held Responsible For Legislation.

Columbus, O., Aug. 30.—President Taft was the recipient of a series of remarkable demonstrations on the occasion of his visit to the Ohio-Columbus centennial and the state fair. He was received with great enthusiasm.

Within an hour and a half 5,000 persons shook his hand at the statehouse, and when the line was halted full twice as many people remained waiting. It is estimated that over 60,000 persons were at the state fair. Nearly as many saw him while passing about the city streets.

In one of his addresses the president took occasion to warmly defend his recent vetoes and to uphold the veto principle. When he appeared in the grand stand at the fair thundering and long continued applause greeted him. There was enthusiasm manifested by the farmers when he referred to the proposed plans of bringing about a credit system which will benefit the farmer. The president turned from the subject of agriculture by referring to Ohio's centennial, difficulties in government during its early history and of the use of the veto power by Governor Sinclair.

Defends Use of Veto.

Then, referring to his own use of the veto, said:

"I think I have used it moderately, though some of my friends do not agree. They have said that if I were a king and should do what I have done my head would drop in a basket. But I am not a king. I am a president, elected by the people and representing a greater proportion of the people than any legislator.

"The president, therefore, is responsible to a greater extent for legislation which is passed than any other single person."

Returning to the city after an inspection of the fair, President Taft held a public reception and then gave a few hours to political conferences prior to the banquet tendered him by the bench and bar.

There had been 200 acceptances, a large number of those invited declining because they considered the cost per plate, $10, excessive.

Governor Harmon, with whom President Taft rode from his train to his hotel for breakfast, was toastmaster, and the guest list included many from out of the city.

One of the pleasant features of the president's visit was his brief stay at the statehouse, when the Central Ohio Saengerbund, with 600 voices, sang for him, including in their program a German song known in English as "The Chosen One."

AVIATOR FALLS 100 FEET.

Crowd of 6,000 Sees Drop—Victim Unconscious and Will Die.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 30.—Aviator Joe Stevenson, who came from Mineola, N. Y., to give exhibitions at the Washington county fair, was probably fatally crushed at Waynesburg when his biplane dropped 100 feet, after his engine went dead.

A crowd of 6,000 persons saw the accident. Stevenson was rushed to the Waynesburg hospital in an auto. He has been unconscious since the accident, and the attending physicians hold out little hope for his recovery.

HENRY GEORGE SICK.

Congressman Suffers Breakdown In Washington.

Washington, Aug. 30.—Suffering from a serious nervous breakdown, Representative Henry George of New York, son of the celebrated "single taxer," is confined to his home here. Under physicians' orders all callers are denied. When improved Representative George will rest at his country home until congress convenes in December.

REUNION OF MOSBY'S MEN:

Confederate Leader Himself Too Feeble to Be Present.

Washington, Aug. 30.—The survivors of Colonel John Mosby's Confederate rangers held their annual reunion at Groveton, Va., on the fiftieth anniversary of the second battle of Bull Run. Colonel Mosby was not able to be present. He is seventy-five years old.

BOOTH GETS ARMY FUNDS.

Will of General Vests Salvation Army Estate In Son.

London, Aug. 30.—The will of the late General Booth vested the Salvation Army funds in his successor, General Bramwell Booth.

Private property to the value of $2,440 was bequeathed to the army.

Weather Forecast.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

William A. Brady is actively at work on the production of Jules Eckera Goodman's new play, "The Point of View," which will have its first performance a few weeks hence. The work deals with the woman topic from a fresh standpoint, and will be played by a cast of really conspicuous actors and actresses.

For the final week of Hammerstein's Roof Garden season, which begins Monday, September 2, Mr. Hammerstein has taken special pains in putting together a program of the strongest calibre particularly adapted to Hammerstein's Roof Garden and Victoria theatre. Not a dull moment and not a weak feature in the entire array and plenty of real entertainment for even the most hardener theatregoer. Heading the bill will be Broadway's favorite musical comedy star, Emma Carus, in a new repertoire of songs. Miss Carus will make her return appearance on Broadway after a long absence. She comes back more matured, better natured and with a firmer hold on the public than ever. Gus Edwards, whose success as a producer is thoroughly established, will present for the first time in vaudeville his latest surprise, "The Kabaret Kids," with Eddie Cantor and Ko., of 20 Klever Kid Komics. There are ten boys and ten girls in the outfit, all rare finds of Mr. Edwards. They sing, dance and cut-up in great style. The act in its entirety is rather pretentious, introducing special scenery and light effects. The last week of Captain Kleinschmidt's motion pictures, "Roping Big Game," in Alaska and Siberia, is announced.

At William A. Brady's Playhouse, "Bought and Paid For" proceeds smoothly on its prosperous way, with not the slightest indication of either quitting or slackening its remarkable pace. It is a long time since a play of American origin has taken so firm and tenacious a grasp upon the regard of the public. At the present moment, when New York is filling up with vacation visitors from other cities, there is renewed pressure upon the space in the Playhouse, occasioned perhaps by the unusual fact that although "Bought and Paid For" has gone past its four hundredth representation here, it has not as yet been seen elsewhere. This persons from afar to whom the fame of Mr. Broadhurst's comedy-drama has penetrated have been obliged to postpone seeing it until their convenience brought them to New York. At the Wednesday matinees in Mr. Brady's theatre the popular scale of prices prevails.

PURSE TOTAL $24,500.

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 30.—The New England end of the Grand Circuit will wind up with the meeting to be given here next week under the offices of the Connecticut State Association. Several strings of the summer campaigners arrived at Charter Oak Park today from Readville and elsewhere and it is expected that by Monday the stable accommodations will be taxed to the limit. The meeting will last five days. Eight special events with fat purses are scheduled in addition to the ordinary events and the entries in each insure hot contests. The program will lead off with the classic Charter Oak, 2:14 trot, $10,000. Each of the other events will be worth $2,000, making a total of $24,500 in purses.

Philosophical Phelix Says:

DUNELLEN NINE PLAYS AT WESTFIELD PARK

Both Clubs Have Been Strengthened Since Their Last Meeting.

Dunellen will be the attraction at Recreation Park in Westfield tomorrow afternoon for the third time this season. Both of the former games resulted in victories for Dunellen, but they were both hard fought games and Manager Bogardus' players were compelled to go the limit in order to come out ahead. The first contest was won by Dunellen, by the score of 8 to 6, in the last two innings by some hard hitting and fast work on the bases. The second one was still more closely contested and although the score stood 4 to 1 at the end of the ninth, the two teams were even up most of the way.

A five game series has been arranged by the two managers but in the event of Dunellen winning tomorrow the series will be practically settled. Both teams have been materially strengthened since their last meeting and the game at Westfield should be a corker. Manager Bogardus will have Lou Dixon, his crack backstop, back in the receiving role, and McLaughlin is always at his best with Dixon holding him up. "Home run" Wolfe will take care of the center garden, Dodge will cantor between second and third and Teston will be back at his old stand in right field.

Westfield has two new heavy hitters and fast fielders in the persons of Durgan, a second baseman, and McNisch, a shortstop from the Newark Athletics.

The two teams will take the field as follows:

BIBLE SCHOOL LEAGUE NEARING COMPLETION

One Contest Tomorrow May Determine the Championship of the League.

With the Sunday-school League schedule rapidly nearing completion, the first place argument is still tied up. When Monroe Avenue and Park Avenue come together tomorrow things are bound to fly and it may mean the elimination of one or the other from the pennant race. Both nines are keyed up to a high pitch and the game will be one for blood.

Hope Chapel is by no means out of the race yet and it would not be a great surprise to see this team up in the lead when the season closes. If the Chapelites annex one at South Plainfield tomorrow their pennant stock will receive a boost.

First Baptist is another contender very much in the limelight and although Temple Baptist gave them a rub in their last go, the First Baptist lads are out to even things up and say they are going to trounce the tail-enders this trip.

MFRS. LEAGUE RACE IS GETTING RAGGED

Two Games Are Scheduled for Tomorrow—One Will Be Played.

It now looks as thought but one game was going to be played Saturday in the Manufacturers' League and that one will have nothing to do with winding up the championship race. The R. G. E. combination appear to have balked in their contest with the Banks and their manager has booked a game with the Hyatts, of Newark.

Saurers and Public Service will clash in the one contest scheduled for tomorrow and the outcome will not benefit the league standing of either team other than to strengthen the Public Service team's hold on third place. The Spicer-Commercial game has been postponed because of the Spicer Athletic meet on Parker Field tomorrow morning.

GIANTS LOSE AND FORFEIT TO THE ATHLETIC TEAM

The Giants made their defeat at the hands of the Athletics doubly sure yesterday morning by walking off the field when their opponents were leading by the score of 6 to 2 in the sixth inning. During the short game the Giants' twirler was touched up for ten hits and walked four. The Athletics boxman fared little better as far as hits were concerned but he gave free transportation to eight.

CITY BASEBALL TITLE IN DANGER TOMORROW

Manager Simmons will lead his team of Royal Giants against the Netherwood A. C. tomorrow afternoon in an endeavor to get a lease on the local amateur baseball championship. The Netherwood A. C. has been strengthened by several new players and the game promises to be a good one.

The Royal Giants will enjoy a holiday dinner at the Mt. Olive Baptist church on Labor Day before going to New Providence where they play the team of that place.

BRIDGEPORT NINE AT OVAL TOMORROW

Smart Set Cancelled Their Game and Strong Combination Is Signed Up.

Plainfield fans who had counted on seeing the Smart Set at Crescent Oval tomorrow afternoon will not have their appetites satisfied this week as the strong team of dusky ball tossers cancelled the game last night. Manager Dorflinger was left without a game by this untimely cancellation and after hunting around all morning he signed up the Bridgeport Independents at noon today.

The substituting attraction is even stronger than the original opponents and a hot game is carded for tomorrow afternoon. Plainfield will have Linderman on the mound, and if he repeats his twirling and hitting performance of last Saturday the local bunch ought to come out ahead.

Tomorrow will not be the first time this season that the Pets have lined up against the Bridgeport aggregation as Driscoll's followers beat the Independents by a score of 1 to 0 in a Sunday game at New Brunswick two weeks ago. They are hailed as a team of unusual hitting and fielding ability and have been able to stack up against some of the most formidable combinations in the Metropolitan district during the past season.

Last Sunday the Bridgeport team took a 4 to 1 fall out of the Bayonne team and played an eleven inning tie of 1 to 1 with this same aggregation four weeks ago. Plainfield will present tis regular lineup in the game tomorrow afternoon.

FORMER CHAMPION POOL PLAYER IS INVINCIBLE

A close and interesting balkline billiard match was played last night at Krewson's parlors, between former champion James L. Malone and city champion Charles Krewson. The Plainfield man kept in the race until the last two innings when Malone made 29 and 36, which gave him the match by the score of 200 to 104. The winner of last night's match will take on Lester Stites, the boy wonder, at Krewson's tonight.

Malone will play a match game of pocket billiards at Effinger's Academy in Bound Brook, Monday night against two of the best local players, Smalley and Carroll.

SOCCER SEASON OPENS.

The Plainfield A. F. C. will open the soccer season tomorrow afternoon in a game with the Metuchen Field Club at the latter place. The local team and its supporters will leave the clubhouse in South Second street at 1:30 o'clock and a stop will be made at Park avenue and Fourth street to take on the down-town membership.

PLAINFIELD A. F. C. STAG.

A "stag" will be held in the club rooms of the Plainfield A. F. C. tonight at 8 o'clock. A large number of the members are expected to attend and final arrangements will be made for the opening soccer game tomorrow.

SOCCER LEAGUE

T. O'Brien and J. Gardner will represent the Plainfield A. F. C. at the meeting of the Inter-City Soccer League to be held in Newark tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

BAMBERGER'S REMOVAL SALE

The success of this sale is gratifying in more ways than one. While it is true we are disposing of tens of thousands of dollars' worth of merchandise which otherwise would have to be carried into the new store, we are also accomplishing that which is still more to be desired, namely, the keeping of our word with the great shopping public of this community.

When we first announced this sale nearly two weeks ago we told you what we meant to do. We told you that we were going to make sweeping reductions throughout the store. We told you that in certain cases whole departments were to be reduced. We told you that this was going to be the best and greatest sale ever held in Newark. It isn't necessary for us to say that we have made good. You know that. Our tremendous daily increases show that you have faith in Bamberger's word—printed or spoken.

OFFICIAL MINUTES OF THE BOARD OF FREEHOLDERS.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union was held at the Courthouse, Elizabeth, New Jersey, on Thursday, August 1, 1912, at 2:30 o'clock. Director Cady, and Freeholders Acken, Bourdon, Darby, Doane, Fay, Gruener, Hall, Hennessy, Jones, Krouse, McMane, Meisel, Perry, Pierson, Randolph, Smith and Wilbur present.

Absent—Freeholders Crane and Teller.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur the reading of the minutes of meeting of July 3, 1912, were dispensed with, and they were approved as perprinted copies on members' desks.

Communications.

Elizabeth, N. J., July 30, 1912.
To the Board of Chosen Freeholders:

Gentlemen—I again call your attention to the fact that the Socialist Party is now a political party in this county, having cast more than five (5) per cent. of the total vote cast at the last general election, and is, therefore, entitled to recognition at our coming primary election.

This means that forty-seven additional boxes must be provided for use in this city, unless the board decides to use the boxes used at the last general election. I simply call this matter to your attention so that there may be no delay in furnishing the necessary boxes.

I also enclose an opinion from our City Attorney on the matter.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. KENAH, City Clerk.

Elizabeth, N. J., July 30, 1912.
Mr. John F. Kenah, City Clerk.

Dear Sir—Your letter of the 25th inst. inquiring whether the Socialist Party was entitled to be considered a political party came duly to hand. Your letter states that there were cast in this county at the last general election a total vote of 18,528, and that of this number 1,951 were for the candidates of the Socialist party. The law required a political party, in order to be officially designated as such, to cast at least five per cent. of the total number of votes in the district where its delegates are to be chosen, or where its nominations are to be made. The Socialist party of this county is entitled to recognition, under the law, as a political party.

Very respectfully,
JAMES C. CONNOLLY,
City Attorney.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur this matter was referred to the Election Committee.

July 31, 1912.
To the Honorable Board of Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen—Sometime ago I had correspondence with you in reference to Westfield avenue within the city limits of the city of Elizabeth, and the citizens along that avenue are more than gratified at the improvement now going on. It has, however, been called to my attention that the trolley company does not intend to do anything to relieve the present dusty condition existing between the tracks and rails, and in order to aid your board in accomplishing something to that end I have carefully considered the contract made in 1898 with the Elizabeth City Horse Railroad Company, and the various resolutions relating thereto; the contract, which was very carefully drawn by our present County Attorney, expressly provides in sub-division b of paragraph 1, that the company shall pave between its tracks and between the rails of its tracks and for a distance of one foot outside of each outer rail. At the time the franchise was granted to the Elizabeth City Horse Railroad Company a bond in the sum of four hundred thousand dollars was given by the Hon. John Kean and Messrs. Hamilton F. Kean, Frederick L. Heidritter and Frank Bergen, conditioned for the faithful performance of all of the terms of the contract with the railroad company by the Board of Freeholders. Under the ordinary statute of limitation action on the contract and bond will probably be outlawed in two years' time, and I would respectfully ask, on behalf of the citizens of Elizabeth and my own behalf, that negotiations be taken at this time so that the dust nuisance can be remedied.

It is true that the old green line, which was known as the Elizabeth City Horse Railroad Company, is no longer operating the trolley system, but the same has been successfully operated by the Consolidated Traction Company, the North Jersey Street Railway Company, the Public Service Corporation and the Public Service Railway Company; and I have no doubt that the present operator, the Public Service Railway Company, has in some way or other accepted the obligations of fulfilling the contract made in 1898; but whether that is so or not the Hon. John Kean personally joined in the acceptance of the terms of your resolutions, and the bond filed is sufficient to make good the damages in case there shold be a failure to do the paving required.

I would, therefore, respectfully suggest to your honorable board that some immediate steps be taken so that while the present improvement of Westfield avenue is going on, the portion of the roadway lying between the tracks and the rails of the tracks and one foot outside of each outer rail of the tracks of the trolley system be also paved.

I do not want to presume to offer suggestions as to how this can be accomplished; but if it is deemed necessary by your honorable board I will certainly be pleased to confer with any committee that may be appointed.

Hoping that you will give this matter the same consideration that you have given to our former prayers for relief on the county boulevard question, I am

Yours very respectfully,
SAMUEL KOESTLER.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur this matter was referred to the County Road Committee and County Attorney.

July 19, 1912.
Board of Freeholders of Union County, Elizabeth, N. J.:

Gentlemen—At a special meeting of the Board of Health of North Plainfield Township, the undersigned was directed to write to your body to ask for plans and specifications for the sewerage disposal at the Bonnie Burn Institution at Scotch Plains. This request was made necessary by some information that the streams running through the property would be liable to contamination unless great care was exercised. I should be pleased to hear from you regarding this.

Cordially yours,
FRANCIS E. BODIN,
Secretary Board of Health,
Watchung, N. J.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur this request was referred to the Hospital Committee.

Elizabeth, N. J., July 25, 1912.
The Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen—The few survivors of Co. C, 14th N. J. Vols., of the Civil War, are desirous to return to the city authorities, for permanent care and preservation a flag which was presented to them on their departure by their fellow-citizens. The company was mustered on that occasion in front of the old courthouse, and we would respectfully ask that we may be allowed to use such portions of the steps and corridors of the new building as may be needed for the simple ceremonies that will mark the occasion on its fiftieth anniversary, August 15 next, at 3 o'clock P. M.

Bespeaking your kind permission and hoping that we may be honored with your presence, I remain

Very truly yours,
ELIAS D. SMITH.

On motion of Freeholder Hennessy this communication was received and ordered placed on file, and the request granted, and the kind invitation to be present at the ceremonies commemorating the fiftieth anniversary accepted.

Elizabeth, N. J., July 29, 1912.
Board of Freeholders, Courthouse, Elizabeth, N. J.

Dears Sirs—You will find herewith enclosed a letter from the Public Service Corporation as to payment for bridge on South avenue, Cranford. Will you kindly have this read at the next meeting and entered on the minutes of the board?

Yours very truly,
J. L. BAUER, County Engineer.

Newark, N. J., July 26, 1912.

My dear Mr. Bauer—Following our conference of yesterday—first on the subject of rebuilding the Cranford Bridge over the Rahway River and South avenue, and second contemplated improvements to the roadway on Westfield avenue, along and under the bridge of the Central Railroad Company, in the town of Westfield, and confirming our understanding at that time—I am authorized to say to your committee that the Public Service Railway Company will contribute, under their agreement between Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railway Company and the Board of Freeholders of Union county, dated, August 10, 1899, one-half the contract price thereof, or five thousand, two hundred and forty-five dollars ($5,245), the understanding being the total cost thereof be ten thousand, four hundred and ninety dollars ($10,490) payments to be made as follows: One-half of the amount, two thousand, six hundred and twenty-two dollars and fifty cents ($2,622.50), on presentation of certificate of the Union county engineer, approved by the engineer of the Public Service Railway Company, certifying that that amount of money is due the contractor at that time; the balance on completion of the work, and the filing of certificates certifying thereto by the engineers, as stated above.

Relating to the matter of the proposed improvement of Westfield avenue, between North and South avenues, our company will at the time the freeholders undertake the improvement of their portion of the roadway, pave with Belgian block on a concrete foundation a strip 18 inches wide outside of the railway company's outer rail, a distance of approximately 500 feet.

Yours very truly,
EDWIN W. HINE, Secretary.

On motion by Freeholder Bourdon this communication was received and ordered placed on file.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders, Union County, N. J.:

Gentlemen—Herewith is submitted a report of the work of the Department of Weights and Measures for the month ending July 31, 1912.

During the month 639 inspections were made, divided as follows: Number of counter and balance scales inspected, 116; weights, 319; dry measures, seventy-four; liquid measures, seventy, and counter measures and yard sticks, sixty. There were seventeen confiscations of scales and fifteen condemnations, making a total of thirty-two found incorrect. Forty-one defective weights were confiscated, five dry measures, twenty-three liquid measures, and six tape and yard measures.

There were seventy-six office inspections during the month, divided as follows: Scales, sixteen; weights, thirty-six, and dry measures, twenty-four. All were found correct, with the exception of two scales which were condemned.

To date 3,903 inspections have been made in the county and a total of 689 confiscations of defective weighing and measuring appliances.

Particular attention has been paid to the testing of package goods put up ready for delivery by the merchants, and in a number of instances short weight has been discovered. All packages were ordered broken and dumped back into the barrels and bins, and a warning issued to the offending merchants that prosecution would follow a second offense.

A number of complaints have reached this office during the past few days regarding short weight in ice and short measure in milk, all of which are now under investigation.

Respectfully submitted,
A. W. SCHWARTZ,
Superintendent of Weights and Measures.

On motion by Freeholder Darby this report was received and ordered placed on file.

The county is now engaged in constructing a roadway of amiesite on South avenue in the city of Plainfield. We further recommend the construction of a small culvert about fifteen feet long by two feet six inches span in the northerly side of South avenue, about five feet east of Leland avenue, at a cost not exceeding the sum of $100.

We further recommend the construction of two culverts crossing South avenue, one in the easterly gutter line of Leland avenue, each one to cost not more than $525.

Report of Committee on South Street Bridge, Over the Elizabeth River, Elizabeth, New Jersey.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders, Elizabeth, N. J.:

Gentlemen—Your committee on this bridge would respectfully report that bids have been received for a swing span bridge and also for a Strauss lift bridge.

If a swing span bridge be constructed it would have to be built on the same width as the present bridge, without any sidewalks. If a Strauss lift bridge is constructed two new sidewalks could be provided, one at each side of the bridge.

Your committee has, therefore, selected a Strauss lift bridge, and has awarded the contract for the work to the Oswego Bridge Company at $7,328, that company being the lowest bidder upon the work.

Respectfully submitted,
JOSEPH PERRY,

Report of Committee on Bridge

Over Rahway River at Bridge Street, Rahway, New Jersey.

The Board of Chosen Freeholders, Elizabeth, N. J.:

Gentlemen—Your Committee on the above-named work would report that the concrete walls within the lines of the street have been completed. Between the end of these walls and the piers of the railroad bridge there will be a gap of about twenty feet, which occurs at each side of the river. At the easterly side of the river this twenty-foot gap will be filled in with a concrete wall by the railroad company.

There was a misunderstanding, however, about the filling of this gap on the westerly side of the river, and it is stated that the railroad company had not planned to have that gap filled in. Your committee met with the railroad engineer, and it was decided that the gap on the westerly side of the stream should be filled in with a concrete wall.

The cost of this wall would be approximately $1,000. It was suggested that the fairest way to do would be to have the railroad company and the county each pay one-half the cost of this wall.

Your committee would, therefore, recommend that this work be authorized, and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the county of Union each to pay one-half of the cost thereof, the cost to the county of Union not to exceed the sum of $500.

Signed by the committee.

ADOLPH GRUENER,
W. H. RANDOLPH.

On motion by Freeholder Krouse this report was received and ordered placed on file, and the recommendations contained therein were on roll call adopted unanimously.

Your committee would also recommend that Farley avenue, Fanwood, be reconstructed by lengthening the present bridge about ten feet at each end and recovering the top with concrete and steel, the cost not to exceed the sum of $350.

Respectfully submitted,
BURTON P. HALL,
ADOLPH GRUENER,
THOMAS J. PIERSON.

On motion by Freeholder Gruener this report was received and ordered placed on file, and the recommendations contained therein were on roll call adopted unanimously.

Report of Committee on Rushmore Avenue Bridge and South Second Street Bridge, Plainfield, N. J.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders, Elizabeth, N. J.:

Your committee is of the opinion, further and would recommend that the present brokendown bridge on this same street, crossing South Second street near Rushmore avenue, should be replaced with a new bridge about ninety-seven and one-half feet long by three and one-half feet span, the cost to be not more than $600.

Respectfully submitted,

Report of Committee on Hazelwood Avenue Culvert, Rahway, N. J.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders, Elizabeth, N. J.:

On motion by Freeholder Bourdon this report was received and ordered placed on file.

The Honorable Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen—Your committee on the new bridge over the Rahway River at Lawrence street, in the city of Rahway, would respectfully report the bids for the proposed work were received on July 3 at 2 p. m., from the following firms: The Owego Bridge Co., for lift bridge, $17,450, for drawbridge $16,445; from the F. R. Long Co., for life bridge $23,965, and drawbridge $22,373; The Deltz Engineering Co., for lift bridge $22,800, and drawbridge $21,200; from the Arthur E. Smith Co., for drawbridge $18,445.

This committee awarded the contract to the Owego Bridge Co., for a new drawbridge for the sum of $16,445, they being the lowest bidder.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders, Elizabeth, N. J.:

Gentlemen—Your committee appointed on the work would report as follows:

Bids were received for a new culvert on the north side of South avenue, and the work was awarded to E. L. Moore, of Cranford, N. J., at $448, he being the lowest bidder. The appropriation for this work was $500, and it is the opinion of your committee that the balance of the appropriation, namely, $52, will be sufficient to provide for a street basin on North avenue, as was originally planned.

This leaves no provision, however, for removing the water from the southerly side of South avenue at the intersection of the easterly side of Centennial avenue, at which point the water now collects. It is the opinion of your committee that a new basin with a pipe leading therefrom to the Rahway River should be constructed in this intersection, and we recommend that this work be authorized at a cost not exceeding the sum of $525.

Respectfully submitted,
C. W. TELLER,
BURTON P. HALL,
W. A. BOURDON.

On motion by Freeholder Gruener this report was received and ordered placed on file, and the recommendations contained therein were on roll call adopted unanimously.

Their Reward.

Dr. Strachan, bishop of Toronto, was waited upon by two churchwardens, who complained that their clergyman wearied his congregation by repeating the same sermon. He had preached it twelve times. The bishop asked for the text. Neither of the churchwardens could remember. "Go back," said the bishop sternly, "and ask your clergyman to preach the sermon once more and then come back and tell me the text."

Quick Action.

"Rube, how cold did you ever see it?" He said, "Well, sir, one time when I was living down in Pickaway county, in hog killing time, we had a kettle of boiling water setting on the stove, and we took it out in the yard, and it froze so doggone quick the ice was hot."—National Monthly.

WOMEN CAUGHT SEEKING OPIUM

Federal Authorities Seize Chinese House In Newark.

WAS RESORT OF WEALTHY

Fashionable Dames Admit It Was Drug and Not Cold Tea They Were After. Confiscated Stuff Will Be Sold by Government at Auction.

Newark, N. J., Aug. 30.—Several fashionable women were trapped by United States inspectors and made affidavits to the fact that the house they were visiting ostensibly for the purpose of "cold tea" was in reality an attempt to procure opium, as had been their custom for some time. The house in question had been seized by the federal authorities, and the three Chinese who conduct it were under surveillance.

Inspector Norwood had obtained search warrants from United States Commissioner Carpenter to enter the premises of Fon Foy, a Chinese grocery man at 17 Lafayette street, who enters to the fashionable trade in Newark. He found, he asserts, Fon Foy, Charles Cong and Chi Su making opium and preparing it for immediate use. They were taken before United States Commissioner Stockton in Newark and held in $100 bail each for examination on Sept. 10.

In such cases of illicit manufacturing the goods on the premises are confiscated by the government, and $300 worth of opium and its products were seized, with $1,300 in bills and $800 in silver. The opium will be sold by the government at auction. Deputy United States Commissioner Beekman of Jersey City was put in charge of the case. He left some of his deputies on the premises, and the store was boarded up.

While the deputies were absent the Chinese broke into the store by forcing an entry through the back door, and when the inspector returned he found thirty Chinese in the house.

They refused to leave, and the police were called. Later, while the inspector was watching the store, several fashionably dressed women came to the door. The deputy asked them what they wanted, and they said they came to get a drink of cold tea. They also said that they were accustomed to buy tea by the pound from the storekeepers.

Upon cross examination they admitted that it was opium they wished to buy, and they signed affidavits to that effect. They will be held as witnesses. Two warrants have been sworn out for two Chinese of Jersey City, who are implicated in the case.

SUNDAY "WAR" AT OCEAN CITY

Mayor of New Jersey Resort Says Lights Will Burn.

Ocean City, N. J., Aug. 30.—Speaking of the threat of the electric railroad company to close down the electric lights and stop running trolley cars next Sunday, Mayor Headley says the movement simply is an effort to force a wide open Sunday in this city, and the electric light company is playing into the hands of the enemies of the Sabbath when it declares it will close on Sunday. Mayor Headley said:

"The company has a contract with the city to furnish electricity every night until June 1, and if it does not live up to the terms of that contract it will be annulled immediately and other provisions made for lighting the city."

HURT BY HORSE ON FERRY.

Animal, Thrown From Feet by Jolt, Falls Against New Jersey Farmer.

National Park, N. J., Aug. 30.—Thomas Roberts, seventy years old, a retired farmer of this place, was severely injured when he was crushed against the rail of a Reading ferryboat by a horse. Two ribs were fractured, and it is thought one of them punctured his lungs.

As the boat neared the wharf Roberts moved toward the front through the driveway. The boat struck the side of the slip and a horse was thrown against him. He was taken to the Pennsylvania hospital.

RESCUE DROWNING MAN.

Two Philadelphians Pull Wilmington Man Out of Surf.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 30.—Launching one of the beach lifeboats, after the guards had left, Thomas and Walter Elmer of Philadelphia rescued Anthony Howard of Wilmington off the foot of New Jersey avenue.

War Cries.

In the very early days the French had their "cri de guerre," the Scotch their slogan and the English their war cries, but so many cries were launched by the different great British lords that in 1495 parliament passed a special law forbidding these cries on the ground that they produced disorder, allowing but one battlecry, "St. George and the king."

George H. Fountain and son, Pierce Fountain, of West Seventh street, are sojourning in Massachusetts.

DOME DAMPERS

The Dome Damper is today a recognized necessity to a properly constructed fire place. The flange forms an arch bar of ample strength to support the weight of masonry of the chimney above. The smooth surfaces of the dome are arranged to induce the greatest ease of exit for the gases and the proportions so scientifically worked out as to exclude the fear of a smoky fire place. The solid valve provides a means of closing the damper to the exclusion of down-drafts which are so frequent in the warm months thereby preventing the carrying of soot into the room.

DOG SHOW PLANS ARE AMBITIOUS

Committee Interested In Making Exhibit Second Only to New York's.

MEADOWVIEW ENTRIES

Plans for the annual bench show of the Plainfield Kennel Club were discussed last night at a meeting of the committee having the matter in charge, held at the office of Edmund Dashmore, in the Stirling building. It is planned to make the show the largest that has ever been held here, and second to but one other held in the country, that which occurs each year in New York. Efforts are being made to secure a list of judges which will attract splendid entries, and it is hoped that the list will have been perfected so that the prize list can be sent out the latter part of next week.

The show will be held at the horse show grounds on Saturday, October 12, and will continue from early morning until late afternoon. It is expected that exhibitors will come from Buffalo, Boston and other points equally distant, as well as many from around New York City. The committee in charge consists of H. A. Robinson, George J. Heck, E. H. Hobbie, R. W. K. Anderson and William Dallas.

One of the leading exhibitors will be A. B. Hooley, of North Plainfield. His entries, of course, will be English setters, for time cannot change, fashion cannot sway A. B. Hooley's taste in dogs. And one is quite inclined to sanction his choice when he is introduced to the inmates of the Meadowview Kennels. Big, noble looking English setters of orange, lemon and blue beltons are Mr. Hooley's friends and he has made the breeding of them a life-long study, hence their perfection.

Along in the late '60s, as the story books say, when Mr. Hooley was a very little boy, his father, who was a well known English merchant in New York, had several splendid setters shipped over from England. That settled the question and gave the embryonic fancier his standard.

At the present time Mr. Hooley's dogs are unanimously conceded to be the finest collection on either side of the Atlantic and his kennels house between forty and fifty at all times. Of these a dozen are champions full fledged and as many more are taking the royal road to the title.

Mr. Hooley's kennels are situated on beautiful rolling meadows on the outskirts of Plainfield, which allows the inhabitants plenty of exercising room besides being pleasing to the canine eye. The best part of it all is that these dogs are not purely ornamental, for although they are wonderful "benchers" they are also real workers and seem to have no leaning toward a lily of the field sort of life.

Champion Meadowview Rock, a lemon belton, champion Countess, champion Meadowview Bob Roy, orange belton, and champion Meadowview Yale, a blue belton, each have had the distinctive honor of being declared by prominent judges the best dog in the show over all other breeds. Fine big champion Meadow Rock has had his picture in the most prominent dog paper in France as a perfect type of English setter. This is indeed an honor to confer on a little Yankee dog, when so many specimens might have been selected from the land of their origin.

Mr. Hooley has bred setters simply for his own pleasure for more than twenty-five years. He first showed some beautiful dogs in 1894 and 1895, his famous setter, The Earl, having gone Westward Ho as far as Denver, which was about as far west as any of the Eastern contingents showed at that time.

Two of Mr. Hooley's favorites, of whose prowess in the field he boasts, are Wyoming Valley, Maybelle and Meadowview Esther, both keen and brave huntresses. Then there are champion Meadowview Rock, Deodora Bobs, Meadowview Lady Bess others which are excellent gun dogs.

The Mecca for the Meadowview setters is Plainfield, but Mr. Hooley usually has several dogs in the South being handled on game. Mr. Hooley is not an advocate of importations and he says that the best thing about his dogs is the fact that each and every one is American bred. On the bench they have defeated all of England's crack setters, but then comparisons are unnecessary.

Champion Meadowview Rock has twice won the cup for the best English setter dog at the New York show and Wyoming Valley Mabelle, a beautiful blue belton, has duplicated the performance of her lord and master on two accasions. Meadowview Bob Roy, the New York winner this year, has won in the winners'

COURT THOUGHT HE LIED, SO HE PAID $10

De Rosso's Brother Kept His Mouth Shut and Escaped Punishment.

It cost Michael DeRosso, of Elizabeth, just $10 this morning in the city court, when he told Judge DeMeza a story which the Judge said he was satisfied was a lie. Mike's brother, Joseph, who had little or nothing to say about the complaint made against the two boys, got off with a suspended sentence. Mike and Joe were picked up by Officer McCarthy, charged with buying junk without a license. They claimed that they thought they did not have to have one because they bought only at what they termed "wholesale." It was shown by witnesses that they had been buying at several places around town and in North Plainfield, and Chief Weiss, of the borough, testified that they had told Mayor Clark that they held a Plainfield license, when Weiss picked them up in front of Jack Horner's for buying old rubber. Mike DeRossa told a story so much at variance with that of the other witnesses that the court told him he was lying, and then fined him $10, while he let the brother go.

Martha Randolph, colored, went on a rampage at the place where she works as housekeeper, last night, and loaded up with a little too much gin. The court gave her time enough to pack up her goods and return to Lansdowne, Pa., where she comes from, and instructed Patrolman McCarthy to see that she gets on a train some time today, on her way back. She was employed by James Babbitt, and he agreed to pay her carfare.

John Schiffel went around the corner of Park and North avenue in an automobile yesterday a good deal faster than the law allows, and this morning he told the Judge he was sorry, so he was let go with a suspended sentence, as it was his rst offence.

MC CANN SCOURS COUNTY TO INSURE NOMINATION

James J. McCann, of Division street, who is out for the small Board of Freeholders, was in Elizabeth this week in the interests of his candidacy at the Democratic primary. Mr. McCann, in spirit of the fact that a victory at the primary election seems almost assured, is not inactive but has already been throughout the county getting in touch with his many friends.

Mr. McCann aspires to only a one year term, so therefore will have less opposition at the primaries than most of the other candidates, who have been attracted by the three year term. He has many friends in this city, where he has lived for five years, but is much better known in Elizabeth, the city of his birth. He lived there until five years ago when he removed to this city. Being well known at both ends of the county and aspiring only to a one year term, Mr. McCann figures that he will have little difficulty in securing the nomination.

The would-be freeholder is a graduate of St. Patrick's High School in Elizabeth and a member of the Young Men's Catholic Lyceum, identified with St. Patrick's parish. He is also a member of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and of the Holy Name Society. Although he has never held any political office, he has always taken a live interest in politics and been a hard worker for the Democratic party, both in Elizabeth and Plainfield. For many years he has held a responsible position in the New York offices of a large steamship company, and his duties there are such that he would, in the event of his election to the board, be able to give sufficient time to the duties of the office.

CHANGE IN PROGRAM OF ELKS' CORNERSTONE LAYING

Owing to the fact that Exalted Ruler F. H. Smith is out of the city, the program for the laying of the corner-stone at the Elks building, this afternoon, has been changed. It is regretted that Mr. Smith is away, because it was he who was largely instrumental in forming the plans for the erection of the building. Mr. Smith's place will be taken by Alfred A. Prudhon, who will be the acting exalted ruler and lay the stone.

The principal address will be delivered by former City Judge W. N. Runyon, and William R. Townsend, the secretary, will read a history of Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, B. P. O. E. H. B. MacDonald, treasurer, and John H. Cose and Joseph Noonon will also assist. The lodge ritual will be used in the ceremonies.

For best results advertise in the Daily Press.

Reproduction of an etching made from architect's drawing showing what the $60,000 clubhouse of the Elks, the cornerstone of which is to be laid this afternoon, will look like when completed.

CLOSING SERVICE AT NETHERWOOD HOME

Service Tomorrow Will Mark the End of Institution's Greatest Season.

The closing services of the Netherwood Fresh Air Home will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:45. The speakers will include Miss Sara Curry, matron of the Home, who will tell of the work of the past season; Frederick Sutro, of New York, who has been long a friend of the work, and the Rev. Gabriel Reed Maguire, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church.

The soloist will be Edgar A. Cole, baritone soloist of the First Methodist church. The children's choir will sing a number of their bright songs, which have made them so delightful a feature of the services at the Home.

This service will close the most successful season in the history of the Home. More mothers and children have been received and cared for, more sick given medicine and helped. In every way this season has eclipsed all previous seasons. The old friends have remained loyal, and many new friends have come to the assistance of Miss Curry. It is gratifying to her to have both old and new friends help in this great work which taxes to the utmost the physical and mental ability of this Little Missionary of the great East Side.

UNITED STATES MENTIONED BY PROPHETS OF THE BIBLE?

The topic, "Religious Liberty, or Limits of Civil Authority In Matters of Religion," was listened to with more than usual interest at the Gospel Tent on Darrow avenue, last night. Many brought their wraps as a protection against the "cold wave."

The speaker's remarks were based largely on Romans 1:16-17, and Matthew 22:21, together with many other kindred texts. The speaker said that the Gospel of Christ was the only power that could convert sinners. Religious legislation could make men act like Christians, but was powerless to change the human heart. He said a large majority of the religious element of this age was drunken with the desire for civil power to enforce religion, but that Matthew 22:21 will ever stand as a monument of God's disapproval upon Church and State union; and that when the church appeals to civil power to enforce religion, they have taken a long step backward toward the Dark Ages.

Subject for tomorrow night, "Other Nations Are Mentioned in Prophecy, Why Not the United States of America?"

SPORTS CARDED FOR LABOR DAY

Plainfielders Will Be Offered Rich Program of Amusement In the Open.

BIG FEAST OF BASEBALL

Two Games At Crescent Oval—All Star Series Will Be Inaugurated—Golf Competition at Both Clubs—Water Sports at Cranford.

All that is necessary to make a big day in Plainfield Monday is clear weather and the program arranged for that day will cover every branch of sport. There will be something doing in every part of the city and as the weather has been too cold of late for holiday trips to the seashore, all the attractions will probably be well attended.

Plainfield will be a center for baseball Labor Day and two fine games are scheduled for Crescent Oval. In the morning the Bound Brook baseball team will appear here, with Cliff Case, the Tri-State League twirler, on the mound. The afternoon attraction will be supplied by the Dunellen baseball team and as the Dunellenites are always able to give a good account of themselves, another corking good battle is expected.

On Parker Field the much talked of All Star series between the Manufacturers' and Sunday-school leagues will be started on its way. Considerable speculation has been going on in respect to this series and the Labor Day contest is sure to be one for blood.

Golf enthusiasts will find plenty of excitement at both the local clubs and a full day is promised on the greens. At the Park Golf Club play for the Holiday Cup will continue all day and an approaching and putting competition will take place in the afternoon.

Plainfield Country Club members will have a busy day as a 36 hole, medal play, handicap is scheduled to continue throughout the whole day. The first round and semi-finals for the fall trophy is on the card; the first round to take place in the morning and the semi-finals in the afternoon.

A number of local water sport followers and camera men are planning to spend the day on the Cranford river. A program of canoe races, swimming and tilting will be run off there both in the morning and afternoon. WILL BE IN THEIR STORE NEXT WEEK

Neuman Bros. to Move Opposite Their Present Place—Modern Equipment.

Neuman Bros., the grocers, expect to take possession of their handsome new store at Watchung avenue and East Fifth street, directly opposite their present store, on Tuesday. The store, which is much larger than the old one, is thoroughly equipped with all the latest conveniences for handling the firm's large trade. A portion of the stock has been placed in the new store and between now and Tuesday morning the firm hopes to have everything in readiness for the trade.

Neuman Bros. have occupied their present corner for a great many years, but with their constantly increasing trade, it has been found that the quarters are far too small, and so the firm purchased the brick building opposite. Carpenters, painters and plumbers have been busily engaged in making extensive improvements, making the store one of the most attractive and up-to-date in this section.

JUMPED OFF TROLLEY CAR.

John Peterson, who said he lives in Westfield, jumped off a trolley car on West Front street, near Grant avenue, about 9:15 o'clock last night, before it came to a stop and was supposed to have injured his foot. JUMPS ON THE BACK OF A RUNAWAY HORSE

Wilson's Wild West Stop of Frightened Team Thrills Business Section.

Burt Wilson, of 722 West Front street, did a Wild West act yesterday afternoon in the business section of the city which called forth praise from the hundreds on the streets. A team, belonging to Catherine Burke, and hitched to a lumber wagon, ran away near Terrill road and came the whole length of Front street without colliding with anything. When the business section was reached a number of people ran out in the street and waved their arms in the air, but it had no effect on the runaways. Wilson quietly put down his lunch box, and as the team came opposite him he made a run for them, grabbed hold of the harness and swung himself on the back of one of the speeding horses.

He reached the lines, and soon had the animals under control. Patrolman McCarthy, who saw the performance, said this morning that it was about as clever a stop as he had ever seen made.

GIRL IS RESCUED FROM DEPTHS OF DUKE'S WELL

Somerville, Aug. 31—Miss Eliza Hawk, eighteen years old, daughter of Anthony Hawk, of Jersey City, who has a summer home near here, was nearly drowned in a well on the J. B. Duke estate last evening. She had gone to the well to get a drink of water, and in raising the bucket lost her balance and fell in. She grabbed the chain by which the bucket is raised and hung on.

Her cries were heard by a farmhand on the Duke property, who pulled her out. She was almost exhausted, having been holding onto the chain and keeping her head above water for nearly half an hour before her calls for aid were heard.

Miss Hawk's father is a member of the Water Board of Jersey City, and once ran for mayor of that city.

PROFESSOR HERR'S SCHOOL.

The Plainfield Business College and School of English.

Seven years of true educational effort and faithful service in the cause of character building and business training, in this city and surrounding communities, mark the opening of the eighth year of this splendid institution as an important educational event.

The fall term of Herr's School will begin Tuesday, September 3. The enrollment of new students for the eighth term far exceeds that of all other years, and naturally so, on account the high standard of work required and results accomplished.

This school has always stood for the best; for thoroughness and refinement of thought, training and action. Its teachers are qualified by State Normal School diploma, by special technical training, and by years of practical work both in the business office and the class-room.

There are five instructors in the regular teaching staff; the individual pupil is the unit; the result is that business training has been elevated not only to the plane of the rising standards and demands of the business office, but also far beyond and above the ideals, motives, and results of the so-called "business college" of the day.

Herr's School is recognized as a "pioneer" in the development of a new type of school whose work will ultimately place elementary and practical training on the plane of higher efficiency and character.

Professor and Mrs. Herr have for years made a persistent and careful study of the vital problem of conservation in elementary and practical education, and have organized and founded their institution upon the only true principles that must form the basis of the work of every school that truly trains young men and women for efficient service—the love of work and the ability to perform. ***

W. A. CODDINGTON AS COMPROMISE

"LOCAL" SENTIMENT

Chief Objection to Stewart Seems to Be That He Is Commuter—Coddington Petitions Circulated—Signed Up, Probably, On Monday.

Differences of opinion having arisen regarding the party nominee for Mayor on the Democratic ticket in this city, a movement was started today to unite the members of the party in support of former City Judge William A. Coddington. Within the last few days it is claimed that a strong sentiment has devoloped in favor of having a "home man" for the office in preference to a commuter or one who is out of the city most of the time. This appears to be about the chief objection to the candidacy of Percy H. Stewart, many of the Democrats declare.

The announcement yesterday that Robert C. Woodhouse would enter the Mayoralty contest has only tended to complicate the local political situation, and today there is considerable sentiment in favor of picking Judge Coddington. Several petitions were put in circulation this morning and it is claimed that the required number of signatures will be secured by Monday. Judge Coddington left the city last night and will not return until Tuesday. However, it is believed that when he finds that the sentiment is so strong for him he will consent to enter the contest.

As further evidence of the support likely to be given to Judge Coddington, it was said today that a majority of the City Democratic Executive Committee favor him as the party's choice, while it is also said that there are many members of the Wilson and Marshall Club who would willingly lend their aid in bringing about the nomination and election of Mr. Coddington.

L. C. Ellis, J. P. Owens, J. O. Stevens and R. A. Claybrook from the different wards have been chosen to confer with the City Democratic Committee in reference to various nominations.

POSTOFFICE WILL BE OPEN AS USUAL TOMORROW

In this way they can get any mail that comes in up to 11:26 o'clock Saturday night. There will be no distribution of Sunday mail, however, except newspapers. This will be for the benefit of the newspaper offices and hotels.

Mr. Bird will go to Atlantic City on Monday, where he will attend the State and National conventions of first and second class postmasters. At that time he will meet Postmaster General Hitchcock and he hopes to have a talk with him relative to the new law so that he will know what to do in the future.

ST. MARY'S PLAYGROUND DRAWS FROM ALL OVER CITY

The annual party for the regular attendants at St. Mary's School playgrounds was held yesterday afternoon under the direction of Miss Hayes, the supervisor. Nearly one hundred of the children attended.

Unlike most of the other recreation centres, the one at St. Mary's school has among its number children from all parts of the city. The other yards cater principally to the children living in the immediate vicinity of the grounds, but those who enjoy the daily privilege of St. Mary's come from as far as a mile away. The daily attendance has averaged about fifty and consists largely of children between the ages of four and twelve.

Attention has been directed chiefly toward the swings and other playgrounds apparatus, but a number of novel branches of work have been instituted by Miss Hayes. Among the latter have been reed work, sewing and drawing. A number of games especially adapted to outdoor yards, such as the local playgrounds have been taught the children and these were reviewed at yesterday's party. A goodly supply of eatables such as delight the hearts of the younger set were supplied abundantly, and eating took up the greater part of the afternoon.

The fact that the approximately the same group of boys and girls have attended the morning and afternoon sessions goes to show that the work has been so varied by Miss Hayes that it has not become monotonous to any individual.

BRYANT PLAYGROUND FIRST TO SHUT DOWN

Miss Moe's Accomplishments Have Been Most Gratifying to Playground Commission.

A closing party was held at the Bryant School yesterday afternoon under the supervision of Miss Harriet Moe, the instructor. The affair was attended by nearly one hundred of the children who attend the regular sessions at that place and the program planned by Miss Moe was a mose enjoyable one.

On account of the series illness of Miss Moe's mother, the Bryant School yards will be closed a week earlier than the other recreation centers to enable her to return at once to her home in Jersey City. The work accomplished at the East End playground was of a superior kind and the exhibits of the children's handicraft was of a high order. A number of appropriate playground games were played by the boys and girls present and the spirit in which the participants entered in their contests pleased all of those present, among whom were many of Plainfield's prominent citizens.

Miss Moe is the only one of the present playground instructors who has completed two years in the work in Plainfield and her accomplishments have been both pleasing and gratifying to the playground commission. She has become popular among her charges and a number gave way to outward expressions of their feelings when she announced that she would be compelled to leave earlier than she expected. Miss Moe has not made any definite plans for next summer but it is possible that she will again be in charge of the local playground work.

The man did not miss him until he was well on his way toward South Plainfield. The local police notified the station agent at South Plainfield, who said he would tell DePhillipo.

SAYS HE BOUGHT MORE LAND THAN HIS DEED CALLS FOR

Trenton, August 31 (Special).—Suit has been brought in the Court of Chancery by Richard H. Brokaw, of Bound Brook, against Mrs. Anna T. Reynolds and others to reform a deed under which a tract of real estate in Bound Brook was conveyed to the complainant. Brokaw bought the property of the late Obidiah B. Reynolds in 1896, the real estate having been sold at sheriff's sale.

The complainant alleges that he bought all the property, but that in drawing the deed there was erroneously inserted these words, "Except that part conveyed by Frank W. Wilson and wife to E. Jenny Newman, by deed dated March 1, 1896." Brokaw says that he only recently discovered this error in his deed, and which prevents him from keeping possession of all the property which he purchased. He asks the court to strike out of the deed the words referred to.

DOME DAMPERS

The Dome Damper is today a recognized necessity to a properly constructed fire place. The flange forms an arch bar of ample strength to support the weight of masonry of the chimney above. The smooth surfaces of the dome are arranged to induce the greatest ease of exit for the gases and the proportions so scientifically worked out as to exclude the fear of a smoky fire place. The solid valve provides a means of closing the damper to the exclusion of down-drafts which are so frequent in the warm months thereby preventing the carrying of soot into the room.

Happenings Due Next Week

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31.—Like the three-ring circus, there promises to be something doing every minute in the field of politics the coming week.

Colonel Roosevelt will leave New York bright and early Monday morning for a speech-making tour that will extend as far as the Pacific coast and carry him into more than half the States of the Union. After a short detour into New England, where he is scheduled for two Labor Day addresses, he will strike out for the West. Tuesday he is to speak at the Missouri third party convention in St. Louis. Wednesday will be devoted to a swing through Iowa, with speeches in Keokuk, Oskaloosa, Ottumwa, Des Moines and other cities. St. Paul and Minneapolis will have the third party standard-bearer on Thursday, and the remainder of the week will be divided between the Dakotas and Montana.

Governor Woodrow Wilson will make his first speech in New York City on Wednesday, when he attends a dollar dinner of the Workingmen's Woodrow Wilson Club.

Vermont's State election, the first of the year, will be held Tuesday. Republicans, Democrats and Progressive tickets are in the field. Congressmen as well as State officers are to be elected, so the national significance will be apparent in the returns, at least to those who still hold to the old tradition that the result of the September State elections indicates the way the general elections will go in the following November.

Governor Johnson, of California, vice presidential nominee of the Progressive party, will open his speech-making campaign at Syracuse, N. Y., on Thursday, when he will address the delegates to the State convention of the Progressive party.

Direct primary elections are to be held in California Tuesday for the selection of candidates for superior court judges, members of the legislature and representatives in Congress.

Other events on the political calendar of the week will include the Michigan State Democratic convention at Grand Rapids, for the completion of a State ticket; the Montana State Republican convention at Great Falls, to select a complete State ticket, presidential electors and candidates for United States senator and representatives in Congress; Democratic primaries in Louisiana to select candidates for supreme court judges and repreesntatives in Congress; primaries of all parties in New Hampshire for the selection of candidates for State officers and representatives in Congress; primaries in Nevada to nominate candidates for State officers ond representatives in Congress, and State conventions of the new Progressive party in Missouri, North Carolina, Iowa, North Dakota and several other States.

At a special election Tuesday the voters of Ohio will pass judgment on the forty-two proposed amendments to the State constitution formulated by the constitutional convention held last spring. The list embodies nearly all of the members of reform now in the public eye, including woman suffrage, the initiative, referendum and recall, direct primaries, the extension of the civil service to all appointive State positons, regulation of the issue and sale of corporation stock, the taxation of incomes, inheritances and franchises, the adoption of the Torrens system of land transfer, the abolition of capital punishment, the reform of court procedure and the strict regulation of the liquor traffic.

With Justice John W. Goff presiding, an extraordinary term of the supreme court is to convene in New York City Tuesday "for a speedy and vigorous prosecution of indictments which may be found" as a result of the Rosenthal murder investigation.

The Duke of Connaught, the Governor-General, will cover the first section of the extensive itinerary mapped out for his travels over the Canadian west. He will be entertained in Edmonton the first of the week and from there will proceed to Calgary to attend the great "Stampede" celebration and carnival in that city.

Conventions of the week will be numerous and of an important character. Among them will be the eighth International Congress of Applied Chemistry, in Weshington, D. C.; the annual conference of the International Anti-Saloon League Superintendents, in Toronto; the twenty-sixth annual meeting of the United Typothetae of America, in Chicago; the Dominion Forestry convention, in Victoria, B. C.; the fifth annual convention ofthe Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association, in New London, Conn., and the annual session of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, in Dundee, Scotland.

EIGHT BURNED TO DEATH IN 2 FIRES

Hoboken and Kingsland Have Spectacular Blazes.

7 KILLED ARE CHILDREN

Mother Dies While Trying to Shield Her Five-months-old Baby From the Flames—Child Was Found Dead In Its Parent's Arms.

Hoboken, N. J., Aug. 31.—Eight persons, including seven children, were burned to death in two fires within a few miles of each other, one in this city and the other in Kingsland, N. J.

While firemen were vainly trying to fight their way through the flames that wrapped the two story frame building at Kingsland, the wife and six children of Emile Dardare, a baker, were burned to death. Dardare hurled his fourteen-year-old son Joseph from a second story window and jumped after him when he had been driven back by the flames from a futile attempt to save the others of his household. The boy was caught by Patrolman Ringwood and saved from serious injury.

The fire started in Dardare's bakeshop below the living rooms. The flames had swept up the stairway and cut off escape before the baker was aroused from sleep. His cries were heard by Patrolman Stemn just after the policeman had noticed the blaze. Stemn turned in an alarm and rushed back to the building. Failing to mount to the second floor by the stairway, he tried to get up outside, but was unable to do so without a ladder.

By the time that the firemen had reached the scene and had slung ladders to the second story windows the building was all ablaze. Several of the firemen tried to make their way in through the windows, but were driven back by the flames. Dardare's wife, Rose, had died while trying to shield from the flames her five-months-old baby, who was found dead in the mother's arms.

Another Fatal Blaze.

Another fire cost one life and endangered many others in a four story tenement in this city. St. Mary's hospital is directly across the street from the scene of the fire. The screams of the entrapped tenants and the noise incident to their rescue aroused all the hospital patients and caused much excitement in the various wards, which the sisters in charge had trouble in quieting. The victim is Edward Lynguist, seven years old.

JAMES SMITH NOT TO RUN.

Doesn't Want to Be Senator Again. Says Wilson Will Win.

Newark, N. J., Aug. 31.—Former United States Senator James Smith denied in an interview that he proposed to get into another senatorial fight.

"Never gave the United States senatorship nomination a single thought," said Mr. Smith. "My ambition aims higher than that. I want to be president. That's the office I am seeking and that is the only one I would consent to consider. I haven't made up my mind just when I'll make my campaign. Wilson will surely be elected this year and my time will come along some time later.

"Now, to prove that I am in earnest about the presidency I will state that I have my platform already prepared. There is only one plank to it, and it is simple. It provides that all who toil or are dependent upon industry for a livelihood shall come into a pension at the age of fifty years, the annual apportionment to each person to be based upon his or her earning capacity at the prime of life."

COLONEL ALEXANDER DEAD.

Was Member of Governor Wilson's Staff and Candidate For Congress.

Hoboken, N. J., Aug. 31.—Colonel Archibald S. Alexander of this city, Democratic candidate for congress and member of Governor Wilson's staff, died in St. Luke's hospital in New York from an attack of typhoid fever. He became ill twelve days ago following a strenuous day of campaigning. He was thirty-two years old and married.

Mr. Alexander, who was a member of the old Stevens family of Castle Point, Hoboken, was wedded in April, 1905, to Miss Helen Tracy Barney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tracy Barney. The wedding, which took place in St. Bartholomew's church, was attended among others by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, Gladys Vanderbilt and Mrs. Vanderbilt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clews, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, Mrs. Stanford White and Mr. and Mrs. H. McK. Twombly.

Austro-Hungarian Banks in Trouble.

London, Aug. 31.—Uneasiness was expressed in financial circles concerning the action of the Austrian and Hungarian banks. Many small ones have failed recently and larger ones are said to be badly pinched.

AM I MY BROTHER'S KEEPER?

When this was first asked in the dawn of the history of man it was as a denial of the fact and not as a question to be answered. For long centuries man refused to believe that he was in anywise responsible for the well being of his fellow man. Life was indeed the survival of the fittest reduced to its lowest terms. Gradually man came to believe that he must in some measure help his fellows, not for the benefit of those he helped but purely from the selfish standpoint that by so doing he was enhancing his own comfort and safety. It is only in comparatively recent years that we have realized that we, individually and collectively, owe something to our less favored brethren. The endowment of our colleges and libraries, the founding of our hospitals, asylums, homes for the aged and orphans, and other institutions for the care of the sick, indigent and friendless, baby camps, day nurseries, etc., are but expressions of this realization. We are wont to call these charities. Are they not rather the discharge of an obligation? All these agencies are more or less impersonal. They impose no hardship on those who generously and, for the most part, so wisely have aided in founding and maintaining them, and they establish no personal relation between those who give and those who receive. It is only within the last few years that in settlement work the "Big Brothers," and within a year the "Big Sisters" have introduced the personal note which is evidence that we have taken another step towards the realization of the true meaning of the brotherhood of man. It is true that through all ages there have been devoted men and women with a clearer vision who have been indeed, in the best and highest sense, their brothers' keepers, but they have been lighthouses on the shores of an ocean of indifference and selfishness. There is great cause for thankfulness for all that is being done for the betterment of mankind, but are not the most of us still too thoughtless and, in some cases too selfish? Do we think enough of the little things that mean so much for the comfort and well being of the individual? There are many ways in which each one of us can help our brothers but this paper is intended to deal with but one, viz.: the abolition of unnecessary noises.

Civilization has brought us many comforts but it has also brought many discomforts which annoy the strong and are a serious detriment to the weak and sick. Probably the greatest discomfort of all is the noise in our cities and towns. Some of this is, of course, inevitable, but a very large part of it could be eliminated.

Some years ago Mrs. Isaac L. Rice, of New York, started a campaign against the unnecessary blowing of whistles on boats plying on the East and North Rivers. After unsuccessful attempts to have the nuisance abated by local authorities, she and others whom she had interested, secured the passage by Congress of an act giving supervising inspectors of steamboats authority to act. The result has been that the amount of whistling by boats has been reduced more than fifty per cent.

This is one of the noises which we in Plainfield are not called upon to endure, but there are others which, like the poor, are always with us. The barking of dogs, the whistle of the peanut vender, the bell of the tinker and the ice cream vender, the flat car wheel, the church bell and the automobile are all familiar enemies to our peace and comfort and are, I am inclined to think, likely to destroy the Christian characters of some of us.

There are ordinances prohibiting some of these nerve racking noises, but are they ever enforced? From the non-action of some of the guardians of our peace one must conclude that these ordinances are not intended to be enforced or else that the said guardians have been suddenly afflicted with a total loss of hearing.

I think I hear someone ask would you stop the ringing of church bells entirely? Most assuredly yes. What useful purpose do they serve? Years ago when watches and clocks were so costly as to be out of the reach of the average man, they were necessary and served a good purpose, but today when a watch can be purchased for a dollar and a clock for half that sum bells should be relegated to the museum with the thumbscrew, the rack and other instruments of torture.

When railroads were first built it was quite common to ring a bell at the station ten minutes before the departure of a train. Does any one imagine that anybody now misses his train because the ringing of the bell has been discontinued? Those who live within sound of the church bell are, as a rule, the last to enter the door, if they go at all. Probably they would be more prompt if they depended on their watches and clocks. Today the ringing of the church bell is largely due to sentiment. Many a poor sufferer falling asleep after a night of pain has been awakened and doomed to a day of torture by the church bell calling us to come and worship Him who devoted so much of His life to the relief of the sick and suffering. Can the sentimental pleasure of hearing the church bell compensate us for causing pain in such a case?

Of all the unnecessary noises the open muffler on the automobile is probably the most irritating and useless. In fact, the nuisance became so great that our Legislature at its last session passed an act which reads as follows: "Devices known as muffler cut-outs shall not be used within the limits of any city, town or borough, or within two hundred feet of any horse drawn vehicle on the public highway." Therefore, any person who cuts out the muffler on his car is not only lacking in consideration for the comfort of his fellow man but has committed a misdemeanor. The imposing of the penalty in a few cases for the violation of this statute would relieve us of this abominable practice. The claim that the use of the muffler lessens the power of the car is often given as an excuse for using the cut-out, but this claim has no foundation in fact. Quite recently exhaustive (no pun intended) tests of the effect of the muffler have been made with the result that it has been clearly proven that the muffler does not decrease the power when running at low or medium speed. The tests showed that at 1,000 revolutions or less per minute there was no loss of power, and that it was only when the engine was running at its maximum speed that the loss of power amounted to five per cent. As a car cannot be run at high speed in our cities and towns it is evident that the use of the cut-out is inexcusable.

Perhaps someone who has had the patience to read this will say "What a pother about a trifling matter." It is not a trifle. In talking on this subject with a prominent physician in Plainfield, not long ago, he told me that in a number of cases in his own practice patients had been seriously injured and in some cases killed by unnecessary noises in the streets.

Within two weeks the International Congress of Otologists held a session in Boston which was attended by over five hundred physicians, specialists in diseases of the ear, and scientists from all parts of the world. The main topics at this meeting were the effect of noise on the ears and nerves, and how unnecessary noises may be abated. If the matter is of sufficient importance to command the attention of busy men from all parts of the world, is not not our duty to do what little lies in our power to assist in this important work?

Dr. John D. Quackenbos, professor emeritus of Columbia University, is a recognized authority in nervous diseases. Listen to what he has to say on this subject.

"The cruel noises of the streets are not only one of many but one of the most serious causes of the mental and physical ills from which the people of the United States are suffering today."

"We put up with public nuisances which no man or woman who had due regard for his or her health or well being should be called upon to endure."

"The terrifying noises of the streets, it is safe to say, subject those who cannot escape them, for one reason or another, to a mental strain which cannot but have a most serious effect. The ear is one of the most delicate organs of the human body, but our disregard for its well being through submitting to barbarous and altogether unnecessary noises during almost the entire twenty-four hours of the day and night, cannot fail to bring about lasting ill effects."

"As a consequence of the nerve-racking noises of the streets and other places, nearly all of which could be abated if but the right courses were pursued, functional nervous diseases are markedly on the increase."

Another specialist in nervous diseases says, "I cannot understand how any person can rationally claim a personal right to create or maintain a noise, whether in the public streets or elsewhere, that is not necessary. Such noises as it may be urged are necessary should and could be very much minimized"

The above quotations are from an article in "The Sun" of August 11th. A careful reading of the entire article will prove most interesting and illuminating.

We all know how necessary quiet is to those who are ill. None of us would go into a house where a person was lying ill and slam doors, use the piano or do anything which could possibly disturb him. We are constantly passing houses where persons are seriously ill. Have we any more right to disturb them with unnecessary noises?

If, when we are called upon to give an account of the deeds done in the body, we have failed to do what we could to make life more bearable to our fellow man, what will the answer be?

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

APPLE SAUCE.

APPLE sauce when made with fresh young apples is a splendid addition to the breakfast menu.

Tart apples make the best sauce. Some persons do not like it flavored with cinnamon. For such a dash of lemon juice may be substituted. Nutmeg must also be used with discretion.

Sweetening the Sauce.

The best way is to sweeten apple sauce to taste. Some persons advise one-fourth of the weight of the prepared fruit in sugar. Others use a sirup made by boiling two-thirds of a cupful of water with one cupful of sugar, a bit of lemon peel and a small stick of cinnamon. The advantage of the sirup is that it may be poured over the apples after they are cooked. Cooking the apples in the sirup, however, will toughen them so they will not disintegrate into mush, yet be soft enough to be palatable.

Cider apple sauce will keep indefinitely if kept in air tight jars.

This Will Keep.

Cider Apple Sauce.—Boil one gallon of new sweet cider to two quarts. Pare, quarter and core half a bushel of sweet apples. Put the cider into a porcelain kettle, and when it boils add as many apples as the kettle will hold. Cover and cook slowly without stirring until the apples are tender. Take out without breaking, add more apples and cook until all are done. Pour the sirup over the apples and set away to cool. The next day drain off the sirup, boil it down until quite thick and pour again over the apples. The pieces of apple should be quite distinct and the juice almost the consistency of jelly.

A Spicy Sauce.

Cinnamon Apple Sauce.—Peel, quarter and core six tart apples. Put them into a porcelain saucepan with enough water to cover and boil until tender. Rub the apples through a sieve, mix in a teaspoonful of butter and sugar to taste, then put in a dish. Dust a little powdered cinnamon on top. This may be served hot or cold, as desired. A few pieces of quince sliced fine, partly cooked and then allowed to finish boiling with the fruit is nice.

This Looks Nice.

Firm Apple Sauce.—If you do not like the mushy consistency to which apple sauce generally boils away take about one quart of apples, measured after paring, and cut in quarters. Allow one cupful of sugar to one pint of water. Put them over the fire and let them boil briskly, removing the scum as it forms. Cook in this sirup several slices of lemon. Keep the apples covered with cold water after paring. Then cover the bottom of a stewpan with the fruit and let it cook until clear and tender. Remove each piece as soon as done and add more until all the fruit is cooked. Let the sirup boil down at the last till almost a jelly; then pour it over the fruit.

THE SLANTING SASH.

Novel Note on New Nightgowns.

ONE OF THE LATEST MODELS.

Ribbons run through beading at the base of the yokes are familiar enough trimmings on nightgowns, but this oblique adornment on the robe de nuit illustrated is decidedly interesting.

The ribbon beading slopes upward at the front and back and meets just in front of the left arm.

WOMEN AS JOURNALISTS.

They Started Newspapers Over a Century Ago.

One of the men of broad minds—Joseph Pulitzer—employed a large number of women as writers on his very successful newspapers, and yet when he made the gift of $500,000 to found a school of journalism appended the provision that women should not be permitted to attend the school. The provision has caused much wonderment.

During the past fifty years women have developed the qualities that go to make a journalist remarkable. They are more and more adapting themselves to meeting the requirements of the alert reporter. It has been less than fifty years since women entered seriously upon newspaper work, though, according to Robert McWades, the first daily paper published was started by a woman; the first newspaper in Rhode Island had a woman as its publisher, as had also the second newspaper started in New York city.

The Maryland Gazette, the first paper established in Lord Baltimore's colony, was started by a woman, and the same is true of the Virginia Gazette, the first newspaper to print the Declaration of Independence. Looking the field over, women have done very well in newspaper work, and they will continue to do so notwithstanding the Pulitzer school of journalism.

Black Frocks the Rage Just Now.

The braid trimming on this black chiffon frock is arranged with open medallions, under which is laid orange colored velvet, the deep orange shade forming a striking contrast with the black chiffon costume.

—"I am literally scouring the country for plays," remarked the theatrical manager. "Why don't you scour some of those you already have?" suggested the dramatic critic.

GUNMEN WEAKEN, MAY TELL ALL

"Dago Frank" and "Whitey Lewis" Are Deserted.

FORMER'S LAWYER QUITS

John F. McIntyre, Becker's Counsel, Attacks Grand Jury Proceedings. Intimates He'll Try to Prove Rose, Webber and Vallon Killed Rosenthal.

New York, Aug. 31.—It is rumored about the Tombs that "Whitey Lewis" and "Dago Frank" Cirofici, charged with the murder of Herman Rosenthal, will confess. It was announced that Caesar Barra, counsel for "Dago Frank," had just announced his withdrawal from the case and that Robert M. Moore, counsel for Lewis, is seriously contemplating a similar announcement.

"Whitey Lewis" and "Dago Frank," according to the information, will make a confession provided they will receive in return a sentence of not more than five years in prison.

A statement from Becker's chief counsel, John F. McIntyre, which was issued throws a strong light on the Becker defense as now outlined by the indicted policeman's counsel. Also Mr. McIntyre tells in his statement that he will fight to the limit to prevent the calling of the trial on Sept. 11, as the prosecution is confident of having done.

Becker's Defense Outlined.

Mr. McIntyre's statement on behalf of Becker contains a bitter arraignment of persons who have repeated to outsiders the proceedings of the grand jury. In a sentence, too, Mr. McIntyre shows his belief in at least a part of the stories recently printed to the effect that Rose, Vallon, Webber and others are responsible for the shooting and that they then conspired to fasten the murder upon the innocent Becker.

The trial of former Inspector Cornelius G. Hayes on the charge of having made a false statement to Commissioner Waldo in connection with disorderly house raids came to an abrupt halt after a session of less than half an hour. The appearance of Trial Commissioner First Deputy Commissioner Douglass I. McKay, who had been subpoenaed as the principal witness for the defense, brought forth vigorous objections from Hayes' lawyer, which resulted in an adjournment.

Hayes' lawyer raised the question of the legality of Commissioner McKay sitting on the bench at a trial in which he would be forced to pass upon his own testimony.

In order to look up decisions and law covered by the point of Lawyer Thachen Commissioner McKay adjourned the trial until next Friday.

DRAGGED TO DEATH IN AIR

Caught in Balloon Rope, Boy Falls 2,000 Feet to Earth.

Flint, Mich., Aug. 31.—In the presence of hundreds of people at a county fair, fourteen-year-old Chester Betts, son of Bert N. Betts, was caught by the guy rope of a balloon and carried about 2,000 feet in the air before the rope untangled and hurled him to his death.

When the balloon and aeronaut shot upward many people thought that the youth dangling at the end of a rope was a dummy, but as the big gas bag rose higher and higher the aeronaut, in peril of his own life, could be seen working desperately to pull the dangling form to the trapeze.

Finally the rope swirled outward and the boy dropped downward like a stone.

DODGE GETS DIVORCE.

Wealthy Clubman Breaks Down Reciting His Marital Troubles.

Reno, Nev., Aug. 31.—Philip T. Dodge, lawyer, president of the American Linotype company, large owner of the Oliver Typewriter company, wealthy clubman and a man of large financial interests of two continents, was granted a decree of divorce here on the ground of desertion.

A property settlement was made in favor of the wife, Margaret A. Dodge, out of court. Dodge broke down and cried as he recited the story of his married experiences, necessitating the suspension of proceedings until he could regain control of his feelings.

DEATH IN CANNON'S ROAR.

Mrs. Anna Palmer, Kin of General Sullivan, Gets Fatal Shock.

Elmira, N. Y., Aug. 31.—Mrs. Anna Palmer of Oswego, a great-great-granddaughter of General Sullivan, the Revolutionary war hero, came to Elmira to witness the dedication of the monument erected to the memory of her ancestor.

When the artillery fired a salute for Governor Dix she fainted. She was hurried to a hospital here, but died in a short time, apoplectic seizure induced by fright causing her death.

Big Phone Man Dies.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Attorney Arthur B. Wheeler, former president of the Chicago Telephone company, died suddenly of angina pectoris at his home in Lake Forest, a suburb. He was fifty-one years old.

—Sillicus—"If we had our lives to live over I wonder what effect it would have?" Cynicus—"Well, it would probably enable us to make our mistakes easier."

Y. W. C. A. HAS NO RULE SETTING AGE LIMIT

Favors Young Girls Under Certain Conditions But Older Women Not Ignored.

The local Y. W. C. A. management has not made any rules similar to those said to have been adopted by many branches of the association, based on the ground that after reaching the age of twenty-five years a young woman ought to be able to look out for herself and therefore, need not be cared for by the association. Such rules are not necessary at the local association because there are no rooms for boarders. Only transients are lodged and no discrimination is made as to age. Any and every girl is privileged to stay at the local rooms but only has that privilege for two weeks. The local Y. W. C. A. officials say a woman is never too old to enjoy the emergency privileges of the associations, but in case of crowded conditions the younger girls are favored.

The rule that, after reaching the age of 25 a young woman no longer can be cared for by the Y. W. C. A. but must go out in the world and take care of herself was adopted by the Chicago association because there were so many young country girls who needed the protection of the association much more than the older girls who ought to be able to take care of themselves. It is not a ruling out of the older girls, but merely a rule necessitated by the overcrowded condition of the boarding rooms. In Passaic forty years is the age set as the limit. The officials say there is no set rule, although a woman after forty years was supposed to be able to take care of herself.

Philosophical Phelix Says:

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

Linderman is again with the local clan on the Oval today. Must mean another victory.

Did you get wise to that sort o' half turn in his winding up at Bound Brook last week?

Some would think he had a kink in his salary wing, but when he delivers the ball the kink is found to be in the pill.

Manufacturers' League teams seem to have a habit of going on these "get acquainted" outings.

The R. G. E. nine left on an all night tour of Newark this morning and appear to have ignored the Banks who are patiently waiting to get a crack at them.

Labor Day will be a big time in Plainfield with our old friends Dunellen and Bound Brook around to make things hum.

The Pets will have to labor to win anyway.

Wonder how those female ball chasers will like Scotch Plains tomorrow? Hope they get acquainted with everyone in the burg.

It is a safe bet that the 'Plains team will be too polite to win.

If it ever rains on Labor Day the local fans will go daffy.

One of those good old wet spells are about due and it may drop in on us Monday.

Case's name has been written quite frequently during the past month but we haven't seen him yet.

He will need a "case" or some other kind of a wooden kimono to go home in according to local dope.

We haven't heard anything from Manager Hoffman lately about that cup the R. G. E. team was going to win. Probably he meant next year.

Their pennant aspirations will be given a jolt if they do not play the Bankers this afternoon.

"SUFFRAGETTES" WILL PLAY BALL

Team of Fair Ones to Be the Attraction at Scotch Plains.

TO PLAY REAL BASEBALL

Visitors Are Experienced Players and Will Make Scotch Plains Hustle—Will Involve Everything Necessary For a Real Ball Game.

Scotch Plains will likely assume the appearance of a bargain day rush tomorrow with the baseball diamond as the popular counter. The 'Plains players who are noted for their "politeness" will act as clerks for the occasion and will deal principally in horsehide. All this fuss is being made over a team of nine female ball tossers who are going to swoop down on the 'Plains tomorrow afternoon.

Although Sunday baseball has always been a good drawing card at the little suburb a game with a female aggregation is a novelty in itself and a large crowd will journey to Scotch Plains to get a look at the fair ones tomorrow. The girls are not only pretty but can heave the sphere as well as any of the male teams playing the National game. It goes without saying that at least one of the Scotch Plains players will try to get in the way of a pitched ball in order to draw some sympathy from the fair sex but the girls' manager says her players are used to this rough article and always pass it up. The game will be played with regulation gloves, real balls, normal admission, fashionable suits, good-sized wagon tongues, the usual amount of kicking and everything else that goes to make a ball game worth seeing. The girls' manager says that her team always carries its own canvas but I failed to ascertain what they used it for.

DOUBLE BILL ON FOR LABOR DAY

Bound Brook Plays In the Morning and Dunellen In the Afternoon.

BOTH BITTER RIVALS

Cador or Ritter Will Twirl for Plainfield and Case for Bound Brook—Manager Bogardus Has Added Hitters to His Team.

Labor Day will be a red letter day on Crescent Oval and Manager Dorflinger has signed up two of Plainfield's closest rivals to appear in a double bill. In the morning Bound Brook will swoop down on the Plainfield bunch, all smarting and anxious to get revenge for that 27 to 7 walloping dealt out a week ago to the "hilly city" nine. Manager Bogardus and his colts will line up against what Bound Brook leaves after it gets through with the locals. The Dunellenites are always a big drawing card at the Oval and will have a large number of followers here in the afternoon.

Bound Brook and Plainfield will take the field at 10:30 o'clock and the fourth game of the series between these two bitter rivals will be pulled off at that time. Nothing has been left undone by the respective managers to strengthen their teams for the holiday contest and with the playing spirits of the eighteen men keyed up to the limit it should make a contest worth going miles to see. A large amount of good natured rivalry exists between the supporters of these two nines and they will make thinks hum from start to finish.

If anything is left of the local pill artists after Manager Newhouse completes what he proposes to do, the Dunellenites will take a chance at the Plainfielders. On their last appearance on the Oval the suburban nine left a favorable impression in the heart of every fan and although defeated on their last appearance they put up an article of ball that made the Queen City bunch hustle. Since the last game Manager Bogardus has signed up a number of stars to fill in the weaker spots in his lineup and an even better attraction than the last is scheduled to take place. The lineups of the teams that will appear here Labor Day are as follows:

COMPARE EXPRESS AND PARCELS POST

In Few Instances Corporation Will Carry Packages Cheaper Than U. S.

The new parcel post law, which will become effective January 1, 1913, has many important provisions, which have been summarized by Senator Jonathan Bourne, Jr., chairman of the Senate committee on postoffice and post roads, as follows:

"Any article is mailable if not over eleven pounds in weight nor more than seventy-two inches in length and girth combined, nor likely to injure the mails or postal equipment or employes.

"Above four ounces, rates are by the pound or fraction thereof, and varying with distance as follows:

	1st lb.	Each additional lb.	11 lb.
50 mile zone	.05	.03	.35
150 mile zone	.06	.04	.46
300 mile zone	.07	.05	.57
600 mile zone	.08	.06	.68
1000 mile zone	.09	.07	.79
1400 mile zone	.10	.09	1.00
1800 mile zone	.11	.10	1.11
Over 1800 miles	.12	.12	1.32

"The postmaster general may make provision for idemnity, insurance and collection on delivery, with additional charges for such service, and may, with the consent of the interstate commerce commission after investigation, modify rates, weights and zone distance, when experience has demonstrated the need therefor."

The rates of the United States Express Company as compared with the above show that in some instances where the cost is figured for heavier parcels that are lower than those fixed by the Government. The express rates from Plainfield are as follows:

	1 lb.	11 lbs.
50 mile zone	.25	.30
150 mile zone	.25	.45
300 mile zone	.25	.55
600 mile zone	.25	.65
1000 mile zone	.25	.85
1400 mile zone	.25	1.00
1800 mile zone	.30	1.25

In addition to the above the United States Express Company has a rate of a half cent an ounce on printed matter east of the Missouri river, with a minimum charge of ten cents for each package, prepaid. Then there is a rate of 18 cents a pound for other merchandise with a minimum charge of 15 cents east of the Missouri river, and 25 cents west of the Missouri river. The rates on perishable goods is 20 per cent. lower with a minimum charge of 25 cents for each shipment.

The Interstate Commerce Commission has drafted a new law regarding waybills which becomes effective September 1. This provides for at least thirty-six different kinds of labels to be placed on packages for shipment. Wilson S. Frederick, the local agent for the express company, has arranged to meet all his employes at the company's office before Monday to explain to them the provisions of the new law.

DOG SHOW PLANS AMBITIOUS

classes at Plainfield, Brighton Beach, Allentown, Long Branch and Gwynnedd Valley. At Ambler he added to the trophies secured for the best sporting dog and the best dog in the show.

Deodora Countess has won the trophy for the best at two of the prominent shows and Yale added to his string at the New Jersey Kennel Club show in the shape of a beautiful silver trophy for the best in the show.

In the last four years Mr. Hooley's setters have won more than 150 big challenge cups and trophies of great value, besides innumerable medals and special prizes and hundreds of blue rosettes.

One of the most beautiful of all Mr. Hooley's setters is comparatively unknown. This is Meadowview Royalist, a splendid blue belton which has lived a rather quiet life and has been little before the public. Royalist was shown at the recent Mineola show and was judged by Mr. Reeves, a noted English judge, who eulogized him in print when he returned to England. Mr. Reeves believes that he has never seen a more perfect type of the English setter than this American bred dog. Royalist lives with his father and mother, both owned by Mr. Hooley.

It is next to impossible to obtain any of the Meadowview dogs unless Mr. Hooley happens to take a fancy to you and makes you a present of one. During the twenty-five years that the kennels have been established not more than a half dozen of the inhabitants have ever been sold.

At the big shows no exhibit attracts so much attention as the quarter of a mile of benches which hold the Meadowview setters shown as they always are in the most beautiful coat and the pink of condition. Mr. Hooley is a member of the Field Trial Association and a director in the American Kennel Club. He is also a member of the Long Island, the Plainfield, the Allentown and the new Rumson Kennel clubs. Besides all this he is one of the firm of E. S. Hooley & Co., but those who know him best know that he would forsake his bulls and his bears any time for his beloved English setters.

JUNIOR LEAGUE TIE.

The eccentric Parker Field junior basball league has at last come to a close but it has wound up in a decisionless race with the Athletics and Yankees tied for pennant honors. A series to decide the supremacy has been drawn up and the games will be played on the mornings of September 3, 4 and 5. A list of the eligibles is given below: Athletics—Rosenson, capt., Bohl, Dunham, Cantor, Davidson, Seidel, Kline, Wilson, Grisley, Poster, Linke Pennoyer, Sacher and McDowell. Yankees—Hamilton, capt., J. Kane, Morley, F. Kane, Reegan, Vaughan, Dsiscoll, Rey, Deady, Todd, Hanagan, Kennedy, Schillinger, Crook, F. Mullin, Day.

MOTORCYCLE CLUB.

The Motorcycle Club held a busy meeting in it's rooms on Somerset street last night when the run schedule for September was made up and a few new officers were appointed. Percy Haberle resigned as treasurer and Edward Honeymoon resigned as road captain as both could not attend to their duties property on account of other work. Leslie Hansen was elected treasurer and first road lieutenant Jack Horner was chosen road captain, and Benjamin Herlig was elected second road lieutenant.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

The offering at the Plainfield theatre tonight will be Della Clarke's new comedy "Introduce Me," and of which an exchange has the following to say: "A delightful bit of drama was presented at Harris theatre last evening. 'Introduce Me' left behind it a taste such as is left by a cool drink on a hot summer day. It was a delicious romance tinged with the proper amount of humor and tears. The result was highly satisfactory. 'Introduce Me' is a story of a matrimenial squabble that is entirely free from the risque and the salacious. It is a play to which one would gladly carry his best friend's sister. The plot is charming. It is a story of a man who is dramatising a novel which his wife has written, unknown to him. Both the novel and the play are striking successes, of course; but the talented couple becomes estranged by reason of misunderstandings occasioned by frequent interviews with press agents, publishers and leading ladies. Reconciliation comes at the end of the last act with a breathless surprise for the dramatist and a satisfactory vindication for the wife."

At a moment when the spice of novelty was sorely needed to give zest to the new dramatic season, an alarming percentage of the first class plays showed a sudden inclination to seek that path of kindly oblivion which leads to the storehouse, "Baby Mine," by Margaret Mayo, which excels the best native standards of comedy, was produced by William A. Brady Ltd. at Daly's theatre, New York, and its success was instantaneous. It ran for one solid year at Daly's theatre and is now being performed at the Vaudeville theatre, London, where it has reached its second year. It will be presented here under the direction of William A. Brady Ltd. on Monday, September 2, Labor Day, matinee and night, with Walter Jones and the original New York cast. Its story of an irresponsible young wife's subterfuge to lead back to her side an angry and absent husband by leading him to believe that he is about to enter into the proud estate of fatherhood, is told with much ingenuity and comic interest. The continuation of the story is that a friend of the family, in his breakneck haste to borrow the required baby in time for its masculine parent's homecoming, overdoes his share in the deception and brings about the cleverest sort of complications in his efforts to beguile the young husband.

At the Plainfield theatre on Wednesday night, September 11, the Aborn Opera Company will present its spectacular production of "The Bohemian Girl" with its wealth of charming melodies, gorgeous stage settings, disclosing five great stage pictures in the incidental detail of which that wizard of stage realizers, Edward P. Temple, has so consistently combined Balfe's beautiful music with acrobats, horses, monkeys, geese, chickens, etc., is said to be duplicating its immense success of last season.

G. L. DeFrese, of the Brooklyn Tabernacle, will speak in Coward's Hall, 109 Park avenue, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Rev. F. D. Banks will preach all day tomorrow at the Shiloh Baptist church in the absence of the pastor, Rev. E. W. Roberts. The Sunday-school will meet at 3 o'clock, as usual.
